President's Letter

June 30, 2006

DEAR SHAREHOLDER:

Enclosed is our report on your Fund's operations for the 12 months ended June 30, 2006. Stock prices rose during the period, despite increased market volatility this past spring and higher interest rates. The S&P 500 Index advanced 8.64 percent, led by energy stocks. Many international stocks posted even higher returns for the period as investors sought greater portfolio diversification. The Morgan Stanley Capital International EAFE Index climbed 26.56 percent, led primarily by Asian stocks.

In contrast, tighter central bank monetary policies around the world resulted in a weak bond market this past fiscal year. The Citigroup Broad Investment Grade Index declined 0.81 percent for the period. The Federal Reserve gave mixed signals as to how much more it will raise short-term interest rates in an effort to combat inflation, which appears to be accelerating.

A change in climate

Overall, the investing climate changed substantially this past spring, as many investors lost some of their appetite for higher risk investments such as commodities, emerging market securities and low quality stocks. Why? Certainty and unbridled optimism regarding global growth have been replaced with sobering realities, including:

- Rising geopolitical tensions, marked by the saber rattling of insecure regimes in Iran and North Korea, continued peacekeeping problems in Iraq and deteriorating Israeli-Palestinian relations.
- Uncertainty over the scope of interest rate increases. A new Federal Reserve chairman and changing market conditions have contributed to challenges in making Fed policy positions clear to investors. Meanwhile, Japan and Europe are each adopting more restrictive monetary policies, with Japan changing course for the first time in many years.
- High energy prices and increased global energy demand. Although prices appear still subject to seasonal fluctuations and geopolitical issues, the reality of permanently higher gasoline and heating/cooling costs thanks to growing demand in China, India and elsewhere appears to be having an effect on U.S. consumers.
- A slowdown in the U.S. housing market. While average home prices have not dropped a great deal, market conditions have shifted decidedly to favor buyers, with "for sale" inventory up sharply in many regions as home affordability has fallen to a two-decade low.

Financial markets don't like uncertainty. Neither do consumers. For now, we appear to have entered a period when fear of the unknown has replaced greed as the market's dominant emotion. It may take a little while for answers to surface when it comes to the key questions surrounding economic slowdown, interest rate policy, corporate profit trends and whether the U.S. dollar will weaken, hurting consumers' purchasing power.

Uncertainty creates opportunity

Over time, we believe that the outlook will be cleared up in positive fashion for those investors who are properly diversified. We believe that slowing growth in the world's economy is a good thing that should help to preempt overheating. The tightening that is taking place should help lead to an adequate, not drastic, slowdown, in our opinion.

Uncertainty offers an opportunity to reassess your position, rethink the road you're traveling and, if needed, rebalance your portfolio. Through appropriate diversification in multiple asset classes, you potentially take advantage of long-term change.

Your financial advisor can help you maintain an appropriate investment strategy as part of a customized financial plan based on your individual goals. We believe that focusing on that plan, despite changes in market condition, is important as you work toward a sound financial future. Thank you for your confidence and continued partnership.

Respectfully,

Henry J. Herrmann, CFA
President

The opinions expressed in this letter are those of the President of the Fund and are current only through the end of the period of the report, as stated on the cover. The President's views are subject to change at any time, based on market and other conditions, and no forecasts can be guaranteed.

Manager's Discussion of International Growth Fund

June 30, 2006

An interview with Thomas A. Mengel, portfolio manager of Waddell & Reed Advisors International Growth Fund, Inc.

The following discussion, graphs and tables provide you with information regarding the Fund's performance for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2006.

How did the Fund perform during the fiscal year?

The Fund advanced 27.74 percent (Class A shares, excluding sales charge) for the period while the Morgan Stanley Capital International EAFE Index, generally representing the performance of international stocks in developed markets, rose 26.56 percent. The Lipper International Large-Cap Core Funds Universe Average, representing the Fund's peer group of funds with similar investment objectives, returned 25.62 percent.

Please note that Fund returns and peer group returns include applicable fees and expenses, whereas index returns do not include any such fees. Also, when sale charges are included, Fund performance is reduced.

What factors affected Fund performance during the fiscal year?

We feel that our country and stock selection enhanced performance, as did the portfolio's overweight positions in energy and financials. Fund performance also benefited from stock selection in the consumer discretionary sector, as well as our significant underweight

United Kingdom (compared to the Fund's benchmark) exposure and a heavy concentration in Japanese equities for most of the fiscal year. Japanese equities, our largest country weighting, represented more than one-quarter of the portfolio for most of the fiscal year.

What other market conditions or events influenced the Fund's return during the fiscal year?

Global financial markets were volatile in the first quarter of the fiscal year as rising energy prices fueled inflationary trends and created economic uncertainties. These concerns eased in the final calendar quarter of 2005, resulting in impressive equity market gains that extended into early 2006. However, by March higher energy prices had returned and were accompanied by much higher bond yields. Equity markets experienced a significant correction beginning in May as investors raised inflation concerns. Global monetary accommodation was reduced as most major central banks increased interest rates. A new concern emerged among investors, who worried that some monetary authorities might further tighten monetary policy, particularly the U.S. Federal Reserve. Emerging markets were hardest hit, a typical reaction when investors reduce portfolio risk. Although business trends remained solid in most of the world, economists began to forecast a slower pace of global growth for the second half of 2006.

What strategies and techniques employed specifically affected Fund performance during the fiscal year?

Our significant concentration in Japanese equities reflected improved investor confidence in Japan, which was enhanced by September 2005 election results showing broad public support for further political, social and economic reform. We also continued to focus on Switzerland and other areas of Continental Europe where domestic demand improvement has accelerated and export growth has remained strong. This includes a large position in German manufacturing companies that are reducing labor costs as a result of labor reforms. Exposure to Australia and Britain remained below benchmark levels due to relatively high interest rates, falling home prices and generally deteriorating economic fundamentals, including currency risk. In the final fiscal quarter, we made a classical defensive shift in investment strategy. We modestly increased cash reserves and reduced the portfolio's risk profile. We reduced exposure to what we believed were the most vulnerable countries and sectors, while selecting areas with what we felt possessed greater stability or more defensive characteristics.

What sectors and industries did you emphasize during the year?

We were rewarded by our overweight positions in financials and energy during the fiscal year, as well as our information technology holdings later in the period. We continued to emphasize growth companies in Continental Europe which benefit from strong global demand, especially export companies which enjoy a solid competitive position. Attractive consumer discretionary holdings were maintained in areas where domestic demand has recently improved, primarily in core Europe and Japan.

In our recent shift to a more defensive posture, we reduced exposure to the U.S. consumer, luxury goods, financials and exporters in general. Our energy overweight position was further increased, and we also added exposure to health care, telecom services and utilities. In countries with impressive domestic growth, we increased positions in companies we believe are likely to benefit from higher domestic demand. We remain overweight industry leaders in Europe, particularly in Germany and Switzerland. We also favor Switzerland because of its relatively low interest rates and inflation. Although we remain underweight in United Kingdom securities, we recently increased our exposure, as we have taken advantage of market weakness to add a selection of what we feel are attractively priced British companies. Japan's recent economic progress has been impressive, but we have trimmed our holdings ahead of Japan's first interest rate increase and a September government leadership change.

What is your outlook for the year ahead?

We anticipate that financial market uncertainties may continue until investors are more comfortable with the pace and extent of global monetary tightening. Our prime concern is likely to remain U.S. consumer behavior and Federal Reserve actions, both of which have a major global impact.

The Fund's performance noted above is at net asset value (NAV), and does not include the effect of any applicable sales charges. If reflected, the sales charge would reduce the performance noted.

As with any mutual fund, the value of the Fund's shares will change, and you could lose money on your investment.

International investing involves additional risks, including currency fluctuations, political or economic conditions affecting the foreign country, and differences in accounting standards and foreign regulations.

These and other risks are more fully described in the Fund's prospectus.

The opinions expressed in this report are those of the portfolio manager and are current only through the end of the period of the report as stated on the cover. The manager's views are subject to change at any time based on market and other conditions, and no forecasts can be guaranteed.

Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate and shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Please visit www.waddell.com for the Fund's most recent month-end performance. Class A shares carry a maximum front-end sales load of 5.75%. Class B and Class C shares carry maximum contingent deferred sales charges (CDSC) of 5% and 1%, respectively. (Accordingly, the Class C shares reflect no CDSC since it only applies to Class C shares redeemed within twelve months after purchase.) Class Y shares are not subject to sales charges.

- (3) 10-4-99 for Class B shares and 10-5-99 for Class C shares (the date on which shares were first acquired by shareholders).

Past performance is not necessarily indicative of future performance. Indexes are unmanaged. The performance graph and table do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or on the redemption of Fund shares.

Illustration of Fund Expenses

International Growth Fund

As a shareholder of the Fund, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including sales charges (loads) on purchase payments, redemption fees and exchange fees; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees, distribution and service fees, and other Fund expenses. The following table is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds. The example is based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the period and held for the six-month period ended June 30, 2006.

Actual Expenses

The first line for each share class in the following table provides information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use the information in this line, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, a $7,500 account value divided by $1,000 = 7.5), then multiply the result by the number in the first line under the heading entitled “Expenses Paid During Period” to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period. There may be additional fees charged to holders of certain accounts that are not included in the expenses shown in the table. These fees apply to Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs), IRA Rollovers, Roth IRAs, Conversion Roth IRAs, Simplified Employee Pension (SEP), Simple IRAs, Tax-Sheltered Accounts (TSAs), Keogh Plans, Owner Only 401(k) (Exclusive K) Plans and Final Pay Plans. As of the close of the six months covered by the table, a customer is charged an annual fee of $15 within each plan type. This fee is waived for IRA Rollovers and Conversion Roth IRAs if the customer owns another type of IRA. Coverdell Education Savings Account plans are charged an annual fee of $10 per customer. You should consider the additional fees that were charged to your Fund account over the six-month period when you estimate the total ongoing expenses paid over the period and the impact of these fees on your ending account value as such additional expenses are not reflected in the information provided in the expense table. Additional fees have the effect of reducing investment returns.

Hypothetical Example for Comparison Purposes

The second line for each share class of the following table provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund’s actual expense ratio and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund’s actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of the other funds. Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs, such as sales charges (loads), redemption fees or exchange fees. Therefore, the second line of each share class in the table is useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these transactional costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

Fund Expenses

For the Six Months Ended June 30, 2006	Beginning Account Value 12-31-05	Ending Account Value 6-30-06	Annualized Expense Ratio Based on the Six-Month Period	Expenses Paid During Period*

Class A	$1,000	$1,076.70	1.49%	$ 7.68
Class B	1,000	1,070.90	2.60	13.36
Class C	1,000	1,072.00	2.41	12.43

Class C	1,000	1,012.82	2.41	12.08
Class Y	1,000	1,019.53	1.06	5.35

*Fund expenses for each share class are equal to the Fund's annualized expense ratio for each share class (provided in the table), multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by 181 days in the six-month period ended June 30, 2006, and divided by 365.

(1) This section uses the Fund's actual total return and actual Fund expenses. It is a guide to the actual expenses paid by the Fund in the period. The "Ending Account Value" shown is computed using the Fund's actual return and the "Expenses Paid During Period" column shows the dollar amount that would have been paid by an investor who started with $1,000 in the Fund. A shareholder may use the information here, together with the dollar amount invested, to estimate the expenses that were paid over the period. For every thousand dollars a shareholder has invested, the expenses are listed in the fourth column.

(2) This section uses a hypothetical 5% annual return and actual Fund expenses. It helps to compare the Fund's ongoing costs with other mutual funds. A shareholder can compare the Fund's ongoing costs by comparing this hypothetical example with the hypothetical examples that appear in shareholder reports of other funds.

The above illustration is based on ongoing costs only and does not include any transactional costs, such as sales loads, redemption fees or exchange fees.

Notes to Financial Statements

June 30, 2006

NOTE 1 – Significant Accounting Policies

Waddell & Reed Advisors International Growth Fund, Inc. (the Fund) is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 as a diversified, open-end management investment company. Its investment objective is long-term appreciation. Realization of income is a secondary goal. The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements. The policies are in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

- A. Security valuation – Each stock and convertible bond is valued at the latest sale price thereof on each business day of the fiscal period as reported by the principal securities exchange on which the issue is traded or, if no sale is reported for a stock, the average of the latest bid and asked prices. Bonds, other than convertible bonds, are valued using a pricing system provided by a pricing service or dealer in bonds. Convertible bonds are valued using this pricing system only on days when there is no sale reported. Stocks which are traded over-the-counter are priced using the Nasdaq Stock Market, which provides information on bid and asked prices quoted by major dealers in such stocks. Restricted securities and securities for which quotations are not readily available or are deemed not to be reliable because of significant events or circumstances identified between the closing of their principal markets and the closing of the New York Stock Exchange are valued at fair value as determined in good faith under procedures established by and under the general supervision of the Fund's Board of Directors. Management's valuation committee makes fair value determinations for the Fund, subject to the supervision of the Board of Directors. Short-term debt securities, purchased with less than 60 days to maturity, are valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value. Short-term debt securities denominated in foreign currencies are valued at amortized cost in that currency.
- B. Security transactions and related investment income – Security transactions are accounted for on the trade date (date the order to buy or sell is executed). Securities gains and losses are calculated on the identified cost basis. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date except that certain dividends from foreign securities are recorded as soon as the Fund is informed of the ex-dividend date. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. See Note 3 – Investment Securities Transactions.
- C. Foreign currency translations – All assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars daily. Purchases and sales of investment securities and accruals of income and expenses are translated at the rate of exchange prevailing on the date of the transaction. For assets and liabilities other than investments in securities, net realized and unrealized gains and losses from foreign currency translations arise from changes in currency exchange rates. The Fund combines fluctuations from currency exchange rates and fluctuations in market value when computing net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments.
- D. Forward foreign currency exchange contracts – A forward foreign currency exchange contract (Forward Contract) is an obligation to purchase or sell a specific currency at a future date at a fixed price. Forward Contracts are marked-to-market daily at the applicable translation rates and the resulting unrealized gains or losses are reflected in the Fund's financial statements. Gains or losses are realized by the Fund at the time the Forward Contract is extinguished. Contracts may be extinguished either by entry into a closing transaction or by delivery of the currency. Risks may arise from the possibility that the other party will not complete the obligations of the contract and from unanticipated movements in the value of the foreign currency relative to the U.S. dollar. The Fund uses Forward Contracts to attempt to reduce the overall risk of its investments.

- E. Federal income taxes – It is the Fund's policy to distribute all of its taxable income and capital gains to its shareholders and otherwise qualify as a regulated investment company under Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code. In addition, the Fund intends to pay distributions as required to avoid imposition of excise tax. Accordingly, provision has not been made for Federal income taxes. See Note 4 – Federal Income Tax Matters.
- F. Dividends and distributions – Dividends and distributions to shareholders are recorded by the Fund on the business day following record date. Net investment income dividends and capital gains distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations which may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences are due to differing treatments for items such as deferral of wash sales and post-October losses, foreign currency transactions, net operating losses and expiring capital loss carryovers. At June 30, 2006, $969,092 was reclassified between accumulated undistributed net investment loss and accumulated undistributed net realized loss on investment transactions. Net investment income, additional paid-in capital and net assets were not affected by this change.
- G. Recently Issued Accounting Standard – In June 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Interpretation No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes — an interpretation of FASB statement No. 109 (FIN 48). FIN 48 prescribes the minimum recognition threshold a tax position must meet in connection with accounting for uncertainties in income tax positions taken or expected to be taken by an entity, including mutual funds, in a tax return before being measured and recognized in the financial statements. FIN 48 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2006. The Fund will adopt FIN 48 during 2007 and the impact on the Fund's financial statements, if any, is currently being assessed.

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

NOTE 2 – Investment Management and Payments to Affiliated Persons

Waddell & Reed Investment Management Company (WRIMCO), a wholly owned subsidiary of Waddell & Reed, Inc. (W&R), serves as the Fund's investment manager. The Fund pays a fee for investment management services. The fee is computed and paid daily based on the net asset value at the close of business. The fee is payable by the Fund at the annual rates of: 0.85% of net assets up to $1 billion, 0.83% of net assets over $1 billion and up to $2 billion, 0.80% of net assets over $2 billion and up to $3 billion, and 0.76% of net assets over $3 billion.

The Fund has an Accounting Services Agreement with Waddell & Reed Services Company (WRSCO), a wholly owned subsidiary of W&R. Under the agreement, WRSCO acts as the agent in providing accounting services and assistance to the Fund and pricing daily the value of shares of the Fund. For these services, the Fund pays WRSCO a monthly fee of one-twelfth of the annual fee shown in the following table:

Accounting Services Fee

Average Net Asset Level (in millions)	Annual Fee Rate for Each Level
From $ 0 to $ 10	$ 0
From $ 10 to $ 25	$ 11,500
From $ 25 to $ 50	$ 23,100
From $ 50 to $ 100	$ 35,500
From $ 100 to $ 200	$ 48,400
From $ 200 to $ 350	$ 63,200
From $ 350 to $ 550	$ 82,500
From $ 550 to $ 750	$ 96,300
From $ 750 to $1,000	$121,600
$1,000 and Over	$148,500

In addition, for each class of shares in excess of one, the Fund pays WRSCO a monthly per-class fee equal to 2.5% of the monthly accounting services base fee.

The Fund also pays monthly a fee at the annual rate of 0.01% or one basis point for the first $1 billion of net assets with no fee charged for net assets in excess of $1 billion.

For Class A, Class B and Class C shares, the Fund pays WRSCO a monthly per account charge for shareholder servicing of $1.5292 for each shareholder account which was in existence at any time during the prior month. With respect to Class Y shares, the Fund pays WRSCO a monthly fee at an annual rate of 0.15% of the average daily net assets of the class for the preceding month. The Fund also reimburses W&R and WRSCO for certain out-of-pocket costs for all classes.

As principal underwriter for the Fund's shares, W&R received gross sales commissions for Class A shares (which are not an expense of the Fund) of $727,365. A contingent deferred sales charge (CDSC) may be assessed against a shareholder's redemption amount of Class A, Class B and Class C shares and is paid to W&R. During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2006, W&R received $539, $19,977 and $145 in CDSC for Class A, Class B and Class C shares, respectively. With respect to Class A, Class B and Class C shares, W&R paid sales commissions of $435,637 and all expenses in connection with the sale of Fund shares, except for registration fees and related expenses.

Under a Distribution and Service Plan for Class A shares adopted by the Fund pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the Investment Company Act of 1940, the Fund may pay a distribution and/or service fee to W&R in an amount not to exceed 0.25% of the Fund's Class A average annual net assets. The fee is to be paid to reimburse W&R for amounts it expends in connection with the distribution of the Class A shares and/or provision of personal services to Fund shareholders and/or maintenance of shareholder accounts.

Under the Distribution and Service Plan adopted by the Fund for Class B and Class C shares, respectively, the Fund may pay W&R a service fee of up to 0.25%, on an annual basis, of the average daily net assets of the class to compensate W&R for providing services to shareholders of that class and/or maintaining shareholder accounts for that class and a distribution fee of up to 0.75%, on an annual basis, of the average daily net assets of the class to compensate W&R for distributing the shares of that class.

The Fund paid Directors' regular compensation of $47,992, which is included in other expenses.

W&R is a subsidiary of Waddell & Reed Financial, Inc., a public holding company, and a direct subsidiary of Waddell & Reed Financial Services, Inc., a holding company.

NOTE 3 – Investment Securities Transactions

Class Y shares are not subject to a sales charge on purchases, are not subject to a Rule 12b-1 Distribution and Service Plan and are subject to a separate shareholder servicing fee structure. A comprehensive discussion of the terms under which shares of each class are offered is contained in the Prospectus and the Statement of Additional Information for the Fund.

NOTE 6 – Regulatory and Litigation Matters

On July 24, 2006, WRIMCO, Waddell & Reed, Inc. and Waddell & Reed Services Company (collectively, Waddell & Reed) reached a settlement with each of the SEC, the New York Attorney General (NYAG) and the Securities Commissioner of the State of Kansas to resolve proceedings brought by each regulator in connection with its investigation of frequent trading and market timing in certain Waddell & Reed Advisors Funds.

Under the terms of the SEC's cease-and desist order (SEC Order), pursuant to which Waddell & Reed neither admitted nor denied any of the findings contained therein, among other provisions Waddell & Reed has agreed to: pay $40 million in disgorgement and $10 million in civil money penalties; cease and desist from violations of the antifraud provisions and certain other provisions of the federal securities laws; maintain certain compliance and ethics oversight structures; retain an independent consultant to periodically review Waddell & Reed's supervisory, compliance, control and other policies and procedures; and retain an independent distribution consultant (described below). According to the SEC Order, the SEC found that some market timers made profits in some of the Waddell & Reed Advisors Funds, and that this may have caused some dilution in those Funds. Also, the SEC found that Waddell & Reed failed to make certain disclosures to the Waddell & Reed Advisors Funds' Boards of Directors and shareholders regarding the market timing activity and Waddell & Reed's acceptance of service fees from some market timers.

The Assurance of Discontinuance with the NYAG (NYAG Settlement), pursuant to which Waddell & Reed neither admitted nor denied any of the findings contained therein, among its conditions requires that Waddell & Reed: reduce the aggregate investment management fees paid by the Waddell & Reed Advisors Funds and by W&R Target Funds, Inc. (the Funds) by $5 million per year for five years, for a projected total of $25 million in investment management fee reductions; bear the costs of an independent fee consultant to be retained by the Funds to review and consult regarding the Funds' investment management fee arrangements; and make additional investment management fee-related disclosures to Fund shareholders. The NYAG Settlement also effectively requires that the Funds implement certain governance measures designed to maintain the independence of the Funds' Boards of Directors and appoint an independent compliance consultant responsible for monitoring the Funds' and WRIMCO's compliance with applicable laws.

The consent order issued by the Securities Commissioner of the State of Kansas (Kansas Order), pursuant to which Waddell & Reed neither admitted nor denied any of the findings contained therein, requires Waddell & Reed to pay a fine of $2 million to the Office of the Commissioner.

The SEC Order further requires that the $50 million in settlement amounts described above will be distributed in accordance with a distribution plan developed by an independent distribution consultant, in consultation with Waddell & Reed, and that is agreed to by the SEC staff and the Funds' Disinterested Directors. The SEC Order requires that the independent distribution consultant develop a methodology and distribution plan pursuant to which Fund shareholders shall receive their proportionate share of losses, if any, suffered by the Funds due to market timing. Therefore, it is not currently possible to specify which particular Fund shareholders or groups of Fund shareholders will receive distributions of those settlement monies or in what proportion and amounts.

The foregoing is only a summary of the SEC Order, NYAG Settlement and Kansas Order. A copy of the SEC Order will be available on the SEC's website at www.sec.gov. A copy of the SEC Order, NYAG Settlement and Kansas Order is available as part of the Waddell & Reed Financial, Inc. Form 8-K as filed on July 24, 2006.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

The Board of Directors and Shareholders,
Waddell & Reed Advisors International Growth Fund, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities, including the schedule of investments, of Waddell & Reed Advisors International Growth Fund, Inc. (the “Fund”), as of June 30, 2006, and the related statement of operations for the fiscal year then ended, the statements of changes in net assets for each of the two fiscal years in the period then ended, and the financial highlights for the periods presented. These financial statements and financial highlights are the responsibility of the Fund’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and financial highlights based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and financial highlights are free of material misstatement. The Fund is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. Our audits included consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Fund’s internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of June 30, 2006, by correspondence with the custodian. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements and financial highlights referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Waddell & Reed Advisors International Growth Fund, Inc. as of June 30, 2006, the results of its operations for the fiscal year then ended, the changes in its net assets for each of the two fiscal years in the period then ended, and the financial highlights for the periods presented, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.
