2. Risk Factors

Investing in our common stock involves a high degree of risk. You should carefully consider each of the following risks, together with all other information set forth in this Offering Circular, including the financial statements and the related notes, before making a decision to buy our common stock. If any of the following risks actually occurs, our business could be harmed. In that case, the trading price of our common stock could decline, and you may lose all or part of your investment.

Risks Related to Our ecommerce Operations

Small company in the start-up phase.

We have historically been a small, ecommerce company. There are many changes within the ecommerce industry that could have negative effects on our business. These changes are including but not limited to: federal regulations, fast changing technology, large competitors with more access to working capital and we are a new company with little name recognition in the industry.

With respect to the ecommerce business, we are a start-up company with one facility and no meaningful operating history. As such, you will be investing in an early stage company and your investment will be subject to the risks involved in investments in such companies.

Adverse economic or other conditions in the markets in which we do business could negatively affect our sales and retention rates and therefore our operating results.

Our operating results are dependent upon our ability to maximize potential clients and we rely on being able to direct large number of clients to purchase goods and services. Adverse economic or other conditions in the markets in which we operate may lower our retention or sales number and limit our ability to increase revenue.

We face competition for the acquisition of clients, which may impede our ability to make future sales or may increase the cost of acquiring new clients.

We compete with many other entities engaged in the ecommerce activities including national, regional and local companies. This competition may cause the price we are able to charge clients to decrease, or we maybe unsuccessful in acquiring new clients on a consistent basis. In addition, our potential acquisition targets may find our competitors to be more attractive suitors because they may have greater resources, may be willing to discount prices more or might be partnered with other software companies creating a more convenient transition. In addition, the number of entities and the amount of companies competing for business in the ecommerce industry is increasing and there are many large companies that have a large target market. This competition could result in increased demand for discounts and less profit per customer. Due to such competition it is possible we could experience less profit than expected from our future sales.

We may not be successful in integrating with certain software partners of potential customers.

As an ecommerce becomes more and more popular integration into current major electronic retailers and other software is becoming increasingly important. Our software is capable of communicating with other software via API (application programming interface) however there is risk that other companies will form strategic partnerships with the major ecommerce online retailers as Amazon and not allow additional 3rd party interfaces within their software. This could substantially hurt our business model and we would experience slower than expected growth.

Adverse economic or other conditions in the markets in which we do business could negatively affect our sales and retention rates and therefore our operating results.

Our operating results are dependent upon our ability to maximize our sales and retention rates. Adverse economic or other conditions in the markets in which we operate may lower our ability to complete sales and to retain current customers. If we fail to generate revenues sufficient to meet our cash requirements, including operating and other expenses, debt service and capital expenditures, our net income, cash flow, financial condition, and the trading price of our securities could be adversely affected.

We will depend upon our staff to maintain a high level of customer satisfaction, and any difficulties we encounter in hiring, training and maintaining skilled personnel may harm our operating performance.

We have experienced managers that have ran previous businesses including other high-tech businesses and have hired personnel to assist in customer satisfaction for those businesses. If hiring skilled personnel became too expensive or we were unable to find qualified people due to unforeseen issues it could have a negative impact on our sales and retention rates thereby affecting our profit and revenue projections.

Increases in taxes and regulatory compliance costs may reduce our income.

Risks Related to Our Securities

There is no current established trading market for the Notes or Common Stock and if a trading market does not develop, purchasers of our securities may have difficulty selling their securities

There is currently no established public trading market for our Notes or our Common Stock, and an active trading market in our securities may not develop or, if developed, may not be sustained. While we intend to seek a quotation on a major national exchange or automated quotation system in the future, there can be no assurance that any such trading market will develop, and purchasers of the Notes may have difficulty selling their Notes or the underlying common stock, if converted, should they desire to do so. No market makers have committed to becoming market makers for our common stock and none may do so.

Because we are a “shell company” the holders of our restricted securities will not be able to sell their securities in reliance on Rule 144 and we cannot file registration statements under Section 5 of the Securities Act using a Form S-8, until we cease being a “shell company”.

We are a “shell company” as that term is defined by the applicable federal securities laws. Specifically, because of the nature and amount of our assets and our very limited operations, pursuant to applicable federal rules, we are considered a “shell company”. Applicable provisions of Rule 144 specify that during that time that we are a “shell company” and for a period of one year thereafter, holders of our restricted securities cannot sell those securities in reliance on Rule 144. This restriction may have potential adverse effects on future efforts to form additional capital through unregistered offerings. Another implication of us being a shell company is that we cannot file registration statements under Section 5 of the Securities Act using a Form S-8, a short form of registration to register securities issued to employees and consultants under an employee benefit plan. As result, one year after we cease being a shell company, assuming we are current in our reporting requirements with the Securities and Exchange Commission and have filed current “Form 10 information” with the SEC reflecting our status as an entity that is no longer a shell company for a period of not less than 12 months, holders of our restricted securities may then sell those securities in reliance on Rule 144 (provided, however, those holders satisfy all of the applicable requirements of that rule). For us to cease being a “shell company” we must have more than nominal operations and more that nominal assets or assets which do not consist solely of cash or cash equivalents. Shares purchased in this offering, which will be immediately resalable, and sales of all of our other shares if and when applicable restrictions against resale expire, could have a depressive effect on the market price, if any, of our common stock and the shares we are offering.

The offering price of the Notes being offered herein has been arbitrarily determined by us and bears no relationship to any criteria of value; as such, investors should not consider the offering price or value to be an indication of the value of the shares being registered.

Currently, there is no public market for our Notes. The offering price for the Notes being registered in this offering has been arbitrarily determined by us and is not based on assets, operations, book or other established criteria of value. Thus, investors should be aware that the offering price does not reflect the market price or value of our common shares.

We may, in the future, issue additional shares of common stock, which would reduce investors' percent of ownership and may dilute our share value.

Our Articles of Incorporation authorize the issuance of 50,000,000 shares of common stock. As of the date of this prospectus the Company had 15,000,000 shares of common stock outstanding. Mrunal Desai owns 5,000,250 shares, Yogesh Thakkar owns 5,000,250 shares, Mahendra Patel owns 1,749,750 shares, Manan Patel owns 1,749,750 shares, Sohela Ahmed Khalifa owns 1,500,000 shares. Accordingly, we may issue up to an additional 35,000,000 shares of common stock. The future issuance of common stock may result in substantial dilution in the percentage of our common stock held by our then existing shareholders. We may value any common stock issued in the future on an arbitrary basis. The issuance of common stock for future services or acquisitions or other corporate actions may have the effect of diluting the value of the shares held by our investors, and might have an adverse effect on any trading market for our common stock.

We are subject to compliance with securities law, which exposes us to potential liabilities, including potential rescission rights.

We may offer to sell our common stock to investors pursuant to certain exemptions from the registration requirements of the Securities Act of 1933, as well as those of various state securities laws. The basis for relying on such exemptions is factual; that is, the applicability of such exemptions depends upon our conduct and that of those persons contacting prospective investors and making the offering. We may not seek any legal opinion to the effect that any such offering would be exempt from registration under any federal or state law. Instead, we may elect to rely upon the operative facts as the basis for such exemption, including information provided by investor themselves.

If any such offering did not qualify for such exemption, an investor would have the right to rescind its purchase of the securities if it so desired. It is possible that if an investor should seek rescission, such investor would succeed. A similar situation prevails under state law in those states where the securities may be offered without registration in reliance on the partial preemption from the registration or qualification provisions of such state statutes under the National Securities Markets Improvement Act of 1996. If investors were successful in seeking rescission, we would face severe financial demands that could adversely affect our business and operations. Additionally, if we did not in fact qualify for the exemptions upon which it has relied, we may become subject to significant fines and penalties imposed by the SEC and state securities agencies.

Anti-takeover effects of certain provisions of Texas state law hinder a potential takeover of the Company.

Though not now, we may be or in the future we may become subject to Texas's control share law. A corporation is subject to Texas's control share law if it has more than 200 stockholders, at least 100 of whom are stockholders of record and residents of Texas, and it does business in Texas or through an affiliated corporation. The law focuses on the acquisition of a "controlling interest" which means the ownership of outstanding voting shares sufficient, but for the control share law, to enable the acquiring person to exercise the following proportions of the voting power of the corporation in the election of directors: (i) one-fifth or more but less than one-third, (ii) one-third or more but less than a majority, or (iii) a majority or more. The ability to exercise such voting power may be direct or indirect, as well as individual or in association with others.

The effect of the control share law is that the acquiring person, and those acting in association with it, obtains only such voting rights in the control shares as are conferred by a resolution of the stockholders of the corporation, approved at a special or annual meeting of stockholders. The control share law contemplates that voting rights will be considered only once by the other stockholders. Thus, there is no authority to strip voting rights from the control shares of an acquiring person once those rights have been approved. If the stockholders do not grant voting rights to the control shares acquired by an acquiring person, those shares do not become permanent non-voting shares. The acquiring person is free to sell its shares to others. If the buyers of those shares themselves do not acquire a controlling interest, their shares do not become governed by the control share law. If control shares are accorded full voting rights and the acquiring person has acquired control shares with a majority or more of the voting power, any stockholder of record, other than an acquiring person, who has not voted in favor of approval of voting rights is entitled to demand fair value for such stockholder's shares.

Texas's control share law may have the effect of discouraging takeovers of the corporation. In addition to the control share law, Texas has a business combination law which prohibits certain business combinations between Texas corporations and "interested stockholders" for three years after the "interested stockholder" first becomes an "interested stockholder," unless the corporation's board of directors approves the combination in advance.

For purposes of Texas law, an "interested stockholder" is any person who is (i) the beneficial owner, directly or indirectly, of ten percent or more of the voting power of the outstanding voting shares of the corporation, or (ii) an affiliate or associate of the corporation and at any time within the three previous years was the beneficial owner, directly or indirectly, of ten percent or more of the voting power of the then outstanding shares of the corporation. The definition of the term "business combination" is sufficiently broad to cover virtually any kind of transaction that would allow a potential acquiror to use the corporation's assets to finance the acquisition or otherwise to benefit its own interests rather than the interests of the corporation and its other stockholders.

The effect of Texas's business combination law is to potentially discourage parties interested in taking control of the Company from doing so if it cannot obtain the approval of our board of directors.

3. DILUTION

Should you purchase any of the Notes being offered herein, your interest may be diluted. The Company may offer its debt securities in future offerings that have equal or greater liquidation preferences than the Notes. That is, in the event of a liquidation, your pro rata interest in the assets of the Company will be marginalized alongside other holders of the Company's Notes.

Moreover, the Company holds the right to compel the holders of the Notes to convert the then-outstanding principal and interest into shares of the Company's common stock. Your as-converted stake in the Company will be diluted due to the Company issuing additional shares of its common stock. That is when the company issues more shares, the percentage of the company that you own will go down, even though the value of the company may go up. You will own a smaller piece of a larger company. This increase in number of shares outstanding could result from a stock offering (such as an initial public offering, another crowd funding round, a venture capital round, angel investment), employees exercising stock options, or by conversion of certain instruments (e.g. convertible bonds, preferred shares or warrants) into stock.

If the company decides to issue more shares, an investor could experience value dilution, with each share being worth less than before, and control dilution, with the total percentage an investor owns being less than before. The company has authorized and issued only one class or type of shares, common stock. Therefore, all of the company's current shareholders and the investors in this Offering will experience the same dilution if the company decides to issue more shares in the future.

4. PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

We are offering a maximum of 2,000 convertible notes on a no minimum, “best efforts” basis. We will sell the notes ourselves and do not plan to use underwriters or pay any commissions. We will be selling our notes using our best efforts and no one has agreed to buy any of our notes. This prospectus permits our officers and directors to sell the notes directly to the public, with no commission or other remuneration payable to them for any notes they may sell. There is no plan or arrangement to enter into any contracts or agreements to sell the notes with a broker or dealer. Our officers and directors will sell the notes and intend to offer them to friends, family members and business acquaintances. There is no minimum amount of notes we must sell so no money raised from the sale of our notes will go into escrow, trust or another similar arrangement.

The notes are being offered by Mrunal Desai, the Company’s Chief Executive Officer and the CFO. Mr. Yogesh Thakkar will be relying on the safe harbor in Rule 3a4-1 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 to sell the notes. No sales commission will be paid for notes sold by Mr. Yogesh Thakkar. Mr. Yogesh Thakkar is not subject to a statutory disqualification and is not associated persons of a broker or dealer.

Additionally, Mr. Yogesh Thakkar primarily performs substantial duties on behalf of the registrant otherwise than in connection with transactions in securities. Mr. Yogesh Thakkar has not been a broker or dealer or an associated person of a broker or dealer within the preceding 12 months and they have not participated in selling an offering of securities for any issuer more than once every 12 months other than in reliance on paragraph (a)4(i) or (a)4(iii) of Rule 3a4-1 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

The offering will terminate upon the earlier to occur of: (i) the sale of all 2,000 notes being offered, or (ii) 365 days after this registration statement is declared effective by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

No securities are being sold for the account of security holders; all net proceeds of this offering will go to the Company.

Operating Results

As of June 1, 2016, we have generated limited revenues of $5902 and incurred expenses of $42,375. Our operating expenses consist of the costs incurred in organizing the company and this offering. As a result, our net loss for the period from inception through June 1, 2016 was $36,473.

To meet our need for cash we are attempting to raise money from this offering. The maximum aggregate amount of this offering will be required to fully implement our growth/expansion plan. We are planning to use this funding for marketing, and accelerate our development for our new versions. This amount will be help us to generate significant revenue with our new offerings in terms of features, new items to sell, and better and easier user interface designs. We are expecting a significant amount of growth in terms of revenue, users, and market share with this raise.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

As of May 31st, 2016, the Company had $30,853 in cash and total liabilities of $30,000. As of June 30, 2016, the Company has incurred total expenses since inception of $42,375, related to the operation and expenses associated with this Offering. We are attempting to raise funds to proceed with our plan of operation. The Company hopes to raise $2,000,000 in this Offering. If we are successful at raising the maximum amount of this offering, we believe that such funds will be sufficient to fund our expenses over the next twelve months, and achieve significant growth.

Although we planning a major marketing and development approach, there is no guarantee that we will be successful. Our plan will depend highly on our funds, the availability of those funds, and the success of our implementation. Upon the qualification of the Form 1-A, the Company plans to pursue its marketing and growth plan. There can be no assurance of the Company's ability to do so or that additional capital will be available to the Company. If so, the Company's investment objective of rapid growth will be adversely affected and the Company may not be able to pursue its goals if it is unable to finance such acquisitions. The Company currently has no agreements, arrangements or understandings with any person to obtain funds through bank loans, lines of credit or any other sources. Since the Company has no such arrangements or plans currently in effect, its inability to raise funds for the above purposes will have a severe negative impact on its ability to grow and to implement its plan. There can be no assurance that additional capital will be available to the Company. If we are successful at raising capital by issuing more stock, or securities which are convertible into shares of the Company, your investment will be diluted as a result of such issuance.

We are dependent upon the success of this offering to achieve our planed growth, as described herein. Therefore, the failure thereof would result in the need to seek capital from other resources such as taking loans, which would likely not even be possible for the Company. However, if such financing were available, because we are a development stage company with only two years in operation to date, we would likely have to pay additional costs associated with loans and be subject to an above market interest rate. At such time these funds are required, management would evaluate the terms of such debt financing. If the Company cannot raise additional proceeds via a private placement of its equity or debt securities, or secure a loan, the Company would be required to scale back its rapid growth plan.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

As of June 30, 2016, we did not have any off-balance sheet arrangements.

Plan of Operations

Over the next twelve months, the Company intends to focus on developing and marketing its current products using the proceeds from this offering.

| Name | Capacities in which compensation was received | Cash compensation ($) | Other compensation ($) | Total compensation ($) |
|--------------------|-----------------------------------------------|------------------------|-------------------------|-------------------------|
| Mrunal Desai | CEO, Director | -0- | -0- | -0- |

| Manan Patel | Development VP, Director | 9,000 | -0- | 9,000 |
| Sohelahmed Khalifa | Infrastructure VP, Director | 7,000 | -0- | 7,000 |

Compensation of Directors

We do not compensate our directors for attendance at meetings. We reimburse our officers and directors for reasonable expenses incurred during the course of their performance. We have no long-term incentive plans.

11. SECURITY OWNERSHIP OF MANAGEMENT AND CERTAIN SECURITYHOLDERS

The following tables set forth the ownership, as of the date of this prospectus, of our common stock by each person known by us to be the beneficial owner of more than 5% of our outstanding common stock, our directors, and our executive officers and directors as a group. To the best of our knowledge, the persons named have sole voting and investment power with respect to such shares, except as otherwise noted. There are not any pending or anticipated arrangements that may cause a change in control.

The information presented below regarding beneficial ownership of our voting securities has been presented in accordance with the rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission and is not necessarily indicative of ownership for any other purpose. Under these rules, a person is deemed to be a "beneficial owner" of a security if that person has or shares the power to vote or direct the voting of the security or the power to dispose or direct the disposition of the security. A person is deemed to own beneficially any security as to which such person has the right to acquire sole or shared voting or investment power within 60 days through the conversion or exercise of any convertible security, warrant, option or other right. More than one person may be deemed to be a beneficial owner of the same securities. The percentage of beneficial ownership by any person as of a particular date is calculated by dividing the number of shares beneficially owned by such person, which includes the number of shares as to which such person has the right to acquire voting or investment power within 60 days, by the sum of the number of shares outstanding as of such date plus the number of shares as to which such person has the right to acquire voting or investment power within 60 days. Consequently, the denominator used for calculating such percentage may be different for each beneficial owner. Except as otherwise indicated below and under applicable community property laws, we believe that the beneficial owners of our common stock listed below have sole voting and investment power with respect to the shares shown.

| Name and address of beneficial owner (1) | Amount and nature of beneficial ownership (2) | Amount and nature of beneficial ownership acquirable | Percent of class (3) |
|---------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------|----------------------|
| Mrunal Desai | 5,000,250 | 500 | 33.33% |
| Yogesh Thakkar | 5,000,250 | 500 | 33.33% |
| Mahendra Patel | 1,749,750 | 175 | 11.67% |
| Manan Patel | 1,749,750 | 175 | 11.67% |
| Sohelahmed Khalifa | 1,500,000 | 150 | 10.00% |

| All directors and officers as a group (5 persons) | | | |

(1) The address of those listed is 2167 El Capitan Ave, Santa Clara, CA 95050

(2) Unless otherwise indicated, all shares are owned directly by the beneficial owner.

(3) Based on 15,000,000 shares outstanding prior to this Offering.

12. INTEREST OF MANAGEMENT AND OTHERS IN CERTAIN TRANSACTIONS

During the last fiscal year, there have been no transactions, or proposed transactions, which have materially affected or will materially affect us in which any director, executive officer or beneficial holder of more than 5% of the outstanding common, or any of their respective relatives, spouses, associates or affiliates, has had or will have any direct or material indirect interest. We have no policy regarding entering into transactions with affiliated parties.

Conflicts of Interest and Corporate Opportunities

The officers and directors have acknowledged that under Texas Corporate law that they must present to the Company any business opportunity presented to them as an individual that met the Texas's standard for a corporate opportunity: (1) the corporation is financially able to exploit the opportunity; (2) the opportunity is within the corporation's line of business; (3) the corporation has an interest or expectancy in the opportunity; and (4) by taking the opportunity for his own, the corporate fiduciary will thereby be placed in a position inimical to their duties to the corporation. This is enforceable and binding upon the officers and directors as it is part of the Code of Ethics that every officer and director is required to execute. However, the Company has not adopted formal written policies or procedures regarding the process for how these corporate opportunities are to be presented to the Board. It is the Company's intention to adopt such policies and procedures in the immediate future.

13. SECURITIES BEING OFFERED

Convertible Notes

This offering relates to the sale of Up to two thousand (2,000) Convertible Notes and the Notes will convert at a fixed price of $1 per share to 2,480,000, for an aggregate, maximum gross dollar offering of two Million and 00/100 ($2,000,000) Dollars (the "Offering"). The principal plus the 8% interest is paid in full for the whole duration of the Note regardless of the time of conversion, the Note will convert to Common shares of the Company at maturity unless if the company elects to convert sooner. The Notes are unsecured and mature 36 months from the date of issuance. The Notes carry no prepayment penalty. At its sole and absolute election, the Company may compel the holders of all or part of the Note to have the then-outstanding principal and interest into shares of the Company's common stock. The price at which the 2000 Notes may convert into shares of the Company's common is one dollar $1 per share to 2,480,000 shares. Currently, the Company does not qualify for a listing of its Common Stock on any major national stock exchange of automated quotation system and has not present intention to seek such a listing. The company may seek a listing post qualification and at a later stage.

Capital Stock

We are offering 2,480,000 shares of our capital stock in this Offering at conversion.

Our authorized capital stock consists of 50,000,000 shares of common stock, $0.0001 par value per share. As of June 1, 2016 we had 15,000,000 shares of common stock outstanding and zero shares of preferred stock outstanding. Outstanding shares are distributed in this order: Mrunal Desai owns 5,000,250 shares, Yogesh Thakkar owns 5,000,250 shares, Mahendra Patel owns 1,749,750 shares, Manan Patel owns 1,749,750 shares, Sohelahmed Khalifa owns 1,500,000 shares. The following is a summary of the rights of our capital stock as provided in our certificate of incorporation, as amended, and bylaws. For more detailed information, please see our articles of incorporation and bylaws, which have been filed as exhibits to the Offering Statement of which this Offering Circular is a part.

Common Stock

As of the date of this registration statement, there were 15,000,000 shares of common stock issued and outstanding held by five (5) shareholders. Additionally, the company will issue additional 2,480,000 shares to satisfy the Note conversion.

Voting Rights. The holders of the common stock are entitled to one vote for each share held of record on all matters submitted to a vote of the shareholders. Under our amended and restated certificate of incorporation and bylaws, our stockholders will not have cumulative voting rights. Because of this, the holders of a majority of the shares of common stock entitled to vote in any election of directors can elect all of the directors standing for election, if they should so choose.

Dividends. Subject to preferences that may be applicable to any then-outstanding preferred stock (in the event we create preferred stock), holders of common stock are entitled to receive ratably those dividends, if any, as may be declared from time to time by the board of directors out of legally available funds.

Liquidation Rights. In the event of our liquidation, dissolution or winding up, holders of common stock will be entitled to share ratably in the net assets legally available for distribution to stockholders after the payment of all of our debts and other liabilities and the satisfaction of any liquidation preference granted to the holders of any then-outstanding shares of preferred stock that may be created in the future.

Other Rights. Holders of common stock have no preemptive, conversion or subscription rights and there are no redemption or sinking fund provisions applicable to the common stock. The rights, preferences and privileges of the holders of common stock are subject to, and may be adversely affected by, the rights of the holders of shares of any series of preferred stock that we may create in the future.

Share Eligible for Future Sale

Prior to this offering, there was no public market for our common stock. We cannot predict the effect, if any, that market sales of shares of our common stock or the availability of shares of our common stock for sale will have on the market price of our common stock. Sales of substantial amounts of our common stock in the public market could adversely affect the market prices of our common stock and could impair our future ability to raise capital through the sale of our equity securities.

We have outstanding an aggregate of 15,000,000 shares of our common stock. None of these shares will be freely tradable without restriction or further registration under the Securities Act, unless those shares are purchased by our affiliates, as that term is defined in Rule 144 under the Securities Act. Additional to the founders shares, we will issue 2,480,000 shares at maturity to satisfy the Note conversion, and per the “1A” qualification the 2,480,000 shares shall be free tradable.

The 15,000,000 shares of common stock outstanding after this offering will be restricted as a result of securities laws. Restricted securities may be sold in the public market only if they have been registered or if they qualify for an exemption from registration under Rule 144 under the Securities Act.

Rule 144

A person who has beneficially owned restricted shares of common stock for at least six months would be entitled to sell their shares provided that (1) such person is not deemed to have been one of our affiliates at the time of, or at any time during the three months preceding, a sale and (2) we are subject to the Exchange Act periodic reporting requirements for at least three months before the sale. Persons who have beneficially owned restricted shares of common stock for at least six months but who are our affiliates at the time of, or any time during the three months preceding, a sale, would be subject to additional restrictions, by which such person would be entitled to sell within any three-month period a number of shares that does not exceed the greater of either of the following:

- 1% of the number of shares then outstanding, which will equal 90,850 shares of common stock immediately after this offering (or 104,290 shares of common stock if the over-allotment option is exercised in full); and

- the average weekly trading volume of the shares of common stock during the four calendar weeks preceding the filing of a notice on Form 144 with respect to the sale.

Sales under Rule 144 are also limited by manner of sale provisions and notice requirements and to the availability of current public information about us.

Restrictions on the Use of Rule 144 by Shell Companies or Former Shell Companies

Rule 144 is not available for the resale of securities initially issued by shell companies (other than business combination related shell companies) or issuers that have been at any time previously a shell company. However, Rule 144 also includes an important exception to this prohibition if the following conditions are met:

- the issuer of the securities that was formerly a shell company has ceased to be a shell company;
- the issuer of the securities is subject to the reporting requirements of Section 13 or 15(d) of the Exchange Act;
- the issuer of the securities has filed all Exchange Act reports and material required to be filed, as applicable, during the preceding 12 months (or such shorter period that the issuer was required to file such reports and materials), other than Form 8-K reports; and at least one year has elapsed from the time that the issuer filed current Form 10 type information with the SEC reflecting its status as an entity that is not a shell company.

Note 2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Revenue Recognition

Revenue is derived from contracts with our consumers. Revenue is recognized in accordance with ASC 605. As such, the Company identifies performance obligations and recognizes revenue over the period through which the Company satisfies these obligations. Any contracts that by nature cannot be broken down by specific performance criteria will recognize revenue on a straight-line basis over the contractual term of period of the contract.

Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable is reported at the customers' outstanding balances, less any allowance for doubtful accounts. Interest is not accrued on overdue accounts receivable.

Allowance for Doubtful Accounts

An allowance for doubtful accounts on accounts receivable is charged to operations in amounts sufficient to maintain the allowance for uncollectible accounts at a level management believes is adequate to cover any probable losses. Management determines the adequacy of the allowance based on historical write-off percentages and information collected from individual customers. Accounts receivable are charged off against the allowance when collectability is determined to be permanently impaired.

Stock Based Compensation

When applicable, the Company will account for stock-based payments to employees in accordance with ASC 718, "Stock Compensation" ("ASC 718"). Stock-based payments to employees include grants of stock, grants of stock options and issuance of warrants that are recognized in the consolidated statement of operations based on their fair values at the date of grant.

The Company accounts for stock-based payments to non-employees in accordance with ASC 505-50, "Equity-Based Payments to Non-Employees." Stock-based payments to non-employees include grants of stock, grants of stock options and issuances of warrants that are recognized in the consolidated statement of operations based on the value of the vested portion of the award over the requisite service period as measured at its then-current fair value as of each financial reporting date.

The Company calculates the fair value of option grants and warrant issuances utilizing the Binomial pricing model. The amount of stock-based compensation recognized during a period is based on the value of the portion of the awards that are ultimately expected to vest. ASC 718 requires forfeitures to be estimated at the time stock options are granted and warrants are issued to employees and non-employees, and revised, if necessary, in subsequent periods if actual forfeitures differ from those estimates. The term "forfeitures" is distinct from "cancellations" or "expirations" and represents only the unvested portion of the surrendered stock option or warrant. The Company estimates forfeiture rates for all unvested awards when calculating the expense for the period. In estimating the forfeiture rate, the Company monitors both stock option and warrant exercises as well as employee termination patterns. The resulting stock-based compensation expense for both employee and non-employee awards is generally recognized on a straight-line basis over the period in which the Company expects to receive the benefit, which is generally the vesting period.

Loss per Share

The Company reports earnings (loss) per share in accordance with ASC Topic 260-10, "Earnings per Share." Basic earnings (loss) per share is computed by dividing income (loss) available to common shareholders by the weighted average number of common shares available. Diluted earnings (loss) per share is computed similar to basic earnings (loss) per share except that the denominator is increased to include the number of additional common shares that would have been outstanding if the potential common shares had been issued and if the additional common shares were dilutive. Diluted earnings (loss) per share has not been presented since there are no dilutive securities.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purpose of the statements of cash flows, the Company considers cash and cash equivalents to include all stable, highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less.

Concentration of Credit Risk

The Company primarily transacts its business with one financial institution. The amount on deposit in that one institution may from time to time exceed the federally-insured limit.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Business segments

ASC 280, "Segment Reporting" requires use of the "management approach" model for segment reporting. The management approach model is based on the way a company's management organizes segments within the company for making operating decisions and assessing performance. The Company determined it has one operating segment as of June 30, 2016.

Income Taxes

The Company accounts for its income taxes under the provisions of ASC Topic 740, "Income Taxes." The method of accounting for income taxes under ASC 740 is an asset and liability method. The asset and liability method requires the recognition of deferred tax liabilities and assets for the expected future tax consequences of temporary differences between tax bases and financial reporting bases of other assets and liabilities.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

The Company continually assesses any new accounting pronouncements to determine their applicability to the Company. Where it is determined that a new accounting pronouncement affects the Company's financial reporting, the Company undertakes a study to determine the consequence of the change to its financial statements and assures that there are proper controls in place to ascertain that the Company's financials properly reflect the change. The Company currently does not have any recent accounting pronouncements that they are studying and feel may be applicable.

Note 3. Income Taxes

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are computed annually for differences between financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities that will result in taxable or deductible amounts in the future based on enacted tax laws and rates applicable to the periods in which the differences are expected to affect taxable income. Valuation allowances are established when necessary to reduce deferred tax assets to the amount expected to be realized. Income tax expense is the tax payable or refundable for the period plus or minus the change during the period in deferred tax assets and liabilities.

The effective tax rate on the net loss before income taxes differs from the U.S. statutory rate as follows:

| | 6/31/16 |
|--------------------------|----------------|
| U.S statutory rate | 34.00% |
| Less valuation allowance | -34.00% |
| Effective tax rate | 0.00% |

The significant components of deferred tax assets and liabilities are as follows:

| Deferred tax assets | |
| Net operating gain/losses | $ (36,473) |
