1. Organization and Nature of Business

Loop Capital Markets LLC (the Company) is organized as a Delaware limited liability company under the Delaware Limited Liability Company Act. As a limited liability company, the members' liability is limited to the equity in the Company. Profits, losses, contributions, and distributions of the Company are allocated in accordance with the respective members' ownership interests. The Company is majority owned by Loop Capital, LLC, a wholly owned subsidiary of Loop Capital Holdings, LLC.

The Company trades fixed income securities on a principal basis, provides equity brokerage, underwriting services, fixed income analytical services, equity research, financial advisory and mergers and acquisition services for institutional customers.

The Company is an introducing broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA). The Company does not carry security accounts for customers, nor does the Company perform custodial functions relating to customer securities. All customer transactions are executed and cleared through another registered broker on a fully disclosed basis. The Company does participate in various commission recapture programs in which customer funds are held for subsequent payment pursuant to the customer agreements in place. These customer funds are held in a "Special Account for the Exclusive Benefit of Customers". As such, the Company is operating under the provisions of paragraph (k)(2)(i) and (k)(2)(ii) of Rule 15c3-3 of the SEC and accordingly is exempt from the remaining provisions of the Rule.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Use of Estimates

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). The preparation of these financial statements require management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from such estimates.

Cash

The Company has defined cash equivalents as highly liquid investments, with original maturities of less than three months at the date of acquisition that are not held for sale in the ordinary course of business.

Cash Segregated for Regulatory Purposes

At December 31, 2020, $52,449 was segregated in a special bank account for the exclusive benefit of customers under Rule 15c3-3 of the SEC. During the year ended December 31, 2020, the Company did not maintain possession or control of customer cash or securities.

Accrued Expenses

At December 31, 2020, the Company had accrued expenses primarily consisting of employee compensation, benefits, operating and underwriting expenses.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

Adoption of New Accounting Standards

Current Expected Credit Losses

On January 1, 2020, the Company adopted Accounting Standards Update (ASU) 2016-13, Financial Instruments - Measurement of Credit Losses on Financial Instruments, or ASU 2016-13. This standard requires the application of a current expected credit loss, or CECL, impairment model to financial assets measured at amortized cost, including accounts receivable and certain off-balance-sheet credit exposures. The standard also amends the impairment model for available-for-sale debt securities requiring entities to record credit losses through an allowance account. The CECL model requires an entity to estimate its lifetime expected credit loss and record an allowance that, when deducted from the amortized cost basis of the financial asset, presents the net amount expected to be collected on the financial asset. Adoption of the standard requires more timely recognition of credit losses and credit loss estimates are required to use historical information, current information and reasonable and supportable forecasts of future events.

Measurement of Credit Losses on Financial Instruments

The Company adopted ASU 2016-13 using the modified retrospective approach through a cumulative-effect adjustment to retained earnings on January 1, 2020. The adoption of ASU 2016-13 was subject to the same internal controls over financial reporting that the Company applies to its financial statements and the impact of adoption was not material. The Company does not currently hold available-for-sale debt securities or have off-balance-sheet credit exposures.

The Company considered its material financial assets within scope, receivables, as well as its clearing receivables and determined that such assets have a de minimis risk of credit loss due to the short duration of the receivables and the credit worthiness of the counterparties. Therefore, as of December 31, 2020, the Company has not recorded a credit loss for these financial assets.

The Company's accounts receivable related to revenues underwriting, which accounts for the majority of the firm's receivables, is regulated with payment terms defined. Based on the regulated guidelines, the risk of non-payment is low. As such, the Company did not experience a loss required to be recognized in a loss provision upon adoption of the CECL model. The concentration of risk on the Company accounts receivable is also mitigated by the large number of entities with investment grade credit rating comprising the Company's customer base.

Lastly, the CECL standard is forward-looking and requires the Company to factor reasonable and supportable economic expectations into its allowance estimate for the asset's entire expected life, which is generally less than six months.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

Variable Interest Entities

The Company evaluates its relationships or investments for consolidation pursuant to authoritative accounting guidance related to the consolidation of variable interest entities under the Variable Interest Model prescribed by the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB). A variable interest entity (VIE) is consolidated when the Company has the power to direct activities that most significantly impact the economic performance of the VIE and has the obligation to absorb losses or the right to receive benefits from the variable interest entity that could potentially be significant to the VIE. When a VIE is not consolidated, the Company uses either the equity method or the cost method to account for the investment. Under the equity method, the carrying value is generally the Company's share of the net asset value of the unconsolidated entity, and changes in the Company's share of the net asset value are recorded in other income.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Securities owned and securities sold, not yet purchased, if any, may consist of equity and debt securities. They are reported in the statement of financial condition at fair value based on quoted market prices, prices for similar securities or other observable inputs, such as bond spreads and credit default swap spreads. Securities sold, not yet purchased represent obligations to deliver specified securities at predetermined prices. The Company is obligated to purchase the securities at a future date at then-prevailing prices that may differ from the market values reflected in the statement of financial condition.

Due To and From Clearing Broker

Receivables and payables related to trades pending settlement are netted in due to/from clearing broker in the statement of financial condition. The Company may obtain short-term financing from its clearing broker from whom it can borrow against its inventory positions, subject to collateral maintenance requirements. At December 31, 2020, the Company had a net amount due from its clearing broker, which consisted of cash, interest, dividends, and fees earned on unsettled trades in the amount of $24,860,661.

Deposit with Clearing Brokers

Deposits represent amounts held in conjunction with the Company's agreements with its clearing brokers. As of December 31, 2020, the Company had deposits of $1,200,000 with its clearing brokers.

Fixed Assets

Fixed assets include furniture, equipment and artwork. Furniture and equipment are depreciated using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets ranging from 3 to 7 years. Artwork is recorded and held at cost.

Loop Capital Markets LLC
Notes to Financial Statements

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

The Company reviews long-lived assets, including property and equipment, for impairment whenever events or changes in business circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be fully recoverable, no less than annually. An impairment loss would be recognized when the estimated future cash flows from the use of the asset are less than the carrying amount of that asset. As of December 31, 2020, the Company did not have an impairment of long-lived assets.

3. Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Level 1: Valuations are based on quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: Valuations are based on quoted prices for identical or similar instruments in less than active markets and valuation techniques for which significant assumptions are observable, either directly or indirectly. The types of assets and liabilities that are categorized by the Company as Level 2 generally include U.S. government and government agency securities, and most state, municipal and corporate obligations.

Level 3: Valuations are based on valuation techniques whereby significant assumptions and inputs are unobservable and reflect the Company's best estimate of assumptions it believes market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability.

The inputs or methodologies used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities.

The Company assesses its financial instruments on an annual basis to determine the appropriate classification within the fair value hierarchy, as defined by Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) Topic 820. Transfers between fair value classifications occur when there are changes in pricing observability levels. Transfers of financial instruments among levels are deemed to occur at the beginning of the period.

The Company's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment and considers factors specific to the investment.

A description of the valuation techniques applied to the Company's major categories of assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis follows:

Municipal bonds – Municipal bonds can be valued under three approaches: (1) occasionally trades of municipal securities can be observed via trading activity posted by the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board; (2) via a discounted cash flow model that incorporates market observable data such as reported sales of similar securities, broker quotes, yields, yield curves, bids, offers, and other reference data; and/or (3) in certain instances securities are valued principally using dealer quotations. Municipal bonds are categorized in Level 1, Level 2 or Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy depending on the inputs (i.e., observable or unobservable) used and market activity levels for specific bonds.

Corporate bonds – The fair value of corporate bonds is estimated using various techniques, which may consider recently executed transactions in securities of the issuer or comparable issuers or securities, market price quotations (where observable), evaluated prices from pricing sources, bond spreads, fundamental data relating to the issuer, and credit default swap spreads adjusted for any basis difference between cash and derivative instruments. Corporate bonds can be categorized as Level 1, Level 2 or Level 3 in the fair value hierarchy depending on the inputs (i.e., observable or unobservable) used and market activity levels for specific bonds.

Loop Capital Markets LLC
Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2020

3. Fair Value of Financial Instruments (continued)

U.S. government securities - U.S. government securities are valued using quoted market prices. Valuation adjustments are not applied. Accordingly, U.S. government securities are generally categorized in Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

The following table presents the Company's fair value hierarchy for those assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis as of December 31, 2020:

Description	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Investments valued at NAV	Total
Assets
Securities owned:
Municipal bonds	$ -	$ 2,459,388	$ -	$ -	$ 2,459,388

	$ -	$ 4,982,612	$ -	$ -	$ 4,982,612

The Company assesses the levels of the investments at each measurement date, and transfers between levels are recognized on the actual date of the event or change in circumstances that caused the transfer. There were no transfers between the Company's Levels 1, 2 and 3 classified instruments during the year ended December 31, 2020.

4. Other Investments

The Company holds an investment in Legacy Acquisition Sponsor I, LLC, which is the sponsor and owner of founder shares of Legacy Acquisition Corp (Legacy), a blank check company formed for the purpose of effecting a merger, capital stock exchange, asset acquisition, stock purchase, reorganization or similar business combination with one or more businesses. On November 20, 2020, Legacy consummated a business combination with Onyx Enterprises Int'l, Corp and changed its name to PARTS iD, Inc. and listed the shares of PARTS iD, Inc. As a result of this combination, the Company will be eligible to potentially receive Class A shares in PARTS iD, Inc. in distributions from Legacy Acquisition Sponsor I, LLC. 11. Concentrations of Credit Risk

The Company is engaged in various trading and brokerage activities through its principal correspondent broker-dealer and others. Amounts due to the clearing broker, if any, and securities sold, not yet purchased, are collateralized by securities owned and cash on deposit with the clearing broker. In the event such parties do not fulfill their obligations, the Company may be exposed to risk. The risk of default depends on the creditworthiness of the correspondent broker-dealer and others.

It is the Company's policy to periodically review, as necessary, the credit standing of such correspondent broker-dealer and others.

In the ordinary course of business, the Company may be named as a defendant in, or be party to, various pending and threatened legal proceedings. The Company is subject to certain legal, regulatory and arbitration proceedings and claims that may arise from time to time in the ordinary course of business. Management believes that the disposition of these matters will not have a material adverse effect on the financial position or results of operations of the Company.

14. Indemnifications

In the normal course of business, the Company indemnifies and guarantees certain service providers, such as clearing brokers, against specified losses in connection with their acting as an agent of, or providing services to, the Company or its affiliates. The maximum potential amount of future payments that the Company could be required to make under these indemnifications cannot be estimated. However, the Company believes that it is unlikely it will have to make material payments under these arrangements and has not recorded any contingent liability in the financial statements for these indemnifications.

Additionally, the Company enters into contracts that contain a variety of representations and warranties that provide indemnifications under certain circumstances. The Company's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Company that have not yet occurred. The Company expects the risk of future obligation under these indemnifications to be remote.

15. Net Capital Requirements

Pursuant to Rule 15c3-1 of the SEC, the Company is required to maintain minimum "net capital" equal to the greater of $250,000 or 6-2/3 percent of "aggregate indebtedness," as these terms are defined, and that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital both as defined, not to exceed 15 to 1. Net capital changes from day to day, but at December 31, 2020, the Company had net capital and net capital requirements of $20,748,004 and $2,079,980, respectively, and its net capital ratio was 1.5 to 1. The minimum net capital may effectively restrict the payment of distributions.
