

JPMORGAN CHASE & CO.

Equity-Linked Notes Linked to a Reference Stock

General

- JPMorgan Chase & Co. may offer and sell equity-linked notes linked to a single common stock, which we refer to as the Reference Stock, from time to time. As used in this product supplement, the term "common stock" includes non-U.S. equity securities issued through depositary arrangements such as American depositary shares ("ADSs"). If the Reference Stock is an ADS, the term "issuer" refers to the issuer of the shares underlying the ADS. This product supplement no. 178-A-I describes terms that will apply generally to the equity-linked notes, and supplements the terms described in the accompanying prospectus supplement and prospectus. A separate term sheet or pricing supplement, as the case may be, will describe terms that apply specifically to the notes, including any changes to the terms specified below. We refer to such term sheets and pricing supplements generally as terms supplements. If the terms described in the relevant terms supplement are inconsistent with those described herein or in the accompanying prospectus supplement or prospectus, the terms described in the relevant terms supplement will control.
- The notes are the senior unsecured obligations of JPMorgan Chase & Co.
- Payment at maturity is based on the performance of a single Reference Stock as described below. We will, at our option, elect cash or physical delivery (i.e. in shares of the Reference Stock) of the payment at maturity. If we elect physical delivery, any fractional shares will be paid in cash.
- The Final Share Price may be adjusted to reflect, among other things, any ordinary dividend that is higher or lower than the base dividend as described below.
- In addition, we may pay interest at the interest rate specified in the relevant terms supplement.
- For important information about tax consequences, see "Certain U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences" beginning on page PS-32.
- Minimum denominations equal to the Principal Amount and integral multiples thereof, unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement
- The issuer of the Reference Stock is not an affiliate of ours and is not receiving any of the proceeds of any note offering. The obligations under the notes are our obligations only and the issuer of the Reference Stock will have no obligations of any kind under the notes. Investing in the notes is not equivalent to investing in the Reference Stock.
- The notes will not be listed on any securities exchange unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement.

See "Description of Notes — Payment at Maturity" and "General Terms of Notes — Anti-Dilution Adjustments."
Initial Strike Price:	If applicable, the relevant terms supplement will specify a share price other than the Initial Share Price to be used for calculating the Lower Put Strike Price, Upper Put Strike Price and Call Strike Price, which we refer to as an "Initial Strike Price." The Initial Strike Price for a Reference Stock may be based on and/or expressed as a percentage of the closing price of such Reference Stock as of a specified date, or may be determined without regard to the closing price of such Reference Stock as of a particular date. The closing price of the Reference Stock on an Ending Averaging Date, if applicable, used to determine the Final Share Price for the Reference Stock may be subject to adjustment. The Final Share Price will be adjusted to reflect any Ordinary Dividend that is higher or lower than the Base Dividend. See "Description of Notes — Payment at Maturity" and "General Terms of Notes — Anti-Dilution Adjustments — Ordinary Dividends."

The notes described in the relevant terms supplement and this product supplement no. 178-A-I are not appropriate for all investors, and involve important legal and tax consequences and investment risks, which should be discussed with your professional advisers. You should be aware that the regulations of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, or FINRA, and the laws of certain jurisdictions (including regulations and laws that require brokers to ensure that investments are suitable for their customers) may limit the availability of the notes. DESCRIPTION OF NOTES

The following description of the terms of the notes supplements the description of the general terms of the debt securities set forth under the headings "Description of Notes" in the accompanying prospectus supplement and "Description of Debt Securities" in the accompanying prospectus. A separate terms supplement will describe the terms that apply specifically to the notes, including any changes to the terms specified below. Capitalized terms used but not defined in this product supplement no. 178-A-I have the meanings assigned in the accompanying prospectus supplement, prospectus and the relevant terms supplement. The term "note" refers to each Principal Amount of our Equity-Linked Notes Linked to a Reference Stock specified in the relevant terms supplement.

General

The Equity-Linked Notes are senior unsecured obligations of JPMorgan Chase & Co. that are linked to a single common stock, which we refer to as the "Reference Stock." As used in this product supplement, the term "common stock" includes non-U.S. equity securities issued through depository arrangements such as American depository shares ("ADSs"). If the Reference Stock is an ADS, the term "issuer," in reference to the Reference Stock, refers to the issuer of the shares underlying such ADS. We refer to the common stock represented by an ADS as an "Underlying Stock." The notes are a series of securities referred to in the accompanying prospectus supplement, prospectus and the relevant terms supplement. The notes will be issued by JPMorgan Chase & Co. under an indenture dated May 25, 2001, as may be amended or supplemented from time to time, between us and Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas (formerly Bankers Trust Company), as trustee.

The notes do not guarantee any return of principal at, or prior to, maturity. Instead, at maturity you will receive, at our option, an amount in cash or shares of the Reference Stock, calculated as described below. The payment at maturity will vary depending on the performance of the Reference Stock calculated in accordance with the formulas set forth below, the Downside Participation and the Upside Participation.

If specified in the relevant terms supplement, the notes may also pay periodic interest payments as described below under "Interest Payments."

The notes are not bank deposits and are not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or by any other governmental agency, nor are they obligations of, or guaranteed by, a bank.

The notes are our unsecured and unsubordinated obligations and will rank pari passu with all of our other unsecured and unsubordinated obligations.

The notes will be issued in denominations equal to the Principal Amount and integral multiples thereof, unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement. The principal amount and issue price of each note is equal to the Initial Share Price as described below, which we refer to as the Principal Amount, unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement. The notes will be represented by one or more permanent global notes registered in the name of The Depository Trust Company, or DTC, or its nominee, as described under "Description of Notes — Forms of Notes" in the prospectus supplement and "Forms of Securities — Global Securities" in the prospectus.

The specific terms of the notes will be described in the relevant terms supplement accompanying this product supplement no. 178-A-I. The terms described in that document supplement those described herein and in the accompanying prospectus and prospectus supplement. If the terms described in the relevant terms supplement are inconsistent with those described herein or in the accompanying prospectus or prospectus supplement, the terms described in the relevant terms supplement will control.

Payment at Maturity

The maturity date for the notes will be set forth in the relevant terms supplement and is subject to adjustment if such day is not a business day or if the final Valuation Date is postponed as described below.

Unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement, the amount you will receive at maturity is based on the Final Share Price relative to the Lower Put Strike Price, Upper Put Strike Price and Call Strike Price as described below.

If the Final Share Price is less than or equal to the Lower Put Strike Price, you will receive a payment per note equal to:

$$\text{Downside Participation} \times \text{Lower Put Strike Price}$$

If the Final Share Price is greater than the Lower Put Strike Price and less than the Upper Put Strike Price, you will receive a payment per note equal to:

$$\text{Downside Participation} \times \text{Final Share Price}$$

If the Final Share Price is greater than or equal to the Upper Put Strike Price and less than the Call Strike Price, you will receive a payment of the Principal Amount per note.

If the Final Share Price is greater than or equal to the Call Strike Price, you will receive a payment per note equal to:

$$[\text{Upside Participation} \times (\text{Final Share Price} - \text{Call Strike Price})] + \text{Principal Amount}$$

We will, at our option, elect cash or physical delivery of the payment at maturity.

If the Final Share Price is less than the Upper Put Strike Price, you will lose some of your investment at maturity.

If we elect for physical delivery of the payment at maturity, unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement, you will receive, for each note, in lieu of cash, the Physical Delivery Amount. Any fractional shares will be paid in cash.

Unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement, the "Physical Delivery Amount" means a number of shares of the Reference Stock equal to the amount calculated in accordance with the Payment at Maturity provision above divided by the Final Share Price.

Unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement, with respect to the Reference Stock, the "Initial Share Price" means the closing price of one share of the Reference Stock on the pricing date or such other date as specified in the relevant terms supplement, or the arithmetic average of the closing prices of one share of the Reference Stock on each of the Initial Averaging Dates, if so specified in the relevant terms supplement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the relevant terms supplement specifies that the Initial Share Price for the Reference Stock will be determined based on the arithmetic average of the closing prices of one share of the Reference Stock on each of the Initial Averaging Dates and an adjustment to the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock would have become effective in accordance with "General Terms of Notes — Anti-Dilution Adjustments" (an "Adjustment Effective Date") after the first Initial Averaging Date but on or prior to the final Initial Averaging Date, then the closing price of the Reference Stock on each Initial Averaging Date occurring on or after the applicable Adjustment Effective Date to be used to determine the Initial Share Price for the Reference Stock will be deemed to equal such closing price multiplied by the applicable Stock Adjustment Factor, as adjusted (assuming that the applicable Stock Adjustment Factor prior to such adjustment is equal to 1.0).

If applicable, the relevant terms supplement will specify a share price other than the Initial Share Price to be used for calculating the Lower Put Strike Price, Upper Put Strike Price and Call Strike Price, which we refer to as an “Initial Strike Price.” The Initial Strike Price for a Reference Stock may be based on and/or expressed as a percentage of the closing price of such Reference Stock as of a specified date, or may be determined without regard to the closing price of such Reference Stock as of a particular date. For example, the relevant terms supplement may specify that the Initial Strike Price will be equal to 95% of the Initial Share Price; in that case, the Initial Strike Price will be used to calculate the Lower Put Strike Price, Upper Put Strike Price and Call Strike Price.

Unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement, with respect to the Reference Stock, the “Stock Adjustment Factor” will be set initially at 1.0, subject to adjustment upon the occurrence of certain corporate events affecting the Reference Stock. See “General Terms of Notes — Anti-Dilution Adjustments.”

Unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement, with respect to the Reference Stock, the “Final Share Price” means the closing price of one share of the Reference Stock on the Observation Date or such other date as specified in the relevant terms supplement, or the arithmetic average of the closing prices of one share of the Reference Stock on each of the Ending Averaging Dates, if so specified in the relevant terms supplement, in each case times the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock on such date, provided that, for notes with Ending Averaging Dates, if an adjustment to the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock would have become effective in accordance with “General Terms of Notes — Anti-Dilution Adjustments” after the first Ending Averaging Date but on or prior to the final Ending Averaging Date, the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock will be so adjusted for the event giving rise to such Adjustment Effective Date only on the Ending Averaging Dates occurring on or after such Adjustment Effective Date. The Final Share Price will be adjusted to reflect, among other things, any Ordinary Dividend that is higher or lower than the Base Dividend. See “General Terms of Notes — Anti-Dilution Adjustments — Ordinary Dividends.”

Unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement, the “Ordinary Dividend” means the regular quarterly cash dividend per one share of the Reference Stock paid by the Reference Stock issuer.

Unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement, the “Base Dividend” means an amount in cash as specified in the relevant terms supplement.

The “Lower Put Strike Price” is an amount equal to a percentage of the Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable) as specified in the relevant terms supplement and which will be less than 100% of the Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable), unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement. The Lower Put Strike Price will be less than the Upper Put Strike Price and the Call Strike Price.

The “Upper Put Strike Price” is an amount equal to a percentage of the Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable) as specified in the relevant terms supplement and which will be greater than 100% of the Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable), unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement. The Upper Put Strike Price will be less than the Call Strike Price and greater than the Lower Put Strike Price.

The “Call Strike Price” is an amount equal to a percentage of the Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable) as specified in the relevant terms supplement and which will be greater than 100% of the Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable), unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement. The Call Strike Price will be greater than the Lower Put Strike Price and the Upper Put Strike Price.

In each case, the “Downside Participation” and “Upside Participation” is a percentage specified in the relevant terms supplement, each of which will be less than 100%, unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement.

The "Reference Stock" will be specified in the relevant terms supplement.

Unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement, the "pricing date" means the day we price the notes for initial sale to the public.

Unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement, with respect to the Reference Stock, the "closing price" for one share of the Reference Stock (or one unit of any other security for which a closing price must be determined) on any trading day means:

- if the Reference Stock (or any such other security) is listed or admitted to trading on a national securities exchange, the last reported sale price, regular way (or, in the case of The NASDAQ Stock Market, the official closing price), of the principal trading session on such day on the principal United States securities exchange registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), on which the Reference Stock (or any such other security) is listed or admitted to trading, or
- if the Reference Stock (or any such other security) is not listed or admitted to trading on any national securities exchange but is included in the OTC Bulletin Board Service (or any successor service) operated by the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (the "FINRA") (the "OTC Bulletin Board"), the last reported sale price of the principal trading session on the OTC Bulletin Board on such day,
- with respect to any such other security, if such security is issued by a foreign issuer and its closing price cannot be determined as set forth in the two bullet points above, and such security is listed or admitted to trading on a non-U.S. securities exchange or market, the last reported sale price, regular way, of the principal trading session on such day on the primary non-U.S. securities exchange or market on which security is listed or admitted to trading, or
- otherwise, if none of the above circumstances is applicable, the mean, as determined by the calculation agent, of the bid prices for the Reference Stock (or any such other security) obtained from as many dealers in such security, but not exceeding three, as will make such bid prices available to the calculation agent.

Unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement, with respect to the Reference Stock, a "trading day" is a day, as determined by the calculation agent, on which trading is generally conducted on the New York Stock Exchange (the "NYSE"), the NYSE Amex LLC (the "NYSE Amex"), The NASDAQ Stock Market, the Chicago Mercantile Exchange Inc., the Chicago Board Options Exchange, Incorporated and in the over-the-counter market for equity securities in the United States or, with respect to a security issued by a foreign issuer that is not listed or admitted to trading on a U.S. securities exchange or market, a day, as determined by the calculation agent, on which trading is generally conducted on the primary non-U.S. securities exchange or market on which such security is listed or admitted to trading.

"Relevant Exchange" means, with respect to the Reference Stock, the primary U.S. exchange or market for trading for the Reference Stock, or with respect to an Underlying Stock, the primary exchange or market for trading for such Underlying Stock, as specified in the relevant terms supplement.

The Initial Averaging Dates, if applicable, will be specified in the relevant terms supplement, and any such date is subject to adjustment as described below. If an Initial Averaging Date is not a trading day or if there is a Market Disruption Event on such Initial Averaging Date, the applicable Initial Averaging Date will be postponed to the immediately succeeding trading day during which no Market Disruption Event shall have occurred or be continuing. In no event, however, will any Initial Averaging Date be postponed more than ten business days following the date originally scheduled to be such Initial Averaging Date. If the tenth business day following the date originally scheduled to be the applicable Initial Averaging Date is not a trading day, or if there is a Market Disruption Event on such tenth business day, the closing price of the Reference Stock on such Initial Averaging Date will be determined by the calculation agent in good faith based on its assessment of the market value of the Reference Stock on that tenth business day.

The Valuation Date(s), which will be either a single date, which we refer to as the Observation Date, or several dates, each of which we refer to as an Ending Averaging Date, will be specified in the relevant terms supplement, and any such date is subject to adjustment as described below.

The maturity date will be specified in the relevant terms supplement. If the scheduled maturity date (as specified in the relevant terms supplement) is not a business day, then the maturity date will be the next succeeding business day following such scheduled maturity date. If, due to a Market Disruption Event or otherwise, the final Valuation Date is postponed so that it falls less than three business days prior to the scheduled maturity date, the maturity date will be the third business day following that final Valuation Date, as postponed, unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement. We describe Market Disruption Events under "General Terms of Notes — Market Disruption Events."

We will irrevocably deposit with DTC no later than the opening of business on the applicable date or dates funds sufficient to make payments of the amount payable with respect to the notes on such date. We will give DTC irrevocable instructions and authority to pay such amount to the holders of the notes entitled thereto.

A "business day" is, unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement, any day other than a day on which banking institutions in The City of New York are authorized or required by law, regulation or executive order to close or a day on which transactions in dollars are not conducted.

Subject to the foregoing and to applicable law (including, without limitation, U.S. federal laws), we or our affiliates may, at any time and from time to time, purchase outstanding notes by tender, in the open market or by private agreement.

Notes with a maturity of more than one year

If a Valuation Date is not a trading day or if there is a Market Disruption Event on such day, the applicable Valuation Date will be postponed to the immediately succeeding trading day during which no Market Disruption Event shall have occurred or be continuing. In no event, however, will any Valuation Date be postponed more than ten business days following the date originally scheduled to be such Valuation Date. If the tenth business day following the date originally scheduled to be the applicable Valuation Date is not a trading day, or if there is a Market Disruption Event on such tenth business day, the closing price of the Reference Stock on such Valuation Date will be determined by the calculation agent in good faith based on its assessment of the market value of the Reference Stock on such tenth business day.

Notes with a maturity of not more than one year

If a Valuation Date is not a trading day or if there is a Market Disruption Event on such day, the applicable Valuation Date will be postponed to the immediately succeeding trading day during which no Market Disruption Event shall have occurred or be continuing. In no event, however, will any Valuation Date be postponed more than ten business days following the date originally scheduled to be such Valuation Date; provided, that no Valuation Date, as postponed, will produce a maturity date more than one year (counting for this purpose either the issue date or the maturity date, but not both) after the issue date (the last date that could serve as the final Valuation Date without causing the maturity date to be more than one year after the issue date, the "Final Disrupted Valuation Date"). If the tenth business day following the date originally scheduled to be the applicable Valuation Date is not a trading day or if there is a Market Disruption Event on such tenth business day, the closing price of the Reference Stock on such Valuation Date will be determined by the calculation agent in good faith based on its assessment of the market value of the Reference Stock on such tenth business day. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if any Valuation Date has been postponed to the Final Disrupted Valuation Date (treating any such Valuation Date that is not the final Valuation Date as if it were the final Valuation Date) and such Final Disrupted Valuation Date is not a trading day, or if there is a Market Disruption Event on such Final Disrupted Valuation Date, then the closing price of the Reference Stock on such Valuation Date will be determined by the calculation agent in good faith based on its assessment of the market value of the Reference Stock on such Final Disrupted Valuation Date. For the avoidance of doubt, in no event will any Valuation Date occur after the Final Disrupted Valuation Date.

Interest Payments

If the relevant terms supplement specifies that the notes will pay interest, for each interest period, unless otherwise specified in the terms supplement, for each note, the interest payment will be calculated as follows:

$$\text{Principal Amount} \times \text{Interest Rate} \times (\text{number of days in the interest period} / 360),$$ where the number of days will be calculated on the basis of a year of 360 days with twelve months of thirty days each.

If applicable, the notes will bear interest at a rate per annum specified in the relevant terms supplement. Interest will accrue from the issue date of the notes to but excluding the maturity date. Interest will be paid in arrears on each Interest Payment Date to and including the maturity date, to the holders of record at the close of business on the date 15 calendar days prior to that Interest Payment Date, whether or not such fifteenth calendar day is a business day, unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement. If the maturity date is adjusted as the result of a Market Disruption Event, the payment of interest due on the maturity date will be made on the maturity date as adjusted, with the same force and effect as if the maturity date had not been adjusted, but no additional interest will accrue or be payable as a result of the delayed payment.

The "Interest Rate" will be specified in the relevant terms supplement.

An "Interest Period" is the period beginning on and including the issue date of the notes and ending on but excluding the first Interest Payment Date, and each successive period beginning on and including an Interest Payment Date and ending on but excluding the next succeeding Interest Payment Date, or as specified in the relevant terms supplement.

An "Interest Payment Date" will be as specified in the relevant terms supplement, provided that no Interest Payment Date will be more than twelve months after the immediately prior Interest Payment Date or issue date of the notes, as applicable. If any day on which a payment of interest or principal is due is not a business day, the payment will be made with the same force and effect on the next succeeding business day, but no additional interest will accrue as a result of the delayed payment, and the next interest period, if any, will commence as if the payment had not been delayed.

No Fractional Share

If we deliver shares of the Reference Stock to you at maturity, we will pay cash in lieu of delivering any fractional share of the Reference Stock in an amount equal to the product of the closing price of the Reference Stock multiplied by such fractional amount as determined by the calculation agent on the final Valuation Date.

Delivery of shares of Reference Stock

We may designate any of our affiliates to deliver any shares of Reference Stock pursuant to the terms of the notes and we will be discharged of any obligation to deliver such shares of Reference Stock to the extent of such performance by our affiliates. Reference in this product supplement to delivery of shares of Reference Stock by us will also include delivery of such shares by our affiliates.

RISK FACTORS

Your investment in the notes will involve certain risks. Investing in the notes is not equivalent to investing directly in the Reference Stock. In addition, your investment in the notes entails other risks not associated with an investment in conventional debt securities. You should consider carefully the following discussion of risks before you decide that an investment in the notes is suitable for you.

The notes may not pay interest and do not guarantee the return of your investment.

The notes may not pay interest and may not return all of your investment. The amount payable at maturity will be determined pursuant to the terms described in this product supplement and the relevant terms supplement.

You will receive at least the full principal amount of your notes at maturity only if the Final Share Price is greater than or equal to the Upper Put Strike Price. You will lose some of your investment at maturity if the Final Share Price is less than the Upper Put Strike Price. Even if the notes pay interest, we cannot guarantee that the interest you may receive over the term of the notes will be sufficient to offset any loss you may incur at maturity.

The notes are subject to the credit risk of JPMorgan Chase & Co.

The notes are subject to the credit risk of JPMorgan Chase & Co. and our credit ratings and credit spreads may adversely affect the market value of the notes. Investors are dependent on JPMorgan Chase & Co.'s ability to pay all amounts due on the notes at maturity and on any other relevant payment date, and therefore investors are subject to our credit risk and to changes in the market's view of our creditworthiness. Any decline in our credit ratings or increase in the credit spreads charged by the market for taking our credit risk is likely to affect adversely the value of the notes.

The appreciation potential of the notes is limited.

The notes do not provide the ability to participate in any upside appreciation of the Reference Stock unless the closing price of the Reference Stock has appreciated by at least a percentage equal to the percentage difference between the Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable) and the Call Strike Price. If the Final Share Price is greater than or equal to the Call Strike Price, your payment at maturity per note will be equal to the sum of (a) the Upside Participation multiplied by the difference between the Final Share Price and the Call Strike Price and (b) the Principal Amount per note. Accordingly, any appreciation potential of the notes is limited by the Upside Participation, which may be less than 100%. In such circumstances, your ability to participate in the full difference between the Final Share Price and the Call Strike Price is limited.

Your payment at maturity may be less than your initial investment, even if the Final Share Price is greater than the Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable).

Even if the Final Share Price is greater than the Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable), if the Final Share Price is less than the Upper Put Strike Price, your payment at maturity per note will be less than the Principal Amount. Under these circumstances, your payment at maturity will be equal to the product of the Downside Participation and either (a) the Lower Put Strike Price (if the Final Share Price is less than or equal to the Lower Put Strike Price) or (b) the Final Share Price. Under these circumstances, because the Downside Participation is less than 100%, your payment at maturity will always be less than your initial investment.

Your payment at maturity will be determined on the final Valuation Date and will not be adjusted for any changes in the closing price of the Reference Stock that may occur between the final Valuation Date and the maturity date.

We will elect whether to pay the payment at maturity in cash or in Reference Stock, with any fractional shares paid in cash. The amount of cash or the number of shares of the Reference Stock that you will receive, will be determined on the final Valuation Date and will not be adjusted for any changes that may occur in the closing price of the Reference Stock between the final Valuation Date and the maturity date.

You will have no ownership rights in the Reference Stock.

Investing in the notes is not equivalent to investing in the Reference Stock. As an investor in the notes, you will not have any ownership interest or rights in the Reference Stock, such as voting rights, dividend payments or other distributions. If the notes are linked to non-U.S. equity securities issued through depositary arrangements like ADSs, you will not have the rights of owners of such ADSs or the applicable Underlying Stock.

Your return on the notes will not reflect dividends on the Reference Stock.

Your return on the notes will not reflect the return you would realize if you actually owned the Reference Stock and received the dividends paid on the Reference Stock. This is because the calculation agent will calculate the amount payable to you at maturity of the notes by reference to the Final Share Price relative to the Lower Put Strike Price, the Upper Put Strike Price and Call Strike Price. The Final Share Price reflects the closing price of the Reference Stock on the Valuation Date(s) without taking into consideration the value of dividends paid on the Reference Stock.

We have no affiliation with the issuer of the Reference Stock.

The issuer of the Reference Stock is not an affiliate of ours and will not be involved in any of our offerings of notes pursuant to this product supplement in any way. Consequently, we have no control of the actions of the issuer of the Reference Stock, including any corporate actions of the type that would require the calculation agent to adjust the payment to you at maturity. The issuer of the Reference Stock has no obligation to consider your interest as an investor in the notes in taking any corporate actions that might affect the value of your notes. None of the money you pay for the notes will go to the issuer of the Reference Stock.

In addition, as we are not affiliated with the issuer of the Reference Stock, we do not assume any responsibility for the adequacy of the information about the Reference Stock or the issuer contained in this product supplement, any terms supplement or in any of the Reference Stock issuer's publicly available filings. We are not responsible for such issuer's public disclosure of information on themselves or the Reference Stock, whether contained in Securities and Exchange Commission, which we refer to as the SEC, filings or otherwise. As an investor in the notes, you should make your own investigation into the Reference Stock.

Secondary trading may be limited.

Unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement, the notes will not be listed on a securities exchange. There may be little or no secondary market for the notes. Even if there is a secondary market, it may not provide enough liquidity to allow you to trade or sell the notes easily.

J.P. Morgan Securities Inc., or JPMSI, may act as a market maker for the notes, but is not required to do so. Because we do not expect that other market makers will participate significantly in the secondary market for the notes, the price at which you may be able to trade your notes is likely to depend on the price, if any, at which JPMSI is willing to buy the notes. If at any time JPMSI or another Agent does not act as a market maker, it is likely that there would be little or no secondary market for the notes.

The value of the Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable) for the Reference Stock may be determined after the issue date of the notes.

If so specified in the relevant terms supplement, the Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable) for the Reference Stock will be determined based on the arithmetic average of the closing price of the Reference Stock on the Initial Averaging Dates specified in that relevant terms supplement. One or more of the Initial Averaging Dates specified may occur on or following the issue date of the notes; as a result, the Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable) for the Reference Stock may not be determined, and you may therefore not know the value of such Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable), until after the issue date. Similarly, the global note certificate representing the notes, which will be deposited with DTC on the issue date as described under “General Terms of Notes — Book-Entry Only Issuance — The Depository Trust Company,” will not set forth the value of the Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable) for the Reference Stock. If there are any increases in the closing price of the Reference Stock on the Initial Averaging Dates that occur after the issue date and such increases result in the Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable) for the Reference Stock being greater than the Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable) for the Reference Stock on the issue date, this may establish higher levels that the Reference Stock must achieve for you to obtain a positive return on your investment or avoid a loss of principal at maturity.

The Final Share Price may be less than the closing price of the Reference Stock at the maturity date of the notes or at other times during the term of the notes.

Because the Final Share Price is calculated based on the closing price on one or more Valuation Dates during the term of the notes, the price of the Reference Stock at the maturity date or at other times during the term of the notes, including dates near the Valuation Date(s), could be higher than the Final Share Price. This difference could be particularly large if there is a significant increase in the price of the Reference Stock after the final Valuation Date, or if there is a significant decrease in the price of the Reference Stock around the time of the Valuation Date(s), or if there is significant volatility in the price of the Reference Stock during the term of the notes (especially on dates near the Valuation Date(s)). For example, when the Valuation Date is near the end of the term of the notes, then if the closing price increases or remains relatively constant during the initial term of the notes and then decreases below the Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable), the Final Share Price may be significantly less than if it were calculated on a date earlier than the Valuation Date. Under these circumstances, you may receive a lower payment at maturity than you would have received if you had invested in the Reference Stock or contracts relating to the Reference Stock for which there is an active secondary market.

The notes are not designed to be short-term trading instruments.

The notes are not designed to be short-term trading instruments. The price at which you will be able to sell your notes prior to maturity, if at all, may be at a substantial discount from the principal amount of the notes, even in cases where the closing price of the Reference Stock has appreciated since the date of the issuance of the notes. The potential returns described in the relevant terms supplement assume that your notes are held to maturity.

Prior to maturity, the value of the notes will be influenced by many unpredictable factors.

Many economic and market factors will influence the value of the notes. We expect that, generally, the price of the Reference Stock on any day will affect the value of the notes more than any other single factor. However, you should not expect the value of the notes in the secondary market to vary in proportion to changes in the price of the Reference Stock. The value of the notes will be affected by a number of other factors that may either offset or magnify each other, including:

- whether the Reference Stock closes above, equal to, or below the Lower Put Strike Price, Upper Put Strike Price or Call Strike Price from the pricing date to the final Valuation Date;
- the expected frequency and magnitude of changes in the market prices of the Reference Stock (volatility);
- the time to maturity of the notes;
- the dividend rate paid on the Reference Stock (while not paid to holders of the notes, dividend payments on the Reference Stock may influence the market prices of the Reference Stock and the market value of options on the Reference Stock and therefore affect the market value of the notes);
- interest and yield rates in the market generally as well as in the markets of the Reference Stock;
- economic, financial, political, regulatory or judicial events that affect the Reference Stock or stock markets generally and which may affect the closing price of the Reference Stock on any Initial Averaging Date, if applicable, or any Valuation Date, and, consequently, the Final Share Price on any Valuation Date;
- if the Reference Stock is an ADS, the exchange rate and volatility of the exchange rate between the U.S. dollar and the currency of the country in which the Underlying Stock is traded;
- the occurrence of certain events affecting the issuer of the Reference Stock that may or may not require an adjustment to the applicable Stock Adjustment Factor, including a merger or acquisition or in the case of an ADS, the selection of a Successor Reference Stock; and
- our creditworthiness, including actual or anticipated downgrades in our credit ratings.

Some or all of these factors will influence the price you will receive if you choose to sell your notes prior to maturity. The impact of any of the factors set forth above may enhance or offset some or all of any change resulting from another factor or factors. You may have to sell your notes at a substantial discount from the Principal Amount if the Final Share Price is below or not sufficiently above, the Upper Put Strike Price.

You cannot predict the future performance of the Reference Stock based on its historical performance. The value of the Reference Stock may decrease such that you may not receive any return on your investment. You will lose some of your investment at maturity if the Final Share Price is less than the Upper Put Strike Price.

The inclusion in the original issue price of each agent's commission and the estimated cost of hedging our obligations under the notes is likely to affect adversely the value of the notes prior to maturity.

While the payment at maturity will be based on the full principal amount of your notes as described in the relevant terms supplement, the original issue price of the notes includes each agent's commission and the estimated cost of hedging our obligations under the notes. Such agent's estimated cost includes the profit our affiliates expect to realize in consideration for assuming the risks inherent in providing such hedge. As a result, assuming no change in market conditions or any other relevant factors, the price, if any, at which JPMSI will be willing to purchase notes from you in secondary market transactions, if at all, will likely be lower than the original issue price. In addition, any such prices may differ from values determined by pricing models used by JPMSI, as a result of such compensation or other transaction costs.

If the market value of the Reference Stock changes, the market value of your notes may not change in the same manner.

Owning the notes is not the same as owning the Reference Stock. Accordingly, changes in the market value of the Reference Stock may not result in a comparable change in the market value of the notes. If the closing price of the Reference Stock on any trading day increases above its Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable), the value of the notes may not increase comparably, if at all. It is also possible for the value of the Reference Stock to increase moderately while the value of the notes declines.

We or one of our affiliates may serve as the depository for the American Depositary Shares representing the common stock of an issuer.

We or one of our affiliates may serve as depository for some foreign companies that issue ADSs. If the Reference Stock is an ADS, and we or one of our affiliates serves as depository for such ADS, our or such affiliates' interests, as depository for the ADS, may be adverse to your interests as a holder of the notes.

If the Reference Stock is an ADS, fluctuations in exchange rates will affect your investment.

There are significant risks related to an investment in a note that is linked to the ADS of a foreign issuer, which is quoted and traded in U.S. dollars, representing an Underlying Stock that is quoted and traded in a foreign currency. The ADS, which is quoted and traded in U.S. dollars, may trade differently from the Underlying Stock. In recent years, the rates of exchange between the U.S. dollar and some other currencies have been highly volatile and this volatility may continue in the future. These risks generally depend on economic and political events over which we have no control. Fluctuations in any particular exchange rate that have occurred in the past are not necessarily indicative, however, of fluctuations that may occur during the term of the notes. Changes in the exchange rate between the U.S. dollar and a foreign currency may affect the U.S. dollar equivalent of the price of the Underlying Stock on non-U.S. securities markets and, as a result, may affect the market price of the ADS, which may consequently affect the value of the notes.

We have no control over exchange rates.

Foreign exchange rates can either float or be fixed by sovereign governments. Exchange rates of the currencies used by most economically developed nations are permitted to fluctuate in value relative to the U.S. dollar and to each other. However, from time to time governments and, in the case of countries using the euro, the European Central Bank, may use a variety of techniques, such as intervention by a central bank, the imposition of regulatory controls or taxes or changes in interest rates to influence the exchange rates of their currencies. Governments may also issue a new currency to replace an existing currency or alter the exchange rate or relative exchange characteristics by a devaluation or revaluation of a currency. These governmental actions could change or interfere with currency valuations and currency fluctuations that would otherwise occur in response to economic forces, as well as in response to the movement of currencies across borders. As a consequence, these government actions could adversely affect an investment in a note that is linked to the ADS of a foreign issuer, which are quoted and traded in U.S. dollars, each representing an Underlying Stock that is quoted and traded in a foreign currency.

We will not make any adjustment or change in the terms of the notes in the event that exchange rates should become fixed, or in the event of any devaluation or revaluation or imposition of exchange or other regulatory controls or taxes, or in the event of other developments affecting the U.S. dollar or any relevant foreign currency. You will bear those risks.

If the Reference Stock is an ADS, an investment in the notes is subject to risks associated with non-U.S. securities markets.

An investment in the notes linked to the value of the ADS of a foreign issuer representing interests in non-U.S. equity securities involves risks associated with the securities markets in those countries where the relevant non-U.S. equity securities are traded, including risks of markets volatility, governmental intervention in those markets and cross shareholdings in companies in certain countries. Also, non-U.S. companies are generally subject to accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards and requirements, and securities trading rules different from those applicable to U.S. reporting companies.

The prices of securities in non-U.S. markets may be affected by political, economic, financial and social factors in such markets, including changes in a country's government, economic and fiscal policies, currency exchange laws or other laws or restrictions. Moreover, the economies of such countries may differ favorably or unfavorably from the economy of the United States in such respects as growth of gross national product, rate of inflation, capital reinvestment, resources and self sufficiency. Such countries may be subjected to different and, in some cases, more adverse economic environments.

The economies of emerging market countries in particular face several concerns, including the relatively unstable governments which may present the risks of nationalization of businesses, restrictions on foreign ownership and prohibitions on the repatriation of assets, and which may have less protection of property rights than more developed countries. These economies may also be based on only a few industries, be highly vulnerable to changes in local and global trade conditions and may suffer from extreme and volatile debt burdens or inflation rates. In addition, local securities markets may trade a small number of securities and may be unable to respond effectively to increases in trading volume, potentially making prompt liquidation of holdings difficult or impossible at times. The risks of the economies of emerging market countries are relevant for notes linked to the ADSs of an emerging markets issuer.

Some or all of these factors may influence the price of the ADS. The impact of any of these factors set forth above may enhance or offset some or all of any change resulting from another factor or factors. You cannot predict the future performance of the ADS based on its historical performance. The value of the ADS may decrease such that you may not receive any return on your investment. There can be no assurance that the price of the ADS will not decrease so that at maturity you will not lose some of your investment.

There are important differences between the rights of holders of ADSs and the rights of holders of the common stock of the foreign company.

If your note is linked to the performance of the ADS of a foreign issuer, you should be aware that your note is linked to the price of the ADS and not to the applicable Underlying Stock, and there exist important differences between the rights of holders of ADSs and the Underlying Stock. Each ADS is a security evidenced by American Depositary Receipts that represents a specified number of shares of common stock of a foreign issuer. Generally, ADSs are issued under a deposit agreement, which sets forth the rights and responsibilities of the depositary, the foreign issuer and holders of the ADSs, which may be different from the rights of holders of common stock of the foreign issuer. For example, the foreign issuer may make distributions in respect of its common stock that are not passed on to the holders of its ADSs. Any such differences between the rights of holders of the ADS and holders of the Underlying Stock may be significant and may materially and adversely affect the value of the notes.

In some circumstances, the payment you receive on the notes may be based on the common stock (or ADS, as applicable) of a company that is not the Reference Stock.

Following certain corporate events relating to the Reference Stock where its issuer is not the surviving entity, the amount you receive at maturity may be based on the common stock of a successor to the Reference Stock issuer or any cash or any other assets distributed to holders of the Reference Stock in such corporate event. The occurrence of these corporate events and the consequent adjustments may materially and adversely affect the value of the notes. We describe the specific corporate events that can lead to these adjustments and the procedures for selecting Exchange Property (as described below) in the section of this product supplement called “General Terms of Notes — Anti-Dilution Adjustments — Reorganization Events.”

In addition, for notes linked to the performance of an ADS, if the ADS is no longer listed or admitted to trading on a U.S. securities exchange registered under the Exchange Act, or included in the OTC Bulletin Board, or if the ADS facility between the issuer and the ADS depository is terminated for any reason, the calculation agent will have the option to either (a), (i) replace that ADS with the ADS of a company selected from among the ADSs of three companies organized in, or with its principal executive office located in, the country in which the issuer of that original ADS is organized, or has its principal executive office, and that are then registered to trade on the NYSE or The NASDAQ Stock Market with the same primary Standard Industrial Classification Code (“SIC Code”) as that original ADS that, in the sole discretion of the calculation agent, is the most comparable to that original ADS, taking into account such factors as the calculation agent deems relevant, including, without limitation, market capitalization, dividend history and stock price volatility or (ii) in certain circumstances, replace that ADS with the ADS of a company that is organized in, or with its principal executive office located in, the country in which the issuer of the original ADS is organized, or has its principal executive office and that are then registered to trade on the NYSE or The NASDAQ Stock Market that, in the sole discretion of the calculation agent, is the most comparable to the original ADS, taking into account such factors as the calculation agent deems relevant, including, without limitation, market capitalization, dividend history and stock price volatility and that is within the same Division and Major Group classification (as defined by the Office of Management and Budget) as the primary SIC Code for the original ADS or (iii) in certain circumstances, replace that ADS with the common stock of a company that is then registered to trade on the NYSE or The NASDAQ Stock Market with the same primary SIC Code as the original ADS that in the sole discretion of the calculation agent, is the most comparable to the original ADS, taking into account such factors as the calculation agent deems relevant including, without limitation, market capitalization, dividend history and stock price volatility or (b) deem the applicable Underlying Stock to be the Reference Stock. You should read the section of this product supplement called “General Terms of Notes — Anti-Dilution Adjustments — Delisting of ADSs or Termination of ADS Facility” for more information. Replacing the original ADS serving as the Reference Stock with another ADS may materially and adversely affect the value of the notes.

Anti-dilution protection is limited.

The calculation agent will make adjustments to the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock, which will be set initially at 1.0, for certain adjustment events (as defined below) affecting the Reference Stock, including stock splits and certain corporate actions, such as mergers or the payment of an Ordinary Dividend that is different from the Base Dividend. The calculation agent is not required, however, to make such adjustments in response to all corporate actions, including if the issuer of the Reference Stock or another party makes a partial tender or partial exchange offer for the Reference Stock. If such a dilution event occurs and the calculation agent is not required to make an adjustment, the value of the notes may be materially and adversely affected. See “General Terms of Notes — Anti-Dilution Adjustments” for further information.

We may exercise any and all rights we may have as a lender to or a security holder of the issuer of the Reference Stock.

If we or any of our affiliates are lenders to, or hold securities of, the issuer of the Reference Stock, we will have the right, but not the obligation, to exercise or refrain from exercising our rights as a lender to, or holder of securities of such issuer. Any exercise of our rights as a lender or holder of securities of the issuer of the Reference Stock, or our refraining from such exercise, will be made without regard to your interests and could affect the value of the notes.

We or our affiliates may have adverse economic interests to the holders of the notes.

JPMSI and other affiliates of ours may trade the Reference Stock and other financial instruments related to the Reference Stock on a regular basis, for their accounts and for other accounts under their management. JPMSI and these affiliates may also underwrite or assist unaffiliated entities in the issuance or underwriting of the Reference Stock and may issue or underwrite or assist unaffiliated entities in the issuance or underwriting of other securities or financial instruments linked to the Reference Stock. To the extent that we or one of our affiliates serves as issuer, agent or underwriter for such securities or financial instruments, our or their interests with respect to such products may be adverse to those of the holders of the notes. Any of these trading activities could potentially affect the price of the Reference Stock and, accordingly, could affect the value of the notes and the amount, if any, payable to you at maturity.

We or our affiliates may currently or from time to time engage in business with the issuers of the Reference Stock, including extending loans to, or making equity investments in, or providing advisory services to them, including merger and acquisition advisory services. In the course of this business, we or our affiliates may acquire non-public information about the issuer of the Reference Stock, and we will not disclose any such information to you. In addition, one or more of our affiliates may publish research reports or otherwise express views about the issuer of the Reference Stock. Any prospective purchaser of notes should undertake an independent investigation of the issuer of the Reference Stock as in its judgment is appropriate to make an informed decision with respect to an investment in the notes.

Additionally, we or one of our affiliates may serve as issuer, agent or underwriter for additional issuances of notes with returns linked or related to the Reference Stock. By introducing competing products into the marketplace in this manner, we or one or more of our affiliates could adversely affect the value of the notes.

We may have hedged our obligations under the notes through certain affiliates or unaffiliated counterparties who would expect to make a profit on such hedge. Because hedging our obligations entails risk and may be influenced by market forces beyond our control, such hedging may result in a profit that is more or less than expected, or it may result in a loss.

JPMSI, one of our affiliates, will act as the calculation agent. The calculation agent will determine, among other things, the Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable), the Lower Put Strike Price, the Upper Put Strike Price, the Call Strike Price, the closing price of the Reference Stock on each Initial Averaging Date, if applicable, and on each Valuation Date, the Final Share Price, the Stock Adjustment Factor, any anti-dilution adjustments and Reorganization Event adjustments for the Reference Stock, the Base Dividend and the payment at maturity, on the notes. In addition, the calculation agent will determine whether there has been a Market Disruption Event with respect to the Reference Stock and whether to select and, if it determines to do so, select, a Successor Reference Stock if an ADS serving as the Reference Stock is delisted or is no longer admitted to trading on a U.S. securities exchange or included in the OTC Bulletin Board, or if the ADS facility between the issuer of the applicable Underlying Stock and the ADS depository is terminated. The calculation agent will also determine the price of the Reference Stock if a Valuation Date has been postponed for ten business days due to a Market Disruption Event or a non-trading day. In performing these duties, JPMSI may have interests adverse to the interests of the holders of the notes, which may affect your return on the notes, particularly where JPMSI, as the calculation agent, is entitled to exercise discretion.

Market disruptions may adversely affect your return.

The calculation agent may, in its sole discretion, determine that the markets have been affected in a manner that prevents it from properly determining the closing price of the Reference Stock on any Initial Averaging Date, if applicable, or any Valuation Date, the Final Share Price of the Reference Stock, whether the Final Share Price is less than, greater than or equal to the Lower Put Strike Price, the Upper Put Strike Price or the Call Strike Price and calculating the amount, if any, that we are required to pay you at maturity. These events may include disruptions or suspensions of trading in the markets as a whole. If the calculation agent, in its sole discretion, determines that any of these events prevents us or any of our affiliates from properly hedging our obligations under the notes, it is possible that one or more of the Valuation Dates or Initial Averaging Dates, if any, and the maturity date will be postponed and your return will be adversely affected. Moreover, if any Valuation Date is postponed to the last possible day and the closing price of the Reference Stock is not available on that day because of a Market Disruption Event or if such day is not a trading day, the calculation agent will nevertheless determine the Final Share Price of the Reference Stock in good faith based upon its assessment of the market value of the Reference Stock on that last possible day. See "General Terms of the Notes — Market Disruption Events."

Generally, if the term of the notes is not more than one year, we expect to treat the notes as short-term debt instruments for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Unless otherwise provided in the relevant terms supplement, if the term of the notes is not more than one year (including either the issue date or the last possible date that the notes could be outstanding, but not both), we expect to treat the notes as "short-term" debt instruments for U.S. federal income tax purposes. No statutory, judicial or administrative authority directly addresses the treatment of notes or instruments similar to the notes for U.S. federal income tax purposes, and no ruling is being requested from the Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS") with respect to the notes. As a result, certain aspects of the tax treatment of an investment in the notes are uncertain. You should review carefully the section entitled "Certain U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences" in this product supplement no. 178-A-I and consult your tax adviser regarding your particular circumstances.

Generally, if the term of the notes is more than one year, we expect to treat the notes as contingent payment debt instruments for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Unless otherwise provided in the relevant terms supplement, if the term of the notes is more than one year (including either the issue date or the last possible date the notes could be outstanding, but not both), we expect to treat the notes as "contingent payment debt instruments" for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Assuming this treatment, you generally will be required to recognize interest income in each year at the "comparable yield," as determined by us, adjusted to take account of the difference between actual and projected payments in that year. Interest included in income will increase your basis in the notes and the projected amount of stated interest, if any, will reduce your basis in the notes. Generally, amounts received at maturity or on earlier sale or exchange in excess of your basis will be treated as additional interest income, while any loss will generally be treated as an ordinary loss to the extent of all previous inclusions with respect to your notes, which to that extent will be deductible against other income (e.g., employment and interest income), with the balance treated as capital loss, which may be subject to limitations. Losses may be subject to special reporting requirements. You should review carefully the section entitled "Certain U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences" in this product supplement no. 178-A-I and consult your tax adviser regarding your particular circumstances.

JPMorgan Chase & Co. employees holding the notes must comply with policies that limit their ability to trade the notes and may affect the value of their notes.

If you are an employee of JPMorgan Chase & Co. or one of its affiliates, you may only acquire the notes for investment purposes and you must comply with all of our internal policies and procedures. Because these policies and procedures limit the dates and times that you may transact in the notes, you may not be able to purchase any notes described in the relevant terms supplement from us and your ability to trade or sell any such notes in the secondary market may be limited.

We cannot assure you that the public information provided on the issuer of the Reference Stock is accurate or complete.

All disclosures contained in the relevant terms supplement regarding the issuer of the Reference Stock will be derived from publicly available documents and other publicly available information. We have not participated, and will not participate, in the preparation of such documents or made any due diligence inquiry with respect to the issuer of the Reference Stock in connection with the offering of the notes. We do not make any representation that such publicly available documents or any other publicly available information regarding the issuer of the Reference Stock is accurate or complete, and are not responsible for public disclosure of information by the issuer of the Reference Stock, whether contained in filings with the SEC or otherwise. Furthermore, we cannot give any assurance that all events occurring prior to the date of the relevant terms supplement, including events that would affect the accuracy or completeness of the public filings of the issuer of the Reference Stock or the value of the Reference Stock (and therefore the Final Share Price), will have been publicly disclosed. Subsequent disclosure of any such events or the disclosure of or failure to disclose material future events concerning the issuer of the Reference Stock could affect the amount you will receive at maturity of the notes and, therefore, the trading prices of the notes. Any prospective purchaser of the notes should undertake an independent investigation of the issuer of the Reference Stock as in its judgment is appropriate to make an informed decision with respect to an investment in the notes.

USE OF PROCEEDS

Unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement, the net proceeds we receive from the sale of the notes will be used for general corporate purposes and, in part, by us or by one or more of our affiliates in connection with hedging our obligations under the notes. The original issue price of the notes includes each agent's commissions (as shown on the cover page of the relevant terms supplement) paid with respect to the notes and the estimated cost of hedging our obligations under the notes. We may have hedged our obligations under the notes through certain affiliates or unaffiliated counterparties.

Unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement, the original issue price of the notes will include reimbursement of certain issuance costs and the estimated cost of hedging our obligations under the notes. The estimated cost of hedging includes the projected profit, which in no event will exceed 5% of the Principal Amount per note, that our affiliates expect to realize in consideration for assuming the risks inherent in hedging our obligations under the notes. Because hedging our obligations entails risk and may be influenced by market forces beyond our control, the actual cost of such hedging may result in a profit that is more or less than expected, or could result in a loss. See also "Use of Proceeds" in the accompanying prospectus.

On or prior to the date of the relevant terms supplement, we, through our affiliates or others, may hedge some or all of our anticipated exposure in connection with the notes by taking positions in the Reference Stock or instruments the value of which is derived from the Reference Stock. While we cannot predict an outcome, such hedging activity or other hedging and investment activities of ours could potentially increase the closing price of the Reference Stock, and, therefore, effectively establish higher closing prices that the Reference Stock must achieve for you to obtain a positive return on your investment or avoid a loss of principal at maturity. From time to time, prior to maturity of the notes, we may pursue a dynamic hedging strategy which may involve taking long or short positions in the Reference Stock or instruments the values of which are derived from the Reference Stock. Although we have no reason to believe that any of these activities will have a material impact on the prices of the Reference Stock or the value of the notes, we cannot assure you that these activities will not have such an effect.

We have no obligation to engage in any manner of hedging activity and will do so solely at our discretion and for our own account. No note holder will have any rights or interest in our hedging activity or any positions we or any unaffiliated counterparties may take in connection with our hedging activity.

In connection with the offering of the notes, we have not participated in the preparation of such documents or made any due diligence inquiry with respect to the issuer of the Reference Stock. We do not make any representation that such publicly available documents are, or any other publicly available information regarding the issuer of the Reference Stock is, accurate or complete. Furthermore, we cannot give any assurance that all events occurring prior to the date hereof (including events that would affect the accuracy or completeness of the publicly available documents described in the preceding paragraph) that would affect the trading prices of the Reference Stock (and therefore the Final Share Price) have been publicly disclosed. Subsequent disclosure of any such events or the disclosure of or failure to disclose material future events concerning the issuer of the Reference Stock could affect the payment at maturity with respect to the notes and therefore the trading prices of the note.

Neither we nor any of our affiliates makes any representation to you as to the performance of the Reference Stock.

We and/or our affiliates may currently or from time to time engage in business with the issuer of the Reference Stock, including extending loans to, or making equity investments in, such issuer or providing advisory services to such issuer, including merger and acquisition advisory services. In the course of such business, we and/or our affiliates may acquire non-public information with respect to the Reference Stock or their issuer, and neither we nor any of our affiliates undertakes to disclose any such information to you. In addition, one or more of our affiliates may publish research reports with respect to the Reference Stock or their issuer, and these reports may or may not recommend that investors buy or hold the Reference Stock. As a prospective purchaser of a note, you should undertake an independent investigation of the Reference Stock or their issuer as in your judgment is appropriate to make an informed decision with respect to an investment in the notes.

Historical Performance of the Reference Stock

We will provide historical price information on the Reference Stock in the relevant terms supplement. You should not take any such historical prices as an indication of future performance.

Hypothetical returns on your notes

The relevant terms supplement may include a table, chart or graph showing various hypothetical returns on your note based on a range of hypothetical Final Share Price for a hypothetical Reference Stock and various key assumptions shown in the relevant terms supplement, in each case assuming the investment is held from the issue date until the scheduled maturity date.

Any table, chart or graph showing hypothetical returns will be provided for purposes of illustration only. It should not be viewed as an indication or prediction of future investment results. Rather, it is intended merely to illustrate the effect that various hypothetical market values of the Reference Stock on the scheduled Valuation Date(s) could have on the hypothetical returns on your note, if held to the scheduled maturity date, calculated in the manner described in the relevant terms supplement and assuming all other variables remained constant. Any payments at maturity listed in the relevant terms supplement will be entirely hypothetical. They will be based on Final Share Price that may vary and on assumptions that may prove to be erroneous.

The return on your note may bear little relation to, and may be much less than, the return that you might achieve were you to invest in the Reference Stock directly. Among other things, the return on the Reference Stock could include substantial dividend payments, which you will not receive as an investor in your note, and an investment in the Reference Stock is likely to have tax consequences that are different from an investment in your note.

We describe various risk factors that may affect the market value of your note, and the unpredictable nature of that market value, under "Risk Factors" above.

GENERAL TERMS OF NOTES

Calculation Agent

J.P. Morgan Securities Inc. will act as the calculation agent. The calculation agent will determine, among other things, the Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable), the Lower Put Strike Price, the Upper Put Strike Price, the Call Strike Price, the closing price of the Reference Stock on each Initial Averaging Date, if applicable, and on each Valuation Date, the Final Share Price, the Stock Adjustment Factor, any anti-dilution adjustments and Reorganization Event adjustments for the Reference Stock, the Base Dividend and the payment at maturity on the notes. In addition, the calculation agent will determine whether there has been a Market Disruption Event with respect to the Reference Stock and whether to select and, if it determines to do so, select, a Successor Reference Stock if an ADS serving as the Reference Stock is delisted or is no longer admitted to trading on a U.S. securities exchange or included in the OTC Bulletin Board, or if the ADS facility between the issuer of the applicable Underlying Stock and the ADS depository is terminated. The calculation agent will also determine the price of the Reference Stock if a Valuation Date has been postponed for ten business days due to a Market Disruption Event or a non-trading day. All determinations made by the calculation agent will be at the sole discretion of the calculation agent and will, in the absence of manifest error, be conclusive for all purposes and binding on you and on us. We may appoint a different calculation agent from time to time after the date of the relevant terms supplement without your consent and without notifying you.

The calculation agent will provide written notice to the trustee at its New York office, on which notice the trustee may conclusively rely, of the amount to be paid at maturity on or prior to 11:00 a.m., New York City time on the business day preceding the maturity date.

All calculations with respect to the Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable), Lower Put Strike Price, Upper Put Strike Price, Call Strike Price, Final Share Price, or closing price, will be rounded to the nearest one hundred-thousandth, with five one-millionths rounded upward (e.g., .876545 would be rounded to .87655); all dollar amounts related to determination of the payment per note at maturity or on any Interest Payment Date, if applicable, will be rounded to the nearest ten-thousandth, with five one hundred-thousandths rounded upward (e.g., .76545 would be rounded up to .7655); and all dollar amounts paid on the aggregate principal amount of notes per holder will be rounded to the nearest cent, with one-half cent rounded upward.

Market Disruption Events

Certain events may prevent the calculation agent from calculating the closing price of the Reference Stock on any Initial Averaging Date, if applicable, or any Valuation Date or the Final Share Price of the Reference Stock or calculating the amount that we will pay to you at maturity. These events may include disruptions or suspensions of trading on the markets as a whole. We refer to each of these events individually as a "Market Disruption Event."

"Market Disruption Event" means, with respect to the Reference Stock (or any security for which a closing price must be determined):

- the occurrence or existence of a suspension, material limitation or absence of trading of the Reference Stock (or such security) on the Relevant Exchange for the Reference Stock (or such security) for more than two hours of trading during, or during the one-half hour period preceding the close of, the principal trading session on such Relevant Exchange;

- a breakdown or failure in the price and trade reporting systems of the Relevant Exchange for the Reference Stock (or such security) as a result of which the reported trading prices for the Reference Stock (or such security) during the last one-half hour preceding the close of the principal trading session on such Relevant Exchange are materially inaccurate;
- a suspension, material limitation or absence of trading on the primary exchange or market for trading in futures or options contracts related to the Reference Stock (or such security), if available, during the one-half hour period preceding the close of the principal trading session in the applicable exchange or market; or
- a decision to permanently discontinue trading in such related futures or options contract, in each case as determined by the calculation agent in its sole discretion; and

- a determination by the calculation agent in its sole discretion that the applicable event described above materially interfered with our ability or the ability of any of our affiliates to effect transactions in the Reference Stock or any instrument related to the Reference Stock or to adjust or unwind all or a material portion of any hedge position in the Reference Stock with respect to the notes.

For the purpose of determining whether a Market Disruption Event has occurred:

- a limitation on the hours or number of days of trading will not constitute a Market Disruption Event if it results from an announced change in the regular business hours of the Relevant Exchange or the primary exchange or market for trading in futures or options contracts related to the Reference Stock (or such security),
- limitations pursuant to NYSE Rule 80B (or any applicable rule or regulation enacted or promulgated by the NYSE, any other U.S. self-regulatory organization, the SEC or any other relevant authority of scope similar to NYSE Rule 80B as determined by the calculation agent) on trading during significant market fluctuations will constitute a suspension, absence or material limitation of trading, and
- a suspension of trading in futures or options contracts on the Reference Stock (or such security) by the primary exchange or market for trading in such contracts, if available, by reason of:
 - a price change exceeding limits set by such exchange or market,
 - an imbalance of orders relating to such contracts, or
 - a disparity in bid and ask quotes relating to such contracts

will, in each such case, constitute a suspension, absence or material limitation of trading in futures or options contracts related to the Reference Stock (or such security), as determined by the calculation agent in its sole discretion; and

- a "suspension, absence or material limitation of trading" on the primary exchange or market on which futures or options contracts related to the Reference Stock (or such other security) are traded will not include any time when such exchange or market is itself closed for trading under ordinary circumstances.

Anti-Dilution Adjustments

The Stock Adjustment Factor, Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable) and Final Share Price for the Reference Stock is subject to adjustment by the calculation agent as a result of the anti-dilution and reorganization adjustments described in this section.

Unless otherwise specified below, no adjustments to any Stock Adjustment Factor will be required unless such Stock Adjustment Factor adjustment would require a change of at least 0.1% in such Stock Adjustment Factor then in effect. A Stock Adjustment Factor resulting from any of the adjustments specified in this section will be rounded to the nearest one ten-thousandth with five one hundred-thousandths being rounded upward. The calculation agent will not be required to make any adjustments to the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock after the close of business on the business day immediately preceding the maturity date.

No adjustments to the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock will be required other than those specified below. The required adjustments specified in this section do not cover all events that could affect the closing price of the Reference Stock on any trading day during the term of the notes. No adjustments will be made for certain other events, such as offerings of common stock by the issuer of the Reference Stock for cash or in connection with acquisitions or otherwise or the occurrence of a partial tender or exchange offer for the Reference Stock by the issuer of the Reference Stock or any third party.

For purposes of these adjustments, except as noted below, if an ADS is serving as the Reference Stock, all adjustments to the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock will be made as if the applicable Underlying Stock is serving as the Reference Stock. Therefore, for example, if the applicable Underlying Stock is subject to a two-for-one stock split and assuming the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock is equal to one, the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock would be adjusted to be equal to two. If the Reference Stock is an ADS, the term "dividend" used in this section, with respect to the Reference Stock, will mean, unless we specify otherwise in the relevant terms supplement, the dividend paid by the issuer of the applicable Underlying Stock, net of any applicable foreign withholding or similar taxes that would be due on dividends paid to a U.S. person that claims and is entitled to a reduction in such taxes under an applicable income tax treaty, if available.

If an ADS is serving as the Reference Stock, no adjustment to the applicable ADS price or the applicable Stock Adjustment Factor, including those described below, will be made if (1) holders of such ADSs are not eligible to participate in any of the transactions described below or (2) (and to the extent that) the calculation agent determines in its sole discretion that the issuer or the depository for such ADSs has adjusted the number of shares of the applicable Underlying Stock represented by each such ADS so that such ADS price would not be affected by the corporate event in question. However, to the extent that the number of shares of the applicable Underlying Stock represented by each such ADS is changed for any other reason, appropriate adjustments to the anti-dilution adjustments described herein (which may include ignoring such provision, if appropriate) will be made to reflect such change.

J.P. Morgan Securities Inc., as calculation agent, will be solely responsible for the determination and calculation of any adjustments to the Stock Adjustment Factors and of any related determinations and calculations with respect to any distributions of stock, other securities or other property or assets, including cash, in connection with any corporate event described in this section and its determinations and calculations will be conclusive absent manifest error.

We will, within ten business days following the occurrence of an event that requires an adjustment to any Stock Adjustment Factor (other than as a result of a Reorganization Event or an Ordinary Dividend Adjustment, each as described below), or if we are not aware of this occurrence, as soon as practicable after becoming so aware, provide notice to the calculation agent, which will provide written notice to the trustee, which will provide notice to the holders of the notes of the occurrence of this event and, if applicable, a statement in reasonable detail setting forth such adjusted Stock Adjustment Factor.

Stock Splits and Reverse Stock Splits

If the Reference Stock is subject to a stock split or reverse stock split, then once any split has become effective, the Stock Adjustment Factor relating to the Reference Stock will be adjusted so that the new Stock Adjustment Factor will equal the product of:

- the prior Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock, and
- the number of shares that a holder of one share of the Reference Stock before the effective date of that stock split or reverse stock split would have owned immediately following the applicable effective date.

Stock Dividends or Distributions

If the Reference Stock is subject to a (i) stock dividend, i.e., issuance of additional shares of the Reference Stock, that is given ratably to all holders of shares of the Reference Stock, or (ii) distribution of shares of the Reference Stock as a result of the triggering of any provision of the corporate charter of the issuer of the Reference Stock, then, once the dividend or distribution has become effective and the shares of the Reference Stock are trading ex-dividend, the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock will be adjusted so that the new Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock will equal the prior Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock plus the product of:

- the prior Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock, and
- the number of additional shares issued in the stock dividend or distribution with respect to one share of the Reference Stock.

Non-Cash Dividends or Distributions

If the issuer of the Reference Stock distributes shares of capital stock, evidences of indebtedness or other assets or property of the issuer of the Reference Stock to all holders of shares of the Reference Stock (other than (i) dividends, distributions, rights or warrants referred to under “— Stock Splits and Reverse Stock Splits” or “— Stock Dividends or Distributions” above or “— Issuance of Transferable Rights or Warrants” below and (ii) cash distributions or dividends referred under “— Extraordinary Cash Dividends or Distributions” below), then, once the dividend or distribution has become effective and the shares of the Reference Stock are trading ex-dividend, the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock will be adjusted so that the new Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock will equal the product of:

- the prior Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock, and
- a fraction, the numerator of which is the Current Market Price of one share of the Reference Stock and the denominator of which is the amount by which such Current Market Price exceeds the Fair Market Value of such distribution.

The “Current Market Price” of the Reference Stock means the closing price of one share of the Reference Stock on the trading day immediately preceding the ex-dividend date of the dividend or distribution requiring an adjustment to the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock.

The “Fair Market Value” of any such distribution means the value of such distribution on the ex-dividend date for such distribution, as determined by the calculation agent. If such distribution consists of property traded on the ex-dividend date on a U.S. national securities exchange or, if the applicable Reference Stock is an ADS on a non-U.S. securities exchange or market, the Fair Market Value will equal the closing price of such distributed property on such ex-dividend date, as determined by the calculation agent.

The “ex-dividend date,” with respect to a dividend or other distribution on the Reference Stock, means the first trading day on which transactions in the Reference Stock trade on the Relevant Exchange without the right to receive that dividend or other distribution.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, a distribution on the Reference Stock described in clause (a), (d) or (e) of the section entitled “— Reorganization Events” below that also would require an adjustment under this section will not cause an adjustment to the Stock Adjustment Factor of the Reference Stock and will only be treated as a Reorganization Event (as defined below) pursuant to clause (a), (d) or (e) under the section entitled “— Reorganization Events.” A distribution on the Reference Stock described in the section entitled “— Issuance of Transferable Rights or Warrants” that also would require an adjustment under this section will only cause an adjustment pursuant to the section entitled “— Issuance of Transferable Rights or Warrants.”

Ordinary Dividends

If an Ordinary Dividend different from the Base Dividend is paid on the Reference Stock, then the Stock Adjustment Factor will be adjusted so that the new Stock Adjustment Factor will equal the product of:

- the prior Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock, and
- a fraction, the numerator of which will be the Current Market Price of the Reference Stock, and the denominator of which will be (x) the Current Market Price of the Reference Stock minus (y) the excess dividend.

The “excess dividend,” which may be negative, will equal the Ordinary Dividend paid minus the Base Dividend.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, a cash dividend that would otherwise require adjustment to the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock under both this “— Ordinary Dividends” section and the “— Extraordinary Cash Dividends or Distributions” section below will only require an adjustment under the “—Extraordinary Cash Dividends or Distributions” section below.

Extraordinary Cash Dividends or Distributions

If the issuer of the Reference Stock pays dividends or makes other distributions consisting exclusively of cash to all holders of shares of the Reference Stock during any fiscal quarter during the term of the notes, in an aggregate amount that, together with other such cash dividends or distributions made previously during such quarterly fiscal period with respect to which an adjustment to the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock has not previously been made under this “— Extraordinary Cash Dividends or Distributions” section (but excluding any cash dividend made previously during such quarterly fiscal period with respect to which an adjustment to the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock has previously been made under the “— Ordinary Dividends” section above), exceeds the Dividend Threshold for the Reference Stock, then, once the dividend or distribution has become effective and the shares of the Reference Stock are trading ex-dividend, the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock will be adjusted so that the new Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock will equal the product of:

- the prior Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock, and
- a fraction, the numerator of which is the Current Market Price of the Reference Stock and the denominator of which is the amount by which such Current Market Price exceeds the aggregate amount in cash per share the issuer of the Reference Stock distributes in such cash dividend or distribution together with any cash dividends or distributions made previously during such quarterly fiscal period with respect to which an adjustment to the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock has not previously been made under this “— Extraordinary Cash Dividends or Distributions” section (but excluding any cash dividend made previously during such quarterly fiscal period with respect to which an adjustment to the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock has previously been made under the “— Ordinary Dividends” section above) to holders of shares of the Reference Stock in excess of the Dividend Threshold for the Reference Stock.

For the avoidance of doubt, the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock may be adjusted more than once in any particular quarterly fiscal period because of cash dividends or distributions that exceed the Dividend Threshold for the Reference Stock. If the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock has been previously adjusted in a particular quarterly fiscal period because of cash dividends or distributions that exceed the Dividend Threshold for the Reference Stock, subsequent adjustments will be made if the issuer of the Reference Stock pays cash dividends or makes other distributions during such quarterly fiscal period in an aggregate amount that, together with other such cash dividends or distributions since the last adjustment to the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock (because of cash dividends or distributions that exceed the Dividend Threshold for the Reference Stock) exceeds the Dividend Threshold for the Reference Stock. Such subsequent adjustments to the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock will only take into account the cash dividends or distributions during such quarterly fiscal period made since the last adjustment to the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock because of cash dividends or distributions that exceed the Dividend Threshold for the Reference Stock.

The "Dividend Threshold," with respect to the Reference Stock, is equal to the sum of (x) the immediately preceding cash dividend(s) or other cash distribution(s) paid in the preceding quarterly fiscal period, if any, per share of the Reference Stock plus (y) 10% of the closing price of one share of the Reference Stock on the trading day immediately preceding the ex-dividend date, unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement.

Issuance of Transferable Rights or Warrants

If the issuer of the Reference Stock issues transferable rights or warrants to all holders of shares of the Reference Stock to subscribe for or purchase the Reference Stock, including new or existing rights to purchase the Reference Stock at an exercise price per share less than the closing price of one share of the Reference Stock on both (i) the date the exercise price of such rights or warrants is determined and (ii) the expiration date of such rights and warrants pursuant to a shareholder's rights plan or arrangement, and if the expiration date of such rights or warrants precedes the maturity date of the notes, then the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock will be adjusted on the business day immediately following the issuance of such transferable rights or warrants so that the new Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock will equal the prior Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock plus the product of:

- the prior Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock, and
- the number of shares of the Reference Stock that can be purchased with the cash value of such warrants or rights distributed on one share of the Reference Stock.

The number of shares that can be purchased will be based on the closing price of the Reference Stock on the date the new Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock is determined. The cash value of such warrants or rights, if the warrants or rights are traded on a U.S. national securities exchange or, in the case of the Reference Stock that is an ADS, on a non-U.S. securities exchange or market, will equal the closing price of such warrant or right, or, if the warrants or rights are not traded on a U.S. national securities exchange or a non-U.S. securities exchange or market, as applicable, will be determined by the calculation agent and will equal the average (mean) of the bid prices obtained from three dealers at 3:00 p.m., New York City time, on the date the new Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock is determined, provided that if only two such bid prices are available, then the cash value of such warrants or rights will equal the average (mean) of such bids and if only one such bid is available, then the cash value of such warrants or rights will equal such bid.

Reorganization Events

If prior to the maturity date,

- (a) there occurs any reclassification or change of the Reference Stock, including, without limitation, as a result of the issuance of tracking stock by the issuer of the Reference Stock,
- (b) the issuer of the Reference Stock, or any surviving entity or subsequent surviving entity of the issuer of the Reference Stock (a "Successor Entity"), has been subject to a merger, combination or consolidation and is not the surviving entity,
- (c) any statutory exchange of securities of the issuer of the Reference Stock or any Successor Entity with another corporation occurs, other than pursuant to clause (b) above,
- (d) the issuer of the Reference Stock is liquidated or is subject to a proceeding under any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar law,
- (e) the issuer of the Reference Stock issues to all of its shareholders equity securities of an issuer other than the issuer of the Reference Stock, other than in a transaction described in clauses (b), (c) or (d) above (a "Spin-Off Event"), or
- (f) a tender or exchange offer or going-private transaction is commenced for all the outstanding shares of the issuer of the Reference Stock and is consummated and completed in full for all or substantially all of such shares, as determined by the calculation agent in its sole discretion (an event in clauses (a) through (f), a "Reorganization Event"), then the Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable) and, therefore, the Lower Put Strike Price, the Upper Put Strike Price and the Call Strike Price and the Final Share Price for the Reference Stock will be adjusted as set forth below.

If a Reorganization Event with respect to the Reference Stock occurs, in each case as a result of which the holders of the Reference Stock receive Exchange Property, then the Final Share Price for the Reference Stock will be determined by reference to the value of the Exchange Property following the effective date for such Reorganization Event (or, if applicable, in the case of a Spin-Off Event, the Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable) for the Reference Stock will be adjusted based on the closing prices of one share of the Reference Stock immediately preceding and immediately succeeding the ex-dividend date for the distribution of equity securities subject to such Spin-Off Event). The value of the Exchange Property will be calculated as the sum of the value of the components of the Exchange Property as described below:

- If the Exchange Property consists of securities (including, without limitation, securities of the issuer of the Reference Stock or securities of foreign issuers represented by American depository receipts) traded on the NYSE, the NYSE Amex, or The NASDAQ Stock Market ("Exchange Traded Securities"), the value of such Exchange Property will equal the closing price of the securities composing the Exchange Property.
- if the Exchange Property consists of cash, property other than Exchange Traded Securities or a combination thereof, the calculation agent will value such Exchange Property as if such Exchange Property was liquidated on the date the issuer of the Reference Stock received all such non-cash Exchange Property upon terms that it deems commercially reasonable, and the value of the Exchange Property will equal the aggregate cash amount, including both the Exchange Property consisting of cash and the amount resulting from the valuation or liquidation of the non-cash Exchange Property.

“Exchange Property,” with respect to the Reference Stock that is subject to a Reorganization Event, will consist of the Reference Stock continued to be held by the holders of the Reference Stock, and any securities, cash or any other assets distributed to the holders of the Reference Stock with respect to one share, in or as a result of, the Reorganization Event. No interest will accrue on any Exchange Property.

In the event Exchange Property consists of securities, those securities will, in turn, be subject to the anti-dilution adjustments contained herein.

In the case of a consummated and completed in full tender or exchange offer or going-private transaction involving Exchange Property of a particular type, Exchange Property will be deemed to include the amount of cash or other property paid by the offeror in the tender or exchange offer with respect to such Exchange Property (in an amount determined on the basis of the rate of exchange in such tender or exchange offer or going-private transaction). In the event of a tender or exchange offer or a going-private transaction with respect to Exchange Property in which an offeree may elect to receive cash or other property, Exchange Property will be deemed to include the kind and amount of cash and other property received by offerees who elect to receive cash.

The calculation agent will be solely responsible for the determination and calculation of the Exchange Property if a Reorganization Event occurs, the value thereof and its effect on the relevant Reference Stock’s Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable) and, therefore, the Lower Put Strike Price, the Upper Put Strike Price and the Call Strike Price, and its Final Share Price. The calculation agent’s determinations and calculations, and its adjustments of the Reference Stock’s prices, shall be conclusive absent manifest error.

If a Reorganization Event (other than a Spin-Off Event) with respect to the Reference Stock occurs, then, on and after the effective date of such Reorganization Event:

- (1) the Reference Stock’s Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable) and, therefore, the Lower Put Strike Price, the Upper Put Strike Price and the Call Strike Price will not be further adjusted under this “— Reorganization Events” section; and
- (2) the Final Share Price will equal the sum of:
 - the closing price of any Exchange Traded Securities composing the Exchange Property on the Observation Date, or the arithmetic average of the closing prices of any Exchange Traded Securities composing the Exchange Property on each of the Ending Averaging Dates, in each case times the Stock Adjustment Factor for such Exchange Traded Securities (which will be reset to equal 1.0 on the effective date of the Reorganization Event) on such date; provided that, for notes with Ending Averaging Dates, if an adjustment to the Stock Adjustment Factor would have become effective in accordance with “— Anti-Dilution Adjustments” above after the first Ending Averaging Date but on or prior to the final Ending Averaging Date, the Stock Adjustment Factor will be so adjusted for the event giving rise to such Adjustment Effective Date only on the Ending Averaging Dates occurring on or after such Adjustment Effective Date;
 - the aggregate cash amount of any Exchange Property consisting of cash; and
 - the aggregate cash amount resulting from the valuation or liquidation of the non-cash Exchange Property that is not an Exchange Traded Security on the final Valuation Date.

If a Reorganization Event (other than a Spin-Off Event) has occurred, unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement, we will be deemed to have elected for cash delivery of the payout at maturity.

If a Spin-Off Event with respect to the Reference Stock occurs, then, on and after the ex-dividend date for the distribution of equity securities subject to such Spin-Off Event:

(A) the Reference Stock's Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable) will be adjusted on the ex-dividend date for the distribution of equity securities subject to such Spin-Off Event so that the new Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable) for the Reference Stock will equal the product of (i) the Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable) of the Reference Stock immediately prior to the ex-dividend date with respect to the Spin-Off Event and (ii) a fraction, the numerator of which is equal to the closing price per share of the Reference Stock on the trading day immediately succeeding the ex-dividend date with respect to the Spin-Off Event, and the denominator of which is the closing price per share of the Reference Stock on the trading day immediately preceding the ex-dividend date with respect to the Spin-Off Event;

(B) the Upper Put Strike Price, the Lower Put Strike Price and the Call Strike Price will be adjusted based on the adjusted Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable) determined under clause (A) above; and

(C) the Final Share Price for the Reference Stock on any trading day on and after the ex-dividend date with respect to the Spin-Off Event will not be further adjusted under this "— Reorganization Events" section.

Delisting of ADSs or Termination of ADS Facility

If an ADS serving as the Reference Stock (an "Original Reference Stock") is no longer listed or admitted to trading on a U.S. securities exchange registered under the Exchange Act, or included in the OTC Bulletin Board, or if the ADS facility between the issuer of the applicable Underlying Stock and the ADS depository is terminated for any reason, then, on and after the date such ADS is no longer so listed or admitted to trading or the date of such termination, as applicable (the "Change Date"), the calculation agent, in its sole discretion without consideration for the interests of investors, will either (A) determine a Successor Reference Stock (as defined below) to such ADS after the close of the principal trading session on the trading day immediately prior to the Change Date in accordance with the following paragraph (each successor stock as so determined, a "Successor Reference Stock" and such successor stock issuer, a "Successor Reference Stock Issuer") or (B) select the applicable Underlying Stock to be the Reference Stock.

The "Successor Reference Stock" with respect to an ADS will be the ADS of a company selected by the calculation agent from among the ADSs of three companies organized in, or with its principal executive office located in, the country in which the issuer of such Original Reference Stock is organized, or has its principal executive office, and that are then registered to trade on the NYSE or The NASDAQ Stock Market with the same primary Standard Industrial Classification Code ("SIC Code") as such Original Reference Stock that, in the sole discretion of the calculation agent, is the most comparable to such Original Reference Stock, taking into account such factors as the calculation agent deems relevant, including, without limitation, market capitalization, dividend history and stock price volatility; provided, however, that a Successor Reference Stock will not be any ADS that is (or the Underlying Stock for which is) subject to a trading restriction under the trading restriction policies of JPMorgan Chase & Co. or any of its affiliates that would materially limit the ability of JPMorgan Chase & Co. or any of its affiliates to hedge the notes with respect to such ADS (a "Hedging Restriction"); provided further that if a Successor Reference Stock cannot be identified as set forth above for which a Hedging Restriction does not exist, such Successor Reference Stock will be selected by the calculation agent and will be the ADS of a company that (i) is organized in, or with its principal executive office located in, the country in which the issuer of such Original Reference Stock is organized, or has its principal executive office, (ii) is then registered to trade on the NYSE or The NASDAQ Stock Market, (iii) in the sole discretion of the calculation agent, is the most comparable to such Original Reference Stock, taking into account such factors as the calculation agent deems relevant, including, without limitation, market capitalization, dividend history and stock price volatility, (iv) is within the same Division and Major Group classification (as defined by the Office of Management and Budget) as the primary SIC Code for such Original Reference Stock and (v) is not subject to a Hedging Restriction. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if a Successor Reference Stock cannot be identified in the country in which the issuer of such Original Reference Stock is organized, or has its principal executive office, as set forth above, such Successor Reference Stock will be selected by the calculation agent and will be a common stock of a company that is then registered to trade on the NYSE or The NASDAQ Stock Market with the same primary SIC Code as such Original Reference Stock that in the sole discretion of the calculation agent, is the most comparable to such Original Reference Stock, taking into account such factors as the calculation agent deems relevant including, without limitation, market capitalization, dividend history and stock price volatility and that is not subject to a Hedging Restriction.

Upon the determination by the calculation agent of any Successor Reference Stock pursuant to clause (A) of the first paragraph under “— Delisting of ADSs or Termination of ADS Facility,” on and after the Change Date, references in this product supplement or the relevant terms supplement to such “Reference Stock” will no longer be deemed to refer to the Original Reference Stock and will be deemed instead to refer to any such Successor Reference Stock for all purposes, and references in this product supplement or the relevant terms supplement to “issuer” of the Original Reference Stock will be deemed to be to any such Successor Reference Stock Issuer. Upon the selection of any Successor Reference Stock by the calculation agent pursuant to clause (A) of the first paragraph under “— Delisting of ADSs or Termination of ADS Facility,” on and after the Change Date, (i) the Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable) for such Successor Reference Stock will be equal to the Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable) of the Original Reference Stock, (ii) the Final Share Price for such Successor Reference Stock will be the closing price of one share of such Successor Reference Stock on the Observation Date or the arithmetic average of the closing prices of one share of such Successor Reference Stock, in each case times the Stock Adjustment Factor on such date, provided that, for notes with Ending Averaging Dates, if an adjustment to the Stock Adjustment Factor for such Successor Reference Stock would have become effective in accordance with “— Anti-Dilution Adjustments” above after the first Ending Averaging Date but on or prior to the final Ending Averaging Date, the Stock Adjustment Factor for such Successor Reference Stock will be so adjusted for the event giving rise to such Adjustment Effective Date only on the Ending Averaging Dates occurring on or after such Adjustment Effective Date, and (iii) the Stock Adjustment Factor for such Successor Reference Stock will be an amount as determined by the calculation agent in good faith as of the Change Date, taking into account, among other things, the closing price of the Original Reference Stock on the trading day immediately preceding the Change Date, subject to adjustment for certain corporate events related to such Successor Reference Stock in accordance with “— Anti-Dilution Adjustments.”

Following the selection of a Successor Reference Stock, the Stock Adjustment Factor of the Successor Reference Stock will be subject to adjustment as described above under “— Anti-Dilution Adjustments.”

If a Successor Reference Stock is selected, we will, or will cause the calculation agent to, provide written notice to the trustee, to us and to DTC within thirty business days immediately following the Change Date, of the Successor Reference Stock Issuer, the Successor Reference Stock and the Initial Share Price (or Initial Strike Price, if applicable) for such Successor Reference Stock, as well as the Original Reference Stock so replaced. We expect that such notice will be passed on to you, as a beneficial owner of the notes, in accordance with the standard rules and procedures of DTC and its direct and indirect participants.

If the calculation agent selects the applicable Underlying Stock to be the Reference Stock pursuant to clause (B) of the first paragraph under “— Delisting of ADSs or Termination of ADS Facility” above, the Stock Adjustment Factor for the Reference Stock will thereafter equal the last value of the Stock Adjustment Factor for the ADS multiplied by the number of the applicable Underlying Stock represented by a single ADS, subject to further adjustments as described under “— Anti-Dilution Adjustments.” The Final Share Price for the Reference Stock will be expressed in U.S. dollars, converting the closing price of the applicable Underlying Stock on the final Valuation Date into U.S. dollars using the applicable exchange rate as described below.

If the calculation agent selects the Underlying Stock to be the Reference Stock pursuant to clause (B) of the first paragraph under “— Delisting of ADSs or Termination of ADS Facility” above, unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement, we will be deemed to have elected for cash delivery of the payment at maturity.

On any date of determination, the applicable exchange rate will be the spot rate of the local currency of the applicable Underlying Stock relative to the U.S. dollar as reported by Reuters Group PLC (“Reuters”) on the relevant page for such rate at approximately the closing time of the Relevant Exchange for the applicable Underlying Stock on such day. However, (1) if such rate is not displayed on the relevant Reuters page on such date of determination, the applicable exchange rate on such day will equal an average (mean) of the bid quotations in The City of New York received by the calculation agent at approximately 11:00 a.m., New York City time, on the business day immediately following the date of determination, from three recognized foreign exchange dealers (provided that each such dealer commits to execute a contract at its applicable bid quotation) or, (2) if the calculation agent is unable to obtain three such bid quotations, the average of such bid quotations obtained from two recognized foreign exchange dealers or, (3) if the calculation agent is able to obtain such bid quotation from only one recognized foreign exchange dealer, such bid quotation, in each case for the purchase of the applicable foreign currency for U.S. dollars in the aggregate principal amount of the notes for settlement on the third business day following the date of determination. If the calculation agent is unable to obtain at least one such bid quotation, the calculation agent will determine the applicable exchange rate in its sole discretion.

Events of Default

Under the heading “Description of Debt Securities — Events of Default and Waivers” in the accompanying prospectus is a description of events of default relating to debt securities including the notes.

Payment Upon an Event of Default

Unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement, in case an event of default with respect to the notes shall have occurred and be continuing, the amount declared due and payable per note upon any acceleration of the notes will be determined by the calculation agent and will be an amount in cash equal to the amount payable at maturity per note as described under the caption “Description of Notes — Payment at Maturity,” calculated as if the date of acceleration were the final Valuation Date. If the notes have more than one Valuation Date, then, for each Valuation Date scheduled to occur after the date of acceleration, the trading days immediately preceding the date of acceleration (in such number equal to the number of Valuation Dates in excess of one) will be the corresponding Valuation Dates, unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement.

If the maturity of the notes is accelerated because of an event of default as described above, we will, or will cause the calculation agent to, provide written notice to the trustee at its New York office, on which notice the trustee may conclusively rely, and to DTC of the cash amount due with respect to the notes as promptly as possible and in no event later than two business days after the date of acceleration.

Modification

Under the heading “Description of Debt Securities — Modification of the Indenture” in the accompanying prospectus is a description of when the consent of each affected holder of debt securities is required to modify the indenture.

Defeasance

The provisions described in the accompanying prospectus under the heading “Description of Debt Securities — Discharge, Defeasance and Covenant Defeasance” are not applicable to the notes, unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement.

Listing

The notes will not be listed on any securities exchange, unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement.

Book-Entry Only Issuance — The Depository Trust Company

DTC will act as securities depository for the notes. The notes will be issued only as fully-registered securities registered in the name of Cede & Co. (DTC's nominee). One or more fully-registered global notes certificates, representing the total aggregate principal amount of the notes, will be issued and will be deposited with DTC. See the descriptions contained in the accompanying prospectus supplement under the headings "Description of Notes — Forms of Notes" and "The Depository."

Registrar, Transfer Agent and Paying Agent

Payment of amounts due at maturity on the notes will be payable and the transfer of the notes will be registrable at the principal corporate trust office of The Bank of New York Mellon in The City of New York.

The Bank of New York Mellon or one of its affiliates will act as registrar and transfer agent for the notes. The Bank of New York Mellon will also act as paying agent and may designate additional paying agents.

Registration of transfers of the notes will be effected without charge by or on behalf of The Bank of New York Mellon, but upon payment (with the giving of such indemnity as The Bank of New York Mellon may require) in respect of any tax or other governmental charges that may be imposed in relation to it.

Governing Law

The notes will be governed by and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of New York.

CERTAIN U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES

The following is a summary of the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the ownership and disposition of the notes. This summary applies to you if you are an initial holder of a note purchasing the note at its issue price for cash and if you hold the note as a capital asset within the meaning of Section 1221 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code").

This summary does not address all aspects of U.S. federal income and estate taxation that may be relevant to you in light of your particular circumstances or if you are a holder of a note who is subject to special treatment under the U.S. federal income tax laws, such as:

- one of certain financial institutions;
- a "regulated investment company" as defined in Code Section 851;
- a "real estate investment trust" as defined in Code Section 856;
- a tax-exempt entity, including an "individual retirement account" or "Roth IRA" as defined in Code Section 408 or 408A, respectively;
- a dealer in securities;
- a person holding a note as part of a hedging transaction, "straddle," conversion transaction or integrated transaction, or who has entered into a "constructive sale" with respect to a note;
- a U.S. Holder (as defined below) whose functional currency is not the U.S. dollar;
- a trader in securities who elects to apply a mark-to-market method of tax accounting; or
- a partnership or other entity classified as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

This summary is based on the Code, administrative pronouncements, judicial decisions and final, temporary and proposed Treasury regulations as of the date of this product supplement, changes to any of which, subsequent to the date of this product supplement, may affect the tax consequences described herein. As the law applicable to the U.S. federal income taxation of instruments such as the notes is technical and complex, the discussion below necessarily represents only a general summary. Moreover, the effects of any applicable state, local or foreign tax laws are not discussed. You should consult your tax adviser concerning the application of U.S. federal income and estate tax laws to your particular situation (including the possibility of alternative characterizations of the notes), as well as any tax consequences arising under the laws of any state, local or foreign jurisdictions.

Tax Treatment of the Notes

The tax treatment of the notes will depend upon the facts at the time of the relevant offering. Generally, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, we expect to treat the notes as indebtedness, and notes with a term of more than one year as "contingent payment debt instruments." We expect to seek an opinion from Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP, our special tax counsel, regarding these issues. The relevant terms supplement will describe Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP's level of comfort on these issues, which will depend on the facts of the particular offering, its receipt of certain factual representations from us at the time of the relevant offering and any additional considerations that may be relevant to the particular offering. The following discussion describes the treatment of the notes assuming that for U.S. federal income tax purposes the notes are indebtedness and, in the case of notes with a term of more than one year, are "contingent payment debt instruments." This discussion also assumes that notes with a term of one year or less offer full principal protection. For notes with a term of one year or less that do not offer full principal protection, the relevant terms supplement will describe the U.S. federal income tax consequences.

This summary does not address the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the ownership or disposition of shares of the Reference Stock that a holder (including a Non-U.S. Holder, as defined below) may receive at maturity. You should consult your tax adviser regarding the potential U.S. federal tax consequences of the ownership and disposition of shares of the Reference Stock.

In general, we will not attempt to ascertain whether the issuer of the Reference Stock would be treated as a "passive foreign investment company" ("PFIC") within the meaning of Section 1297 of the Code or as a "United States real property holding corporation" ("USRPHC") within the meaning of Section 897 of the Code. If the issuer of the Reference Stock were so treated, certain adverse U.S. federal income tax consequences might apply, to a U.S. Holder in the case of a PFIC and to a Non-U.S. Holder in the case of a USRPHC, upon the sale or exchange of a note (including redemption of a note at maturity). You should refer to information filed with the SEC or another governmental authority by the issuer of the Reference Stock and consult your tax adviser regarding the possible consequences to you if the issuer of the Reference Stock is or becomes a PFIC or USRPHC, as applicable.

Depending on the nature of the Reference Stock in a particular offering, the relevant terms supplement may include further disclosure regarding these issues.

Tax Consequences to U.S. Holders

You are a "U.S. Holder" if for U.S. federal income tax purposes you are a beneficial owner of a note that is:

- a citizen or resident of the United States;
- a corporation created or organized in or under the laws of the United States or any political subdivision thereof; or
- an estate or trust the income of which is subject to U.S. federal income taxation regardless of its source.

Notes with a Term of Not More than One Year

If the term of the notes (including either the issue date or the last possible date that the notes could be outstanding, but not both) is not more than one year, the following discussion applies. No statutory, judicial or administrative authority directly addresses the treatment of these notes or instruments similar thereto for U.S. federal income tax purposes, and no ruling will be requested from the IRS with respect to the notes. As a result, certain aspects of the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in these notes are uncertain.

Tax Treatment Prior to Maturity

Because the term of these notes is not more than one year, they will be treated as short-term debt obligations. A short-term debt obligation is treated for U.S. federal income tax purposes as issued at a discount equal to the difference between the payments due thereon, including the value of any Reference Stock received, and the instrument's issue price. In general, this discount is treated as interest income when received or accrued, in accordance with the holder's method of tax accounting. However, because the amount of discount that will be paid on the notes is uncertain, several aspects of the tax treatment of the notes are not clear.

If you are a cash-method holder, you will not be required to recognize income with respect to the notes prior to maturity, other than with respect to amounts received as stated interest, if any, or received pursuant to a sale or exchange, as described below. However, you may elect to accrue discount into income on a current basis, in which case you would generally be treated as an accrual-method holder, as described below. In addition, you could be required to defer deductions with respect to any interest paid on indebtedness incurred to purchase or carry your notes, to the extent of accrued discount that you have not yet included in income, until you dispose of the notes in a taxable transaction. You should consult your tax adviser regarding these issues.

Although accrual-method holders and certain other holders (including electing cash-method holders) are generally required to accrue into income discount on short-term indebtedness on a straight-line basis, the amount of discount that must ultimately be accrued with respect to the notes is uncertain, and it is therefore not clear how these accruals should be determined. If the amount of discount that will be received has become fixed (or the likelihood of this amount not being a fixed amount has become “remote”) prior to maturity, it is likely that the amount of discount to be accrued will be determined based on the fixed amount. You should consult your tax adviser regarding the application of these rules with respect to your notes.

Sale, Exchange or Redemption of a Note

Upon a sale or exchange of a short-term note (including redemption at maturity), you should recognize gain or loss in an amount equal to the difference between the amount you receive, including the value of any Reference Stock received, and your adjusted basis in the note. Your adjusted basis in the note should equal the issue price of the note, increased by any discount that you have previously included in income. The amount of any resulting loss will be treated as a capital loss, which may be subject to special reporting requirements if the loss exceeds certain thresholds. Gain resulting from redemption at maturity should be treated as ordinary interest income. It is not clear, however, whether or to what extent gain from a sale or exchange prior to maturity should be treated as capital gain or ordinary interest income. If the amount of discount that will be received at maturity has become fixed (or the likelihood of this amount not being a fixed amount has become “remote”) prior to sale or exchange, it is likely that the portion of gain on the sale or exchange that should be treated as accrued discount (and, therefore, taxed as ordinary income) will be determined based on the fixed amount. You should consult your tax adviser regarding the proper treatment of any gain or loss recognized upon a sale or exchange of a note.

Notes with a Term of More than One Year

If the term of the notes (including either the issue date or the last possible date that the notes could be outstanding, but not both) is more than one year, we generally expect that the notes will be treated as “contingent payment debt instruments” for U.S. federal income tax purposes, and the remainder of this discussion so assumes. These notes will generally be subject to the original issue discount (“OID”) provisions of the Code and the Treasury regulations issued thereunder, and you will be required to accrue as interest income the OID on the notes as described below.

We are required to determine a “comparable yield” for the notes. The “comparable yield” is the yield at which we could issue a fixed-rate debt instrument with terms similar to those of the notes, including the level of subordination, term, timing of payments and general market conditions, but excluding any adjustments for the riskiness of the contingencies or the liquidity of the notes. Solely for purposes of determining the amount of interest income that you will be required to accrue, we are also required to construct a “projected payment schedule” in respect of the notes representing a payment or a series of payments the amount and timing of which would produce a yield to maturity on the notes equal to the comparable yield.

Unless otherwise provided in the relevant terms supplement, we will provide, and you may obtain, the comparable yield for a particular offering of notes, and the related projected payment schedule, in the final terms supplement for these notes, which we will file with the SEC.

Neither the comparable yield nor the projected payment schedule constitutes a representation by us regarding the actual amount, if any, that we will pay on the notes.

For U.S. federal income tax purposes, you are required to use our determination of the comparable yield and projected payment schedule in determining interest accruals and adjustments in respect of your notes, unless you timely disclose and justify the use of other estimates to the IRS. Regardless of your accounting method, you will be required to accrue as interest income OID on your notes at the comparable yield, adjusted upward or downward to reflect the difference, if any, between the actual and the projected amount of the contingent payment(s) on the notes (as described below).

In addition to interest accrued based upon the comparable yield as described above, you will be required to recognize interest income equal to the amount of any net positive adjustment, i.e., the excess of actual payments over projected payments, in respect of a note for a taxable year. A net negative adjustment, i.e., the excess of projected payments over actual payments, in respect of a note for a taxable year:

- will first reduce the amount of interest in respect of the note that you would otherwise be required to include in income in the taxable year; and
- to the extent of any excess, will give rise to an ordinary loss, but only to the extent that the amount of all previous interest inclusions under the note exceeds the total amount of your net negative adjustments treated as ordinary loss on the note in prior taxable years.

A net negative adjustment is not subject to the limitation imposed on miscellaneous itemized deductions under Section 67 of the Code. Any net negative adjustment in excess of the amounts described above will be carried forward to offset future interest income in respect of the note or to reduce the amount realized on a sale or exchange of the note (including redemption at maturity).

Upon a sale or exchange of a note (including redemption at maturity), you generally will recognize taxable income or loss equal to the difference between the amount received from the sale, exchange or redemption, including the value of any Reference Stock received, and your adjusted tax basis in the note. Your adjusted tax basis in the note will equal the cost thereof, increased by the amount of interest income previously accrued by you in respect of the note (determined without regard to any of the positive or negative adjustments to interest accruals described above) and decreased by the amount of any prior projected payments in respect of the note. You generally must treat any income as interest income and any loss as ordinary loss to the extent of previous interest inclusions (reduced by the total amount of net negative adjustments previously taken into account as ordinary losses), and the balance as capital loss. These losses are not subject to the limitation imposed on miscellaneous itemized deductions under Section 67 of the Code. The deductibility of capital losses, however, is subject to limitations. Additionally, if you recognize a loss above certain thresholds, you may be required to file a disclosure statement with the IRS. You should consult your tax adviser regarding these limitations and reporting obligations.

Tax Consequences to Non-U.S. Holders

You are a “Non-U.S. Holder” if for U.S. federal income tax purposes you are a beneficial owner of a note that is:

- a nonresident alien individual;
- a foreign corporation; or
- a nonresident alien fiduciary of a foreign estate or trust.

You are not a “Non-U.S. Holder” for purposes of this discussion if you are an individual present in the United States for 183 days or more in the taxable year of disposition. In this case, you should consult your tax adviser regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the sale or exchange of a note (including redemption at maturity).

Assuming the notes are treated as indebtedness, income and gain from a note will be exempt from U.S. federal income tax (including withholding tax) provided, generally, that you have certified on IRS Form W-8BEN, under penalties of perjury, that you are not a United States person and provided your name and address or otherwise satisfied applicable documentation requirements, and that these amounts are not effectively connected with your conduct of a U.S. trade or business. Unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement, we and our affiliates do not intend to withhold on payments if you are a Non-U.S. Holder and you certify on IRS Form W-8BEN as described above. However, others may withhold on payments to you unless you claim an exemption or reduction under an applicable income tax treaty. You should consult your tax advisers regarding the possibility of this withholding, including the possibility of obtaining a refund of withheld amounts.

If you are engaged in a U.S. trade or business and if the income or gain from a note is effectively connected with your conduct of that trade or business, although exempt from the withholding tax referred to above, you generally will be subject to U.S. income tax on this income or gain in the same manner as if you were a U.S. Holder, except that in lieu of the certificate described in the preceding paragraph, you will be required to provide a properly executed IRS Form W-8ECI in order to claim an exemption from withholding. If this paragraph applies to you, you should consult your tax adviser with respect to other U.S. tax consequences of the ownership and disposition of notes, including the possible imposition of a 30% branch profits tax if you are a corporation.

If you are an individual, your notes will not be included in your estate for U.S. federal estate tax purposes, provided that your income from the notes is not then effectively connected with your conduct of a U.S. trade or business.

Backup Withholding and Information Reporting

Interest (including OID) accrued or paid on your notes and the proceeds received from a sale or exchange of your notes (including redemption at maturity) will be subject to information reporting if you are not an "exempt recipient" (such as a domestic corporation) and may also be subject to backup withholding at the rates specified in the Code if you fail to provide certain identifying information (such as an accurate taxpayer identification number, if you are a U.S. Holder) or meet certain other conditions. If you are a Non-U.S. Holder and you comply with the identification procedures described in the preceding section, you will generally establish an exemption from backup withholding. Amounts withheld under the backup withholding rules are not additional taxes and may be refunded or credited against your U.S. federal income tax liability, provided the required information is furnished to the IRS.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION (CONFLICTS OF INTEREST)

Under the terms and subject to the conditions contained in the Master Agency Agreement entered into between JPMorgan Chase & Co. and J.P. Morgan Securities Inc., as agent (an "Agent" or "JPMSI"), and certain other agents that may be party to the Master Agency Agreement, as amended or supplemented, from time to time (each an "Agent" and collectively with JPMSI, the "Agents"), JPMSI has agreed and any additional Agents will agree to use reasonable efforts to solicit offers to purchase the principal amount of notes set forth in the cover page of the relevant terms supplement. We will have the sole right to accept offers to purchase the notes and may reject any offer in whole or in part. Each Agent may reject, in whole or in part, any offer it solicited to purchase notes. We will pay an Agent, in connection with sales of these notes resulting from a solicitation that Agent made or an offer to purchase the Agent received, a commission as set forth in the relevant terms supplement. An Agent will allow a concession to other dealers, or we may pay other fees, in the amount set forth on the cover page of the relevant terms supplement.

We may also sell notes to an Agent as principal for its own account at discounts to be agreed upon at the time of sale as disclosed in the relevant terms supplement. That Agent may resell notes to investors and other purchasers at a fixed offering price or at prevailing market prices, or prices related thereto at the time of resale or otherwise, as that Agent determines and as we will specify in the relevant terms supplement. An Agent may offer the notes it has purchased as principal to other dealers. That Agent may sell the notes to any dealer at a discount and, unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement, the discount allowed to any dealer will not be in excess of the discount that Agent will receive from us. After the initial public offering of notes that the Agent is to resell on a fixed public offering price basis, the Agent may change the public offering price, concession and discount.

We own, directly or indirectly, all of the outstanding equity securities of JPMSI. The net proceeds received from the sale of the notes will be used, in part, by JPMSI or one of its affiliates in connection with hedging our obligation under the notes. The underwriting arrangements for this offering will comply with the requirements of NASD Rule 2720 regarding a FINRA member firm's underwriting of securities of an affiliate. In accordance with NASD Rule 2720, neither JPMSI nor any other affiliated Agent of ours may make sales in this offering to any of its discretionary accounts without the prior written approval of the customer.

JPMSI or another Agent may act as principal or agent in connection with offers and sales of the notes in the secondary market. Secondary market offers and sales will be made at prices related to market prices at the time of such offer or sale; accordingly, the Agents or a dealer may change the public offering price, concession and discount after the offering has been completed.

In order to facilitate the offering of the notes, JPMSI may engage in transactions that stabilize, maintain or otherwise affect the price of the notes. Specifically, JPMSI may sell more notes than it is obligated to purchase in connection with the offering, creating a naked short position in the notes for its own account. JPMSI must close out any naked short position by purchasing the notes in the open market. A naked short position is more likely to be created if JPMSI is concerned that there may be downward pressure on the price of the notes in the open market after pricing that could adversely affect investors who purchase in the offering. As an additional means of facilitating the offering, JPMSI may bid for, and purchase, notes in the open market to stabilize the price of the notes. Any of these activities may raise or maintain the market price of the notes above independent market levels or prevent or retard a decline in the market price of the notes. JPMSI is not required to engage in these activities, and may end any of these activities at any time.

No action has been or will be taken by us, JPMSI or any dealer that would permit a public offering of the notes or possession or distribution of this product supplement no. 178-A-I or the accompanying prospectus supplement, prospectus or terms supplement, other than in the United States, where action for that purpose is required. No offers, sales or deliveries of the notes, or distribution of this product supplement no. 178-A-I or the accompanying prospectus supplement, prospectus or terms supplement or any other offering material relating to the notes, may be made in or from any jurisdiction except in circumstances which will result in compliance with any applicable laws and regulations and will not impose any obligations on us, the Agents or any dealer.

Each Agent has represented and agreed, and each dealer through which we may offer the notes has represented and agreed, that it (i) will comply with all applicable laws and regulations in force in each non-U.S. jurisdiction in which it purchases, offers, sells or delivers the notes or possesses or distributes this product supplement no. 178-A-I and the accompanying prospectus supplement, prospectus and terms supplement and (ii) will obtain any consent, approval or permission required by it for the purchase, offer or sale by it of the notes under the laws and regulations in force in each non-U.S. jurisdiction to which it is subject or in which it makes purchases, offers or sales of the notes. We shall not have responsibility for any Agent's or any dealer's compliance with the applicable laws and regulations or obtaining any required consent, approval or permission. For additional information regarding selling restrictions, please see "Notice to Investors" in this product supplement.

Unless otherwise specified in the relevant terms supplement, the settlement date for the notes will be the third business day following the pricing date (which is referred to as a "T+3" settlement cycle).

NOTICE TO INVESTORS

Neither this product supplement no. 178-A-I nor the accompanying prospectus supplement, prospectus or terms supplement constitutes an offer to sell, or a solicitation of an offer to buy, any notes by any person in any jurisdiction in which it is unlawful for such person to make such an offer or solicitation. Argentina

The notes have not been and will not be authorized by the Comisión Nacional de Valores (the "CNV") for public offer in Argentina and therefore may not be offered or sold to the public at large or to sectors or specific groups thereof by any means, including but not limited to personal offerings, written materials, advertisements, the internet or the media, in circumstances which constitute a public offering of securities under Argentine Law No. 17,811, as amended (the "Argentine Public Offering Law").

The Argentine Public Offering Law does not expressly recognize the concept of private placement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, pursuant to the general rules on public offering and the few existing judicial and administrative precedents, the following private placement rules have been outlined:

- (iii) the number of contacted investors should be relatively small.
- (iv) investors should receive complete and precise information on the proposed investment.
- (v) any material, brochures, documents, etc, regarding the investment should be delivered in a personal and confidential manner, identifying the name of the recipient.
- (vi) the documents or information mentioned in item (v) should contain a legend or statement expressly stating that the offer is a private offer not subject to the approval or supervision of the CNV, or any other regulator in Argentina.
- (vii) the aforementioned documents or materials should also contain a statement prohibiting the re-sale or re-placement of the relevant securities within the Argentine territory or their sale through any type of transaction that may constitute a public offering of securities pursuant to Argentine law.

The notes have not been and shall not be offered or sold in or into The Bahamas except in circumstances that do not constitute a 'public offering' according to the Securities Industry Act, 1999.

Persons deemed "resident" in The Bahamas pursuant to the Exchange Control Regulations, 1956 must receive the prior approval of the Central Bank of The Bahamas prior to accepting an offer to purchase any notes.

BENEFIT PLAN INVESTOR CONSIDERATIONS

A fiduciary of a pension, profit-sharing or other employee benefit plan subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), including entities such as collective investment funds, partnerships and separate accounts whose underlying assets include the assets of such plans (collectively, "ERISA Plans") should consider the fiduciary standards of ERISA in the context of the ERISA Plan's particular circumstances before authorizing an investment in the notes. Among other factors, the fiduciary should consider whether the investment would satisfy the prudence and diversification requirements of ERISA and would be consistent with the documents and instruments governing the ERISA Plan.

Section 406 of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, (the "Code") prohibit ERISA Plans, as well as plans (including individual retirement accounts and Keogh plans) subject to Section 4975 of the Code (together with ERISA Plans, "Plans"), from engaging in certain transactions involving the "plan assets" with persons who are "parties in interest" under ERISA or "disqualified persons" under the Code (in either case, "Parties in Interest") with respect to such Plans. As a result of our business, we may be a Party in Interest with respect to many Plans. Where we are a Party in Interest with respect to a Plan (either directly or by reason of our ownership interests in our directly or indirectly owned subsidiaries), the purchase and holding of the notes by or on behalf of the Plan could be a prohibited transaction under Section 406 of ERISA and/or Section 4975 of the Code, unless exemptive relief were available under an applicable exemption (as described below).

Certain prohibited transaction class exemptions ("PTCEs") issued by the U.S. Department of Labor may provide exemptive relief for direct or indirect prohibited transactions resulting from the purchase or holding of the notes. Those class exemptions are PTCE 96-23 (for certain transactions determined by in-house asset managers), PTCE 95-60 (for certain transactions involving insurance company general accounts), PTCE 91-38 (for certain transactions involving bank collective investment funds), PTCE 90-1 (for certain transactions involving insurance company separate accounts), and PTCE 84-14 (for certain transactions determined by independent qualified asset managers). In addition, ERISA Section 408(b)(17) and Section 4975(d)(20) of the Code provide a limited exemption for the purchase and sale of the notes and related lending transactions, provided that neither the issuer of the notes nor any of its affiliates have or exercise any discretionary authority or control or render any investment advice with respect to the assets of any Plan involved in the transaction and provided further that the Plan pays no more than adequate consideration in connection with the transaction (the so-called "service provider exemption").

Accordingly, the notes may not be purchased or held by any Plan, any entity whose underlying assets include "plan assets" by reason of any Plan's investment in the entity (a "Plan Asset Entity") or any person investing "plan assets" of any Plan, unless such purchaser or holder is eligible for the exemptive relief available under PTCE 96-23, 95-60, 91-38, 90-1 or 84-14 or the service-provider exemption or there is some other basis on which the purchase and holding of the notes will not constitute a non-exempt prohibited transaction under ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code. Each purchaser or holder of the notes or any interest therein will be deemed to have represented by its purchase or holding of the notes that (a) its purchase and holding of the notes is not made on behalf of or with "plan assets" of any Plan or (b) its purchase and holding of the notes will not result in a non-exempt prohibited transaction under Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code.

Employee benefit plans that are governmental plans (as defined in Section 3(32) of ERISA), certain church plans (as defined in Section 3(33) of ERISA) and non-U.S. plans (as described in Section 4(b)(4) of ERISA) are not subject to these "prohibited transaction" rules of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code, but may be subject to similar rules under other applicable laws or regulations ("Similar Laws"). Accordingly, each such purchaser or holder of the notes shall be required to represent (and deemed to have represented by its purchase of the notes) that such purchase and holding is not prohibited under applicable Similar Laws.

Due to the complexity of these rules, it is particularly important that fiduciaries or other persons considering purchasing the notes on behalf of or with “plan assets” of any Plan consult with their counsel regarding the relevant provisions of ERISA, the Code or any Similar Laws and the availability of exemptive relief under PTCE 96-23, 95-60, 91-38, 90-1, 84-14 or some other basis on which the acquisition and holding will not constitute a non-exempt prohibited transaction under ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code or a violation of any applicable Similar Laws.

Each purchaser and holder of the notes has exclusive responsibility for ensuring that its purchase and holding of the notes does not violate the fiduciary or prohibited transaction rules of ERISA, the Code or any applicable Similar Laws. The sale of any notes to any Plan is in no respect a representation by us or any of our affiliates or representatives that such an investment meets all relevant legal requirements with respect to investments by Plans generally or any particular Plan, or that such an investment is appropriate for Plans generally or any particular Plan.
