SONA DEVELOPMENT CORP.
(A Development Stage Company)
NOTES TO INTERIM FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
March 31, 2006
(unaudited)

| Note 1 – Nature of Operations and Basis of Presentation

(a) Organization

Sona Development Corp. (the "Company") was incorporated as Houston Produce Corporation under the laws of the State of Texas on December 28, 1988. The Company was organized primarily for the purpose of importing fruits and vegetables from Latin America for sale in the United States market and it was dormant until its reactivation in March 1997. In June 1997, the Company changed its name to Net Master Consultants, Inc. On December 28, 2002, the Company changed its name to Sona Development Corp. The Company has recently abandoned efforts to conclude a potential merger with Idea One Inc. as described in Note 7. The Company is considered a development stage company in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 7.

Unaudited Interim Financial Statements

The accompanying unaudited interim consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principals for interim financial information and with the instructions to Form 10-QSB of Regulation S-B. They do not include all information and footnotes required by United States generally accepted accounting principles for complete financial statements. However, except as disclosed herein, there have been no material changes in the information disclosed in the notes to the financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2005 included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-KSB filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The interim unaudited financial statements should be read in conjunction with those financial statements included in the Form 10-KSB. In the opinion of Management, all adjustments considered necessary for a fair presentation, consisting solely of normal recurring adjustments, have been made. Operating results for the three months ended March 31, 2006.

(b) Going Concern

The financial statements have been prepared on the basis of a going concern which contemplates the realization of assets and the satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business. The Company has not generated any revenues or completed development of any commercially acceptable products or services to date, has a working capital deficiency of $88,156 at March 31, 2006 and has incurred losses of $2,708,857 since inception, and further significant losses are expected to be incurred in the Company's development stage. The Company will depend almost exclusively on outside capital through the issuance of common shares, and advances from related parties to finance ongoing operating losses. The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent on raising additional capital and ultimately on generating future profitable operations. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to raise the necessary funds when needed to finance its ongoing costs. These factors raise substantial doubt about the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern. The accompanying financial statements do not include any adjustments relative to the recoverability and classification of asset carrying amounts or the amount and classification of liabilities that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

Note 2 – Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

(a) Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with United States generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(b) Foreign Currency Translation

The Company considers the U.S. dollar its functional currency. Monetary assets and liabilities resulting from foreign currency transactions are translated into U.S. dollar equivalents using the period end conversion rates. Non-monetary assets and liabilities are translated at the rate of exchange on the transaction date. Revenues, expenses, receipts and payments are translated throughout the year at exchange rates prevailing at the date of the transaction. Exchange gains and losses are included in the loss for the period.

(c) Income Taxes

The Company follows the liability method of accounting for income taxes. Under this method, deferred income tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the estimated tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying values and their respective income tax basis (temporary differences). The effect on deferred income tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date.

(d) Financial Instruments

In accordance with the requirements of SFAS No. 107, "Disclosures about Fair Value of Financial Instruments," the Company has determined the estimated fair value of financial instruments using available market information and appropriate valuation methodologies. The carrying values of cash, promissory notes, accounts payable and amounts due to a related party approximate fair values due to the short-term maturity of the instruments. The Company is not exposed to any credit, currency, or interest rate risks relating to these instruments.

(e) Stock-Based Compensation

On January 1, 2006, the Company adopted SFAS No. 123 (revised 2004) (SFAS No. 123R), Share-Based Payment, which addresses the accounting for stock-based payment transactions in which an enterprise receives employee services in exchange for (a) equity instruments of the enterprise or (b) liabilities that are based on the fair value of the enterprise's equity instruments or that may be settled by the issuance of such equity instruments. In January 2005, the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) issued Staff Accounting Bulletin (SAB) No. 107, which provides supplemental implementation guidance for SFAS No. 123R. SFAS No. 123R eliminates the ability to account for stock-based compensation transactions using the intrinsic value method under Accounting Principles Board (APB) Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, and instead generally requires that such transactions be accounted for using a fair-value-based method. The Company uses the Black-Scholes-Merton (“BSM”) option-pricing model to determine the fair-value of stock-based awards under SFAS No. 123R, consistent with that used for pro forma disclosures under SFAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation. The Company has elected the modified prospective transition method as permitted by SFAS No. 123R and accordingly prior periods have not been restated to reflect the impact of SFAS No. 123R. The modified prospective transition method requires that stock-based compensation expense be recorded for all new and unvested stock options, restricted stock, restricted stock units, and employee stock purchase plan shares that are ultimately expected to vest as the requisite service is rendered beginning on January 1, 2006 the first day of the Company’s fiscal year 2006. Stock-based compensation expense for awards granted prior to January 1, 2006 is based on the grant date fair-value as determined under the pro forma provisions of SFAS No. 123. As the Company did not grant any stock options in 2005, no pro forma information is provided.

Prior to the adoption of SFAS No. 123R, the Company measured compensation expense for its employee stock-based compensation plans using the intrinsic value method prescribed by APB Opinion No. 25. The Company applied the disclosure provisions of SFAS No. 123 as amended by SFAS No. 148, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation – Transition and Disclosure, as if the fair-value-based method had been applied in measuring compensation expense. Under APB Opinion No. 25, when the exercise price of the Company’s employee stock options was equal to the market price of the underlying stock on the date of the grant, no compensation expense was recognized.

The Company accounts for equity instruments issued in exchange for the receipt of goods or services from other than employees in accordance with SFAS No. 123 and the conclusions reached by the Emerging Issues Task Force (“EITF”) in Issue No. 96-18. Costs are measured at the estimated fair market value of the consideration received or the estimated fair value of the equity instruments issued, whichever is more reliably measurable. The value of equity instruments issued for consideration other than employee services is determined on the earliest of a performance commitment or completion of performance by the provider of goods or services as defined by EITF 96-18.

(f) Loss per Share

The Company computes loss per share in accordance with SFAS No. 128, “Earnings per Share” which requires presentation of both basic and diluted earnings per share on the face of the statement of operations. Basic loss per share is computed by dividing net loss available to common shareholders by the weighted average number of outstanding common shares during the period. Diluted loss per share gives effect to all dilutive potential common shares outstanding during the period including stock options and warrants, using the treasury method, and preferred stock, using the if-converted method. Dilutive loss per share excludes all potential common shares if their effect is anti-dilutive.

Note 2 – Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

(g) Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In February 2006, the FASB issued SFAS No. 155, "Accounting for Certain Hybrid Financial Instruments-an amendment of FASB Statements No. 133 and 140", to simplify and make more consistent the accounting for certain financial instruments. SFAS No. 155 amends SFAS No. 133, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities", to permit fair value remeasurement for any hybrid financial instrument with an embedded derivative that otherwise would require bifurcation, provided that the whole instrument is accounted for on a fair value basis. SFAS No. 155 amends SFAS No. 140, "Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets", to allow a qualifying special-purpose entity to hold a derivative financial instrument that pertains to a beneficial interest other than another derivative financial instrument. SFAS No. 155 applies to all financial instruments acquired or issued after the beginning of an entity's first fiscal year that begins after September 15, 2006, with earlier application allowed. This standard is not expected to have a significant effect on the Company's future reported financial position or results of operations.

In March 2006, the FASB issued SFAS No. 156, "Accounting for Servicing of Financial Assets, an amendment of FASB Statement No. 140, Accounting for Transfers and Servicing of Financial Assets and Extinguishments of Liabilities". This statement requires all separately recognized servicing assets and servicing liabilities be initially measured at fair value, if practicable, and permits for subsequent measurement using either fair value measurement with changes in fair value reflected in earnings or the amortization and impairment requirements of Statement No. 140. The subsequent measurement of separately recognized servicing assets and servicing liabilities at fair value eliminates the necessity for entities that manage the risks inherent in servicing assets and servicing liabilities with derivatives to qualify for hedge accounting treatment and eliminates the characterization of declines in fair value as impairments or direct write-downs. SFAS No. 156 is effective for an entity's first fiscal year beginning after September 15, 2006. This adoption of this statement is not expected to have a significant effect on the Company's future reported financial position or results of operations.

(a) The amounts due to related parties at March 31, 2006 of $77,663 (December 31, 2005 – $11,691) consists primarily of an amount of $76,000 due to a significant shareholder for cash loans, consulting fees and reimbursable expenses. On February 17, 2006, the Company issued a Promissory Note for $50,000 to this significant shareholder in exchange for a loan of $50,000. The loan bears interest at a rate of 10% per annum, and is due from the proceeds of the next financing arranged by the Company. At March 31, 2006, the Company had accrued $575 of interest on this loan. This loan is unsecured and due on demand. The Company has also issued 150,000 restricted common shares to the lender as additional consideration for the loan. If the Note is not paid in full from the proceeds of the Company's next financing, the lender will be entitled to a one-time late charge equal to 2% of the outstanding principal amount of the Note. Overdue payments will bear interest at 12% per annum until paid. At March 31, 2006, the Company was indebted $25,425 to this shareholder for consulting fees and reimbursable expenses. This debt bears no interest and has no defined terms of repayment.

(b) On December 1, 1999, the Company entered into a consulting agreement with the Company's sole officer and director. The agreement has an automatic renewal provision unless terminated by either party. In the first three months of fiscal 2006, the Company incurred $9,000 (2005 – $9,000) in consulting fees to this director of which, $1,663 was outstanding at March 31, 2006.

Note 4 – Income Taxes

The Company accounts for its income taxes in accordance with FASB No. 109, "Accounting for Income Taxes." As of March 31, 2006, the Company had net operating loss carry forwards of approximately $1,951,000 that may be available to reduce future years' taxable income and will expire commencing in 2015. Availability of loss usage is subject to change of ownership limitations under Internal Revenue Code 382. Future tax benefits which may arise as a result of these losses have not been recognized in these financial statements, as their realization is determined not likely to occur and accordingly, the Company has recorded a valuation allowance for the deferred tax asset relating to these tax loss carryforwards.

Note 5 – Capital Stock

(a) Stock split

In 1997, the Company's Board of Directors authorized a 1,000-for-one stock split and the cancellation of 30,000,000 shares as part of a reorganization and reincorporation. In January, 2000, it authorized a two-for-one stock split. In October, 2002, it authorized a one-for-ten reverse stock split that was effected on December 28, 2002.

(b) Stock options

The Company has not issued any options on its common stock and has not recorded any stock-based compensation to date.

(c) Stock issuances

On February 17, 2006, the Company issued 150,000 shares of common stock with a fair value of $52,500 to a shareholder as partial consideration for a $50,000 debt due to a shareholder.

On December 15, 2005, the Company issued 50,000 shares of common stock with a fair value of $25,000 to a director for consulting fees.

On October 19, 2005, the Company issued 1,025,680 shares of common stock in settlement of $102,568 of debt.

During 2005, the Company issued 914,288 shares of its common stock at $0.35 per share for proceeds of $320,000.

On April 05, 2005, 122,000 shares of common stock were issued to a significant shareholder in settlement of $12,200 of debt.

During the year ended December 31, 2004, the Company pursued a private placement of its common stock at a price of $0.35 per share to raise sufficient funds to loan Idea One, Inc. ("Idea One") $500,000 pursuant to its letter of intent as amended (See Note 7). The terms of the private placement indicated to subscribers that all funds raised would be held in escrow until such time as sufficient funds were raised to meet the $500,000 loan obligation to Idea One. As of December 31, 2004 the Company had raised $270,000 pursuant to the private placement, all of which was initially placed into an escrow account.

On December 28, 2004, the letter of intent with Idea One was amended to permit the partial payment of the $500,000 loan obligation. Prior to disbursing the $500,000, the Company obtained releases from all subscribers to the private placement authorizing the release of the funds. As of December 31, 2005 the Company had loaned $500,000 (December 31, 2004 - $275,000) to Idea One secured by Promissory Notes made by Idea One (Note 8).

On December 3, 2004, the Company authorized the issuance of 871,572 shares of its common stock to the subscribers to the private placement at a price of $0.35 per share for a total of $305,050. As at December 31, 2004, the Company had received $270,050 in cash from the private placement leaving a balance of $35,000 recorded in the accounts as subscriptions receivable. The $35,000 was received in fiscal 2005.

On September 30, 2004 the Company issued 85,064 shares of its common stock in lieu of a cash payment for services rendered according to a consulting agreement by a significant shareholder and expenses incurred on behalf of the Company in the amount of $13,725.

On September 29, 2004 the Company issued 192,250 shares of its common stock to repay advances made by a significant shareholder in the amount of $31,020.

On May 28, 2004 the Company issued 86,000 shares of its common stock to repay advances made by a significant shareholder in the amount of $8,600.

During the year ending December 31, 2005, the Company issued:

- (a) 1,147,680 common stock for settlement of $114,768 of debt.
- (b) 50,000 common stock for consulting services valued at $25,000.

During the year ending December 31, 2004, the Company issued:

- (a) 1,149,096 common stock for settlement of debt.
- (b) 65,000 common stock for consulting services.

Note 7 – Proposed Merger

On May 20, 2004, as amended November 1, 2004, November 19, 2004, December 28, 2004, March 22, 2005, April 22, 2005, July 15, 2005, and November 14, 2005, the Company entered into a non-binding letter of intent, as amended, with Idea One, a privately owned company involved in the development of battery cell technology. The letter of intent, as amended, anticipates that Idea One will be acquired by the Company in a reverse merger transaction (“Sona Merger”) pursuant to which the shareholders of Idea One will control the combined entity. The Company did not enter into a definitive agreement with Idea One. (Note 9)

Conditions of closing pursuant to the letter of intent included: (a) loaning Idea One $500,000 in the form of convertible debt instruments or promissory note (satisfied in full on April 8, 2005); b) entering into a definitive agreement with Idea One that will close no later than April 30, 2006; c) completing an equity financing of not less than $1,500,000 by or before April 30, 2006; d) obtaining the approval for the transaction by the board of directors and the shareholders of the Company and Idea One; and e) completing satisfactory due diligence.

Over the term of the Letter of Intent the Company loaned Idea One a total of $550,000 through a series of convertible promissory notes. The convertible promissory notes, as amended, were to automatically convert into Idea One common shares in the event that the transactions contemplated in the letter of intent were not completed by April 30, 2006. Since the transactions contemplated in the letter of intent were not completed by April 30, 2006, the Company and Idea One agreed to convert the outstanding balance, including accrued interest, of $595,642 as of April 30, 2006, at $0.40 per share into 1,489,106 shares of Idea One, on or about May 1, 2006, in full satisfaction of the debt.

Note 8 – Promissory Notes

On November 10, 2004, December 29, 2004, March 22, 2005, and April 08, 2005, Promissory Notes (“Notes”) totaling $500,000 were executed by Idea One payable to the order of the Company for advances made. On November 14, 2005 the terms of all of the above Notes totaling $500,000 were amended. On April 28, 2006, the Company announced that it was abandoning efforts to acquire Idea One.

Terms of the Notes are as follows:

- (1) The Notes bear interest at a rate of 7% per annum on the unpaid principal amount outstanding.
- (2) The entire outstanding principal amount of the Notes, together with all interest accrued thereon, as amended, is due and payable in Idea One’s common stock on a date which shall be the earlier to occur of (a) the Sona Merger or (b) by April 30, 2006 (“Amended Maturity Date”).
- (3) In the event of a merger with or acquisition of Idea One by the Company, the Notes will be consolidated with the Company’s financial statements as loans or forgiven on merger. However, should the Company not conclude a merger with Idea One on or before April 30, 2006 then on May 1, 2006 the outstanding principal and interest due on the Notes will be converted into shares of Idea One valued at the lesser of $0.90 per share or a conversion price equivalent to the lowest price per share at which shares of Idea One common stock have been sold between November 14, 2005 and the Amended Maturity Date.
- (4) Accrued interest on the Notes shall compound quarterly and be added to the unpaid principal amount of the Notes. The Company accrued $2,047 in interest on these notes in 2004, however, the Company has not continued to accrue interest on the Promissory Notes in 2005 due to the unlikelihood of collection.

On February 24, 2006, an additional Promissory Note (“Note”) for $50,000 was executed by Idea One payable to the order of the Company for advances made. The terms of the Note were the same as those of the previously issued Notes except for two differences. The first difference is that the Note bears interest at a rate of 10% per annum on the unpaid principal amount outstanding. The second difference is that should the Company not conclude the Sona Merger on or before April 30, 2006 then on May 1, 2006 the outstanding principal and interest due on the Note will be converted into shares of Idea One valued at the lesser of $0.40 per share or a conversion price equivalent to the lowest price per share at which shares of Idea One common stock have been sold between February 17, 2006 and the Maturity Date. The conversion price is also retroactively applied to the prior Notes totaling $500,000.

As of March 31, 2006 the Company has written down the carrying value of the Notes and accrued interest receivable to $1 due to the uncertainty of: (1) the ability of the Company to complete the proposed merger; and (2) the ultimate value of any shares of Idea One that the Company may receive. (Note 9)

Note 9 – Subsequent Events

On April 28, 2006, the Company announced that it was abandoning efforts to acquire Idea One. Over the term of the letter of intent the Company loaned Idea One a total of $550,000 through a series of convertible promissory notes. The convertible promissory notes, as amended, were to automatically convert into Idea One common shares in the event that the transactions contemplated in the letter of intent were not completed by April 30, 2006. Since the transactions contemplated in the letter of intent were not completed by April 30, 2006, the Company and Idea One agreed to convert the outstanding balance, including accrued interest, of $595,642 as of April 30, 2006, at $0.40 per share into 1,489,106 shares of Idea One, on or about May 1, 2006, in full satisfaction of the debt. At the date of this report, the shares of Idea One had yet to be delivered to the Company.

ITEM 2.

MANAGEMENT'S PLAN OF OPERATION

This Management's Plan of Operation and Results of Operations and other parts of this report contain forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. Forward-looking statements can also be identified by words such as "anticipates," "expects," "believes," "plans," "predicts," and similar terms. Forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance and our actual results may differ significantly from the results discussed in the forward-looking statements. Factors that might cause such differences include, but are not limited to, those discussed in the subsections entitled "Forward-Looking Statements and Factors That May Affect Future Results and Financial Condition" below. The following discussion should be read in conjunction with our financial statements and notes thereto included in this report. All information presented herein is based on our period ended March 31, 2006. Our fiscal year end is December 31.

General

On April 28, 2006, the Company announced that it was abandoning efforts to acquire Idea One.

Our plan of operation is to seek alternative business combinations or acquisitions that all create value for our shareholders. Management has adopted a conservative policy of seeking opportunities that it considers to be of exceptional quality. Therefore, we may have to wait some time before consummating a suitable transaction. Management recognizes that the higher the standards it imposes upon us, the greater may be its competitive disadvantage when vying with other acquiring interests or entities.

Results of Operations

During the period ended March 31, 2006, the Company's operations were limited to satisfying continuous public disclosure requirements, completing our obligations pursuant to the letter of intent with Idea One, and seeking to identify other prospective business opportunities.

The Company has not generated revenues since inception and due to the nature of our search for a suitable business opportunity, cannot determine whether we will ever generate revenue from operations and may continue at a loss.

Capital Expenditures

The Company expended no amounts on capital expenditures for the period from December 28, 1988 (inception) to March 31, 2006.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The Company is in the development stage and, since inception, has experienced significant changes in liquidity, capital resources and shareholders' equity. The Company had current and total assets of $1,105 as of March 31, 2006. These assets consist of cash on hand of $1,104 and $1 credited to the value of the convertible promissory notes from Idea One. Net stockholders deficiency in the Company was $88,156 at March 31, 2006.

On February 17, 2006, the Company advanced $50,000 to Idea One in exchange for a convertible promissory note pursuant to the letter of intent dated May 20, 2004. This advance brought the aggregate amount loan to Idea One on several convertible promissory notes to $550,000. The convertible promissory notes, as amended, bore interest of 7% per annum and were to automatically convert into Idea One common shares in the event that the transactions contemplated in the letter of intent were not completed by April 30, 2006. Since the transactions were not completed, we converted the outstanding balance of $595,642 into 1,489,106 Idea One shares (at $0.40 per share) on May 1, 2006, in full satisfaction of the debt. At the date of this report, the shares of Idea One had yet to be delivered to the Company.

The Company's current assets are not sufficient to conduct its plan of operation over the next twelve (12) months and will have to seek further debt or equity financing to fund operations from shareholder loans or private equity placements. However, the Company has no current commitments or arrangements with respect to, or immediate sources of funding. Further, no assurances can be given that funding, if available would be available to the Company on acceptable terms. The Company's inability to obtain funding, would have a material adverse affect on its plan of operation.

The Company has no current plans for the purchase or sale of any plant or equipment.

The Company has no current plans to make any changes in the number of employees.

Forward Looking Statements and Factors That May Affect Future Results and Financial Condition

The statements contained in sections titled "Plan of Operation", with the exception of historical facts, are forward looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, which reflect our current expectations and beliefs regarding our future results of operations, performance, and achievements. These statements are subject to risks and uncertainties and are based upon assumptions and beliefs that may or may not materialize. These forward looking statements include, but are not limited to, statements concerning:

- our anticipated financial performance and business plan;
- the sufficiency of existing capital resources;
- our ability to raise additional capital to fund cash requirements for future operations;
- uncertainties related to the Company's future business prospects with Sibling;
- the ability of the Company to generate revenues to fund future operations;
- the volatility of the stock market and;
- general economic conditions.

We wish to caution readers that the Company's operating results are subject to various risks and uncertainties that could cause our actual results to differ materially from those discussed or anticipated, including the factors set forth in the section entitled "Risk Factors" below. We also wish to advise readers not to place any undue reliance on the forward looking statements contained in this report, which reflect our beliefs and expectations only as of the date of this report. We assume no obligation to update or revise these forward looking statements to reflect new events or circumstances or any changes in our beliefs or expectations, other than that is required by law.

Risks Factors

Our future operating results are highly uncertain. Before deciding to invest in us or to maintain or increase your investment, you should carefully consider the risks described below, in addition to the other information contained in this annual report. If any of these risks actually occur, our business, financial condition or results of operations could be seriously harmed. In that event, the market price for our common stock could decline and you may lose all or part of your investment.

We have a history of significant operating losses and such losses may continue in the future.

Since our inception in 1988, our operations have resulted in a continuation of losses and an accumulated deficit which reached $2,708,857 at March 31, 2006. During the three month period ended March 31, 2006, we recorded a net loss of $146,238. The Company has never realized revenue from operations. We will continue to incur operating losses as we maintain our search for a suitable business opportunity and satisfy our ongoing disclosure requirements with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission"). Our only expectation of future profitability is dependent upon our ability to acquire a revenue producing business opportunity, which acquisition can in no way be assured. Therefore, we may never be able to achieve profitability.

The Company's limited financial resources cast doubt on our ability to acquire a profitable business opportunity.

The Company's future operation is dependent upon the acquisition of a profitable business opportunity. However, the prospect of acquiring a suitable acquisition is doubtful due to the our limited financial resources. Since we have no current profitable business opportunity, the Company is not in a position to improve this financial condition through debt or equity offerings. Therefore, this limitation may act as a deterrent in future negotiations with prospective acquisition candidates. Should we be unable to acquire a profitable business opportunity the Company will, in all likelihood, be forced to cease operations.

The market for our stock is limited and our stock price may be volatile.

The market for our common stock has been limited due to low trading volume and the small number of brokerage firms acting as market makers. Because of the limitations of our market and volatility of the market price of our stock, investors may face difficulties in selling shares at attractive prices when they want to. The average daily trading volume for our stock has varied significantly from week to week and from month to month, and the trading volume often varies widely from day to day.

We may incur significant expenses as a result of being quoted on the Over the Counter Bulletin Board, which may negatively impact our financial performance.

We may incur significant legal, accounting and other expenses as a result of being listed on the Over the Counter Bulletin Board. The Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, as well as related rules implemented by the Commission, have required changes in corporate governance practices of public companies. We expect that compliance with these laws, rules and regulations, including compliance with Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 as discussed in the following risk factor, may substantially increase our expenses, including our legal and accounting costs, and make some activities more time-consuming and costly. As a result, there may be a substantial increase in legal, accounting and certain other expenses in the future, which would negatively impact our financial performance and could have a material adverse effect on our results of operations and financial condition.

Our internal controls over financial reporting may not be considered effective, which could result in a loss of investor confidence in our financial reports and in turn have an adverse effect on our stock price.

Pursuant to Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, beginning with our annual report for the year ending December 31, 2007, we may be required to furnish a report by our management on our internal controls over financial reporting. Such report will contain, among other matters, an assessment of the effectiveness of our internal controls over financial reporting as of the end of the year, including a statement as to whether or not our internal controls over financial reporting are effective. This assessment must include disclosure of any material weaknesses in our internal controls over financial reporting identified by management. The report will also contain a statement that our independent registered public accounting firm has issued an attestation report on management's assessment of internal controls. If we are unable to assert that our internal controls are effective as of December 31, 2007, or if our independent registered public accounting firm is unable to attest that our management's report is fairly stated or they are unable to express an opinion on our management's evaluation or on the effectiveness of our internal controls, investors could lose confidence in the accuracy and completeness of our financial reports, which in turn could cause our stock price to decline.

Critical Accounting Policies

In Note 2 to the attached interim financial statements for the periods ended March 31, 2006 and 2005 included in the Company's Form 10-QSB, the Company discusses those accounting policies that are considered to be significant in determining the results of operations and our financial position. The Company believes that the accounting principles utilized by us conform to accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The preparation of financial statements requires Company management to make significant estimates and judgments that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses. By their nature, these judgments are subject to an inherent degree of uncertainty. On an on-going basis, the Company evaluates estimates. We base our estimates on historical experience and other facts and circumstances that are believed to be reasonable, and the results form the basis for making judgments about the carrying value of assets and liabilities. The actual results may differ from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions.

Going Concern

The Company's audit expressed substantial doubt as to our ability to continue as a going concern as a result of recurring losses, lack of revenue-generating activities and an accumulated deficit of $2,708,857 as of March 31, 2006. The Company's ability to continue as a going concern is subject to the ability of the Company to realize a profit from operations and /or obtain funding from outside sources. Since the Company has no revenue generating operations, management's plan to address the Company's ability to continue as a going concern over the next twelve months, include: (1) obtaining debt funding from private placement sources; (2) obtaining additional funding from the sale of the Company's securities; and (3) obtaining loans and grants from various financial institutions, where possible. Although management believes that it will be able to obtain the necessary funding to allow the Company to remain a going concern through the methods discussed above, there can be no assurances that such methods will prove successful.

ITEM 3. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

The Company's president acts both as the chief executive officer and chief financial officer and is responsible for establishing and maintaining disclosure controls and procedures.

a) Evaluation of disclosure controls and procedures.

Under the supervision and with the participation of management, including the chief executive officer and chief financial officer, the Company evaluated the effectiveness of the design and operation of its disclosure controls and procedures, as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as of March 31, 2006. Based on this evaluation, the chief executive officer and chief financial officer concluded that, as of the end of the period covered by this report, the Company's disclosure controls and procedures were effective and adequately designed to ensure that the information required to be disclosed in the reports which the Company files or submits under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in applicable rules and forms.

The auditors did not test the effectiveness of nor relied on the internal controls of the Company for the fiscal quarters ended March 31, 2006 and 2005.

(b) Changes in internal controls over financial reporting.

During the quarter ended March 31, 2006, there has been no change in the Company's internal control over financial reporting that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, internal control over financial reporting.

The Company's management, including the chief executive officer and chief financial officer, does not expect that its disclosure controls or internal controls will prevent all error and all fraud. A control system, no matter how well conceived and operated, can provide only reasonable, not absolute, assurance that the objectives of the control system are met. In addition, the design of a control system must reflect the fact that there are resource constraints, and the benefits of controls must be considered relative to their costs. Because of the inherent limitations in all control systems, no evaluation of controls can provide absolute assurance that all control issues and instances of fraud, if any, within a company have been detected. These inherent limitations include the realities that judgments in decision-making can be faulty, and that breakdowns can occur because of simple error or mistake.

Additionally, controls can be circumvented by the individual acts of some persons, by collusion of two or more people or by management's override of the control. The design of any systems of controls is based in part upon certain assumptions about the likelihood of future events, and there can be no assurance that any design will succeed in achieving its stated goals under all potential future conditions. Over time, control may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate. Because of these inherent limitations in a cost-effective control system, misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected.

Individual persons perform multiple tasks which normally would be allocated to separate persons and therefore extra diligence must be exercised during the period these tasks are combined. It is also recognized the Company has not designated an audit committee and no member of the board of directors has been designated or qualifies as a financial expert. The Company should address these concerns at the earliest possible opportunity.
