SIMMER AND JACK TAKES OVER AT FORMER NORTH WEST OPERATIONS

DRDGOLD has concluded an agreement with Simmer and Jack Mines Limited ("Simmer and Jack") for the sale of its shareholding in Buffelsfontein Gold Mines Limited ("Buffelsfontein") ("the agreement"), which is currently in provisional liquidation.

The agreement is conditional on:

- the acceptance by the court and the majority of Buffelsfontein's creditors of a scheme of arrangement proposed by Simmer and Jack;
- approval by the Competition Commission; and
- the Department of Water Affairs and Forestry agreeing to substitute DRDGOLD with Simmer and Jack in the underground water pumping directives that currently regulate the proportionate contribution of the surrounding mines to the costs and maintenance of pumping.

Buffelsfontein, known as DRDGOLD's North West Operations ("NWO"), was placed in provisional liquidation on 22 March 2005, following continued financial losses and a earthquake on 9 March 2005, which caused irreparable damage to No. 5 Shaft.

Simmer and Jack has made proposals that could revive the NWO, albeit on a smaller scale and with vastly different cost structures and obligations. DRDGOLD has supported Simmer and Jack in this acquisition and is pleased to see the resumption of mining in the area.

Simmer and Jack's scheme of arrangement involves payment of R45 million to the provisional liquidators and the fresh appointment of employees without assumption of any accumulated pre-liquidation employee benefits.

Simmer and Jack said that it was appreciative of the support DRDGOLD had shown throughout the process and would like to conclude the transaction as speedily as possible so that underground operations could resume and the company could begin re-employing some of the workers from the surrounding community.

The preferred bidder for the assets, Simmer and Jack currently:

- manages NWO;
- pays its holding costs in terms of an interim agreement with the provisional liquidators; and
- conducts limited mining of surface dumps.

Simmer and Jack may offset up to R20 million of its contribution to holding costs against the proposed payment to the provisional liquidators of R45 million.

In exchange for the transfer of its holdings in Buffelsfontein, Simmer and Jack will pay DRDGOLD R1.00, and will indemnify DRDGOLD against any liabilities or obligations which could arise against it in connection with the environmental rehabilitation of Buffelsfontein, as well as the management and pumping of underground water. Simmer and Jack will have the benefit, however, of drawing down against the rehabilitation trust fund, which was transferred to the Department of Minerals and Energy (“DME”) upon the provisional liquidation of Buffelsfontein.

DRDGOLD remains committed to the R9 million social fund established to help any NWO employees who may be retrenched as a result of the liquidation. In total, DRDGOLD has provided R47.9m, post-liquidation, to assist the NWO’s liquidators, most of which was used to pay workers’ wages.

DRDGOLD remains Buffelsfontein’s largest debtor with some R1 billion owing.

The provisional liquidators of Buffelsfontein are pursuing a valid, but as yet unquantified insurance claim for damage and losses incurred in the March earthquake. The proceeds of this claim are not included in the scheme proposed by Simmer & Jack.

DRDGOLD has said it will support a DME initiative to conduct further scientific research into seismicity and its relationship with mining. The March earthquake was a 1 in 50-year event and the company believes there are significant lessons to be learnt for the benefit of the industry as a whole.

SIMMER AND JACK TAKES OVER AT FORMER NORTH WEST OPERATIONS

In yesterday's announcement, regarding Simmer and Jack Mines Limited's acquisition of Buffelsfontein Gold Mines Limited ("Buffelsfontein"), the second last paragraph stated that:

- DRDGOLD remains Buffelsfontein's largest debtor with some R1 billion owing.

This should have read:

- DRDGOLD remains Buffelsfontein's largest creditor with some R1 billion owing.
