NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

JUNE 30, 2003
(Unaudited)

1. Summary of significant accounting policies:

Interim financial statements:

The accompanying unaudited financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles for interim financial information and with instructions to Form 10-Q and Article 10 of Regulation S-X. The unaudited interim financial statements reflect all adjustments which are, in the opinion of the Managing Member, necessary to a fair statement of financial position and results of operations for the interim periods presented. All such adjustments are of a normal recurring nature. These unaudited interim financial statements should be read in conjunction with the financial statements and notes thereto contained in the report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2002, filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

2. Organization and Company matters:

ATEL Capital Equipment Fund VIII, LLC. (the Company), was formed under the laws of the state of California on July 31, 1998, for the purpose of acquiring equipment to engage in equipment leasing and sales activities.

Upon the sale of the minimum amount of Units of Limited Liability Company interest (Units) of $1,200,000 and the receipt of the proceeds thereof on January 13, 1999, the Company commenced operations.

The Company does not make a provision for income taxes since all income and losses will be allocated to the Members for inclusion in their individual tax returns.

ATEL Financial Services, LLC, an affiliated entity, acts as the Managing Member of the Company.

3. Investment in leases:

The Company's investment in leases consists of the following:

	Balance December 31, 2002	Impairment Losses	Depreciation Expense or Amortization of Leases	Reclassi- fications or Dispositions	Balance June 30, 2003

In 2003, there were charges to net income for impairments of operating lease assets in the amount of $517,926. The charges related to an aircraft on lease to Emery Worldwide. The impairment resulted from decreased estimated cash flows expected to be generated by the assets upon sale to the lessee.

Direct financing leases:

As of June 30, 2003, investment in direct financing leases consists primarily office automation equipment. The following lists the components of the Company's investment in direct financing leases as of June 30, 2003:

Total minimum lease payments receivable	$ 11,900,323
Estimated residual values of leased equipment (unguaranteed)	4,576,911
Investment in direct financing leases	16,477,234
Less unearned income	(4,001,321)
Net investment in direct financing leases	$ 12,475,913

All of the property on leases was acquired in 1999, 2000 and 2001.

(Unaudited)

5. Other long-term debt:

In 1999, the Company entered into a $70 million receivables funding program (the Program) (which was subsequently increased to $125 million) with a receivables financing company that issues commercial paper rated A1 by Standard and Poors and P1 by Moody's Investor Services. Under the Program, the receivables financing company receives a general lien against all of the otherwise unencumbered assets of the Company. The Program provides for borrowing at a variable interest rate (1.6178% at June 30, 2003), based on an index of A1 commercial paper. As of June 30, 2002, the Program was closed as to additional borrowings.

The Program requires the Managing Member to enter into various interest rate swaps with a financial institution (also rated A1/P1) to manage interest rate exposure associated with variable rate obligations under the Program by effectively converting the variable rate debt to fixed rates. As of June 30, 2002, the Company receives or pays interest on a notional principal of $48,009,000, based on the difference between nominal rates ranging from 3.60% to 7.72% and the variable rate under the Program. No actual borrowing or lending is involved. The last of the swaps terminates in 2009. The differential to be paid or received is accrued as interest rates change and is recognized currently as an adjustment to interest expense related to the debt.

Borrowings under the Program are as follows:

Date Borrowed	Original Amount Borrowed	Balance June 30, 2003	Rate on Interest Swap Agreement
11/11/1999	$ 20,000,000	$ 4,529,000	6.840%

6. Related party transactions:

The terms of the Limited Company Operating Agreement provide that the Managing Member and/or affiliates are entitled to receive certain fees for equipment acquisition, management and resale and for management of the Company.

The Limited Liability Company Operating Agreement allows for the reimbursement of costs incurred by the Managing Member in providing administrative services to the Company. Administrative services provided include Company accounting, investor relations, legal counsel and lease and equipment documentation. The Managing Member is not reimbursed for services where it is entitled to receive a separate fee as compensation for such services, such as acquisition and management of equipment. Reimbursable costs incurred by the Managing Member are allocated to the Company based upon actual time incurred by employees working on Company business and an allocation of rent and other costs based on utilization studies.

Substantially all employees of the Managing Member record time incurred in performing administrative services on behalf of all of the Companies serviced by the Managing Member. The Managing Member believes that the costs reimbursed are the lower of (i) actual costs incurred on behalf of the Company or (ii) the amount the Company would be required to pay independent parties for comparable administrative services in the same geographic location and are reimbursable in accordance with the Limited Liability Company Operating Agreement.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Statements contained in this Item 2, "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations," and elsewhere in this Form 10-Q, which are not historical facts, may be forward-looking statements. Such statements are subject to risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those projected. Investors are cautioned not to attribute undue certainty to these forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date of this Form 10-Q. We undertake no obligation to publicly release any revisions to these forward-looking statements to reflect events or circumstances after the date of this Form 10-Q or to reflect the occurrence of unanticipated events, other than as required by law.

Capital Resources and Liquidity

During the first half of 2003 and 2002, the Company's primary activity was engaging in equipment leasing activities.

During 2003, the Company's primary sources of liquidity were rents from operating leases and proceeds from the sales of lease assets. During 2002, the Company's primary source of liquidity was rents from operating leases. The liquidity of the Company will vary in the future, increasing to the extent cash flows from leases exceed expenses, and decreasing as lease assets are acquired, as distributions are made to the members and to the extent expenses exceed cash flows from leases.

As another source of liquidity, the Company has contractual obligations with a diversified group of lessees for fixed lease terms at fixed rental amounts. As the initial lease terms expire, the Company will re-lease or sell the equipment. The future liquidity beyond the contractual minimum rentals will depend on the Managing Member's success in re-leasing or selling the equipment as it comes off lease.

The Company participates with the Managing Member and certain of its affiliates in a $56,736,746 revolving line of credit with a financial institution that includes certain financial covenants. The line of credit expires on June 28, 2004. As of June 30, 2003, borrowings under the facility were as follows:

Amount borrowed by the Company under the acquisition facility	$ 8,500,000
Amounts borrowed by affiliated partnerships and limited liability companies under the acquisition facility	18,000,000
Total borrowings under the acquisition facility	26,500,000
Amounts borrowed by the Managing Member and its sister corporation under the warehouse facility	-
Total outstanding balance	$ 26,500,000
Total available under the line of credit	$ 56,736,746
Total outstanding balance	(26,500,000)
Remaining availability	$ 30,236,746

Draws on the acquisition facility by any individual borrower are secured only by that borrower's assets, including equipment and related leases. Borrowings on the warehouse facility are recourse jointly to certain of the affiliated partnerships and limited liability companies, the Company and the Managing Member.

The Company anticipates reinvesting a portion of lease payments from assets owned in new leasing transactions. Such reinvestment will occur only after the payment of all obligations, including debt service (both principal and interest), the payment of management and acquisition fees to the Managing Member and providing for cash distributions to the members.

The Company currently has available adequate reserves to meet contingencies, but in the event those reserves were found to be inadequate, the Company would likely be in a position to borrow against its current portfolio to meet such requirements. The Managing Member envisions no such requirements for operating purposes.

No commitments of capital have been or are expected to be made other than for the acquisition of additional equipment. There were no such commitments as of June 30, 2003.

If inflation in the general economy becomes significant, it may affect the Company inasmuch as the residual (resale) values and rates on re-leases of the Company's leased assets may increase as the costs of similar assets increase. However, the Company's revenues from existing leases would not increase, as such rates are generally fixed for the terms of the leases without adjustment for inflation.

If interest rates increase significantly, the lease rates that the Company can obtain on future leases will be expected to increase as the cost of capital is a significant factor in the pricing of lease financing. Leases already in place, for the most part, would not be affected by changes in interest rates.

Cash Flows

During the first half of 2003, the Company's primary sources of liquidity was operating lease rents and proceeds from the sales of lease assets. During the first half of 2002, the Company's primary source of liquidity was operating lease rents.

Sources of cash flows from operating activities consisted primarily of operating lease revenues in both years.

Rents from direct financing leases were the most significant source of cash from investing activities in 2002. In 2003, the most significant source of cash flows from investing activities was proceeds from the sales of lease assets.

Sources of cash from financing activities consisted of borrowings on the line of credit (2003 and 2002) and proceeds of long-term debt (2002). Financing uses of cash included repayments of long-term debt, repayments of non-recourse debt, repayments of borrowings under the line of credit and distributions to the members.

Results of operations

Operations resulted in a net loss of $3,034,019 for the six month period ended June 30, 2003 and net income of $345,679 for the three month period ended June 30, 2003. In 2002, operations resulted in a net loss of $445,007 for the six month period ended June 30 and a net loss of $365,999 for the second quarter then ended. The Company's primary source of revenues is from operating leases. In future periods, operating leases are also expected to be the most significant source of revenues. Depreciation is related to operating lease assets and thus, to operating lease revenues. It is expected to decrease in future periods as leases mature and lease assets are sold.

Asset management fees are based on the gross lease rents of the Company plus proceeds from the sales of lease assets. Such fees are limited to certain percentages of lease rents, distributions to members and certain other items. As lease assets are sold and as revenues decline, these fees are expected to decrease.

During the first quarter of 2003, the Company entered into negotiations relating to the early termination of an aircraft lease and the sale of the asset to the lessee. The negotiations were concluded in early April 2003 and the asset was sold. As a result, an impairment loss related to the aircraft has been recorded in the first quarter of 2003 in the amount of $1,910,861. This provision is the single largest factor in the increase in the loss realized in the first quarter of 2003 compared to 2002. There were no similar impairments recognized in the first half of 2002.

In the six months ended June 30, 2003, the Company incurred $806,180 of maintenance costs relating to railcars. In the second quarter of 2003, the Company incurred $134,093 of such costs. These costs were incurred in order to be able to place the railcars on a new lease. The costs did not increase the useful life of the assets or increase their value in the marketplace. No similar costs were incurred during the comparable periods ended June 30, 2002.

Interest expense has decreased compared to 2002 due to debt repayments over the last year, thereby decreasing the average balances of outstanding interest bearing debt.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures of Market Risk.

The Company, like most other companies, is exposed to certain market risks, including primarily changes in interest rates. The Company believes its exposure to other market risks, including foreign currency exchange rate risk, commodity risk and equity price risk, are insignificant to both its financial position and results of operations.

In general, the Company manages its exposure to interest rate risk by obtaining fixed rate debt. The fixed rate debt is structured so as to match the cash flows required to service the debt to the payment streams under fixed rate lease receivables. The payments under the leases are assigned to the lenders in satisfaction of the debt. Furthermore, the Company has historically been able to maintain a stable spread between its cost of funds and lease yields in both periods of rising and falling interest rates. Nevertheless, the Company frequently funds leases with its floating rate line of credit and is, therefore, exposed to interest rate risk until fixed rate financing is arranged, or the floating rate line of credit is repaid. As of June 30, 2003, there was $8,500,000 outstanding on the floating rate line of credit.

The Company entered into a receivables funding facility in 1999. Since interest on the outstanding balances under the facility varies, the Company is exposed to market risks associated with changing interest rates. To hedge its interest rate risk, the Company enters into interest rate swaps that effectively convert the underlying interest characteristic on the facility from floating to fixed. Under the swap agreements, the Company makes or receives variable interest payments to or from the counterparty based on a notional principal amount. The net differential paid or received by the Company is recognized as an adjustment to interest expense related to the facility balances. The amount paid or received represents the difference between the payments required under the variable interest rate facility and the amounts due under the facility at the fixed (hedged) interest rate.

As of June 30, 2003, borrowings on the facility were $48,009,000 and the associated variable interest rate was 1.2178%. The average fixed interest rate achieved with the swap agreements was 6.965% at June 30, 2003. As of June 30, 2003, the estimated fair value of the interest rate swaps was $4,196,582.

Item 4. Controls and procedures.

Internal Controls

As of June 30, 2003, an evaluation was performed under the supervision and with the participation of the Company's management, including the CEO and CFO of the Managing Member, of the effectiveness of the design and operation of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures. Based on that evaluation, the Company's management, including the CEO and CFO of the Managing Member, concluded that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures were effective as of June 30, 2003. There have been no significant changes in the Company's internal controls or in other factors that could significantly affect internal controls subsequent to June 30, 2003.

Changes in internal controls

There have been no significant changes in our internal controls or in other factors that could significantly affect our disclosure controls and procedures subsequent to the evaluation date, nor were there any significant deficiencies or material weaknesses in our internal controls.

Evaluation of disclosure controls and procedures

Under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including the CEO and CFO, an evaluation of the effectiveness of the design and operation of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures, as defined in Rules 240.13a-14(c) and 15d-14(c) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 was performed as of a date within ninety days before the filing date of this quarterly report. Based upon this evaluation, the CEO and CFO of the Managing Member concluded that, as of the evaluation date, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective for the purposes of recording, processing, summarizing and timely reporting information required to be disclosed by us in the reports that we file under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and that such information is accumulated and communicated to our management in order to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

PART II. OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings.

Burlington Northern Santa Fe Corporation:

On July 2, 2003, a claim was filed by the Managing Member, on behalf of the Company, against the lessee in San Francisco due to a dispute over the return condition of the leased equipment. Contemporaneous with the filing of its claim, the lessee filed a claim against the Company in Texas. Notwithstanding the respective filed claims, the Company is seeking a resolution with the lessee outside of litigation. The Company feels that there is a reasonable basis for it to resolve its claims satisfactorily with the lessee. It is too early in the process to determine if any liability will be incurred as a result of this litigation.

Solectron:

This is a matter where the Company has declared a lessee in default for failure to pay rent in a timely manner, and for other various defaults. A claim was filed on August 29, 2002, by the Managing Member, on behalf of the Company, in the amount of $13,332,328.10. The lessee filed a counter-claim against the Company asserting unfair business practices. An additional demand letter was issued on March 27, 2003, alleging the failure of the lessee to properly maintain the equipment it leased from the Company. The Company continues to seek resolution of its claims with the lessee. The Company feels that it has a reasonable basis for success of some, if not all, of its claims in this matter.
