President's Letter

June 30, 2005

DEAR SHAREHOLDER:

Enclosed is our report on your Fund's operations for the 12 months ended June 30, 2005. The 12-month period saw solid results for most investors. Stocks ended the period higher, with the S&P 500 returning 6.33 percent. Bonds overall, also, showed good results, with the Citigroup Broad Investment Grade Index rising 7.00 percent over the past 12 months.

Economic fundamentals were quite good. Corporate earnings remained solid. Gross domestic product (GDP) in the United States averaged 4 percent annualized growth through 2004, 3.8 percent in the first quarter of 2005, and estimates for the second calendar quarter of 2005 are for growth at 3 to 3.5 percent. Despite rising financial markets, investors generally remained cautious, bothered apparently by rising energy prices and interest rates, the potential for accelerating inflation, and a declining U.S. dollar.

The Federal Reserve initiated a series of increases in short-term interest rates during the period. The Fed enacted five quarter-point increases in the last half of calendar 2004 and four more between January and June of 2005, taking short-term rates from a very low level of 1 percent up to 3.25 percent. Recent public statements by the Federal Reserve indicate that additional increases may be forthcoming.

Despite the rising short-term interest rates and higher oil prices, we continue to feel the economy is doing quite well. Real economic growth of around 3 percent for the rest of calendar 2005, with a nominal growth (after inflation) of around 6 percent, seems likely, in our view. History suggests that corporate profits tend to grow in line with growth in the economy, and stocks generally follow the growth in profits. It now appears that S&P 500 profits could potentially rise in the area of 10 percent for all of 2005. Equities have been sluggish in the first six months of 2005, actually down slightly. We believe that some catch-up with profit growth appears probable.

Regardless of short-term setbacks brought on by economic or geopolitical events – and although past performance is no guarantee of future results – stocks have historically continued to rise over time. And, through appropriate diversification, you can potentially provide more balance to your portfolio over time.

Your financial advisor can help you with these strategies and work with you to develop and maintain a customized investment plan based on your individual situation. We believe that focusing on that plan, despite the swings of the market, is important as you work toward a sound financial future.

Thank you for your partnership and your continued commitment to your investment program.

Respectfully,

A handwritten signature in black ink, reading "Henry J. Herrmann". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a long horizontal flourish extending to the right.

Henry J. Herrmann, CFA
President

Manager's Discussion of Continental Income Fund

June 30, 2005

An interview with Cynthia P. Prince-Fox, portfolio manager of Waddell & Reed Advisors
Continental Income Fund, Inc.

The following discussion, graphs and tables provide you with information regarding the Fund's performance for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2005.

How did the Fund perform during the last fiscal year?

The Class A shares of the Fund increased 6.46 percent over the period (before the impact of any sales charges), compared with the S&P 500 Index (reflecting the performance of securities that generally represent the stock market), which increased 6.33 percent for the year. The Citigroup Treasury/Government Sponsored/Credit Index (generally reflecting the performance of funds in the bond market) increased 7.42 percent for the year, and the Lipper Balanced Funds Universe Average (reflecting the universe of funds with similar investment objectives) increased 6.48 percent for the period. Multiple indexes are presented because the Fund invests in both stocks and bonds. Please note that the Fund returns include applicable fees and expenses, whereas the index returns do not include any such fees.

What factors impacted the Fund's performance relative to its benchmark indexes during the fiscal year?

Asset allocation and industry emphasis both contributed positively to performance during the period, in our opinion. It may be easier to look at the Fund divided by its two areas of holdings. The equity portion of the Fund was aided largely by our holdings in energy, technology and utility stocks. The energy sector was the best performing sector, as oil prices reached nearly $60 per barrel by fiscal year-end. We maintained our overweight position in energy, as we felt prices would remain higher than was generally anticipated. In addition, some of our more defensive holdings, such as consumer staples and aerospace/defense, contributed positively to overall performance as the economy demonstrated some signs of slower growth during the second half of the fiscal year. The return in the fixed income portion of the portfolio was held back slightly, we believe, by our underweight exposure to corporate bonds.

What other market conditions or events influenced the Fund's performance during the fiscal year?

Most major market indexes started off on a weak note in the fiscal first quarter. This was primarily the result, in our view, of financial markets struggling to find direction amid uncertainty about macro economic factors, including the price of oil, growth in the Chinese economy and increases in U.S. interest rates. Additionally, there were some major earnings disappointments from important and typically predictable companies, along with turmoil in Iraq, devastating hurricanes along the coasts and uncertainty caused by the U.S. presidential election. However, investors began to see the light at the end of the tunnel once the election was over, assisted by a fairly significant decline in energy prices in late 2004. This produced an impressive rally during the second quarter of the fiscal year. As we entered the second half of the fiscal year, the markets endured a seesaw pattern, with the markets at times anticipating a more severe economic slowdown or seeing a protracted period of slower, but positive, economic growth. The latter seems to be the case currently, and for the near term, as companies have been unwilling to add significantly to either payrolls or capacity, corroborated by hiring and capital spending trends. We believe that this pattern reduces the possibility of excess in the system as we move forward.

What strategies and techniques did you employ that specifically affected the Fund's performance?

In light of the above outlined conditions, we moved toward a "barbell" approach in the portfolio. In other words, we reduced our pro-cyclical stance to some degree, while increasing our emphasis on more defensive sectors, such as consumer products, health care and leisure products. Our reasoning behind this strategy is that we believe, as the economic recovery matures, companies that have sustainable growth rates in a decelerating economy likely will perform better than their more cyclical counterparts. In addition, we moved out of some of our longer-dated bonds and into cash. We felt that, as rates moved back to 4 percent or below on the 10-year U.S. Treasury, cash offered some stability to the portfolio in the event rates were to rise significantly in the future. This was a defensive move, rather than a call on the direction of interest rates in the short term.

What industries or sectors did you emphasize during the fiscal year, and what looks attractive to you going forward?

Overall, we placed our greatest emphasis on energy, technology and industrials during the fiscal year. We felt early in the year that energy stocks might play "catch up" relative to other commodity sectors, given a worldwide economic recovery, higher than expected energy prices and a declining dollar. We also emphasized what we felt were high-quality technology stocks because we felt that these stocks had not participated to the same extent as some of the lower-quality issues and were attractively priced, on a relative basis.

While we believe that selected economically sensitive areas will continue to perform well as we move through 2005, we also think that some of the more defensive sectors, such as large-capitalization pharmaceuticals, household products and large-capitalization stocks in general, may begin to demonstrate better relative performance. This, in our view, is primarily due to the fact that valuations have significantly compressed and balance sheets appear to be in stronger shape, resulting in potentially more share buybacks or dividend increases.

The Fund's performance noted above is at net asset value (NAV), and does not include the effect of any applicable sales charges. If reflected, the sales charge would reduce the performance noted.

The opinions expressed in this report are those of the portfolio manager and are current only through the end of the period of the report as stated on the cover. The manager's views are subject to change at any time based on market and other conditions, and no forecasts can be guaranteed.

Please note that the performance of the Fund's other share classes will be greater or less than the performance shown above for Class A based on the differences in loads and fees paid by shareholders investing in the different classes.

- (1) The value of the investment in the Fund is impacted by the sales load at the time of the investment and by the ongoing expenses of the Fund and assumes reinvestment of dividends and distributions.

- (2) Data quoted is past performance and is based on deduction of the maximum applicable sales load for each of the periods. Current performance may be lower or higher. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate and shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Please visit www.waddell.com for the Fund's most recent month-end performance. Class A shares carry a maximum front-end sales load of 5.75%. Class B and Class C shares carry maximum contingent deferred sales charges (CDSC) of 5% and 1%, respectively. (Accordingly, the Class C shares reflect no CDSC since it only applies to Class C shares redeemed within twelve months after purchase.) Class Y shares are not subject to sales charges.

- (3) 10-4-99 for Class B shares, 10-5-99 for Class C shares and 1-4-96 for Class Y shares (the date on which shares were first acquired by shareholders).

Past performance is not necessarily indicative of future performance. Indexes are unmanaged. The performance graph and table do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or on the redemption of Fund shares.

Illustration of Fund Expenses

CONTINENTAL INCOME FUND

As a shareholder of the Fund, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including sales charges (loads) on purchase payments, redemption fees and exchange fees; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees, distribution and service fees, and other Fund expenses. The following table is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds. The example is based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the period and held for the six-month period ended June 30, 2005.

Actual Expenses

The first line for each share class in the following table provides information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use the information in this line, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, a $7,500 account value divided by $1,000 = 7.5), then multiply the result by the number in the first line under the heading entitled "Expenses Paid During Period" to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period. There may be additional fees charged to holders of certain accounts that are not included in the expenses shown in the table. These fees apply to Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs), IRA Rollovers, Roth IRAs, Conversion Roth IRAs, Simplified Employee Pension (SEP), Simple IRAs, Tax-Sheltered Accounts (TSAs), Keogh Plans, Owner Only 401(k) (Exclusive K) Plans and Final Pay Plans. As of the close of the six months covered by the table, a customer is charged an annual fee of $15 within each plan type. This fee is waived for IRA Rollovers and Conversion Roth IRAs if the customer owns another type of IRA. Coverdell Education Savings Account plans are charged an annual fee of $10 per customer. You should consider the additional fees that were charged to your Fund account over the six-month period when you estimate the total ongoing expenses paid over the period and the impact of these fees on your ending account value as such additional expenses are not reflected in the information provided in the expense table. Additional fees have the effect of reducing investment returns.

Hypothetical Example for Comparison Purposes

The second line for each share class of the following table provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund's actual expense ratio and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund's actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of the other funds. Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs, such as sales charges (loads), redemption fees or exchange fees. Therefore, the second line of each share class in the table is useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these transactional costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

Fund Expenses

For the Six Months Ended June 30, 2005	Beginning Account Value 12-31-04	Ending Account Value 6-30-05	Annualized Expense Ratio Based on the Six-Month Period	Expenses Paid During Period*
Based on Actual Fund Return<sup>(1)</sup>
Class A .....	$ 1,000	$ 1,006	1.24%	$ 6.18
Class B .....	1,000	1,002	2.21	10.98

Class C .....	1,000	1,014	2.18	10.90
Class Y .....	1,000	1,020	0.94	4.71

*Fund expenses for each share class are equal to the Fund's annualized expense ratio for each share class (provided in the table), multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by 181 days in the six-month period ended June 30, 2005, and divided by 365.

(1) This section uses the Fund's actual total return and actual Fund expenses. It is a guide to the actual expenses paid by the Fund in the period. The "Ending Account Value" shown is computed using the Fund's actual return and the "Expenses Paid During Period" column shows the dollar amount that would have been paid by an investor who started with $1,000 in the Fund. A shareholder may use the information here, together with the dollar amount invested, to estimate the expenses that were paid over the period. For every thousand dollars a shareholder has invested, the expenses are listed in the fourth column.

(2) This section uses a hypothetical 5% return and actual Fund expenses. It helps to compare the Fund's ongoing costs with other mutual funds. A shareholder can compare the Fund's ongoing costs by comparing this hypothetical example with the hypothetical examples that appear in shareholder reports of other funds.

The above illustration is based on ongoing costs only and does not include any transactional costs, such as sales loads, redemption fees or exchange fees.

NOTE 1 – Significant Accounting Policies

Waddell & Reed Advisors Continental Income Fund, Inc. (the Fund) is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 as a diversified, open-end management investment company. Its investment objective is to provide current income to the extent that, in the opinion of the Fund's investment manager, market and economic conditions permit. As a secondary goal, the Fund seeks long-term appreciation of capital. The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements. The policies are in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

- A. Security valuation – Each stock and convertible bond is valued at the latest sale price thereof on each business day of the fiscal period as reported by the principal securities exchange on which the issue is traded or, if no sale is reported for a stock, the average of the latest bid and asked prices. Bonds, other than convertible bonds, are valued using a pricing system provided by a pricing service or dealer in bonds. Convertible bonds are valued using this pricing system only on days when there is no sale reported. Stocks which are traded over-the-counter are priced using the Nasdaq Stock Market, which provides information on bid and asked prices quoted by major dealers in such stocks. Restricted securities and securities for which market quotations are not readily available or are deemed not to be reliable because of significant events or circumstances identified between the closing of their principal markets and the closing of the New York Stock Exchange are valued at fair value as determined in good faith under procedures established by and under the general supervision of the Fund's Board of Directors. Short-term debt securities are valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value.
- B. Security transactions and related investment income – Security transactions are accounted for on the trade date (date the order to buy or sell is executed). Securities gains and losses are calculated on the identified cost basis. Premium and discount on the purchase of bonds are amortized for both financial and tax reporting purposes over the remaining lives of the bonds. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. See Note 3 – Investment Securities Transactions.
- C. Foreign currency translations – All assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars daily. Purchases and sales of investment securities and accruals of income and expenses are translated at the rate of exchange prevailing on the date of the transaction. For assets and liabilities other than investments in securities, net realized and unrealized gains and losses from foreign currency translations arise from changes in currency exchange rates. The Fund combines fluctuations from currency exchange rates and fluctuations in market value when computing net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments.
- D. Federal income taxes – It is the Fund's policy to distribute all of its taxable income and capital gains to its shareholders and otherwise qualify as a regulated investment company under Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code. In addition, the Fund intends to pay distributions as required to avoid imposition of excise tax. Accordingly, provision has not been made for Federal income taxes. See Note 4 – Federal Income Tax Matters.

E. Dividends and distributions – Dividends and distributions to shareholders are recorded by the Fund on the business day following record date. Net investment income dividends and capital gains distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations which may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences are due to differing treatments for items such as deferral of wash sales and post-October losses, foreign currency transactions, net operating losses and expiring capital loss carryovers.

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

NOTE 2 – Investment Management and Payments to Affiliated Persons

Waddell & Reed Investment Management Company (WRIMCO), a wholly owned subsidiary of Waddell & Reed, Inc. (W&R), serves as the Fund's investment manager. The Fund pays a fee for investment management services. The fee is computed and paid daily based on the net asset value at the close of business. The fee is payable by the Fund at the annual rates of: 0.70% of net assets up to $1 billion, 0.65% of net assets over $1 billion and up to $2 billion, 0.60% of net assets over $2 billion and up to $3 billion, and 0.55% of net assets over $3 billion.

The Fund has an Accounting Services Agreement with Waddell & Reed Services Company (WRSCO), a wholly owned subsidiary of W&R. Under the agreement, WRSCO acts as the agent in providing accounting services and assistance to the Fund and pricing daily the value of shares of the Fund. For these services, the Fund pays WRSCO a monthly fee of one twelfth of the annual fee shown in the following table.

Accounting Services Fee
Average Net Asset Level (in millions)	Annual Fee Rate for Each Level
From $ 0 to $ 10	$ 0
From $ 10 to $ 25	$ 11,500
From $ 25 to $ 50	$ 23,100
From $ 50 to $ 100	$ 35,500
From $ 100 to $ 200	$ 48,400
From $ 200 to $ 350	$ 63,200
From $ 350 to $ 550	$ 82,500
From $ 550 to $ 750	$ 96,300
From $ 750 to $1,000	$121,600
$1,000 and Over	$148,500

In addition, for each class of shares in excess of one, the Fund pays WRSCO a monthly per-class fee equal to 2.5% of the monthly accounting services base fee.

The Fund also pays monthly a fee at the annual rate of 0.01% or one basis point for the first $1 billion of net assets with no fee charged for net assets in excess of $1 billion.

For Class A, Class B and Class C shares, the Fund pays WRSCO a monthly per account charge for shareholder servicing of $1.5792 for each shareholder account which was in existence at any time during the prior month. With respect to Class Y shares, the Fund pays WRSCO a monthly fee at an annual rate of 0.15% of the average daily net assets of the class for the preceding month. The Fund also reimburses W&R and WRSCO for certain out-of-pocket costs for all classes.

As principal underwriter for the Fund's shares, W&R received gross sales commissions for Class A shares (which are not an expense of the Fund) of $970,527. A contingent deferred sales charge (CDSC) may be assessed against a shareholder's redemption amount of Class A, Class B and Class C shares and paid to W&R. The fee is to be paid to reimburse W&R for amounts it expends in connection with the distribution of the Class A shares and/or provision of personal services to Fund shareholders and/or maintenance of shareholder accounts.

Under the Distribution and Service Plan adopted by the Fund for Class B and Class C shares, respectively, the Fund may pay W&R a service fee of up to 0.25%, on an annual basis, of the average daily net assets of the class to compensate W&R for providing services to shareholders of that class and/or maintaining shareholder accounts for that class and a distribution fee of up to 0.75%, on an annual basis, of the average daily net assets of the class to compensate W&R for distributing the shares of that class. The Class B Plan and the Class C Plan each permit W&R to receive compensation, through the distribution and service fee, respectively, for its distribution activities for that class, which are similar to the distribution activities described with respect to the Class A Plan, and for its activities in providing personal services to shareholders of that class and/or maintaining shareholder accounts of that class, which are similar to the corresponding activities for which it is entitled to reimbursement under the Class A Plan.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

The Board of Directors and Shareholders,
Waddell & Reed Advisors Continental Income Fund, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities, including the schedule of investments, of Waddell & Reed Advisors Continental Income Fund, Inc. (the “Fund”), as of June 30, 2005, and the related statement of operations for the fiscal year then ended, the statements of changes in net assets for each of the two fiscal years in the period then ended, and the financial highlights for the periods presented. These financial statements and financial highlights are the responsibility of the Fund’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and financial highlights based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and financial highlights are free of material misstatement. The Fund is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. Our audits included consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Fund’s internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of June 30, 2005, by correspondence with the custodian and brokers; where replies were not received from brokers, we performed other auditing procedures. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements and financial highlights referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Waddell & Reed Advisors Continental Income Fund, Inc. as of June 30, 2005, the results of its operations for the fiscal year then ended, the changes in its net assets for each of the two fiscal years in the period then ended, and its financial highlights for the periods presented, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

As required by law, we are hereby providing notice to you that income tax may be withheld automatically from any distribution or withdrawal from a traditional IRA.
