CLARIFICATION – EMPEROR MINES LTD RESTRUCTURE PLAN

Following reports in the Australian media today, the Board of Directors of Emperor Mines Limited (“Emperor” or the “Company”) wish to clarify that no formal decision has been made in respect of the potential restructure options that the Company is considering.

As announced on February 1 this year, Emperor is pursuing a restructure in order to retire debt and to ensure the full potential value of Company assets can be achieved.

The decision to explore restructuring options followed a strategic review, which examined potential reconfigurations of mine and exploration assets at a range of production levels, together with the attendant funding options.

The review concluded that the Company should consider either the divestment of key assets or seek a suitable merger partner in order to grow the value of the Company’s asset base.

Emperor is now pursuing these re-structuring options and, as previously stated, has appointed Rothschild Australia Limited to assist it in this process. No decision has been taken as yet to pursue any particular option, as the Company is still evaluating the best route forward.

This process has the full support of major credit providers Australia and New Zealand Banking Group Limited and DRDGOLD.
