RSM TO ENTER INTO A JOINT VENTURE TO DEVELOP COAL PROPERTIES IN EASTERN KENTUCKY

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ROYAL STANDARD MINERALS INC., “RSM”, JUNE 2, 2008 MANHATTAN, NEVADA, In an effort to achieve diversity within its natural resource portfolio the Company has entered into a Joint Venture program focused upon the eastern Kentucky coal fields with Standard Energy Company a subsidiary of Sharpe Resources Corporation. The joint venture will involve the opportunity for RSM to earn a 40% interest in coal projects that Standard has acquired or has under option agreements. RSM can earn its 40% interest by advancing the first four projects to production over the next 12 months.

The Central Appalachian coal region is a major participant in the domestic and international coal markets and a leading exporter of metallurgical coal. This region is participating in one of the one of the hottest coal markets in memory, a perfect storm that has descended on the worldwide coal business with no apparent near term solution to international demand because of the overwhelming growth in China, unsatisfied demand in Europe and India. The international coal producers cannot keep pace with demand, this in turn has a direct impact, pricing pressure, on the domestic coal market. This region is the site of one of the few areas in the US that holds large resources of metallurgical coal. Published coal prices are up to $200 per ton for metallurgical coal and in the $100+range for high btu steam coal.

Stock prices for coal companies operating in this region in the past 6-10 months have increased in many cases by more than 300% in this market with new stock market highs almost on a daily basis. RSM is getting into a market that offers the potential for rapid growth and at the same time provide some diversity into the strong energy business. The energy business is seen as being more immune to market conditions that affect volatility in the other commodities. According to Roland Larsen, Qualified Person “this relationship will be mutually beneficial and I believe contribute to substantial growth for the companies involved in the short and longer term.

RSM is a natural resource exploration and development company. For further information about this release contact Mr. Rich Kaiser, Investor Relations, 800-631-8127.
