Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis

This Quarterly Report on Form 10-QSB, including the information incorporated by reference herein, includes "forward looking statement" within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Act") and Section 21E of the Securities Act of 1934, as amended ("Act of 34"). All of the statements contained in this Quarterly Report on Form 10-QSB, other than statements of historical fact, should be considered forward looking statements, including, but not limited to, those concerning the Company's strategies, objectives and plans for expansion of its operation, products and services and growth in demand for its products and services. There can be no assurances that these expectations will prove to have been correct. Certain important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from the Company's expectations (the "Risk Factors") are disclosed in this Quarterly report on Form 10-QSB. All subsequent written and oral forward looking statements by or attributable to the Company or persons acting on behalf are expressly qualified in their entirety by such Risk Factors. Investors are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward looking statements which speak only as of the date hereof and are not intended to give any assurance as to future results. The Company undertakes no obligation to publicly release any revisions to these forward-looking statements to reflect events or reflect the occurrence of unanticipated events.

Veridigm, Inc. was formerly known as eNotes Systems, Inc., and prior to that as TotalMed, Inc., and prior to that as Fonecash, Inc. (the "Company"). The Company was incorporated under the laws of the State of Delaware on August 7, 1997. On May 11, 2005, the Company changed its name from FoneCash, Inc. to TotalMed, Inc., and on April 28, 2006, signed a Stock Purchase Agreement to acquire all of the issued and outstanding shares of eNotes Systems, Inc. in exchange for 20,000,000 restricted shares of the Company's common stock, and thereafter changed its name to eNotes Systems, Inc. On November 6, 2006, the Company changed its name from eNotes Systems, Inc. to Veridigm, Inc. and focused its principal efforts on the telemedicine business and complementary medical software.

In the current quarter, management determined that continuing to pursue the Company's telemedicine business was not in the best interests of the Company. Accordingly, management sought other opportunities with a view to completing some form of merger or acquisition. In March, 2007, the Company entered into a letter agreement with Dimensions, Inc. ("Dimensions"), an arms length party, relating to the grant by Dimensions of an exclusive license to use certain software and other intellectual property owned by or licensed to Dimensions having application within the gaming industry. It is intended that the Company will incorporate a new subsidiary company to hold the license from Dimensions, and that this subsidiary company will engage in the development and commercialization (through a second subsidiary of the Company) of gaming software.

The Company incurred operating losses of $28,658,506 from inception to March 31, 2007. The Company expects its accumulated deficit to grow in the near term as expenses are incurred in developing its business.

General

initially engaged in the payment processing of transactions for banks and their merchants. During the fourth quarter of December 2002, the Company began to wind down those operations. This occurred because of management's inability to raise sufficient funds to finance the continued development of the Company's business plan.

In June 15, 2006 the Company completed a merger transaction and changed its name to eNotes Systems, Inc., and subsequently to Veridigm, Inc. At that point, the Company was engaged in the telemedicine business and intended to develop and commercialize medical software.

In the current quarter, management determined that it was no longer in the best interests of the Company to pursue the telemedicine business, and the Company began to seek other opportunities within the technology sector. Management determined that significant opportunity existed within the gaming technology sector and, accordingly, was able to negotiate a license agreement with Dimensions. While the development of the Company's gaming technology business is still in the early startup stage, it is intended that the Dimensions license will allow the Company to develop and commercialize world class gaming software and technologies for use by other gaming companies. Under this business model, if successful, the Company would see revenue through licensing, support and development agreements.

The Company incurred an operating loss of $115,244 during the three month period ended March 31, 2007 compared to a loss of $11,079 during the same period in 2006. This increase in the Company's operating loss is principally attributable to costs associated with the change of the Company's business focus toward the gaming technology sector, including management compensation, and to interest expenses. The Company expects its accumulated deficit to grow in the near term, but is optimistic that revenues will be generated in the current fiscal year.

The Company's Operations to Date

The Company was developing a system of processing credit cards for an under served community of low volume merchants and in-home salespersons consisting of a fixed wire or wireless terminal and a system of computers, utilizing established communications networks, both wired and wireless, for processing the data from credit and debit cards. The Company ceased this operation during the fourth quarter of 2002.

The Company operated under the name Fonecash, Inc. from inception until May 11, 2005, when it changed its name to TotalMed, Inc. Effective June 15, 2006, with the acquisition of eNotes Systems, Inc., the Company changed its name to eNotes Systems, Inc.

From June, 2006 to March, 2007 the Company was focused on the telemedicine business. That business was determined to be not in the interests of the Company and in March, 2007 the Company refocused on the gaming technology business. The Company's gaming technology business is in its infancy and no considerable expenses have been incurred, or any revenues earned, from that business in the current quarter.

The Company has never been involved with any bankruptcy, receivership or similar proceeding.

Results of Operation

General and administrative expenses during the three month period ending March 31, 2007 were $71,653 as compared to $5,087 for the same period in 2006. This amount in the current quarter is likely more reflective of the Company's current activity, and reflects costs associated with the Company's new business focus including license fees, consulting and other expenses associated with the Company now operating as a going concern in the gaming technology business.

Balance Sheet Data

At March 31, 2007 the Company had no cash or cash equivalents ($56,205 at March 31, 2006).

Property and equipment was valued at $4,802 on March 31, 2007 ($5,246 at March 31, 2006).

Off Balance-Sheet Arrangements

The Company has no off-balance sheet arrangements as defined in Item 303(c) of the SEC's Regulation S-B.

Item 3. Controls and Procedures

As of the end of the quarter end March 31, 2006, the Company carried out an evaluation, under the supervision and with the participation of the Company's management, including the Company's principal executive officer, of the effectiveness of the design and operation of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures pursuant to Exchange Act Rule 13a-14. Based upon that evaluation, the principal executive officer concluded that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures are effective in timely alerting them to material information relating to the Company required to be included in the Company's periodic SEC filings. As such no changes were made in controls and procedures, and only minor changes have been made in the quarter ended March 31, 2007, for the betterment of the controls and procedures.

PART II - OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings

The Company was served in the past with a summons and complaint alleging prior management's failure to pay the monthly payments on a line of credit with Fleet National Bank. Fleet seeks $107,645 plus interest and attorneys' fees, and the Company intends vigorously to defend against the action.

On April 8, 2002 the Securities and Exchange Commission filed a complaint alleging that a registration statement and amendments, filed with the Commission by the Company in December 2001, January 2002 and March 2002, and signed by the former president of the Company, Daniel E. Charboneau, contained material misrepresentations and omissions. On January 6, 2004, a United States District Judge from the District of Columbia entered a default judgment against the Company restraining the Company from further violations of Section 17(a) of the Securities Act of 1933, Sections 10(b) and 13a-13 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rules 10b-5, 12b-20, 13a-1 and 13a-13 thereunder. As part of this order the Court also ordered penalties and interest in the amount of $110,977.

The Company intends to work with the Securities and Exchange Commission in an effort to reach an amicable resolution of this matter.

Item 1A. Risk Factors

Risk Factors

An investment in the Company's common stock involves a high degree of risk. Investors should consider the following risk factors and the other information in this registration statement carefully before investing in the Company's common stock. The Company's business and results of operations could be seriously harmed if any of these risks actually happen.

Change of Business

The Company has recently changed its principal business focus, and accordingly faces risks which are generally present where a company enters into a new business. The Company has entered into a letter agreement dated March 4, 2007 with Dimensions, Inc. ("Dimensions"), an arms length party, relating to the grant by Dimensions of an exclusive license to use certain software and other intellectual property owned by or licensed to Dimensions having application within the gaming industry. It is intended that the Company will incorporate a new subsidiary company to hold the license from Dimensions, and that this subsidiary company will engage in the development and commercialization (through a second subsidiary of the Company) of gaming software. The Company's new business will depend on the success of management in commercializing the gaming technologies which it has licenses, and there is no guarantee that this will be successful, or that the revenues earned by the Company through such commercialization will meet or exceed the Company's expenses.

The Company's Limited Operating History May Prevent it From Achieving Success.

The Company's inception date was August 1997. It has a limited operating history, which may prevent it from achieving success. The Company's has had limited revenues and its operating profits are unproven. It will encounter challenges and difficulties frequently encountered by early-stage companies in new and rapidly evolving markets. The Company may fail to address any of these challenges and the failure to do so would seriously harm the Company's business and operating results. It has limited insights into trends that may emerge and affect the Company's business.

The Company has Incurred Losses and Expects Future Losses

The Company has experienced operating losses in each period since inception and expects to incur losses in the future. On March 31, 2007, the Company had an accumulated deficit of $4,802. The Company expects to increase its operating expenses. As a result, the Company will need to achieve revenues and profits. The Company's failure to achieve revenues would seriously harm the Company's business and operating results. In fact, the Company may not have any revenue growth.

Future Operating Results Will Likely Fluctuate

The Company's quarterly operating results will likely vary significantly in the future, particularly as the Company has refocused its principal business activities into the area of commercializing technologies for use in the gaming industry. As a result, period-to-period comparisons of the Company's operating results will not be meaningful and should not be relied upon as indicators of the Company's future performance. In the future, the Company's operating results may be below the expectations of securities analysts and investors. The Company's failure to meet these expectations would likely depress the market price of the Company's common stock. To date, the Company has not had sufficient operating results to gauge any period-to-period fluctuations.

Independent Certified Public Accountant's Opinion - Going Concern.

The Company's financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2006, were audited by the Company's independent certified public accountant, whose report includes an explanatory paragraph stating that the financial statements have been prepared assuming the Company will continue as a going concern and that the Company has incurred operating losses since its inception that raise substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern.

Our majority shareholders may take action without shareholder vote.

Under certain circumstances, our major shareholders, most of whom are also our officers and directors, may authorize or take corporate action without the notice, approval, consent or vote of the remaining stockholders, subject only to their obligation to timely notify the minority stockholders of the action taken.

The Company Must Retain and Attract Key Personnel

The Company's success depends largely on the skills, experience and performance of the members of its senior management and other key personnel. In the future, the Company's growth will depend upon its ability to attract and retain key management personnel.

Reliance on Key Personnel

The Company presently has no key employees. In the event the Company engages any person as a key employee in the future, the loss of services of such person could seriously harm the Company's business and would add a significant burden to the Company's future prospects.

There may be potential conflicts of interest.

Our officers and directors may be involved in other ventures and activities and may continue such activities in the future. If a specific business opportunity should become available, conflicts of interest may arise in the selection between the Company and the other ventures of the officers and directors.

Since no policy has been formulated for the resolution of such potential conflicts, any conflicts which arise will be settled on a case-by-case basis. There is no guarantee that such a conflict will not result in the Company's inability to participate in particular ventures.

Future Sales of Shares Could Affect the Company's Stock Price

If the Company's stockholders sell substantial amounts of the Company's common stock in the public market, the market price of the Company's common stock could fall. Of the Company's outstanding common stock as of March 31, 2007, 66.1% is eligible for sale in the public market immediately.

Shareholders Will Receive No Dividends

The Company has never paid dividends and has no current plans to do so. Given the Company's financial position, it is unlikely that it will pay any dividends in the foreseeable future. The Company plans instead to retain earnings, if any, to fund internal growth.

The Company Needs Future Capital

The Company needs to raise funds, and funds may not be available on favorable terms or at all. Failure to obtain funds on favorable terms could seriously harm the Company's business and operating results. Furthermore, if the Company issues additional equity securities, stockholders will experience dilution, and the new equity securities could have rights senior to those of the holders of the Company's common stock. If the Company cannot raise funds on acceptable terms, it will seriously hamper its growth.

Government Regulation

The Company has recently refocused its principal business activities into the area of gaming technologies. The gaming business is significantly regulated, but for the most part such regulation applies to the conduct of gaming activities, and the processing of gaming transactions. Management believes that the Company is compliant with all applicable laws generally. However, due to the increasing usage of the Internet and to possible concerns about online gaming in general, it is possible that a number of laws and regulations may be adopted in the future that would affect our conducting business over the Internet. Presently there are few laws or regulations that apply specifically to the sale of goods and services on the Internet. Any new legislation applicable to us could expose us to substantial liability, including significant expenses necessary to comply with these laws and regulations, and reduce use of the Internet on which we depend. Furthermore, the growth and development of the market for e-commerce may promote more stringent consumer protection and privacy laws that may impose additional burdens on those companies conducting business online. The adoption of additional laws or regulations may decrease the growth of the Internet or other online services, which could, in turn, decrease the demand for our services and increase our cost of doing business. For example in the future, we might be subjected to some or all of the following sources of regulation: state or federal banking regulations; federal money laundering regulations; international banking or financial services regulations or laws governing other regulated industries; or U.S. and international regulation of Internet transactions. The application to us of existing laws and regulations relating to issues such as banking, currency exchange, online gaming, pricing, taxation, quality of services, electronic contracting, and intellectual property ownership and infringement is unclear. In addition, we may become subject to new laws and regulations directly applicable to the Internet or our activities. If we are found to be in violation of any current or future regulations, we could be exposed to financial liability, including substantial fines which could be imposed on a per transaction basis; forced to change our business practices; or forced to cease doing business altogether or with the residents of one or more states or countries.

- (1) I have reviewed this Form 10-QSB of Veridigm, Inc;
- (2) Based on my knowledge, this report does not contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary to make the statements made, in light of the circumstances under which such statements were made, not misleading with respect to the period covered by this report;
- (3) Based on my knowledge, the financial statements, and other financial information included in this report, fairly present in all material respects the financial condition, results of operations and cash flows of the small business issuer as of, and for, the periods presented in this report;
- (4) I am responsible for establishing and maintaining disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Exchange Act Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e)) and internal control over financial reporting (as defined in Exchange Act Rules 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f)) for the small business issuer and have:
  - (a) Designed such disclosure controls and procedures, or caused such disclosure controls and procedures to be designed under our supervision, to ensure that material information relating to the small business issuer, including its consolidated subsidiaries, is made known to us by others within those entities, particularly during the period in which this report is being prepared;
  - (b) Designed such internal control over financial reporting, or caused such internal control over financial reporting to be designed under our supervision, to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles;
  - (c) Evaluated the effectiveness of the small business issuer's disclosure controls and procedures and presented in this report our conclusions about the effectiveness of the disclosure controls and procedures, as of the end of the period covered by this report based on such evaluation; and
  - (d) Disclosed in this report any change in the small business issuer's internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the small business issuer's most recent fiscal quarter (the small business issuer's fourth fiscal quarter in the case of an annual report) that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the small business issuer's internal control over financial reporting; and
- (5) I have disclosed, based on our most recent evaluation of internal control over financial reporting, to the small business issuer's auditors and the audit committee of the small business issuer's board of directors (or persons performing the equivalent functions):
  - (a) All significant deficiencies and material weaknesses in the design or operation of internal control over financial reporting which are reasonably likely to adversely affect the small business issuer's ability to record, process, summarize and report financial information; and
  - (b) Any fraud, whether or not material, that involves management or other employees who have a significant role in the small business issuer's internal control over financial reporting.
