Revenue Recognition

The recognition and measurement of revenue is based on the assessment of individual contract terms. Judgment is required to determine whether performance obligations are satisfied at a point in time or over time; how to allocate transaction prices where multiple performance obligations are identified; when to recognize revenue based on the appropriate measure of the Company's progress under the contract; and whether constraints on variable consideration should be applied due to uncertain future events.

Revenue earned from affiliates - Fixed Fees

The performance obligation for fixed fee revenue earned from affiliates is satisfied over a period of time. Since services are performed over the course of the year, the annual fee is recognized in twelve equal monthly increments. Fixed Fees were $1,833,333 for the year ending June 30, 2022.

Revenue earned from affiliates - Brokerage Commissions

The Company buys and sells securities on behalf of its customers. Each time a customer enters into a buy or sell transaction, the Company charges a commission. Commissions and related clearing expenses are earned when the performance obligation is satisfied. The Company believes that the performance obligation is satisfied on the trade date because that is when the underlying financial instrument or purchaser is identified, the pricing is agreed upon and the risks and rewards of ownership have been transferred to/from the customer. Variable brokerage commissions were $4,629,044 for the year ending June 30, 2022.

10b-18 Revenue

The Company engages in services to SEC registrants with publicly announced corporate share repurchase programs, conducted in accordance with SEC Rule 10b-18. Rule 10b-18, which was adopted in 1982, provides a voluntary "safe harbor" from liability for manipulation under Sections 9(a)(2) and 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (Exchange Act), and Rule 10b-5 under the Exchange Act, when a SEC registrant or its affiliated purchaser bids for or purchases shares of the SEC registrant's common stock in accordance with the Rule 10b-18's manner, timing, price, and volume conditions. The fees are paid by the SEC registrant clients and are outlined in the 10b-18 agreements between GSEC and the SEC registrant clients. Revenue is included in the Fee revenue line on the Statement of Income. Revenue is recognized at a point in time, per share for trading activity on the date.

Dealer Manager Revenue

The Company acts as the registered broker dealer and is contracted to provide services directly with the SEC registrants. Dealer manager services are for corporate actions such as equity and debt tender offers, consent solicitations, self-tenders, exchange offers and rights offers.

Interest income

Interest income, which includes earning credits of balances held at financial institutions, is recognized as earned.

Georgeson Securities Corporation
Notes to Financial Statements
June 30, 2022

Income Taxes

The results of operations for the Company are included in the consolidated federal and certain state income tax returns of Computershare US. The Company also files income tax returns in some states on a stand alone basis.

Income taxes are accounted for under the asset and liability method.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. This method also requires the recognition of future tax benefits such as net operating loss carry forwards, to the extent that realization of such benefits is more likely than not.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in the Statement of Income in the period that includes the enactment date.

The Company regularly assesses uncertain tax positions in each of the tax jurisdictions in which it has operations and accounts for the related financial statement implications. Unrecognized tax benefits are reported using the two-step approach under which tax effects of a position are recognized only if it is "more-likely-than-not" to be sustained and the amount of the tax benefit recognized is equal to the largest tax benefit that is greater than fifty percent likely of being realized upon ultimate settlement of the tax position. Determining the appropriate level of unrecognized tax benefits requires the Company to exercise judgment regarding the uncertain application of tax law. The amount of unrecognized tax benefits is adjusted when information becomes available or when an event occurs indicating a change is appropriate. Future changes in unrecognized tax benefits requirements could have a material impact on the results of operations. The Company recognizes interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits as an adjustment to income tax expense. The Company has performed an evaluation of its tax positions and has concluded that as of June 30, 2022, there were no significant uncertain tax positions requiring recognition in its financial statements.

The tax years that remain open for federal purposes are the years ended June 30, 2019 and forward while certain state income tax jurisdictions remain open from June 30, 2017 and forward.

Notes to Financial Statements

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from the estimates included in the financial statements.

Fair Value of Non-Financial Instruments

The fair value of all financial assets and liabilities (consisting primarily of receivables from and payables to customers and affiliates) approximate the reported value due to their short-term nature.

Credit Losses

Measurement of Credit Losses on financial instruments, which replaces the incurred loss methodology that is referred to as the current expected credit loss (CECL) methodology under ASC 326. The measurement of expected credit losses under the CECL methodology is applicable to financial assets including Receivables from affiliates.

The Company recognizes as an allowance its estimate of lifetime expected credit losses. The Company performed an evaluation of trade receivables to determine whether it is "probable that the entity will collect substantially all of the consideration to which it will be entitled" for goods or services transferred to the customer (the "collectability threshold") along with its historical write-off history. The approach is based on the Company's historical default rates over the expected life of the trade receivables and is adjusted to reflect current economic conditions as well as reasonable future economic conditions. To arrive at the CECL amount, the Company applied the adjusted historical loss rates to trade receivable balances outstanding at period-end by delinquency/ days past due category at the end of the reporting period. This evaluation takes into account the customer's ability and intention to pay the consideration when it is due along with incorporating changes in the forward-looking estimates. There was no credit allowance at June 30, 2022.

3. Amounts owed to Clearing Broker

All shareholder transactions are cleared through the Company's clearing broker, BofA Securities Inc. At June 30, 2022, the amount payable to the clearing broker is $312,232 which is included in amounts owed to clearing broker on the Statement of Financial Condition.

4. Related Party Transactions

In accordance with an expense sharing agreement, the Parent pays certain expenses, such as rent, personnel and insurance, on behalf of the Company and is then reimbursed by the Company. The Company is charged for these services based upon (a) actual costs incurred, where they are separately identifiable and (b) usage of office space or resources directly supporting the Company incurred by the Computershare group on the Company's relative number of full time employees in comparison to other affiliates of the group or percent of revenue or estimated usage to which such services are provided. For the year ended June 30, 2022, utilities and other property-related expenses charged back to the Company totaled $56,966 which is included in Occupancy expenses on the Statement of Income.

Report as of August 25, 2022

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

To the Board of Directors of Georgeson Securities Corporation

We have examined Georgeson Securities Corporation's assertions, included in the accompanying Georgeson Securities Corporation's Compliance Report, that

- (1) the Company's internal control over compliance with the financial responsibility rules (as defined below) was not effective during the year ended June 30, 2022 based on controls necessary to achieve the objectives of the financial responsibility rules,
- (2) the Company's internal control over compliance with the financial responsibility rules was not effective as of June 30, 2022 based on controls necessary to achieve the objectives of the financial responsibility rules,
- (3) the Company was in compliance with 17 C.F.R. §§ 240.15c3-1 (the "net capital rule") and 240.15c3-3(e) (the "reserve requirements rule") as of June 30, 2022, and
- (4) the information used to assert that the Company was in compliance with 17 C.F.R. §§ 240.15c3-1 and 240.15c3-3(e) was derived from the Company's books and records.

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining a system of internal control over compliance that has the objective of providing the Company with reasonable assurance that non-compliance with 17 C.F.R. § 240.15c3-1, 17 C.F.R. § 240.15c3-3 (the "customer protection rule"), 17 C.F.R. § 240.17a-13 ("the quarterly securities count rule"), or Rule 2231 of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (the "account statements rule"), which requires account statements to be sent to the customers of the Company (collectively, the "financial responsibility rules") will be prevented or detected on a timely basis. The Company's management is also responsible for compliance with the net capital rule and the reserve requirements rule and that the information used to assert compliance was derived from the books and records. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's assertions based on our examination.

We conducted our examination in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the examination to obtain reasonable assurance about whether (1) the Company's internal control over compliance with the financial responsibility rules was effective as of and during the year ended June 30, 2022, (2) the Company complied with 17 C.F.R. §§ 240.15c3-1 and 240.15c3-3(e) as of June 30, 2022, and (3) the information used to assert compliance with 17 C.F.R. §§ 240.15c3-1 and 240.15c3-3(e) as of June 30, 2022 was derived from the Company's books and records. Our examination included testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control over compliance with the financial responsibility rules, testing and evaluating the Company's compliance with 17 C.F.R. §§ 240.15c3-1 and 240.15c3-3(e), determining whether the information used to assert compliance with 240.15c3-1 and 240.15c3-3(e) was derived from the Company's books and records, and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our examination provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our examination does not provide a legal determination on Georgeson Securities Corporation's compliance with the financial responsibility rules.

Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over compliance may not prevent or detect non-compliance with the financial responsibility rules. Also, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

As described in the accompanying compliance report, the following material weakness was identified in the Company's internal control over compliance as of and during the year ended June 30, 2022:

- The Company's internal controls over compliance were not designed to send account statements that complied with Rule 2231 of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority.

In our opinion,

- because of the material weakness referred to above, the Company's internal control over compliance with the financial responsibility rules was not effective as of and during the year ended June 30, 2022,
- the Company was in compliance with the net capital rule and the reserve requirements rule as of June 30, 2022, and
- the information used to assert that the Company was in compliance with 17 C.F.R. §§ 240.15c3-1 and 240.15c3-3(e) was derived from the Company's books and records.
