² Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses do not correlate to the ratio of expenses to average net assets provided in the Financial Highlights. The information in the Financial Highlights reflects the operating expenses of the Fund as of the Bond Fund's fiscal year end and does not include the effect of the Expense Limitation Agreement effective April 30, 2016.

Example of Expenses

This example is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in shares of the Manor Fund with the cost of investing in other mutual funds. The example assumes that you invest $10,000 in the Manor Fund for the time periods indicated and then redeem all of your shares at the end of those periods. The example also assumes that your investment has a 5% return each year and that the Manor Fund's operating expenses remain the same. Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions your costs would be:

	1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
The Bond Fund	$ 97	$ 313	$ 548	$ 1,220

Portfolio Turnover

The Bond Fund pays transaction costs, such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or “turns over” its portfolios). A higher portfolio turnover rate may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when Fund shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in annual fund operating expenses or in the previous expense example, affect the performance of the Funds. During the most recent fiscal year, the portfolio turnover rate for the Bond Fund was 41.29%.

Principal Investment Strategies

The Bond Fund invests primarily in income producing securities issued by the U.S. Government or Agencies of the U.S. Government, such as U.S. Treasury bills, notes and bonds, or securities issued by GNMA, FNMA and FHLB. The Bond Fund generally maintains an average maturity of three to seven years, depending upon the interest rate and economic environment, but occasionally, securities may be sold within 12 months of purchase if circumstances of the general market should change.

Principal Risks

An investor could lose money investing in the Bond Fund. The Bond Fund is intended for long-term investors who can accept fluctuations in value and other risks associated with seeking the investment objectives of each Fund.

Risks in the Bond Fund include:

- the possibility that a rise in interest rates or inflation expectations will result in a decline in the value of portfolio investments,
- or that the portfolio manager will be unsuccessful in structuring the portfolio to take advantage of shifts in the interest rate markets.

In addition to the risks outlined above, the manor Fund carries the risk that Daniel A. Morris, the portfolio manager will be unable to perform his duties due to death or disability.

In addition to the risks associated with the investment strategy of the Fund, an investor is subject to risk from general market fluctuations, interest rate shifts, credit risk, and the effect of inflation.

Market Risk

In the event of a general market decline, the value of the Fund could decline. The values of investments may change, and possibly decrease, perhaps severely, in response to fluctuations in the market generally.

Interest Rate Risk

If interest rates increase the value of portfolio investments could decline. The potential for fluctuations in bond prices is primarily due to changes in interest rates.

Credit Risk

Credit risk could impact the value of specific stock or bond investments, or an entire industry sector, if investors become concerned about the ability of creditors to continue debt service on an ongoing basis. Credit risk is the chance that the issuer of a bond will default on its promise to pay interest and or principal at maturity.

Inflation Risk

Inflation is the impact of rising prices over time. It has the effect of reducing the future value of financial assets due to decreased purchasing power. The impact of inflation, and investors' expectation of future inflation, can impact the current value of portfolio investments, resulting in lower prices.
