1. Management's Representation of Interim Financial Information

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared by Sunburst Acquisitions IV, Inc. without audit pursuant to the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles have been condensed or omitted as allowed by such rules and regulations, and management believes that the disclosures are adequate to make the information presented not misleading. These financial statements include all of the adjustments which, in the opinion of management, are necessary to a fair presentation of financial position and results of operations. All such adjustments are of a normal and recurring nature. These financial statements should be read in conjunction with the audited financial statements at February 28, 2003.

Item 2. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OR PLAN OF OPERATIONS

SPECIAL NOTE OF CAUTION REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

Certain statements in this report, including statements in the following discussion which are not statements of historical fact, are what are known as "forward looking statements," which are basically statements about the future. For that reason, these statements involve risk and uncertainty since no one can accurately predict the future. Words such as "plans," "intends," "will," "hopes," "seeks," "anticipates," "expects" and the like often identify such forward looking statements, but are not the only indication that a statement is a forward looking statement. Such forward looking statements include statements concerning our plans and objectives with respect to the present and future operations of the Company, and statements which express or imply that such present and future operations will or may produce revenues, income or profits. Numerous factors and future events could cause the Company to change such plans and objectives or fail to successfully implement such plans or achieve such objectives, or cause such present and future operations to fail to produce revenues, income or profits. Therefore, the reader is advised that the following discussion should be considered in light of the discussion of risks and other factors contained in this report on Form 10QSB and in the Company's other filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. No statements contained in the following discussion should be construed as a guarantee or assurance of future performance or future results.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

We remain in the development stage. Since inception we have undergone two unsuccessful business combinations which have caused us to incur significant liabilities and have resulted in the accumulation of a substantial deficit during the development stage. As of May 31, 2003, we have total current assets of $27,083, total current liabilities of $48,357, and a deficit of $1,642,666 accumulated in the development stage.

During the first quarter of 2003 (March – May) there were no private placements or any changes to our issued capital. Our issued and outstanding shares remain at 35,457,597. We had cash on hand of $14,321 as of May 31, 2003.

We plan to use our cash on hand and revenues from product sales to pay on-going expenses related to compliance with our reporting obligations under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. We currently believe that when the manufacturer (Romlight) commences regular delivery of the ballast we will be able to sell ballasts and collect payments from purchasers before delivery of the product. Therefore, we plan to pay for the purchase of the ballasts on delivery using funds generated from sale of the units. If we begin receiving regular deliveries of units from the manufacturer and are able to implement this plan, our current cash on hand combined with revenues from product sales will be adequate to satisfy our cash needs for the next twelve months. However, since there is no assurance that these funds will be sufficient to satisfy our cash needs, we also intend to continue to seek additional funding for working capital needs.

Management cautions that over the last year the manufacturer has not been able to deliver a quality product. However, 20 samples of the 600-watt ballast delivered the week of July 1st have passed our initial tests and we are optimistic that a quality product can be produced. Due to past problems, we plan to carry out further tests before shipping ballasts to our customers.

Plan of Operations

We remain in the development stage. Our plan of operations for the fiscal year of 2003 is to continue our efforts to develop a business related to the marketing, distribution and sale of digital electronic ballasts through our wholly owned Canadian subsidiary, Sunburst Digital, Inc.

At the beginning of the previous fiscal year, we had signed a sub-distributorship agreement with 1357784 Ontario Ltd (“EPI”) pursuant to a contract between EPI and Romlight International, the manufacturer. However, both the contract between EPI and Romlight, and the sub-distributorship agreement have now been cancelled. Our subsidiary, Sunburst Digital, Inc. signed an agreement directly with Romlight on April 2, 2003. The terms and conditions of the new agreement are the same as those contained in our original agreement with EPI, and under the new agreement all deposits that we had previously paid to EPI have been forwarded to Romlight.

Also, under the terms of the new agreement with Romlight, we have an annual purchase commitment of 100,000 ballasts. However, this commitment is subject to the ability of the manufacturer to produce and deliver ballasts in a timely fashion. During the previous fiscal year, Romlight was not able to deliver the product. Under the new contract, our annual purchase commitment will not commence until the first 5,000 ballasts have been received. This is unlikely to happen before November 2003.

We did previously take delivery of 500 400-watt ballasts. However, some of our customers experienced problems with them, and as a result, we recalled all of the ballasts and sent all of them back to Romlight to be re-worked.

We also previously received 200 samples of the 600-watt ballasts. All were tested and due to a high failure rate of approximately 25% all have been sent back to Romlight to be checked and re-worked.

A further revised delivery schedule has been received from Romlight. They have indicated that a ramp up of production is expected in August and we have been informed that the 5,000-unit order is expected to be completed by the end of October 2003. We currently expect to receive gross revenues of approximately $750,000 from the sale of 5,000 units. We have received $42,132 as deposits from customers. Given Romlight's past history, there is no guarantee of delivery.

We continue to test all sizes of the ballast and, as part of our marketing efforts, have made arrangements to have the electronic ballast introduced to a number of potential users. We caution, however, that the ballasts are a new product and that acceptance may be limited.

We believe that the quality of the product from 70 up to 600-watts is becoming more consistent, but do not intend to ship it to purchasers unless we are satisfied that it meets our performance expectations. We are continuing to initiate efforts to contact potential customers, and for that purpose, offices have been set-up in the UK and in Eastern Europe. Once again, quality and timely delivery of the ballasts remain a problem. Romlight has recently received capital to fund our order. This we expect will help overcome delivery issues.

During the quarter we purchased 40 "Equalizers," a product that reduces electrical consumption in homes and businesses. All of the equalizers were sold generating $13,579.00 in revenue and a small profit.

We are also evaluating other energy-efficient products which have the potential to be marketed to the hydroponics industry.

ITEM 3. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES
