Re: Kraft Foods Group, Inc. – Request to Exclude Sustainability Shareholder Proposals

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Kraft Foods Group, Inc., a Virginia corporation (“Kraft” or the “Company”), intends to exclude from its proxy statement and form of proxy for its 2015 Annual Meeting of Shareholders (the “2015 Annual Meeting” and such materials, collectively, the “2015 Proxy Materials”) (i) a shareholder proposal submitted by Craig Ayers and the Granary Foundation (the “Sustainable Packaging Report Proposal”); and (ii) a shareholder proposal submitted by the Missionary Oblates of Mary Immaculate, Province of St. Joseph of the Capuchin Order, Sisters of St. Dominic of Caldwell, NJ, Mercy Investment Services, Inc. and Christian Brothers Investment Services (the “Sustainability Report Proposal”). We have sent copies of this correspondence to the proponents of both proposals.

Exchange Act Rule 14a-8(k) and Staff Legal Bulletin No. 14D (Nov. 7, 2008) provide that a proponent is required to send companies a copy of any correspondence that the proponent elects to submit to the Commission or the staff of the Division of Corporation Finance (the “Staff”). Accordingly, we are taking this opportunity to inform the proponents that if they elect to submit additional correspondence to the Commission or the Staff with respect to the Sustainable Packaging Report Proposal or the Sustainability Report Proposal, a copy of that correspondence should be furnished concurrently to the undersigned.

THE PROPOSALS

Sustainable Packaging Report Proposal

The Sustainable Packaging Report Proposal sets forth the following resolution and supporting statement to be voted on by shareholders at the 2015 Annual Meeting:

“RESOLVED: Shareowners of Kraft Foods Group request that the board of directors issue a report at reasonable cost, omitting confidential information, by October 1, 2015 assessing the environmental impacts of continuing to use non-recyclable brand packaging.

Supporting Statement: Proponents believe that the report should include an assessment of the reputational, financial and operational risks associated with continuing to use non-recyclable brand packaging and if possible, goals and a timeline to phase out non-recyclable packaging.”

A copy of the Sustainable Packaging Report Proposal and related correspondence is attached to this letter as Exhibit A.

Sustainability Report Proposal

The Sustainability Report Proposal sets forth the following resolution and supporting statement to be voted on by shareholders at the 2015 Annual Meeting:

“RESOLVED: Shareholders request Kraft Foods Group, Inc. (Kraft) issue a comprehensive sustainability report describing its environmental, social and governance (ESG) performance and goals, including greenhouse gas (GHG) reduction goals. Shareholders request the report be available on the company website by October, 2015, prepared at reasonable cost, omitting proprietary information.”

A copy of the Sustainability Report Proposal and related correspondence is attached to this letter as Exhibit B.

BASIS FOR EXCLUSION

The Proposals May Be Excluded Under Rule 14a-8(i)(11) Because Each Substantially Duplicates Another Proposal That The Company Intends To Include In Its Proxy Materials.

We hereby respectfully request that the Staff concur in our view that the Sustainable Packaging Report Proposal and the Sustainability Report Proposal may each be excluded from the 2015 Proxy Materials pursuant to Rule 14a-8(i)(11) because each substantially duplicates another proposal previously submitted to the Company (the “Sustainable Forestry Report Proposal”) by the Calvert Social Index Fund, Calvert VP S&P 500 Index Portfolio and Calvert VP Nasdaq 100 Index Portfolio (the “Calvert Funds”), which the Company intends to include in its 2015 Proxy Materials.¹ The Sustainable Forestry Report Proposal sets forth the following resolution to be voted on by shareholders at the 2015 Annual Meeting:

“RESOLVED: Shareholders request the Board to prepare a public report, at reasonable cost and omitting proprietary information, by December 1, 2015, describing how Kraft is assessing the company’s supply chain impact on deforestation and associated human rights issues, and its plans to mitigate these risks.”

A copy of the Sustainable Forestry Report Proposal and related correspondence is attached to this letter as Exhibit C.

The Company received the Sustainable Forestry Report Proposal from the Calvert Funds on November 12, 2014 at 9:14 a.m. via United Parcel Service; the Sustainable Packaging Report Proposal from Craig Ayers and the Granary Foundation on November 12, 2014 at 5:44 p.m. by email; and the Sustainability Report Proposal from the Missionary Oblates of Mary Immaculate, Province of St. Joseph of the Capuchin Order, Sisters of St. Dominic of Caldwell, NJ, Mercy Investment Services, Inc. and Christian Brothers Investment Services on November 13 and 14, 2014.

Rule 14a-8(i)(11) provides that a shareholder proposal may be excluded if it “substantially duplicates another proposal previously submitted to the company by another proponent that will be included in the company’s proxy materials for the same meeting.” The Commission has stated that “the purpose of [Rule 14a-8(i)(11)] is to eliminate the possibility of shareholders having to consider two or more substantially identical proposals submitted to an issuer by proponents acting independently of each other.” Exchange Act Release No. 12999 (Nov. 22, 1976).

When two or more substantially duplicative proposals are received by a company, the Staff has indicated that the company must include the first of the proposals in its proxy materials, unless that proposal may otherwise be excluded. See, e.g., Great Lakes Chemical Corp. (Mar. 2, 1998). Kraft received the Sustainable Forestry Report Proposal first, and therefore intends to exclude the Sustainable Packaging Report Proposal and the Sustainability Report Proposal as substantially duplicative of the Sustainable Forestry Report Proposal.

Proposals need not be identical to warrant exclusion under Rule 14a-8(i)(11). Instead, in determining whether two or more proposals are substantially duplicative, the Staff has consistently taken the position that proposals with the same “principal thrust” or “principal focus” may be substantially duplicative, even if the proposals differ as to terms and scope and even if the proposals request different actions. See, e.g., Wells Fargo & Co. (Feb. 8, 2011) (proposal seeking a review and report on the company’s internal controls regarding loan modifications, foreclosures and securitizations was substantially duplicative of a previously submitted proposal seeking a report on the company’s mortgage loss mitigation policies and outcomes, including home preservation rates and loss mitigation outcomes by race); Chevron Corp. (Mar. 23, 2009) (proposal requesting a report on “the environmental damage that would result from the company’s expanding oil sands operations in the Canadian boreal forest” was substantially duplicative of a previously submitted proposal requiring that the company adopt “quantitative, long-term goals . . . for reducing total greenhouse gas emissions”).

Here, the Sustainable Packaging Report Proposal and the Sustainability Report Proposal are substantially duplicative of the Sustainable Forestry Report Proposal because they all share the same core issue and principal thrust: namely, all three proposals request additional reporting by Kraft on how Kraft’s products and supply chains affect the environment and the sustainability of natural resources, including an assessment of the reputational, operational, legal and regulatory risks, to enable shareholders to more closely track the degree to which the Company takes into account environmental and sustainability concerns in conducting its business activities. There are, of course, differences in the scope and breadth of these Proposals. The Sustainable Packaging Report Proposal focuses specifically on “the environmental impacts of continuing to use non-recyclable brand packaging,” whereas the Sustainable Forestry Report Proposal focuses on the impact of Kraft’s supply chain on forests and human rights. In contrast, the Sustainability Report Proposal asks for a “comprehensive sustainability report.”

If the Sustainability Report Proposal had been received first, then the outcome under Rule 14a-8(i)(11) would be obvious as a “comprehensive sustainability report” would clearly subsume an ESG report on non-recyclable brand packaging and an ESG report on the effect of Kraft’s supply chain on forests and human rights. The Staff has made clear, however, that the “core issue” analysis in Rule 14a-8(i)(11) focuses only on whether the proposals address the same core issue. If one proposal subsumes the other, regardless of the order in which they were received, then the later proposal or proposals are excludable under Rule 14a-8(i)(11). In Abbott Laboratories (Feb. 4, 2004), the proponent requested that the company replace its current compensation system with one that included four main components: (1) annual salary not to exceed $1M annually; (2) annual bonus capped at 100% of salary; (3) grant date value of restricted shares not to exceed $1M; and (4) severance limited to no more than one year's salary and bonus. The Staff permitted the company to exclude this proposal on the basis that it was substantially duplicative of a previously submitted proposal that requested the company to adopt a policy prohibiting future stock option grants to senior executives. Both proposals related to the same core issue, excessive executive compensation.

In addition, because the Sustainable Packaging Report Proposal and the Sustainability Report Proposal substantially duplicate the Sustainable Forestry Report Proposal, there is a strong likelihood that Kraft's shareholders may be confused if asked to vote on all three proposals, as shareholders could assume incorrectly that there must be a substantive difference among the proposals. In addition, if all three proposals are voted on at the 2015 Annual Meeting with only one or two proposals passing, Kraft would not know the intention of its shareholders based on such inconsistent results. For example, if only the Sustainable Forestry Report Proposal passes, but the Sustainable Packaging Report Proposal and the Sustainability Report Proposal do not, is Kraft to conclude its shareholders care only about those aspects of ESG reporting that relate to deforestation? Alternatively, if the Sustainable Packaging Report Proposal and the Sustainability Report Proposal were to pass, should Kraft conclude that its shareholders want the Company to produce a broad sustainability report that addresses packaging, but not deforestation? As noted above, the purpose of Rule 14a-8(i)(11) is to "eliminate the possibility of shareholders having to consider two or more substantially identical proposals submitted to an issuer by proponents acting independently of each other." Exchange Act Release No. 12999 (Nov. 22, 1976).

In light of the same core issue and principal thrust shared among the three proposals, the Company believes that both the Sustainable Packaging Report Proposal and the Sustainability Report Proposal may be excluded from its 2015 Proxy Materials pursuant to Rule 14a-8(i)(11).

CONCLUSION

Based upon the foregoing analysis, we respectfully request that the Staff concur that it will take no action if the Company excludes the Sustainable Packaging Report Proposal and the Sustainability Report Proposal from its 2015 Proxy Materials.

We would be happy to provide you with any additional information and answer any questions that you may have regarding this subject. Correspondence regarding this letter should

Dear Ms. Rucker:

As You Sow is a non-profit organization whose mission is to promote corporate accountability. We represent Craig Ayers, a shareholder of Kraft Foods Group stock.

We are concerned that the company uses a significant amount of brand product packaging that is not recycled or recyclable, especially plastic packaging, while recent studies suggest plastic packaging that reaches the ocean is toxic to marine animals and potentially to humans.

We believe the company should assess the environmental as well as reputational, financial, and operational risks associated with continuing to use non-recyclable brand packaging and study the extent to which it can phase out non-recyclable packaging. We appreciate that the company had a meeting with us earlier this year but that meeting did not sufficiently or specifically address our concerns.

To protect our right to raise this issue before shareholders, we are submitting the enclosed shareholder proposal for inclusion in the 2015 proxy statement, in accordance with Rule 14a-8 of the General Rules and Regulations of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

A letter from the shareholder authorizing us to act on their behalf is attached. Proof of ownership will be sent no later than November 19, 2014. A representative of the filer will attend the stockholders' meeting to move the resolution as required.

Also enclosed is a cofiling letter from the Granary Foundation, which we are delivering as a convenience to the cofiler. Proof of ownership for the cofiler will be sent no later than November 19, 2014.

We hope a more focused good faith dialogue with the company can result in resolution of our concerns.

Sincerely,

Conrad B. MacKerron

WHEREAS: Kraft Food's environmental policy commits to "reducing the environmental impact of our activities and promoting the sustainability of the natural resources upon which we depend..." yet a significant amount of its brand product packaging is not recyclable, and new studies suggest plastic packaging that reaches the ocean is toxic to marine animals and potentially to humans.

Two prominent examples of non-recyclable packaging are Kraft's iconic Capri-Sun and Kool-Aid Jammers juice drinks. Capri-Sun has been sold for more than 30 years in the U.S. market packaged in a laminate and foil pouch that cannot be recycled into new pouches and is rarely collected for recovery. Capri-Sun could be dispensed in recyclable PET plastic or glass bottles, paper cartons or aluminum cans as are Minute Maid, Juicy Juice, Tropicana and other juice drink brands. Using non-recyclable packaging when recyclable alternatives are available wastes enormous amounts of valuable resources such as aluminum that could be recycled virtually endlessly.

An estimated 5 billion units of Capri-Sun are sold worldwide. Many billions of pouches, representing significant amounts of embedded value and energy, lie buried in landfills. Non-recyclable packaging is more likely to be littered and swept into waterways. A recent assessment of marine debris by a panel of the Global Environment Facility concluded that one cause of debris entering oceans is "design and marketing of products internationally without appropriate regard to their environmental fate or ability to be recycled in the locations where sold..."

California spends nearly $500 million annually preventing trash, much of it packaging, from polluting beaches, rivers and oceanfront. In the marine environment, plastics break down into small indigestible particles that birds and marine mammals mistake for food.

Further, studies by U.S. Environmental Protection Agency Region 9 suggest a synergistic effect between persistent, bioaccumulative, toxic chemicals and plastic debris. Plastics absorb toxics such as polychlorinated biphenyls and dioxins from water or sediment and transfer them into the marine food web and potentially to human diets, essentially forming a "toxic cocktail" increasing the risk of adverse effects to wildlife and humans. One study of fish from various parts of the North Pacific found one or more plastic chemicals in all fish tested, independent of location and species.

Making all packaging recyclable, if possible, is the first step to reduce the threat posed by ocean debris. Companies who aspire to corporate sustainability yet use these risky materials need to explain why they market non-recyclable packaging instead of recyclable packaging.

RESOLVED: Shareowners of Kraft Foods Group request that the board of directors issue a report at reasonable cost, omitting confidential information, by October 1, 2015 assessing the environmental impacts of continuing to use non-recyclable brand packaging.

Supporting Statement: Proponents believe that the report should include an assessment of the reputational, financial and operational risks associated with continuing to use non-recyclable brand packaging and if possible, goals and a timeline to phase out non-recyclable packaging.

Re: Authorization to File Shareholder Resolution

Dear Andrew Behar,

As of November 7, 2014, I, Craig Ayers, authorize As You Sow to file or cofile a shareholder resolution on my behalf with Kraft Foods Group Inc. (Kraft), and that it be included in the 2015 proxy statement, in accordance with Rule 14-a8 of the General Rules and Regulations of the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934.

I have continuously owned over $2,000 worth of Kraft stock, with voting rights, for over a year. I intend to hold the stock through the date of the company's annual meeting in 2015.

I give As You Sow the authority to deal on my behalf with any and all aspects of the shareholder resolution. I understand that the company may send me information about this resolution, and that the media may mention my name related to the resolution; I will alert As You Sow in either case. I confirm that my name may appear on the company's proxy statement as the filer of the aforementioned resolution.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. MacKerron:

On November 12, 2014, we received your letter, which included the Rule 14a-8 proposal relating to Kraft's packaging that you are filing on behalf of Craig Ayers. Because this submission involves a matter relating to our 2015 proxy statement, we are sending you this letter under the proxy rules of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Exchange Act") to ensure that all applicable requirements are satisfied in connection with your submission.

To be eligible to submit a proposal for inclusion in our proxy statement for our annual meeting of shareholders, Rule 14a-8 of the Exchange Act requires that a shareholder must have continuously held at least $2,000 in market value, or 1%, of the company's securities entitled to be voted on the proposal at the meeting for at least one year by the date the proposal was submitted. The proponent must also continue to hold these securities through the date of the meeting. I have attached to this letter a copy of Rule 14-8 setting forth the requirements for submission of a proposal, which includes instructions on proof of ownership. To that end, we are requesting that you provide us with the Mr. Ayers' proof of ownership of Kraft Foods Group stock as required under Rule 14a-8, which you indicated would be provided no later than November 19, 2014.

Please note that all of the required information set forth in this letter and Rule 14a-8 should be sent directly to me at the address set forth above within 14 calendar days of the date you receive this request, and that the company reserves the right to omit the proposal under the applicable provisions of Regulation 14A.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Very truly yours,

Christopher H. Anderson

§240.14a-8 Shareholder proposals.

This section addresses when a company must include a shareholder's proposal in its proxy statement and identify the proposal in its form of proxy when the company holds an annual or special meeting of shareholders. In summary, in order to have your shareholder proposal included on a company's proxy card, and included along with any supporting statement in its proxy statement, you must be eligible and follow certain procedures. Under a few specific circumstances, the company is permitted to exclude your proposal, but only after submitting its reasons to the Commission. We structured this section in a question-and-answer format so that it is easier to understand. The references to "you" are to a shareholder seeking to submit the proposal.

(a) Question 1: What is a proposal? A shareholder proposal is your recommendation or requirement that the company and/or its board of directors take action, which you intend to present at a meeting of the company's shareholders. Your proposal should state as clearly as possible the course of action that you believe the company should follow. If your proposal is placed on the company's proxy card, the company must also provide in the form of proxy means for shareholders to specify by boxes a choice between approval or disapproval, or abstention. Unless otherwise indicated, the word "proposal" as used in this section refers both to your proposal, and to your corresponding statement in support of your proposal (if any).

(b) Question 2: Who is eligible to submit a proposal, and how do I demonstrate to the company that I am eligible? (1) In order to be eligible to submit a proposal, you must have continuously held at least $2,000 in market value, or 1%, of the company's securities entitled to be voted on the proposal at the meeting for at least one year by the date you submit the proposal. You must continue to hold those securities through the date of the meeting.

(2) If you are the registered holder of your securities, which means that your name appears in the company's records as a shareholder, the company can verify your eligibility on its own, although you will still have to provide the company with a written statement that you intend to continue to hold the securities through the date of the meeting of shareholders. However, if like many shareholders you are not a registered holder, the company likely does not know that you are a shareholder, or how many shares you own. In this case, at the time you submit your proposal, you must prove your eligibility to the company in one of two ways:

(i) The first way is to submit to the company a written statement from the "record" holder of your securities (usually a broker or bank) verifying that, at the time you submitted your proposal, you continuously held the securities for at least one year. You must also include your own written statement that you intend to continue to hold the securities through the date of the meeting of shareholders; or

(ii) The second way to prove ownership applies only if you have filed a Schedule 13D (§240.13d-101), Schedule 13G (§240.13d-102), Form 3 (§249.103 of this chapter), Form 4 (§249.104 of this chapter) and/or Form 5 (§249.105 of this chapter), or amendments to those documents or updated forms, reflecting your ownership of the shares as of or before the date on which the one-year eligibility period

begins. If you have filed one of these documents with the SEC, you may demonstrate your eligibility by submitting to the company:

(A) A copy of the schedule and/or form, and any subsequent amendments reporting a change in your ownership level;

(B) Your written statement that you continuously held the required number of shares for the one-year period as of the date of the statement; and

(C) Your written statement that you intend to continue ownership of the shares through the date of the company's annual or special meeting.

(c) Question 3: How many proposals may I submit? Each shareholder may submit no more than one proposal to a company for a particular shareholders' meeting.

(d) Question 4: How long can my proposal be? The proposal, including any accompanying supporting statement, may not exceed 500 words.

(e) Question 5: What is the deadline for submitting a proposal? (1) If you are submitting your proposal for the company's annual meeting, you can in most cases find the deadline in last year's proxy statement. However, if the company did not hold an annual meeting last year, or has changed the date of its meeting for this year more than 30 days from last year's meeting, you can usually find the deadline in one of the company's quarterly reports on Form 10-Q (§249.308a of this chapter), or in shareholder reports of investment companies under §270.30d-1 of this chapter of the Investment Company Act of 1940. In order to avoid controversy, shareholders should submit their proposals by means, including electronic means, that permit them to prove the date of delivery.

(2) The deadline is calculated in the following manner if the proposal is submitted for a regularly scheduled annual meeting. The proposal must be received at the company's principal executive offices not less than 120 calendar days before the date of the company's proxy statement released to shareholders in connection with the previous year's annual meeting. However, if the company did not hold an annual meeting the previous year, or if the date of this year's annual meeting has been changed by more than 30 days from the date of the previous year's meeting, then the deadline is a reasonable time before the company begins to print and send its proxy materials.

(3) If you are submitting your proposal for a meeting of shareholders other than a regularly scheduled annual meeting, the deadline is a reasonable time before the company begins to print and send its proxy materials.

(f) Question 6: What if I fail to follow one of the eligibility or procedural requirements explained in answers to Questions 1 through 4 of this section? (1) The company may exclude your proposal, but only after it has notified you of the problem, and you have failed adequately to correct it. Within 14 calendar days of receiving your proposal, the company must notify you in writing of any procedural or eligibility deficiencies, as well as of the time frame for your response. Your response must be postmarked, or transmitted electronically, no later than 14 days from the date you received the company's notification.

A company need not provide you such notice of a deficiency if the deficiency cannot be remedied, such as if you fail to submit a proposal by the company's properly determined deadline. If the company intends to exclude the proposal, it will later have to make a submission under §240.14a-8 and provide you with a copy under Question 10 below, §240.14a-8(j).

(2) If you fail in your promise to hold the required number of securities through the date of the meeting of shareholders, then the company will be permitted to exclude all of your proposals from its proxy materials for any meeting held in the following two calendar years.

(g) Question 7: Who has the burden of persuading the Commission or its staff that my proposal can be excluded? Except as otherwise noted, the burden is on the company to demonstrate that it is entitled to exclude a proposal.

(h) Question 8: Must I appear personally at the shareholders' meeting to present the proposal? (1) Either you, or your representative who is qualified under state law to present the proposal on your behalf, must attend the meeting to present the proposal. Whether you attend the meeting yourself or send a qualified representative to the meeting in your place, you should make sure that you, or your representative, follow the proper state law procedures for attending the meeting and/or presenting your proposal.

(2) If the company holds its shareholder meeting in whole or in part via electronic media, and the company permits you or your representative to present your proposal via such media, then you may appear through electronic media rather than traveling to the meeting to appear in person.

(3) If you or your qualified representative fail to appear and present the proposal, without good cause, the company will be permitted to exclude all of your proposals from its proxy materials for any meetings held in the following two calendar years.

(i) Question 9: If I have complied with the procedural requirements, on what other bases may a company rely to exclude my proposal? (1) Improper under state law: If the proposal is not a proper subject for action by shareholders under the laws of the jurisdiction of the company's organization;

Note to paragraph (i)(1): Depending on the subject matter, some proposals are not considered proper under state law if they would be binding on the company if approved by shareholders. In our experience, most proposals that are cast as recommendations or requests that the board of directors take specified action are proper under state law. Accordingly, we will assume that a proposal drafted as a recommendation or suggestion is proper unless the company demonstrates otherwise.

(2) Violation of law: If the proposal would, if implemented, cause the company to violate any state, federal, or foreign law to which it is subject;

Note to paragraph (i)(2): We will not apply this basis for exclusion to permit exclusion of a proposal on grounds that it would violate foreign law if compliance with the foreign law would result in a violation of any state or federal law.

(3) Violation of proxy rules: If the proposal or supporting statement is contrary to any of the Commission's proxy rules, including §240.14a-9, which prohibits materially false or misleading statements in proxy soliciting materials;

(4) Personal grievance; special interest: If the proposal relates to the redress of a personal claim or grievance against the company or any other person, or if it is designed to result in a benefit to you, or to further a personal interest, which is not shared by the other shareholders at large;

(5) Relevance: If the proposal relates to operations which account for less than 5 percent of the company's total assets at the end of its most recent fiscal year, and for less than 5 percent of its net earnings and gross sales for its most recent fiscal year, and is not otherwise significantly related to the company's business;

(6) Absence of power/authority: If the company would lack the power or authority to implement the proposal;

(7) Management functions: If the proposal deals with a matter relating to the company's ordinary business operations;

(8) Director elections: If the proposal:

(i) Would disqualify a nominee who is standing for election;

(ii) Would remove a director from office before his or her term expired;

(iii) Questions the competence, business judgment, or character of one or more nominees or directors;

(iv) Seeks to include a specific individual in the company's proxy materials for election to the board of directors; or

(v) Otherwise could affect the outcome of the upcoming election of directors.

(9) Conflicts with company's proposal: If the proposal directly conflicts with one of the company's own proposals to be submitted to shareholders at the same meeting;

Note to paragraph (i)(9): A company's submission to the Commission under this section should specify the points of conflict with the company's proposal.

(10) Substantially implemented: If the company has already substantially implemented the proposal;

Note to paragraph (i)(10): A company may exclude a shareholder proposal that would provide an advisory vote or seek future advisory votes to approve the compensation of executives as disclosed pursuant to Item 402 of Regulation S-K (§229.402 of this chapter) or any successor to Item 402 (a "say-on-pay vote") or that relates to the frequency of say-on-pay votes, provided that in the most recent shareholder vote required by §240.14a-21(b) of this chapter a single year (i.e., one, two, or three years) received approval of a majority of votes cast on the matter and the company has adopted a policy on the frequency of say-on-pay votes that is consistent with the choice of the majority of votes cast in the most recent shareholder vote required by §240.14a-21(b) of this chapter.

(11) Duplication: If the proposal substantially duplicates another proposal previously submitted to the company by another proponent that will be included in the company's proxy materials for the same meeting;

(12) Resubmissions: If the proposal deals with substantially the same subject matter as another proposal or proposals that has or have been previously included in the company's proxy materials within the preceding 5 calendar years, a company may exclude it from its proxy materials for any meeting held within 3 calendar years of the last time it was included if the proposal received:

(i) Less than 3% of the vote if proposed once within the preceding 5 calendar years;

(ii) Less than 6% of the vote on its last submission to shareholders if proposed twice previously within the preceding 5 calendar years; or

(iii) Less than 10% of the vote on its last submission to shareholders if proposed three times or more previously within the preceding 5 calendar years; and

(13) Specific amount of dividends: If the proposal relates to specific amounts of cash or stock dividends.

(j) Question 10: What procedures must the company follow if it intends to exclude my proposal? (1) If the company intends to exclude a proposal from its proxy materials, it must file its reasons with the Commission no later than 80 calendar days before it files its definitive proxy statement and form of proxy with the Commission. The company must simultaneously provide you with a copy of its submission. The Commission staff may permit the company to make its submission later than 80 days before the company files its definitive proxy statement and form of proxy, if the company demonstrates good cause for missing the deadline.

(2) The company must file six paper copies of the following:

(i) The proposal;

(ii) An explanation of why the company believes that it may exclude the proposal, which should, if possible, refer to the most recent applicable authority, such as prior Division letters issued under the rule; and

(iii) A supporting opinion of counsel when such reasons are based on matters of state or foreign law.

(k) Question 11: May I submit my own statement to the Commission responding to the company's arguments?

Yes, you may submit a response, but it is not required. You should try to submit any response to us, with a copy to the company, as soon as possible after the company makes its submission. This way, the

Commission staff will have time to consider fully your submission before it issues its response. You should submit six paper copies of your response.

(l) Question 12: If the company includes my shareholder proposal in its proxy materials, what information about me must it include along with the proposal itself?

(1) The company's proxy statement must include your name and address, as well as the number of the company's voting securities that you hold. However, instead of providing that information, the company may instead include a statement that it will provide the information to shareholders promptly upon receiving an oral or written request.

(2) The company is not responsible for the contents of your proposal or supporting statement.

(m) Question 13: What can I do if the company includes in its proxy statement reasons why it believes shareholders should not vote in favor of my proposal, and I disagree with some of its statements?

(1) The company may elect to include in its proxy statement reasons why it believes shareholders should vote against your proposal. The company is allowed to make arguments reflecting its own point of view, just as you may express your own point of view in your proposal's supporting statement.

(2) However, if you believe that the company's opposition to your proposal contains materially false or misleading statements that may violate our anti-fraud rule, §240.14a-9, you should promptly send to the Commission staff and the company a letter explaining the reasons for your view, along with a copy of the company's statements opposing your proposal. To the extent possible, your letter should include specific factual information demonstrating the inaccuracy of the company's claims. Time permitting, you may wish to try to work out your differences with the company by yourself before contacting the Commission staff.

(3) We require the company to send you a copy of its statements opposing your proposal before it sends its proxy materials, so that you may bring to our attention any materially false or misleading statements, under the following timeframes:

(i) If our no-action response requires that you make revisions to your proposal or supporting statement as a condition to requiring the company to include it in its proxy materials, then the company must provide you with a copy of its opposition statements no later than 5 calendar days after the company receives a copy of your revised proposal; or

(ii) In all other cases, the company must provide you with a copy of its opposition statements no later than 30 calendar days before its files definitive copies of its proxy statement and form of proxy under §240.14a-6.

Dear Mr. Depew:

On November 12, 2014, we received your letter, which included your Rule 14a-8 proposal that you intend to co-file with As You Sow. Because your submission involves a matter relating to our 2015 proxy statement, we are sending you this letter under the proxy rules of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Exchange Act") to ensure that you satisfy all requirements in connection with your submission.

To be eligible to submit a proposal for inclusion in our proxy statement for our annual meeting of shareholders, Rule 14a-8 of the Exchange Act requires that you must have continuously held at least $2,000 in market value, or 1%, of the company's securities entitled to be voted on the proposal at the meeting for at least one year by the date you submit the proposal. You must also continue to hold these securities through the date of the meeting. I have attached to this letter a copy of Rule 14-8 setting forth the requirements for submission of a proposal, which includes instructions on proof of ownership.

We understand that you indicated that your proof of ownership would be forthcoming, but we wanted to promptly respond to your letter to request that information. Please note that all of the required information set forth in this letter and Rule 14a-8 should be sent directly to me at the address set forth above within 14 calendar days of the date you receive this request, and that the company reserves the right to omit the proposal under the applicable provisions of Regulation 14A.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Very truly yours,

§240.14a-8 Shareholder proposals.

This section addresses when a company must include a shareholder's proposal in its proxy statement and identify the proposal in its form of proxy when the company holds an annual or special meeting of shareholders. In summary, in order to have your shareholder proposal included on a company's proxy card, and included along with any supporting statement in its proxy statement, you must be eligible and follow certain procedures. Under a few specific circumstances, the company is permitted to exclude your proposal, but only after submitting its reasons to the Commission. We structured this section in a question-and-answer format so that it is easier to understand. The references to "you" are to a shareholder seeking to submit the proposal.

(a) Question 1: What is a proposal? A shareholder proposal is your recommendation or requirement that the company and/or its board of directors take action, which you intend to present at a meeting of the company's shareholders. Your proposal should state as clearly as possible the course of action that you believe the company should follow. If your proposal is placed on the company's proxy card, the company must also provide in the form of proxy means for shareholders to specify by boxes a choice between approval or disapproval, or abstention. Unless otherwise indicated, the word "proposal" as used in this section refers both to your proposal, and to your corresponding statement in support of your proposal (if any).

(b) Question 2: Who is eligible to submit a proposal, and how do I demonstrate to the company that I am eligible? (1) In order to be eligible to submit a proposal, you must have continuously held at least $2,000 in market value, or 1%, of the company's securities entitled to be voted on the proposal at the meeting for at least one year by the date you submit the proposal. You must continue to hold those securities through the date of the meeting.

(2) If you are the registered holder of your securities, which means that your name appears in the company's records as a shareholder, the company can verify your eligibility on its own, although you will still have to provide the company with a written statement that you intend to continue to hold the securities through the date of the meeting of shareholders. However, if like many shareholders you are not a registered holder, the company likely does not know that you are a shareholder, or how many shares you own. In this case, at the time you submit your proposal, you must prove your eligibility to the company in one of two ways:

(i) The first way is to submit to the company a written statement from the "record" holder of your securities (usually a broker or bank) verifying that, at the time you submitted your proposal, you continuously held the securities for at least one year. You must also include your own written statement that you intend to continue to hold the securities through the date of the meeting of shareholders; or

(ii) The second way to prove ownership applies only if you have filed a Schedule 13D (§240.13d-101), Schedule 13G (§240.13d-102), Form 3 (§249.103 of this chapter), Form 4 (§249.104 of this chapter) and/or Form 5 (§249.105 of this chapter), or amendments to those documents or updated forms, reflecting your ownership of the shares as of or before the date on which the one-year eligibility period

begins. If you have filed one of these documents with the SEC, you may demonstrate your eligibility by submitting to the company:

(A) A copy of the schedule and/or form, and any subsequent amendments reporting a change in your ownership level;

(B) Your written statement that you continuously held the required number of shares for the one-year period as of the date of the statement; and

(C) Your written statement that you intend to continue ownership of the shares through the date of the company's annual or special meeting.

(c) Question 3: How many proposals may I submit? Each shareholder may submit no more than one proposal to a company for a particular shareholders' meeting.

(d) Question 4: How long can my proposal be? The proposal, including any accompanying supporting statement, may not exceed 500 words.

(e) Question 5: What is the deadline for submitting a proposal? (1) If you are submitting your proposal for the company's annual meeting, you can in most cases find the deadline in last year's proxy statement. However, if the company did not hold an annual meeting last year, or has changed the date of its meeting for this year more than 30 days from last year's meeting, you can usually find the deadline in one of the company's quarterly reports on Form 10-Q (§249.308a of this chapter), or in shareholder reports of investment companies under §270.30d-1 of this chapter of the Investment Company Act of 1940. In order to avoid controversy, shareholders should submit their proposals by means, including electronic means, that permit them to prove the date of delivery.

(2) The deadline is calculated in the following manner if the proposal is submitted for a regularly scheduled annual meeting. The proposal must be received at the company's principal executive offices not less than 120 calendar days before the date of the company's proxy statement released to shareholders in connection with the previous year's annual meeting. However, if the company did not hold an annual meeting the previous year, or if the date of this year's annual meeting has been changed by more than 30 days from the date of the previous year's meeting, then the deadline is a reasonable time before the company begins to print and send its proxy materials.

(3) If you are submitting your proposal for a meeting of shareholders other than a regularly scheduled annual meeting, the deadline is a reasonable time before the company begins to print and send its proxy materials.

(f) Question 6: What if I fail to follow one of the eligibility or procedural requirements explained in answers to Questions 1 through 4 of this section? (1) The company may exclude your proposal, but only after it has notified you of the problem, and you have failed adequately to correct it. Within 14 calendar days of receiving your proposal, the company must notify you in writing of any procedural or eligibility deficiencies, as well as of the time frame for your response. Your response must be postmarked, or transmitted electronically, no later than 14 days from the date you received the company's notification.

A company need not provide you such notice of a deficiency if the deficiency cannot be remedied, such as if you fail to submit a proposal by the company's properly determined deadline. If the company intends to exclude the proposal, it will later have to make a submission under §240.14a-8 and provide you with a copy under Question 10 below, §240.14a-8(j).

(2) If you fail in your promise to hold the required number of securities through the date of the meeting of shareholders, then the company will be permitted to exclude all of your proposals from its proxy materials for any meeting held in the following two calendar years.

(g) Question 7: Who has the burden of persuading the Commission or its staff that my proposal can be excluded? Except as otherwise noted, the burden is on the company to demonstrate that it is entitled to exclude a proposal.

(h) Question 8: Must I appear personally at the shareholders' meeting to present the proposal? (1) Either you, or your representative who is qualified under state law to present the proposal on your behalf, must attend the meeting to present the proposal. Whether you attend the meeting yourself or send a qualified representative to the meeting in your place, you should make sure that you, or your representative, follow the proper state law procedures for attending the meeting and/or presenting your proposal.

(2) If the company holds its shareholder meeting in whole or in part via electronic media, and the company permits you or your representative to present your proposal via such media, then you may appear through electronic media rather than traveling to the meeting to appear in person.

(3) If you or your qualified representative fail to appear and present the proposal, without good cause, the company will be permitted to exclude all of your proposals from its proxy materials for any meetings held in the following two calendar years.

(i) Question 9: If I have complied with the procedural requirements, on what other bases may a company rely to exclude my proposal? (1) Improper under state law: If the proposal is not a proper subject for action by shareholders under the laws of the jurisdiction of the company's organization;

Note to paragraph (i)(1): Depending on the subject matter, some proposals are not considered proper under state law if they would be binding on the company if approved by shareholders. In our experience, most proposals that are cast as recommendations or requests that the board of directors take specified action are proper under state law. Accordingly, we will assume that a proposal drafted as a recommendation or suggestion is proper unless the company demonstrates otherwise.

(2) Violation of law: If the proposal would, if implemented, cause the company to violate any state, federal, or foreign law to which it is subject;

Note to paragraph (i)(2): We will not apply this basis for exclusion to permit exclusion of a proposal on grounds that it would violate foreign law if compliance with the foreign law would result in a violation of any state or federal law.

(3) Violation of proxy rules: If the proposal or supporting statement is contrary to any of the Commission's proxy rules, including §240.14a-9, which prohibits materially false or misleading statements in proxy soliciting materials;

(4) Personal grievance; special interest: If the proposal relates to the redress of a personal claim or grievance against the company or any other person, or if it is designed to result in a benefit to you, or to further a personal interest, which is not shared by the other shareholders at large;

(5) Relevance: If the proposal relates to operations which account for less than 5 percent of the company's total assets at the end of its most recent fiscal year, and for less than 5 percent of its net earnings and gross sales for its most recent fiscal year, and is not otherwise significantly related to the company's business;

(6) Absence of power/authority: If the company would lack the power or authority to implement the proposal;

(7) Management functions: If the proposal deals with a matter relating to the company's ordinary business operations;

(8) Director elections: If the proposal:

(i) Would disqualify a nominee who is standing for election;

(ii) Would remove a director from office before his or her term expired;

(iii) Questions the competence, business judgment, or character of one or more nominees or directors;

(iv) Seeks to include a specific individual in the company's proxy materials for election to the board of directors; or

(v) Otherwise could affect the outcome of the upcoming election of directors.

(9) Conflicts with company's proposal: If the proposal directly conflicts with one of the company's own proposals to be submitted to shareholders at the same meeting;

Note to paragraph (i)(9): A company's submission to the Commission under this section should specify the points of conflict with the company's proposal.

(10) Substantially implemented: If the company has already substantially implemented the proposal;

Note to paragraph (i)(10): A company may exclude a shareholder proposal that would provide an advisory vote or seek future advisory votes to approve the compensation of executives as disclosed pursuant to Item 402 of Regulation S-K (§229.402 of this chapter) or any successor to Item 402 (a "say-on-pay vote") or that relates to the frequency of say-on-pay votes, provided that in the most recent shareholder vote required by §240.14a-21(b) of this chapter a single year (i.e., one, two, or three years) received approval of a majority of votes cast on the matter and the company has adopted a policy on the frequency of say-on-pay votes that is consistent with the choice of the majority of votes cast in the most recent shareholder vote required by §240.14a-21(b) of this chapter.

(11) Duplication: If the proposal substantially duplicates another proposal previously submitted to the company by another proponent that will be included in the company's proxy materials for the same meeting;

(12) Resubmissions: If the proposal deals with substantially the same subject matter as another proposal or proposals that has or have been previously included in the company's proxy materials within the preceding 5 calendar years, a company may exclude it from its proxy materials for any meeting held within 3 calendar years of the last time it was included if the proposal received:

(i) Less than 3% of the vote if proposed once within the preceding 5 calendar years;

(ii) Less than 6% of the vote on its last submission to shareholders if proposed twice previously within the preceding 5 calendar years; or

(iii) Less than 10% of the vote on its last submission to shareholders if proposed three times or more previously within the preceding 5 calendar years; and

(13) Specific amount of dividends: If the proposal relates to specific amounts of cash or stock dividends.

(j) Question 10: What procedures must the company follow if it intends to exclude my proposal? (1) If the company intends to exclude a proposal from its proxy materials, it must file its reasons with the Commission no later than 80 calendar days before it files its definitive proxy statement and form of proxy with the Commission. The company must simultaneously provide you with a copy of its submission. The Commission staff may permit the company to make its submission later than 80 days before the company files its definitive proxy statement and form of proxy, if the company demonstrates good cause for missing the deadline.

(2) The company must file six paper copies of the following:

(i) The proposal;

(ii) An explanation of why the company believes that it may exclude the proposal, which should, if possible, refer to the most recent applicable authority, such as prior Division letters issued under the rule; and

(iii) A supporting opinion of counsel when such reasons are based on matters of state or foreign law.

(k) Question 11: May I submit my own statement to the Commission responding to the company's arguments?

Yes, you may submit a response, but it is not required. You should try to submit any response to us, with a copy to the company, as soon as possible after the company makes its submission. This way, the

Commission staff will have time to consider fully your submission before it issues its response. You should submit six paper copies of your response.

(l) Question 12: If the company includes my shareholder proposal in its proxy materials, what information about me must it include along with the proposal itself?

(1) The company's proxy statement must include your name and address, as well as the number of the company's voting securities that you hold. However, instead of providing that information, the company may instead include a statement that it will provide the information to shareholders promptly upon receiving an oral or written request.

(2) The company is not responsible for the contents of your proposal or supporting statement.

(m) Question 13: What can I do if the company includes in its proxy statement reasons why it believes shareholders should not vote in favor of my proposal, and I disagree with some of its statements?

(1) The company may elect to include in its proxy statement reasons why it believes shareholders should vote against your proposal. The company is allowed to make arguments reflecting its own point of view, just as you may express your own point of view in your proposal's supporting statement.

(2) However, if you believe that the company's opposition to your proposal contains materially false or misleading statements that may violate our anti-fraud rule, §240.14a-9, you should promptly send to the Commission staff and the company a letter explaining the reasons for your view, along with a copy of the company's statements opposing your proposal. To the extent possible, your letter should include specific factual information demonstrating the inaccuracy of the company's claims. Time permitting, you may wish to try to work out your differences with the company by yourself before contacting the Commission staff.

(3) We require the company to send you a copy of its statements opposing your proposal before it sends its proxy materials, so that you may bring to our attention any materially false or misleading statements, under the following timeframes:

(i) If our no-action response requires that you make revisions to your proposal or supporting statement as a condition to requiring the company to include it in its proxy materials, then the company must provide you with a copy of its opposition statements no later than 5 calendar days after the company receives a copy of your revised proposal; or

(ii) In all other cases, the company must provide you with a copy of its opposition statements no later than 30 calendar days before its files definitive copies of its proxy statement and form of proxy under §240.14a-6.

Dear Ms. Rucker:

The Missionary Oblates of Mary Immaculate are a religious Congregation in the Roman Catholic tradition with over 4,000 members and missionaries in more than 65 countries throughout the world. We are members of the Interfaith Center on Corporate Responsibility, a coalition of 300 faith-based and socially responsible institutional investors – protestant denominations, Catholic orders, Jewish agencies, pension funds, SRI firms, healthcare corporations, foundations, publishing companies and dioceses – whose combined assets exceed $100 billion. We are the beneficial owners of 500 shares in Kraft Foods, which have been held for at least one year. Verification of our ownership of this stock from a DTC participant is enclosed. We plan to hold these shares at least until the annual meeting.

In early November, a small group of ICCR members met with Kraft managers in person in Northfield, with some on the phone. Phuong Lam and Christopher Anderson convened the meeting, which looked at how Kraft is addressing issues around sustainability and childhood nutrition/obesity concerns. The ICCR group left the meeting believing that these managers are doing a commendable job and want to move into best practices. But we have found no evidence that Kraft's top management has publicly shown a serious commitment to address sustainability issues with clear goals and metrics, to ensure the company is making a positive contribution to remedy some of the critical problems we face as a nation regarding climate change.

It is with this in mind that I write to inform you of our intention to co-file the enclosed stockholder resolution with The Province of St. Joseph of the Capuchin Order, for consideration and action by the stockholders at the annual meeting. I hereby submit it for inclusion in the proxy statement in accordance with Rule 14-a-8 of the General Rules and Regulations of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Also, I authorize the primary filer to withdraw the resolution on our behalf if an agreement is reached.

If you have any questions or concerns on this, please do not hesitate to contact me.

RESOLVED: Shareholders request Kraft Foods Group, Inc. (Kraft) issue a comprehensive sustainability report describing its environmental, social and governance (ESG) performance and goals, including greenhouse gas (GHG) reduction goals. Shareholders request the report be available on the company website by October, 2015, prepared at reasonable cost, omitting proprietary information.

SUPPORTING STATEMENT

Kraft lacks a comprehensive sustainability report of ESG-related corporate policies, practices and metrics that follows guidelines such as those provided by the Global Reporting Initiative (GRI). We believe tracking and reporting ESG business practices makes a company more responsive to a global business environment characterized by finite natural resources, changing legislation, and heightened public expectations for corporate accountability. Reporting also helps companies better integrate and gain strategic value from existing sustainability efforts, identify gaps and opportunities in its products and processes, enhance company-wide communications, and publicize its efforts and receive feedback.

Support for comprehensive sustainability reporting continues to gain momentum:

- In 2013, KPMG found that of 4,100 global companies surveyed seventy-one percent published ESG reports.
- The United Nations Principles for Responsible Investment has more than 1,260 signatories with over $45 trillion of combined assets under management. These members seek ESG-related performance information from companies in order to analyze fully the risks and opportunities associated with existing and potential investments.
- CDP (formerly Carbon Disclosure Project), representing 767 institutional investors globally with approximately $92 trillion in assets, calls for company disclosure on GHG emissions and climate change management programs. Over two thirds of the S&P 500 now report to CDP.

Public disclosure of ESG information enables investors to learn how management is addressing near and long-term risks and opportunities (e.g. operational, reputational, and regulatory).

In addition, as noted in Kraft's recent 10-K, risks to Kraft from the physical impact of a changing climate could affect many parts of Kraft's operations - including threats to raw materials, water supplies, and altering geographical patterns of habitation. In addition, data on occupational safety and health, vendor and labor standards, waste and water reduction targets and product-related environmental impacts are important business considerations. Not managing these issues properly could pose significant regulatory, legal, reputational and financial risks.

Reporting on climate change's impact on relevant portions of Kraft's supply chain is crucial as it is one of the most financially significant environmental issues currently facing investors. We believe no firm is immune to the prospect of future carbon regulations or the physical impacts of climate change.

While sustainability reporting is not yet required in the US, it is increasingly expected by company shareholders and stakeholders. Increasingly, investors are continually monitoring and evaluating the ESG performance of companies alongside financial information. Kraft peers such as Mars, Nestlé and Unilever issue comprehensive sustainability reporting. By implementing this resolution, Kraft can demonstrate that its values, and drive its practices and performance.

We urge you to support this resolution.

Dear Ms. Rucker:

Last week Tuesday, Mr. Dan Nielsen of CBIS and myself met with a fine group of Kraft managers at Northfield convened by Phuong Lam and Christopher Anderson. Some of our other colleagues participated by phone. We met to address how Kraft is addressing issues around sustainability and childhood nutrition/obesity concerns. We left the meeting believing that these managers are doing a commendable job and want to move into best practices. But we found no evidence that Kraft's top management has not publicly shown a serious commitment to address sustainability issues with clear goals and metrics to ensure that it is making a positive contribution to remedy some of the critical problems we face as a nation regarding climate change. Thus this resolution.

The Province of St. Joseph of the Capuchin Order has owned at least $2,000 worth of Kraft Foods Group, Inc. common stock for over one year and will be holding this through next year's annual meeting which I plan to attend in person or by proxy. You will be receiving verification of our ownership from our Custodian under separate cover, dated November 13, 2014.

I am authorized, as Corporate Responsibility Agent of the Province, to file the enclosed resolution for inclusion in the proxy statement for the next annual meeting of the Kraft Foods Group, Inc. shareholders. I do this in accordance with Rule 14-a-8 of the General Rules and Regulations of the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934 and for consideration and action by the shareholders at the next annual meeting.

In a follow-up note to our meeting emailed to Ms. Lam and Mr. Anderson, I indicated our belief that the Kraft managers with whom we met have shown good will to address this issue. With this resolution we hope for some clearer movement from Kraft's top executives. We hope that, between now and the proposed printing of the proxy, this movement might be evidenced in a way that would find us withdrawing this resolution.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Ms. Rucker,

Mercy Investment Services, Inc. (Mercy) is the investment program of the Sisters of Mercy of the Americas and has long been concerned not only with the financial returns of its investments, but also with the social and ethical implications of its investments. We believe that a demonstrated corporate responsibility in matters of the environment, social and governance concerns fosters long term business success. Mercy Investment Services, Inc., a long term investor, is currently the beneficial owner of shares of Kraft.

Mercy and our ICCR colleagues met last week to address Kraft's sustainability strategy. We left the meeting believing that while managers are doing a commendable job and want to move into best practices, we found no evidence that Kraft's top management has seriously commitment to address sustainability issues with clear goals and metrics.

Mercy Investment Services, Inc. is co-filing the enclosed shareholder proposal for inclusion in the 2015 proxy statement, in accordance with Rule 14a-8 of the General Rules and Regulations of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Mercy Investment Services, Inc. has been a shareholder continuously for more than one year holding at least $2000 in market value and will continue to invest in at least the requisite number of shares for proxy resolutions through the annual shareholders' meeting. The verification of ownership is being sent to you separately by our custodian, a DTC participant. The lead filer is the Province of St. Joseph of the Capuchin Order (Midwest Capuchins), who have our permission to withdraw this resolution.

Public disclosure of ESG information enables investors to learn how management is addressing near and long-term risks and opportunities (e.g. operational, reputational, and regulatory).

In addition, as noted in Kraft's recent 10-K, risks to Kraft from the physical impact of a changing climate could affect many parts of Kraft's operations - including threats to raw materials, water supplies, and altering geographical patterns of habitation. In addition, data on occupational safety and health, vendor and labor standards, waste and water reduction targets and product-related environmental impacts are important business considerations. Not managing these issues properly could pose significant regulatory, legal, reputational and financial risks.

Reporting on climate change's impact on relevant portions of Kraft's supply chain is crucial as it is one of the most financially significant environmental issues currently facing investors. We believe no firm is immune to the prospect of future carbon regulations or the physical impacts of climate change.

While sustainability reporting is not yet required in the US, it is increasingly expected by company shareholders and stakeholders. Increasingly, investors are continually monitoring and evaluating the ESG performance of companies alongside financial information. Kraft peers such as Mars, Nestlé and Unilever issue comprehensive sustainability reporting. By implementing this resolution, Kraft can demonstrate that its values, and drive its practices and performance.

We urge you to support this resolution.

Dear Ms. Rucker:

I am writing on behalf of Christian Brothers Investment Services (CBIS), beneficial owner of 55,270 shares of Kraft Foods Group, Inc. I am filing the enclosed shareholder proposal for consideration and action at your 2015 Annual Meeting. In brief, the proposal requests Kraft Foods Group, Inc. to produce a sustainability report. Consistent with Regulation 14A-8 of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) Guidelines, please include our proposal in the proxy statement.

CBIS has continuously held Kraft Foods Group, Inc. stock totaling at least $2,000 in market value for at least one year prior to the date of this filing. We will forward proof of ownership under separate cover next week. It is CBIS's intent to maintain ownership of Kraft Foods Group, Inc. stock through the date of the 2015 Annual Meeting.

CBIS is co-filing this proposal with the Province of St. Joseph of the Capuchin Order. They should be considered the primary contact for all matters concerning this proposal. For any issues pertaining to this filing, please contact me at 312-802-4716 or dnielsen@cbisonline.com

Sincerely yours,

Daniel P. Nielsen
Director, Socially Responsible Investing

RESOLVED: Shareholders request Kraft Foods (Kraft) issue a comprehensive sustainability report describing its environmental, social and governance (ESG) performance and goals, including greenhouse gas (GHG) reduction goals. Shareholders request the report be available on the company website by October, 2015, prepared at reasonable cost, omitting proprietary information.

SUPPORTING STATEMENT

Kraft lacks a comprehensive sustainability report of ESG-related corporate policies, practices and metrics that follows guidelines such as those provided by the Global Reporting Initiative (GRI). We believe tracking and reporting ESG business practices makes a company more responsive to a global business environment characterized by finite natural resources, changing legislation, and heightened public expectations for corporate accountability. Reporting also helps companies better integrate and gain strategic value from existing sustainability efforts, identify gaps and opportunities in its products and processes, enhance company-wide communications, and publicize its efforts and receive feedback.

Support for comprehensive sustainability reporting continues to gain momentum:

- In 2013, KPMG found that of 4,100 global companies surveyed seventy-one percent published ESG reports.
- The United Nations Principles for Responsible Investment has more than 1,260 signatories with over $45 trillion of combined assets under management. These members seek ESG-related performance information from companies in order to analyze fully the risks and opportunities associated with existing and potential investments.
- CDP (formerly Carbon Disclosure Project), representing 767 institutional investors globally with approximately $92 trillion in assets, calls for company disclosure on GHG emissions and climate change management programs. Over two thirds of the S&P 500 now report to CDP.

Public disclosure of ESG information enables investors to learn how management is addressing near and long-term risks and opportunities (e.g. operational, reputational, and regulatory).

In addition, as noted in Kraft's recent 10-K, risks to Kraft from the physical impact of a changing climate could affect many parts of Kraft's operations - including threats to raw materials, water supplies, and altering geographical patterns of habitation. In addition, data on occupational safety and health, vendor and labor standards, waste and water reduction targets and product-related environmental impacts are important business considerations. Not managing these issues properly could pose significant regulatory, legal, reputational and financial risks.

Reporting on climate change's impact on relevant portions of Kraft's supply chain is crucial as it is one of the most financially significant environmental issues currently facing investors. We believe no firm is immune to the prospect of future carbon regulations or the physical impacts of climate change.

Re: Shareholder Proposal Submission

Dear Ms. Rucker:

I am writing to you on behalf of the Domini Social Equity Fund, a long-term shareholder in Kraft Foods Group.

We are submitting the attached proposal regarding Kraft's management of forestry related risks for inclusion in the next proxy statement in accordance with Rule 14a-8 of the General Rules and Regulations of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

The Fund has held more than $2,000 worth of Kraft shares for greater than one year, and will maintain ownership of the required number of shares through the date of the next stockholders' annual meeting. A letter verifying our ownership of Kraft shares from our portfolio's custodian is forthcoming under separate cover. A representative of the Fund will attend the stockholders' meeting to move the resolution as required by SEC Rules.

We may be joined by other investors who will be submitting the identical proposal. Please consider us to be the lead filer of the proposal. We strongly believe our proposal is in the best interests of our company and its shareholders. We sincerely hope that Kraft will be interested in engaging in constructive dialogue with us on these issues, and that we would be able to reach agreement to withdraw the proposal. I can be reached at (212) 217-1027, or at akanzer@domini.com.

Sincerely,

Sustainable Forestry Report

Whereas:

Kraft Foods Group is one of the largest consumer packaged food and beverage companies in North America, with a diversified line of brands including Oscar Mayer, Lunchables, Athenos and Country Time. Palm oil, soya, sugar, beef and paper are used in a variety of Kraft products. Global demand for these commodities is fueling deforestation and human rights violations, including child and forced labor.

Approximately a third of recorded large-scale land acquisitions globally since 2000 involve investment in cash crops such as sugar cane, palm oil, and soy. Many of these acquisitions involve evicting traditional land holders, through coercion or fraud ("land grabs").

The Consumer Goods Forum, a global industry network, has recognized that "Deforestation is one of the principal drivers of climate change, accounting for 17% of greenhouse gases today. The consumer goods industry, through its growing use of soya, palm oil, beef, paper and board, creates many of the economic incentives which drive deforestation." (Consumer Goods Forum press release, 11/29/10).

Negative impacts from deforestation and poor forest management can be reduced through increased use of recycled materials, independent third party certification schemes, and monitoring of supply chains.

CDP asks global corporations to report how their activities and supply chains contribute to deforestation and how those impacts are managed. Kraft has not responded to CDP's forestry survey, which is backed by 240 investors managing $15 trillion.

Kraft discloses little information on how its purchases of palm oil, soya, paper, beef and sugar are impacting forests and human rights, or how the company is managing these risks. Meaningful indicators would include:

- A company-wide policy on deforestation, with reference to the key commodities driving deforestation;
- The percentage of each of these commodity purchases that Kraft has traced back to its source;
- The percentage of these commodity purchases that are sustainably sourced, with goals for each commodity;
- Whether Kraft and its suppliers have adopted a zero tolerance policy on "land grabs";
- Results of supplier audits to verify compliance with Kraft's forestry goals;
- Identification of certification systems and programs that Kraft uses to ensure sustainable sourcing of each of these commodities; and
- An assessment of how Kraft's purchases impact deforestation and human rights, including rural communities' land rights.

Proponent believes Kraft faces reputational and operational risks by failing to adequately disclose its approach to managing deforestation and related risks. Cadbury, a former Kraft brand, faced public controversy over use of palm oil in its Dairy Milk bars in New Zealand. Rainforest Action Network claims Kraft's products are "at high risk of contamination" with palm oil associated with human rights violations (Rainforest Action Network, "Conflict Palm Oil" 9/12/13). Union of Concerned Scientists notes Kraft has made "no commitments" on palm oil (Palm Oil Scorecard).

RESOLVED: Shareholders request the Board to prepare a public report, at reasonable cost and omitting proprietary information, by December 1, 2015, describing how Kraft is assessing the company's supply chain impact on deforestation and associated human rights issues, and its plans to mitigate these risks.

Dear Mr. Rucker:

Calvert Investment Management, Inc. ("Calvert"), a registered investment advisor, provides investment advice for the funds sponsored by Calvert Investments, Inc. As of November 10, 2014, Calvert had over $13.5 billion in assets under management.

The Calvert Social Index Fund, Calvert VP S&P 500 Index Portfolio, and Calvert VP Nasdaq 100 Index Portfolio ("Funds") are each the beneficial owner of at least $2,000 in market value of securities entitled to be voted at the next shareholder meeting (supporting documentation enclosed). Furthermore, each Fund has held the securities continuously for at least one year, and each Fund intends to continue to own the requisite shares in the Company through the date of the 2015 annual meeting of shareholders.

We are notifying you, in a timely manner that the Funds are presenting the enclosed shareholder proposal for vote at the upcoming stockholders meeting. We submit it for inclusion in the proxy statement in accordance with Rule 14a-8 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (17 C.F.R. § 240.14a-8).

As long-standing shareholders, we are filing the enclosed requesting that Kraft Foods Group, Inc. issue a report describing how Kraft is assessing the company's supply chain impact on deforestation and associated human rights issues, including child and forced labor, and its plans to mitigate these risks. The report should be prepared at a reasonable cost, omit proprietary information, and be made available to shareholders by December 1, 2015.

We understand that Adam Kanzer, Domini Social Investments, Inc. has submitted an identical proposal. Adam Kanzer will be serving as primary contact on matters pertaining to this resolution. He can be reached at (212) 217-1100 (akanzer@domini.com). Calvert recognizes Domini Social Investments, Inc. as the lead filer and Calvert intends to act as a co-sponsor of the resolution. Adam Kanzer has agreed to coordinate contact between the Company and other shareholders filing the proposal, including Calvert, and is also authorized to withdraw the resolution on Calvert's behalf. However, Calvert would like to receive copies of all correspondence sent to Adam Kanzer as it relates to the proposal.

If prior to the annual meeting you agree to the request outlined in the resolution, we believe that this resolution would be unnecessary. Please direct any correspondence to Gabriel Thoumi, CFA, at (301) 961-4759, or contact him via email at gabriel.thoumi@calvert.com.

Dear Ms. Rucker:

The Green Century Equity Fund is filing the enclosed updated shareholder resolution, for inclusion in Kraft Foods Group, Inc. (Kraft or the "Company") proxy statement pursuant to Rule 14a-8 of the General Rules and Regulations of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The attached resolution reflects the conversations between Kraft and the lead filer Domini Social Investments.

The Green Century Equity Fund (Green Century) is the beneficial owner of at least $2,000 worth of Kraft stock. We have held the requisite number of shares for over one year, and will continue to hold sufficient shares in the Company through the date of the annual shareholders' meeting. Verification of ownership, from a DTC participating bank, is attached.

Green Century is the co-filer of this proposal and Domini Social Investments will act as the primary filer. Please direct any correspondence to both parties.
