2. We note that you issued warrants in connection with your callable secured convertible notes and private placements of your common stock. In this regard, it appears that you have entered into registration rights agreements that require you to file registration statements that are declared effective by the SEC and to keep the registration statements continuously effective for a preset time period, or else you are required to pay a liquidated damages with no cap on the maximum penalty that could be incurred. We note that the EITF recently deliberated the impact of these liquidated damage clauses and the effect on the accounting and classification of instruments subject to the scope of EITF 00-19 in EITF 05-4, "The Effect of a Liquidated Damages Clause on a Freestanding Financial Instrument Subject to Issue No. 00-19." The EITF has not yet reached a consensus on this issue and has deferred deliberation until the FASB addresses certain questions which could impact a conclusion on this issue. However, in the meantime, please tell us how considered the guidance in EITF 05-4 and the different views on this issue as outlined in Issue Summary No. 1 to EITF 05-4 in analyzing the registration rights agreements and in considering whether you are required to classify the warrants as liabilities or equity under EITF 00-19.

Also, tell us how why you believe your goodwill is recoverable, considering the significant decline in your stock price as well as recurring losses from operations and negative cash flows from operations.
