Schedule C: Management Discussion

(1) Description of The Business

The Company is principally engaged in the enhanced oil recovery business. The Company employs a strategy whereby new recovery technologies may be utilized to recover known oil resources, from previously explored reservoirs, where oil was previously uneconomic to recover using conventional technology. The Company accepts some carefully assessed risks associated with the implementation of new recovery techniques, but is averse to geological or exploration risk. Following this strategy the Company has acquired and retained one active property in Wyoming, U.S.A., the LAK Ranch Oil Project.

(2) Discussion of Operations and Financial Condition

By way of an option agreement dated September 24, 1997 the company has a working interest in the unproven LAK Ranch (LAK) oil leasehold interest located near Newcastle, Wyoming, U.S.A. Under the terms of the option agreement the company acquired a 75% interest in the LAK property and up to a 37.5% interest in two adjoining tracts of lands by making payments of US $500,000 and funding US $3,600,000 in exploration expenditures by December 31, 2000. The agreement required that all property expenditures made in excess of US $3,500,000 were to be on a pro-rata basis by the company and the optionor.

Preliminary site investigation, engineering and confirmation drilling was completed during the 1998 fiscal year. The data returned confirmed earlier oil quality, saturation, and resource estimates for the area drilled and indicated that an economic SAGD project was viable for the Property. By mid 2000 the company had raised sufficient funding to conduct a SAGD pilot project on the LAK property and drilling and construction activities were commenced in June of that year.

On December 19, 2000 the company delivered formal notice to the optionor that the company had spent US $3,868,144 on qualifying expenditures for the LAK project and had met the earn-in requirements of the September 1997 option agreement and that the company had vested its 75% working interest in the LAK property. In early January 2001 the company delivered a cash call to the optionor for the 25% share of ongoing project costs. By January 30, 2001 the optionor had made no payment to the company with respect to their 25% share of ongoing costs for the LAK property. The company delivered a formal notice of default to the optionor for their failure to pay amounts then due.

On March 1, 2001 the company initiated formal foreclosure proceedings in Wyoming. The optionor contested the company's foreclosure proceedings to the Wyoming District Court. The Court upheld the company's right to foreclose. On April 13, 2001 the company foreclosed on all of the optionor's rights and interests to the LAK property for a bid amount of US $852,571, representing the optionor's share of LAK property costs incurred to date, giving the company a 100% interest in the property.

(2) Discussion of Operations and Financial Condition (cont'd)

Subsequent to the foreclosure, the optionor filed a lawsuit against the company claiming that the company had not earned its interest in the LAK property. The company then filed a motion for partial summary judgement against the optionor and the court in Wyoming set a date to hear the motion on October 31, 2001.

Prior to the court hearing, on October 18, 2001, the optionor agreed to a settlement. Under the terms of the settlement agreement the optionor relinquished any claim to any right or interest in the LAK Ranch Property. In return they received a proportionate, reducible gross overriding royalty on the property of 0.7%. They were also granted certain participation rights in the event that the Company should sell some or all of its rights and interests in the property. From any net sales proceeds the optionor will receive a 7.5% interest in the first US $7.5 million of net proceeds and 1.0% of any proceeds thereafter, subject to certain adjustments.

Initial testing and steaming operations were commenced at the LAK project in April – June 2001. During that time many interruptions and adjustments occurred as the plant was being set up and adjusted for the first time. During this time approximately 3,156 barrels of oil were lifted and sold. Operations were halted in June of 2001 due to the legal problems described above.

On October 4, 2001 the Company re-commenced steaming operations at the LAK Ranch Oil Project and by early January 2002 production of 2,207 barrels had been lifted and sold. However, due to waste-water management problems, steaming operations at the LAK SAGD project were halted in early January 2002. These waste water problems have now been solved and the plant will be operated to complete a 12 month pilot test once the company has secured sufficient funding.

During the two short test runs described above at the LAK SAGD project, a total of 5,363 barrels were produced and sold for proceeds of US $111,924.

During the year ended April 30, 2002, as part of certain financings, the company granted additional royalties of US $0.1360838 per barrel of oil produced on the LAK property.

The company has posted performance bonds of US $45,000 in relation to the LAK property.

(2) Discussion of Operations and Financial Condition (cont'd)

During the year ended April 30, 2002, the company capitalized $72,000 in general and administrative costs in the LAK property (2001 - $72,000).

The Company's investor relation activities have consisted of press releases in the normal course of business, the answering of telephone inquiries and the dissemination of corporate and promotional materials to interested parties.

During 2002 the Company has terminated its services agreement with Pacific Capital Markets Inc. ("PCMI") of Vancouver. PCMI had provided investor relations and administrative services to the Company. PCMI had provided at least two full time consultants working for the Company in exchange for monthly fees of $10,000. At this time PCMI continues to assist the company in a reduced capacity.

On November 5, 2001 the Company announced the cancellation of 2.157 million incentive stock options previously granted to Directors, Officers and Employees at a price of $0.80 and $0.95. The Company then granted 1.92 million incentive stock options to Directors, Officers and Employees, exercisable for a period of 4 years at a price of $0.35.

Derek Resources has named Pat Boswell as a director of the company. Mr. Boswell, a native of Calgary, has 26 years of experience in the oil and gas industry. He currently sits as the president and chief executive officer of Calgary-based International Frontier Resources Corporation. Mr. Boswell has accrued a great deal of experience and expertise in the oil and gas industry, and his knowledge and guidance will make a great contribution.

(3) Subsequent Events

The company has applied to the TSX Venture exchange for the settlement of debt of accounts payable and short-term loans. The company plans to issue 14,745,536 shares at a price of $0.10 when it receives final approval. See notes below for detail. The TSX Venture Exchange accepted the shares for debt filing on February 5, 2003.

On June 6, 2001 the company issued a promissory note in the principal amount of US $100,000. Interest on the note was calculated at rate of 0.8333% per month and interest was payable monthly. All principal and any outstanding interest was due and payable on June 6, 2002. In addition to the interest payable on the note, the lender received a gross overriding royalty on the LAK Ranch property of US $0.01 per barrel of oil produced. On August 21, 2002 the lender agreed to settle US $50,000 (C $78,675) from the principal amount in exchange for common shares of the company at a price of $0.10 per share. At the time of writing, settlement documentation is complete and pending regulatory approval. On September 16, 2002 the company paid cash for all outstanding interest on this note in the amount of US $10,911 (C $17,171). The company had earlier paid cash for two of the monthly interest payments due. The Lender has agreed to secure the remaining principal amount of US $50,000 (C $78,685) by way of a new promissory note bearing interest payable monthly at a rate of 0.8333% per month. At the time of writing, documentation for this new promissory note is being completed.

On June 15, 2001 the company issued a promissory note in the principal amount of US $471,183 (C $741,500) in settlement of accounts payable to a single creditor. Interest on the note was calculated at a rate of 10.0% per annum. All principal and interest was due and payable on May 31, 2002. In addition to the interest payable on the note, the lender received a gross overriding royalty on the LAK Ranch property of US $0.0471 per barrel of oil produced. The lender also received a right to convert some or all of the principal and interest outstanding into shares of the company at a price of $0.75 per share at any time during the life of the note. The company did not repay the principal and interest on May 31, 2002 and by that time had incurred a further US $38,416.93 in payables for goods and services to this creditor. On August 21, 2002 the company was indebted to this creditor for principal, interest and payables totaling US $568,440 (C $894,220). On August 21, 2002 the lender agreed to settle one half of this total debt, or US $284,220 (C $447,110) in exchange for common shares of the company at a price of $0.10 per share. The lender also agreed that the remaining amount payable by the company of US $284,220 (C $447,110) would be secured by way of a new note issued by the company which is payable no later than September 30, 2003.

On June 27, 2001 the company issued a promissory note for a principal amount of US $100,000. The note bears interest at a rate of 10.0% per annum and all interest and principal is due and payable by the company on May 31, 2003. In addition to the interest payable on the note, the lender received a gross overriding royalty on the LAK Ranch property of US $0.01 per barrel of oil produced. The lender also received a right to convert some or all of the principal and interest outstanding into shares of the company at a price of $0.75 per share at any time during the life of the note. On August 21, 2002 the company settled the accrued interest on this note in the amount of US $12,114 (C $19,064) in exchange for common shares of the company at a price of $0.10 per share. The promissory note itself remains in good standing.
