SUN LIFE FINANCIAL APPOINTS COLM FREYNE AS INTERIM CFO McKenney departing for U.S. executive position

TORONTO (June 22, 2009) – Sun Life Financial Inc. (TSX/NYSE: SLF) announced today the appointment of Colm Freyne as interim Chief Financial Officer effective July 1, 2009 following the resignation of Rick McKenney, who will be taking up an executive position with a U.S. financial services company. Freyne is currently Sun Life's Senior Vice-President and Controller.

"Colm is highly qualified to lead our exceptional enterprise-wide team of finance professionals, given his three decades of international financial services experience," said Donald A. Stewart, Chief Executive Officer. "He has been with Sun Life since 2003, having joined us from a major Canadian chartered bank. The stewardship of our finance function is in very good hands."

Stewart also noted McKenney's contribution to the Company. "Rick's leadership and commitment have helped Sun Life remain strongly capitalized and well positioned to meet the economic challenges of the times. We wish him the very best on his return to the United States."

Over the balance of 2009 the Board and Executive Team will work with Freyne to determine the finance structure to best serve Sun Life for the longer term. Meanwhile our enterprise-wide finance team is focused on supporting our business as we move forward.
