Ladies and Gentlemen:

The one, two, and three character tickers associated with the NYSE have long been symbols of exceptional brand equity, representing the quality, reputation and achievements of its listed companies. Companies listed on the NYSE meet the highest corporate governance and financial standards in the world. We at Cantel Medical Corp. are proud of our NYSE listing and believe that the qualitative distinction conferred by our three letter symbol (CMN) and its association with the NYSE marketplace is integral to the overall value of our listing. Therefore, we were distressed to learn of NASDAQ's trading of Delta Financial Corporation (DCF), a company not qualified to list on the NYSE, under a three letter ticker.

We urge you review this matter and support the NYSE's work on the new Symbology Plan and, in particular, to allocate one, two and three character tickers in the manner proposed by the NYSE.

Sincerely,
Eric W. Nodiff
