Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

To the Stockholder of VALIC Financial Advisors, Inc.

Opinion on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of VALIC Financial Advisors, Inc. (the "Company") as of December 31, 2022, and the related statements of operations, changes in stockholder's equity, and cash flows for the year then ended, including the related notes (collectively referred to as the "financial statements"). In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2022, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's financial statements based on our audit. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB) and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audit of these financial statements in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud.

Our audit included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our audit also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as, evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Supplemental Information

The accompanying Schedule I - Computation of Net Capital Under Rule 15c3-1 of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, Schedule II - Computation of Determination of Reserve Requirements Under Rule 15c3-3 of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, and Schedule III - Information Relating to Possession or Control Requirements Under Rule 15c3-3 of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission as of December 31, 2022 (collectively, the "supplemental information") has been subjected to audit procedures performed in conjunction with the audit of the Company's financial statements. The supplemental information is the responsibility of the Company's management. Our audit procedures included determining whether the supplemental information reconciles to the financial statements or the underlying accounting and other records, as applicable, and performing procedures to test the completeness and accuracy of the information presented in the supplemental information. In forming our opinion on the supplemental information, we evaluated whether the supplemental information, including its form and content, is presented in conformity with Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. In our opinion, the supplemental information is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the financial statements as a whole.

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2022

1. Organization and Nature of Operations

VALIC Financial Advisors, Inc. (the “Company” or “VFA”), is a wholly owned subsidiary of The Variable Annuity Life Insurance Company (“VALIC” or “Parent”), and prior to the separation, which is further referenced below an indirect, wholly owned subsidiary of American International Group, Inc. (“AIG”). Subsequent to the separation, the Parent is an indirect, wholly owned subsidiary of Corebridge Financial, Inc. (“Corebridge”). The Company was incorporated on November 18, 1996 and was established to engage in the offering of mutual funds and insurance products to customers. The Company is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) as a broker-dealer under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (“FINRA”) and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation. The Company is also registered with the SEC as a registered investment advisor. The Company does not hold customer funds or securities for customers, but operates as an introducing broker-dealer on a fully disclosed basis and forwards some transactions to a clearing broker-dealer. For transactions not forwarded to a clearing broker-dealer, the Company forwards the transaction directly to the appropriate company/sponsor.

On September 19, 2022, AIG sold 80,000,000 shares of Corebridge common stock to the public. As of December 31, 2022, AIG owns 77.7% of the outstanding common stock of Corebridge which is the parent of SAFG.

The Company is a party to selling and agency agreements with American General Life Insurance Company (“AGL”), an indirect, wholly owned subsidiary of AIG, whereby the Company may offer and sell fixed and variable annuity products and other life insurance products issued by AGL.

The Company is a party to selling and agency agreements with The United States Life Insurance Company in the City of New York (“USL”), an indirect, wholly owned subsidiary of AIG, whereby the Company may offer and sell fixed and variable annuity products issued by USL in the State of New York.

The Company is a party to a selling agreement with VALIC, an indirect, wholly owned subsidiary of AIG, whereby the Company may offer and sell fixed and variable annuity products issued by VALIC.

2. Significant Accounting Policies

Use of Estimates

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“US GAAP”). The preparation of financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that effect reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Income Taxes

Prior to the separation, the Company was included in the consolidated federal income tax return of AIG as well as certain state tax returns where AIG files on a combined or unitary basis. Our provision for income taxes is calculated on a separate return basis. Following the separation, AIG owns a less than 80% interest in Corebridge, resulting in tax deconsolidation of Corebridge from the AIG Consolidated Tax Group and in a small minority of state jurisdictions which follow federal consolidation rules. In addition, under applicable tax law, the Company will not be permitted to join in the filing of a U.S. consolidated federal income tax return with other Corebridge subsidiaries for the five-year waiting period. Instead, the Company is expected to file separately during the five-year waiting period.

VALIC Financial Advisors, Inc.
Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2022

We calculate our provision for income taxes using the asset and liability method. This method considers the future tax consequences of temporary differences between the financial reporting and the tax basis of assets and liabilities measured using currently enacted tax rates. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash of $22,691,000 at December 31, 2022 was deposited in financial institutions that at times exceeds federally insured amounts. Management believes that the risk of loss is minimal due to its assessment of the credit worthiness and financial viability of the respective financial institutions.

Cash equivalents of $23,456,000 at December 31, 2022 consist of a money market fund with the Bank of New York. The Company considers this investment a cash equivalent due to it having a weighted average maturity of three months or less.

Revenue Recognition

The Company's revenues are derived from dealer concession revenue, service fee income, advisory service fees, and other revenue, which primarily represents interest on cash. Dealer concession revenue represents concessions paid to the Company for sales of front-end load mutual funds, variable annuities, and various financial service products to retail customers. The Company receives service fee income, under section 12b-1 of the Investment Company Act of 1940, from various mutual fund companies. Advisory service fees represent fees paid to the Company for investment advisory services provided to customers by the Company's registered representatives.

The following table presents revenue disaggregated by major source from contracts with customers and a reconciliation to revenues reported in the statement of operations.

Total Revenue	$364,867

The following discussion describes the nature, timing, and uncertainty of revenues and cash flows arising from the Company's contracts with customers.

Dealer Concession Revenue

Annuities and Group Retirement Plans

The Company earns revenue for selling affiliated and unaffiliated fixed and variable annuities. The sponsor provides compensation in the form of commissions on premiums collected, in accordance with the fixed rates applied, as a percentage based on the product type and term, to the amounts invested at the time of sale. The performance obligation is satisfied at the time of each individual sale. These are recognized daily and collected weekly.

Mutual Funds

The Company earns revenue for selling proprietary and non-proprietary mutual funds based on the selling agreements executed with the mutual fund companies. The Company makes reasonable effort to effect any purchases and redemptions of mutual fund shares in accordance with the terms and conditions of the funds' prospectus and statements of additional information at the public offering price applicable to each order. The performance obligation is satisfied at the time of the sale of the mutual fund shares. A portion of the revenue (time of sale revenue) is based on a fixed rate applied, as a percentage, to the amounts invested at the time of sale. These are recognized daily and collected weekly. The remaining revenue (trail revenue) is recognized over the time the client owns the investment or holds the contract and is further described as service fee income below. Trail revenue fees recognized in the current period are primarily related to performance obligations that have been satisfied in prior periods.

Insurance

The Company receives revenue from selling various group, life, and disability insurance policies. The performance obligation is satisfied at the time of each individual sale. The revenue is based on a fixed rate applied, as a percentage, to the amounts invested at the time of sale. These are recognized daily and collected weekly.

Receivables

Receivables from contracts with customers related to dealer concession receivable and dealer concession receivable from affiliates are recognized when the performance obligation is satisfied and the Company has the unconditional right to recognize the revenue. Receivables related to dealer concession receivable and dealer concession receivable from affiliates were $1,558,000 and $620,000, respectively, as of December 31, 2022.

Service Fee Income

Mutual Fund 12b-1 fees

The Company earns revenue for servicing fees from proprietary and non-proprietary mutual fund partners whose shares are offered and sold on the Company's investment advisory platforms. The selling agreements with the mutual fund companies include various shareholder servicing tasks (such as development, formulation and implementation of marketing and promotional activities, preparation, printing and distribution of prospectuses and reports) that have been deemed to be perfunctory in nature as the individual tasks identified in the contract are also included in the networking and sub-accounting services. The performance obligation is satisfied at the time of the sale of the shares and the revenue is recognized at the time of sale and recorded as dealer concession revenue. For the second and later years, the distribution fee is deemed to be variable consideration because it is dependent upon future net asset value ("NAV") and the holding period of the underlying assets. The transaction price after the first year is not recognized at the time the performance obligation is satisfied as it is variably constrained by factors outside the Company's control including the impact of market movements on NAV and the actions of the fund investors. The revenue will not be recognized until it is probable that a significant reversal will not occur, which is considered removed when NAV and the fund balances are calculated daily. Revenue from the 12b-1 fees are recognized at a point in time when the fees become known, which is dictated by the contract payout terms (i.e. weekly, bi-monthly, monthly, and quarterly). Distribution fees recognized in the current period are primarily related to performance obligations that have been satisfied in prior periods.

Receivables

Receivables from contracts with customers related to service fee receivables are recognized when the performance obligation is satisfied and the Company has the unconditional right to recognize the revenue. Receivables related to service fee receivable was $819,000 as of December 31, 2022.

Advisory Service Fees

The Company earns revenues for providing investment advisory services for certain brokerage customer's managed accounts. The performance obligation for providing advisory services is considered a series of distinct services that are satisfied over time because the customer is receiving and consuming the benefits as they are provided by the Company. Fee arrangements are based on a fixed rate applied, as a percentage, to the customer's period end value or average daily value. Advisory service fees are accrued daily and invoiced to the customer on a monthly or quarterly basis.

Receivables

Receivables from contracts with customers related to advisory service fee receivables are recognized when the performance obligation is satisfied and the Company has the unconditional right to recognize the revenue. Receivables related to advisory service fee receivables was $43,060,000 as of December 31, 2022.

Fair Value Measurements

In accordance with the authoritative guidance on fair value measurements and disclosures under US GAAP, the Company discloses the fair value of its investments in a hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure the fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to valuations based upon unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to valuations based upon unobservable inputs that are significant to the valuation (level 3 measurements). The guidance establishes three levels of the fair value hierarchy as follows:

Level 1: Inputs that reflect unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the Company has the ability to access at the measurement date;

Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability either directly or indirectly, including inputs in markets that are not considered to be active;

Level 3: Inputs that are unobservable.

A financial instrument's level within the fair value hierarchy is based upon the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. However, the determination of what constitutes "observable" requires management judgment. Management considers observable data to be market data which is readily available, regularly distributed or updated, reliable and verifiable,

VALIC Financial Advisors, Inc.
Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2022

not proprietary, and provided by independent sources that are actively involved in the relevant market.

The Company has no financial instruments that are accounted for at fair value on a recurring basis at December 31, 2022. Management has determined that the fair value of the Company's cash and money market funds held are equivalent to the carrying amount as presented in the financial statements and are classified as Level 1.

There were no Level 2 or Level 3 financial instruments at December 31, 2022. During 2022, there were no transfers of financial instruments between levels.

3. Accounts Receivable, Dealer Concession Receivable, Advisory Service Fee Receivable, and Service Fee Receivable

Amounts due to the Company at December 31, 2022 consisted of fees and commissions from the Company's clearing broker, product sponsors and fund companies. These receivables are short term in nature; therefore, the carrying value approximates fair value.

The Company continually monitors collections and payments and maintains an allowance, as appropriate, for credit losses based on relevant information about past events, including historical experience, current conditions, and reasonable and supportable forecasts that affect the collectability of the reported amount. The allowance for credit losses is based on an estimate of the amount of potential credit losses in existing accounts receivable, as determined from a review of aging schedules, past due balances, historical collection experience and other specific account data. Careful analysis of the financial condition of our counterparties is also performed. If determined uncollectible, aged balances are written off as credit loss expenses, which would be included in other expenses on the statement of operations. Based on the Company's assessment as of December 31, 2022 and for the year then ended, the allowance and related provision for credit losses were not material.

4. Deposits Held by Clearing Broker

Under the terms of the clearing agreement between the Company and the clearing broker, the Company is required to maintain a level of cash or securities on deposit with the clearing broker. Should the clearing broker suffer a loss due to failure of a customer of the Company to complete the transaction, the Company is required to indemnify the clearing broker. The Company has recognized these cash deposits in Funds deposited with clearing organizations on the statement of financial condition to meet this requirement. As of December 31, 2022, there were no amounts owed to the clearing broker.

5. Regulatory

The Company is subject to the SEC Uniform Net Capital Rule (SEC Rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1 (the rule of the applicable exchange also provides that equity capital may not be withdrawn or cash dividends paid if the resulting net capital ratio would exceed 10 to 1). The Company is required to maintain minimum net capital equal to the greater of \$50,000 or $6\frac{2}{3}\%$ of aggregate indebtedness.

VALIC Financial Advisors, Inc.
Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2022

At December 31, 2022, the Company had net capital of $24,238,000, which was $22,684,000 in excess of its required net capital of $1,554,000. The ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital is .962 to 1. See Schedule I.

6. Transactions With Affiliates

During 2022, the Company paid dividends to VALIC of $100,000,000.

Salaries, employee benefits and commission expenses associated with VALIC's agents as well as various expenses associated with VALIC's field offices of $16,401,000 are allocated and paid by SunAmerica Services Company ("SASCO") based on the SASCO shared service agreement with VFA. These expenses are included in the statement of operations.

SASCO charges the Company for various administrative services provided including salary and compensation. During 2022, the Company paid SASCO $43,955,000 for these services that are reflected in total expenses in the statement of operations.

Dealer concession revenue from affiliates of $153,578,000 consists of concessions from sales of proprietary variable annuities, front-end load mutual funds, term insurance, and other financial services products, and a dealer concession receivable from affiliates of $620,000 represents amounts due at December 31, 2022 for these services.

Accounts payable to affiliates of $4,443,000 at December 31, 2022 consists of $1,784,000 of various operating expenses due to SASCO and $2,659,000 of taxes. Taxes are due to AGL 450,000 state taxes and to AIG 2,209,000 federal taxes.

During 2022, the Company engaged in selling fixed and variable annuity products of $109,504,000 and group plans of $11,405,000 offered by its Parent which are reflected in dealer concession revenue from affiliates and commissions in the statement of operations.

During 2022, the Company paid $2,158,000 to VALIC Retirement Services Company ("VRSCO"), a wholly owned subsidiary of AIG, for sub-transfer agent fees deposited by the Company.

Accounts receivable associated with affiliates of $1,835,000 at December 31, 2022 consists of various operating expenses due from VALIC and NSCC clearing. The Company participates in a consolidated federal income tax return with AIG and is subject to a tax sharing agreement. For the year ended December 31, 2022, pursuant to that agreement, the Company paid $13,328,000 for federal taxes..

7. Commitments and Contingencies

During the normal course of business, the Company enters into contracts that contain a variety of representations and warranties and which provide general indemnifications. The Company's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Company that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Company expects the risk of loss related to these general indemnifications to be remote.

Additionally from time to time, the Company is involved in legal proceedings relating to products and practices of the Company and the Company's financial advisors including employment and other litigation and arbitrations with private claimants, and informal and formal requests for information, examinations, and investigations. Such investigations, inquiries or examinations could develop into administrative, civil or criminal proceedings or enforcement actions, in which remedies could include fines, penalties, restitution or alterations in the Company's business practices, and could result in additional expenses, limitations on certain business activities and reputational damage.

As a result of the SEC settlement issued July 28, 2020, during 2021, the Company disbursed $17,500,000 to a "Fair Fund" (a Qualified Settlement Fund under Section 468B(g) of the IRC) set up to distribute to affected investors as outlined in the settlement agreement. As of December 31, 2021, the Company had distributed from the Fair Fund all amounts to affected investors, and as required by the settlement transferred $662,921 on June 30, 2022 to the United States Treasury, which represents the portion of the Fair Fund the Company was unable to distribute to investors.

Off-Balance-Sheet Risk

Some of the Company's customer securities transactions are executed on a fully disclosed basis through National Financial Services LLC (the "Clearing Broker"). Pursuant to the terms of the agreement between the Company and the Clearing Broker, the Clearing Broker has the right to charge the Company for losses that result from counterparties' failure to fulfill its contractual obligations. The Company has market risk on its customers' buy and sale transactions. If customers do not fulfill their obligations, a gain or loss could be suffered equal to the difference between a customer's commitment and the market value of the underlying securities between trade date and settlement date. The risk of default depends on the creditworthiness of the retail customers. The Company and the Clearing Broker perform due diligence with respect to each customer accepted to minimize the Company's risk. As the Clearing Broker's right to charge the Company has no maximum amount and applies to all trades executed through the Clearing Broker, the Company believes there is no maximum amount assignable to this right. At December 31, 2022, the Company has recorded no liabilities with regard to the right. During 2022, the Company was not required to pay the Clearing Broker any amounts for these indemnifications. The Company is further exposed to credit risk for commissions receivable from the Clearing Broker. Such credit risk is generally limited to the amount of the prior month's concessions receivable.

8. Income Taxes

The current and deferred portions of income tax expense included in the statement of operations as determined in accordance with ASC 740 (Accounting for Income Taxes) are as follows for the year ended December 31, 2022:

(in thousands of dollars)

	Current	Deferred	Total
Federal	$ 15,757	$ 0	$ 15,757
State income and franchise	2,653	0	2,653
	$ 18,410	$ 0	$ 18,410

Our actual income tax rate differs from the federal statutory tax rate due to the following:

Federal	21.0%
State Income and Franchise	2.7%
Effective Tax Rate	23.7%

The difference between the federal statutory tax rate of 21% and the Company's effective income tax rate of 23.7% for the year ending December 31, 2022 is primarily due to $2,095,000 of state income tax (net of federal benefit).

Deferred income taxes reflect the net tax effects of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purpose and the amounts used for income tax reporting purposes. These deferred liabilities are included in accounts payable from affiliates. As of December 31, 2022, the Company does not have any deferred tax assets. The significant components of the deferred tax liabilities are as follows:

(in thousands of dollars)

Deferred Tax Liabilities:

Legal & Professional Fee	$ (70)
State and Local Deferred Tax	(5)
Total deferred tax liabilities	$ (75)

The Company recognizes and measures its unrecognized tax benefits in accordance with authoritative guidance. Under that guidance the Company assesses the likelihood, based on their technical merit, that tax positions will be sustained upon examination based on the facts, circumstances and information available at the end of each period. The measurement of unrecognized tax benefits is adjusted when new information is available, or when an event occurs that requires a change. Based on this standard, the Company has concluded it has no positions for which a reserve for unrecognized tax benefits should be established.

The Company is currently under examination for the tax years 2011 through 2019 and engaging in the IRS Appeals process in regard to years 2007-2010. The Company's taxable years 2008-2021 remain subject to examination by major state tax jurisdictions.

9. Subsequent Events

Management of the Company has performed an evaluation of subsequent events through February 27, 2023, which is the date the financial statements were available to be issued. No subsequent events were noted in management's evaluation which would require disclosure.
