VALIDIAN CORPORATION AND SUBSIDIARIES
A DEVELOPMENT STAGE ENTERPRISE
Notes to Consolidated Condensed Financial Statements
March 31, 2005
(Unaudited)

Validian Corporation (the "Company") was incorporated in the State of Nevada on April 12, 1989 as CCC Funding Corp. The Company underwent several name changes before being renamed to Validian Corporation on January 28, 2003.

Since August 3, 1999, the efforts of the Company have been devoted primarily to the development of a high speed, highly secure method of exchanging data between applications using the internet, and to marketing initiatives designed to position the Company within the marketplace. Prior to August 3, 1999, the Company provided consulting services for web site implementation, multimedia CD design, computer graphic publication, as well as implementation of dedicated software solutions used in connection with the French Minitel and the internet. As the Company commenced development activities on this date, it is considered for financial accounting purposes to be a development stage enterprise and August 3, 1999 is the commencement of the development stage.

1. Basis of Presentation

The accompanying consolidated condensed financial statements include the accounts of Validian Corporation and its wholly owned subsidiaries (collectively, the "Company") after elimination of all significant intercompany balances and transactions. The financial statements have been prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America which require management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. While management has based its assumptions and estimates on the facts and circumstances currently known, final amounts may differ from such estimates.

The interim financial statements contained herein are unaudited but, in the opinion of management, include all adjustments (consisting only of normal recurring entries) necessary for a fair presentation of the financial position and results of operations of the Company for the periods presented. The results of operations for the three months ended March 31, 2005 are not necessarily indicative of the operating results for the full fiscal year ending December 31, 2005. Moreover, these financial statements do not purport to contain complete disclosure in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles used in the United States of America and should be read in conjunction with the Company's audited financial statements at and for the year ended December 31, 2004.

The consolidated condensed financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. The Company has no revenues, has an accumulated deficit of $18,266,869 as at March 31, 2005, and has incurred a loss of $1,216,637 and negative cash flow from operations of $864,672 for the three months then ended. Additionally, as of December 31, 2005, the 4% senior subordinated convertible debentures will have reached maturity, at which time any unconverted balance plus accrued interest thereon, will become payable. The Company also expects to continue to incur operating losses for the foreseeable future, and has no lines of credit or other financing facilities in place.

If the Company obtains further financing and generates revenue, it expects to incur operating expenditures of approximately $4.7 million for the year ending December 31, 2005. In the event the Company cannot raise the funds necessary to finance its research and development and sales and marketing activities, it may have to cease operations.

All of the factors above raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. Management's plans to address these issues include raising capital through the private placement of equity and the exercise of previously-issued equity instruments. The Company's ability to continue as a going concern is subject to management's ability to successfully implement these plans. Failure to do so could have a material adverse effect on the Company's position and or results of operations and could also result in the Company ceasing operations. The consolidated financial statements do not include adjustments that would be required if the assets are not realized and the liabilities settled in the normal course of operations.

Even if successful in obtaining financing in the near term, the Company cannot be certain that cash generated from its future operations will be sufficient to satisfy its liquidity requirements in the longer term and it may need to continue to raise capital by issuing additional equity or by obtaining credit facilities. The Company's future capital requirements will depend on many factors, including, but not limited to, the market acceptance of its products and the level of its promotional activities and advertising required to generate product sales. No assurance can be given that any such additional funding will be available or that, if available, it can be obtained on terms favourable to the Company.

2. Significant accounting policies

(a) Property and equipment:

Property and equipment is stated at cost less accumulated depreciation, and includes computer hardware and software, furniture and equipment, equipment under capital lease and leasehold improvements. These assets are being depreciated on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives, as follows: computer hardware, furniture and equipment: 3 years; equipment under capital lease: over the term of the lease, being 4 years; computer software: 1 year; leasehold improvements: over the term of the lease, being 2 years.

(b) Leases:

Leases are classified as either capital or operating in nature. Capital leases are those which substantially transfer the benefits and risk of ownership to the Company. Assets acquired under capital leases are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease, being 4 years. Obligations recorded under capital leases are reduced by the principal portion of lease payments. The imputed interest portion of lease payments is charged to expense.

(c) Deferred financing costs:

Deferred financing costs represent the costs associated with arranging the 4% senior subordinated convertible debenture financing. The costs are being amortized over the two year term of the debentures.

(d) Deferred consulting services:

Deferred consulting services represent the portion of prepaid non-cash consulting fees for services to be rendered in periods in excess of twelve months from the balance sheet date. Prepaid non-cash consulting fees related to services to be rendered within twelve months are included in prepaid expenses on the balance sheet. These costs will be charged to expenses as the services are rendered. If for any reason circumstances arise which would indicate that the services will not be performed in the future, these prepaid non-cash consulting fees will be charged to expense immediately.

(e) Stock based compensation:

The Company applies the intrinsic value-based method of accounting prescribed by Accounting Principles Board ("APB") Opinion No. 25, "Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees", and related interpretations including FASB Interpretation No. 44, "Accounting for Certain Transactions Involving Stock Compensation an interpretation of APB Opinion No. 25" issued in March 2000, to account for its stock options for employees. Under this method, compensation expense is recorded on the date of grant only if the current market price of the underlying stock exceeded the exercise price. Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation," established accounting and disclosure requirements using a fair value-based method of accounting for stock-based employee compensation plans. These provisions are required to be applied to stock compensation granted to non-employees. As permitted by SFAS No. 123, the Company has elected to continue to apply the intrinsic value-based method of accounting described above for awards granted to employees, and has adopted the disclosure requirements of SFAS No. 123.

2. Significant accounting policies (continued)

Had compensation costs in respect of options granted to employees been determined using the fair value based method at the grant date, the Company's pro forma net loss and basic and diluted loss per share for the three months ended March 31, 2005 and 2004 would have been as follows:

Net loss, as reported	$(1,216,637)	$(2,701,832)

3. Deferred financing costs

The following table sets forth the change in deferred financing costs:

	March 31, 2005	December 31, 2004

Balance, end of period	$ 92,125	$ 281,224

During December, 2003 and January, 2004, the Company issued a total of $2,000,000 in principal amount of 4% senior subordinated convertible debentures (note 5). In connection with the placement of the debentures, the Company incurred costs of $1,486,279, of which $1,254,500 was financed through the issuance of the Company's Series H warrants and common shares.

Amortization of the deferred financing costs is included in interest and financing costs on the consolidated condensed statement of operations.

5. 4% Senior Subordinated Convertible Debentures

On December 30, 2003, and on January 26 and January 30, 2004, the Company issued $600,000, $650,000 and $750,000, respectively, in 4% senior subordinated convertible debentures, which mature on December 31, 2005. Under the terms of the debentures, the holder may, at any time, convert all or a portion of the outstanding principal plus accrued interest into common stock of the Company at a ratio of one common share for each $0.50 of debt converted. At maturity, any principal plus accrued interest which has not been converted into common stock by the holder, may be repaid by the Company, at its option, either in cash or in common shares of the Company, at a ratio of one common share for each $0.50 of debt outstanding. The conversion ratio will change if the price of future equity issuances is below $0.50.

Holders of the debentures were also granted 1,400,000 Series H warrants to purchase common stock of the Company at the ratio of seven warrants granted for each ten dollars invested. In accordance with APB 14, "Accounting for Convertible Debt and Debt Issued with Stock Purchase Warrants", $1,216,708, representing the relative fair value of the Series H warrants at the issuance date, was allocated to the warrants and recorded as additional paid-in capital.

At the date of issuance, the conversion feature of the debentures was "in-the-money". The intrinsic value of this beneficial conversion feature was $783,292. In accordance with EITF 98-5, "Accounting for Convertible Securities with Beneficial Conversion Features or Contingently Adjustable Conversion Ratios" and EITF 00-27, "Application of Issue No. 98-5 to Certain Convertible Instruments", this amount was recorded as additional paid-in capital.

The 4% senior subordinated convertible debentures are being accreted to their face value through periodic charges to interest expense over the term of the debentures.

During the three months ended March 31, 2005, holders of the debentures exercised the conversion feature and converted a total of $480,000 in principal, and $19,692 in accrued interest which was included in accounts payable and accrued liabilities, into 999,384 common shares of the Company (Note 7(a)). Deferred financing costs of $148,659 (note 3) were charged to additional paid-in capital in respect of the debentures converted, resulting in a net credit to stockholders' equity of $351,033. Of the original principal of $2,000,000, the remaining principal outstanding on the debentures as at March 31, 2005 is $300,000. (December 31, 2004 - $780,000).

During the three months ended March 31, 2005, the Company accreted the debentures payable through charges to interest expense totaling $317,946. Included in this amount is $259,823, which represents the unamortized discount that was recognized as interest expense during the three months ended March 31, 2005 as a result of the conversion of debentures into common shares of the Company (Note 7(a)).

The following table sets forth the financial statement presentation of the debenture proceeds on issuance:

Balance allocated to 4% senior subordinated convertible debentures, end of period	$ 170,019	$ 332,073

As the 4% senior subordinated convertible debentures will reach maturity and become payable effective December 31, 2005, they have been classified as a current liability at March 31, 2005 and December 31, 2004.

6. Capital lease obligation

c) Transactions involving stock options

During the three months ended March 31, 2005, the Company granted 500,000 stock options to employees and consultants under the Company's 2004 Incentive Equity Plan. 150,000 of these options were granted to consultants in respect of services provided during 2004, and 350,000 options were granted to employees.

The options granted to consultants give them the right to purchase 150,000 common shares, at exercise prices as follows: 75,000 at $0.90, and 75,000 at $0.95. The options vested on various dates ranging from October 1, 2004 to November 24, 2004, and will be exercisable for a period of five years commencing from the grant date, subject to early forfeiture in the event the holder ceases to be engaged by the Company prior to the stated expiry date. In connection with these options, a liability in the amount of $54,965 was included in accrued liabilities at December 31, 2004, based on the fair value of the options at their grant date, and related expenses of $50,584 and $4,381 were included in selling, general and administrative expenses, and research and development expenses, respectively, for the year ended December 31, 2004. The fair value was determined using the following weighted average assumptions: expected dividend yield 0%; risk-free interest rate of 3.77%; expected volatility of 167%; and an average expected life of 4.14 years. 50,000 of these options were forfeited effective March 8, 2005 as a result of the termination of the related consulting agreement on November 30, 2004.

The 350,000 options granted to employees include the following provisions: all of the options vested immediately upon issuance; 250,000 have an exercise price of $0.90; 100,000 have an exercise price of $0.50; the expiry dates for unexercised options range from March 31, 2009 to December 31, 2009, with provision for early forfeiture in the event the holder ceases to be employed by the Company prior to the stated expiry date. In accordance with the Company's policy in respect of options granted to employees (note 2(e)), there has been no compensation expense recorded in connection with these options, as the market value of the underlying stock at the grant date did not exceed their exercise price. The fair value of these options at date of grant was $161,585, determined using the following weighted average assumptions: expected dividend yield 0%; risk-free interest rate of 3.44%; expected volatility of 170%; and an average expected life of 4.29 years.

During the three months ended March 31, 2005, 1,310,000 of the 3,912,302 stock options granted to non-employees during 2003 were forfeited.

d) Stock-based compensation

Included in selling, general and administrative expenses for the three months ended March 31, 2005 is $30,209 (2004 - $163,933) in stock-based compensation, relating to the amortization of prepaid consulting fees recorded in 2003 on the issuance of warrants as compensation for services to be rendered.

8. Interest and financing costs

The following table sets forth the charges to interest and financing costs during the three months ended March 31, 2005 and March 31, 2004:

	2005	2004
Interest and financing costs relating to 4% senior convertible debentures:
Accrued interest	$ 4,336	$ 15,912
Accretion of the debentures payable (note 5)	317,946	141,868
Amortization of deferred financing costs (note 3)	40,440	152,157
	362,722	309,937
Accrued interest on 12% promissory notes	8,768	10,560
Interest portion of capital lease payments	786	--
Total interest and financing costs	$ 372,276	$ 320,497

9. Loss per share

For the purposes of the loss per share computation, the weighted average number of common shares outstanding has been used. Had the treasury stock method been applied to the unexercised stock options and warrants, the effect on the loss per share would be anti-dilutive.

The following securities could potentially dilute basic earnings per share in the future but have not been included in diluted earnings per share because their effect was antidilutive:

	March 31, 2005	March 31, 2004
Stock options	3,052,302	3,912,302
Series B stock purchase warrants	--	320,000
Series E stock purchase warrants	2,155,000	2,155,000
Series F stock purchase warrants	3,896,000	4,000,000
Series G stock purchase warrants	400,000	400,000
Series H stock purchase warrants	2,727,500	2,727,500
Series I stock purchase warrants	3,513,333	3,513,333
	15,744,135	17,028,135

10. Related party transactions

As discussed further in note 11(b), the Company subleases excess office space to a related party.

Included in selling, general and administrative expenses for the three months ended March 31, 2004, is $10,000 in administrative charges payable to a corporation controlled by two of the Company's officers and directors. Included in accounts payable and accrued liabilities at March 31, 2004, was $113,076 in respect of administrative expenses payable to this corporation, of which $103,076 was with respect to services rendered during the period from October 2001 to January 2004, which period was prior to the corporation becoming a related party to the Company. There were no transactions with this corporation during the three months ended March 31, 2005.

11. Guarantees and Commitments

a) Guarantee

The Company has entered into an agreement that contains features which meet the definition of a guarantee under FASB Interpretation No. 45 ("FIN 45"). FIN 45 defines a guarantee to be a contract that contingently requires the Company to make payments (either in cash, financial instruments, other assets, common stock of the Company or through the provision of services) to a third party based on changes in an underlying economic characteristic (such as interest rates or market value) that is related to an asset, liability or an equity security of the other party.

The Company has the following guarantee that is subject to the disclosure requirements of FIN 45: In the normal course of business, the Company entered into a lease agreement for facilities. As the lessee, the Company agreed to indemnify the lessor for liabilities that may arise from the use of the leased facility. The maximum amount potentially payable under the foregoing indemnity cannot be reasonably estimated. The Company has liability insurance that relates to the indemnification described above.

Historically, the Company has not made any significant payments related to the above-noted indemnity and accordingly, no liability related to the contingent feature of this guarantee has been accrued in the financial statements.

b) Commitment

During April, 2004 the Company entered into a lease agreement for office space. Minimum annual rent payable under this contract is approximately as follows:

2005	$ 51,564
2006	22,917
Total	$ 74,481

Effective July 1, 2004, the Company also entered into an agreement to sublease excess office space to a related company. The companies are related by virtue of an officer and director of Validian Corporation being also an officer and director of the other company. Included in accounts receivable is $21,109 (December 31, 2004 - $14,181) in rent receivable pursuant to this sublease agreement. Rental expense for the period, which is included in selling, general and administrative expenses, has been reduced by sublease income of $7,867 (2004 - $nil). The anticipated remaining sublease income is approximately as follows: 2005 - $22,194; and 2006 - $9,864. The transaction has been recorded at the exchange amount.

Rent expense incurred under the operating lease for the three months ended March 31, 2005, net of sublease income was $27,270 (2004 - $nil).

12. Supplementary cash flow information

The Company paid no income taxes during the three months ended March 31, 2005, nor during the three months ended March 31, 2004. Interest paid in cash during the three months ended March 31, 2005 and March 31, 2004 were $786 and $nil, respectively.

Non-cash financing activities are excluded from the consolidated condensed statement of cash flows. The following is a summary of such activities for the three months ended March 31, 2005 and March 31, 2004:

	2005	2004
Conversion of 4% senior subordinated convertible debentures and accrued interest, net of deferred financing cost of $148,659	$ 351,033	$ --
Conversion of promissory notes and accrued interest	--	180,000
Debt issuance costs	--	868,964
Share issuance costs	--	327,591
Elimination of $54,965 in accrued liabilities through the granting of 150,000 stock options to consultants for services rendered during 2004	54,965	--
Total	$ 405,998	$1,376,555

13. Subsequent events

On April 22, 2005, the Company granted 300,000 stock options to an employee under the Company's 2004 Incentive Equity Plan. 150,000 of the options vested immediately upon issuance, and 150,000 will vest upon the achievement of certain predefined goals.

In April, 2005, the Company entered into an agreement with an unrelated company to provide consulting services for a three-month period commencing April 1, 2005, for which the Company is committed to pay a fee of $10,000 per month.

ITEM 2. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OR PLAN OF OPERATIONS

FORWARD-LOOKING INFORMATION

The discussion in this Form 10-QSB contains both historical information and forward-looking information. The forward-looking information, which generally is information stated to be anticipated, believed, expected or projected by us, involves known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause our actual results and performance to be materially different from any future results and performance expressed or implied by such forward-looking information. Potential risks and uncertainties include, without limitation and in addition to other factors discussed in this report:

- * the uncertainties inherent in the development of new software applications;
- * our need for additional capital funding;
- * the need for acceptance of our software applications by third party payers; and
- * rapid developments in technology, including developments by competitors.

We are a software development company focused on developing and commercializing products based on our technology that provides a multi-platform development environment and facilitates secure communications on the internet.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

We prepare our financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and related disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Significant accounting policies and methods used in preparation of the financial statements are described in note 2 to our 2004 Consolidated Financial Statements and updated in note 2 to our March 31, 2005 Interim Consolidated Condensed Financial Statements. We evaluate our estimates and assumptions on a regular basis, based on historical experience and other relevant factors. Actual results could differ materially from these estimates and assumptions. The following critical accounting policies are impacted by judgments, assumptions and estimates used in preparation of our March 31, 2005 Interim Consolidated Condensed Financial Statements.

Revenue recognition:

We have not recorded any revenues to date. At such time as we enter into revenue generating contracts with customers, we will recognize revenue when title has passed, persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, performance has occurred, the amount of the contract is determinable, customer specified test criteria have been met and the earnings process is complete.

Long-lived assets:

We perform impairment tests on our long-lived assets if events or changes in circumstances indicate that an impairment loss may have occurred. We estimate the useful lives of capital assets and deferred charges based on the nature of the asset, historical experience and the terms of any supplier contracts. The valuation of long-lived assets is based on the amount of future net cash flows these assets are estimated to generate. Revenue and expense projections are based on management's estimates, including estimates of current and future industry conditions. A significant change to these assumptions could impact the estimated useful lives or valuation of long-lived assets resulting in a change to depreciation or amortization expense and impairment charges.

Research and development expenses:

We expense all of our research and development expenses in the period in which they are incurred. At such time as our product is determined to be commercially available, we will capitalize those research and development expenditures that are related to the maintenance of the commercial products, and amortize these capitalized expenditures over the estimated life of the commercial product. The estimated life of the commercial product will be based on management's estimates, including estimates of current and future industry conditions. A significant change to these assumptions could impact the estimated useful life of our commercial product resulting in a change to amortization expense and impairment charges.

Stock based compensation:

We apply the intrinsic value-based method of accounting prescribed by Accounting Principles Board (“APB”) Opinion No. 25, “Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees”, and related interpretations including FASB Interpretation No. 44, “Accounting for Certain Transactions Involving Stock Compensation an interpretation of APB Opinion No. 25” issued in March 2000, to account for stock options for employees. Under this method, compensation expense is recorded on the date of grant only if the current market price of the underlying stock exceeded the exercise price. Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (“SFAS”) No. 123, “Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation,” established accounting and disclosure requirements using a fair value-based method of accounting for stock-based employee compensation plans. These provisions are required to be applied to stock compensation granted to non-employees. As permitted by SFAS No. 123, the Company has elected to continue to apply the intrinsic value-based method of accounting described above for awards granted to employees, and has adopted the disclosure requirements of SFAS No. 123.

Had compensation costs in respect of options granted to employees been determined using the fair value based method at the grant date, the Company’s pro forma net loss and basic and diluted loss per share for the three months ended March 31, 2005 and 2004 would have been as follows:

	2005	2004
Net loss, as reported	$(1,216,637)	$(2,701,832)
Add stock-based employee compensation expense included in net loss	--	--
Deduct total stock-based employee compensation expense Determined under the fair value-based method for all awards	(161,585)	--
Pro forma net loss	$(1,378,222)	$(2,701,832)
Earnings per share:
Basic and diluted - as reported	$(0.04)	$(0.12)
Basic and diluted – pro forma	$(0.04)	$(0.12)

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The Three Months Ended March 31, 2005 Compared to the Three Months Ended March 31, 2004

Revenue: We generated no revenues during the three months ended March 31, 2005, nor did we generate any revenues during the three months ended March 31, 2004. Since August 1999 we have directed all of our attention towards the completion, and sales and marketing of, our software applications. We believe that if we are successful in our development and sales and marketing efforts, we will generate a source of revenues in the future from sales and/or licensing of our software applications

Selling, general and administrative expenses: Selling, general and administrative expenses consist primarily of personnel costs, professional fees, insurance, communications expenses, occupancy costs and other miscellaneous costs associated with supporting our research and development and sales and marketing activities. During the three months ended March 31, 2005 we incurred a total of $509,773, including $479,564 in cash-based expenses and $30,209 in stock-based expenses, as compared to $578,241, of which $414,308 was cash-based and $163,933 was stock-based expense, during the three months ended March 31, 2004. There was an overall decrease in selling, general and administrative expenses of $68,468 (12%), comprised of a $133,724 (82%) decrease in the stock-based component, which was partially offset by a $65,256 (16%) increase in the cash-based component of this expense. The increase in the cash-based component of selling, general and administrative expenses occurred primarily as a result of the ramp-up of our sales and marketing efforts commencing during the second quarter of 2004, which initially entailed the addition of seven new sales and marketing personnel, expansion of our leased office space, and increased travel and related costs. As a result of a delay in the expected release date of one of our products, our sales and marketing staff was reduced by five during the third and fourth quarters of 2004, with three positions being terminated and two positions being redeployed to product development. Cash-based administrative expenses were also higher during the three months ended March 31, 2005 as compared with the three months ended March 31, 2004, primarily as a result of the addition of one new administrative employee in February and another in August, 2004, increased occupancy costs and the costs relating to our annual general meeting which was held in February, 2005, for which there was no comparable cost during the three months ended March 31, 2004.

The stock-based component of selling, general and administrative expense for the three month periods ended March 31, 2005 and 2004 consisted of the amortization of prepaid consulting fees recognized on the issuance of warrants during 2003. This amortization was lower during the three months ended March 31, 2005 as a result of the cancellation of a long-term service agreement during the first quarter of 2004, which reduced the amortization of the related prepaid expense during subsequent periods. Additionally, prepaid fees relating to another contract became fully amortized during the fourth quarter of 2004.

During the third quarter of 2002 we began marketing our software applications, with the objective of increasing the number of beta sites and gaining market recognition for our software applications and for our company. We continued with this objective until the second quarter of 2004, at which time we began to ramp up our sales and marketing efforts in anticipation of one of our software applications becoming ready for commercial licensing during the fourth quarter of 2004. As a result of a delay in the expected release date for this software application, we scaled back the ramp-up of our sales and marketing program during the fourth quarter of 2004. Notwithstanding this delay, our initiatives during this phase of our selling and marketing plan focus on the objective of obtaining future commercial sales of our products. The market for software applications is extremely competitive, and is dominated by well-known, established companies. Moreover, the sales cycle in our segment is typically long. For these reasons we have incurred, and will continue to incur, significant sales and marketing expenses in advance of our software applications reaching the stage of being ready for full commercial release.

Research and development expenses: Research and development expenses consist primarily of personnel costs and consulting expenses directly associated with the development of our software applications. During the three months ended March 31, 2005, we incurred $322,849 developing our software applications, which represents an increase of $100,550 (45%) from the $222,299 we incurred during the three months ended March 31, 2004. This 45% increase is due primarily to the expansion of the contract development group from an average of 17 personnel during the three months ended March 31, 2004, to an average of 26 personnel during the three months ended March 31, 2005. Additionally, we redeployed from sales and marketing to product development, one consultant and two employees, one of whom was subsequently terminated, during the third and fourth quarters of 2004.

Interest and financing costs: Interest and financing costs consist of interest and financing costs associated with our 4% senior convertible debentures, interest on promissory notes payable and interest on the capital lease. During the three months ended March 31, 2005, we incurred $372,276 in interest and financing costs, an increase of $51,779 (16%) over the $320,497 in interest and financing costs incurred during the three months ended March 31, 2004. Of the $372,276 in interest and financing costs we incurred during the three months ended March 31, 2005, $362,722 relates to our 4% senior subordinated convertible debentures, $8,768 relates to promissory notes payable, and $786 relates to the capital lease. The $362,722 in interest and financing costs associated with our 4% senior subordinated debentures for the three months ended March 31, 2005 is comprised of: $4,336 of accrued interest charges on the debentures outstanding during the period; $317,946 of accretion of debentures payable through charges to interest expense; and $40,440 of amortization of deferred financing costs. The accretion of debentures payable in the amount of $317,946 includes $259,823 which represents the unamortized discount that was recognized as interest expense during the quarter as a result of the conversion of $331,341 in principal of our 4% senior convertible debentures, net of deferred financing costs of $148,659.

The $320,497 we incurred in interest and financing costs during the three months ended March 31, 2004 is comprised of $309,937 relating to our 4% senior subordinated convertible debentures, and $10,560 in accrued interest on the 12% promissory notes. The $309,937 in interest and financing costs associated with our 4% senior subordinated debentures for the three months ended March 31, 2004 is comprised of: $15,912 of accrued interest charges on the debentures outstanding during the period; $141,868 of accretion of debentures payable through charges to interest expense; and $152,157 of amortization of deferred financing costs.

The decrease of $11,576 (73%) in accrued interest charges on the debentures outstanding during the period occurred as a result of a lower principal balance outstanding during the three months ended March 31, 2005 as compared with the three months ended March 31, 2004, due to the conversion of a total of $1,700,000 in principal during the second and third quarters of 2004 and the first quarter of 2005. The increase of $176,078 (124%) in accretion of debentures payable during the three months ended March 31, 2005 as compared with the three months ended March 31, 2004, occurred primarily as a result of $259,823 in unamortized discount on the conversion of debentures payable during the three months ended March 31, 2005, for which there was no comparable transaction during the three months ended March 31, 2004. This increase was partially offset by a reduction in accretion for debentures outstanding during the period, which occurred because of there being a lower principal balance of debentures payable during the three months ended March 31, 2005, on which accretion was calculated for the period. The decrease of $111,717 (73%) in amortization of deferred financing costs also occurred as a result of the lower principal balance for which the charge was made, due to the conversion of $1,700,000 in principal subsequent to the three months ended March 31, 2004.

The decrease of $1,792 (17%) in accrued interest on 12% promissory notes occurred as a result of the conversion of $169,964 in principal balance of the notes during the three months ended March 31, 2004, which reduced interest charges for periods subsequent to the conversion. As the capital lease was entered into during the second quarter of 2004, there was no interest on capital lease for the three months ended March 31, 2004.

Write-off of prepaid services and write-off of deferred consulting service: As a result of completing the $6,000,000 private equity placement during the first quarter of 2004, we cancelled a long-term service agreement with an unrelated company during the three months ended March 31, 2004. The termination of this agreement resulted in the cancellation of 4,000,000 Series F warrants, issued by us during September 2003, which entailed the write-off of $322,494 of prepaid services and $1,048,100 of deferred consulting services. There was no comparable event during the three months ended March 31, 2005.

Loss on extinguishment of debt: During the three months ended March 31, 2004, we settled promissory notes and accrued interest totaling $180,000, through the issuance of 360,000 shares of our common stock. We recorded a loss in connection with this transaction, representing the difference between the market value of the shares issued at the time of the settlement, and the amount which would have been paid had the debt been settled in cash. There was no comparable event during the three months ended March 31, 2005.

Net Loss: We incurred a loss of $1,216,637 ($0.04 per share) for the three months ended March 31, 2005, compared to a loss of $2,701,832 ($0.12 per share) for the three months ended March 31, 2004. Our revenues and future profitability are substantially dependent on our ability to:

- * license the software applications to a sufficient number of clients;
- * be cash-flow positive on an ongoing basis;
- * modify the successful software applications, over time, to provide enhanced benefits to then-existing users;
- * successfully develop related software applications; and
- * successfully develop related software applications.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

General: Since inception, we have funded our operations from private placements of debt and equity securities. In addition, until September 1999 we derived revenues from consulting contracts with affiliated parties, the proceeds of which were used to fund operations. Until such time as we are able to generate adequate revenues from the licensing of our software applications, we cannot assure that cash from the issuance of debt securities, the exercise of existing warrants and options, and the placements of additional equity securities will be sufficient to fund our long-term research and development and selling, general and administrative expenses.

We have had no commercial revenues to date, nor do we expect to generate commercial revenues during the three months ended June 30, 2005. We anticipate commercial revenues commencing during the third quarter of 2005, however we cannot be assured that this will be the case. Our initial revenues are expected to come from pilot projects which demonstrate the benefits of our software applications. We did not hire additional personnel during the three months ended March 31, 2005, nor do we expect to add any additional personnel during the next 6 months. We have not made any material commitments for capital equipment expenditures during the next 12 months.

We have sufficient cash reserves, based on our current level of expenditures, to fund operations until the middle of the third quarter of 2005. In the event that we are not successful in raising sufficient additional capital by approximately the end of the second quarter of 2005, we will have to severely reduce all of our expenditures. This may result in significant delays in, or possibly precluding, the generation of sufficient revenues from the licensing of our products to generate positive cash flows from operations.

Sources of Capital: In August 1999 we made a transition in business strategies. Prior to August 1999 we provided consulting services in addition to developing our core technology. Since then, we have directed all of our efforts to the development, and sales and marketing of, our software applications. Our principal sources of capital for funding our business activities subsequent to August 1999 have been the private placements of debt and equity securities.

During the three months ended March 31, 2005, we granted 150,000 stock options, valued at $54,965, to consultants for services rendered during 2004. The granting of these options resulted in the elimination of $54,965 in accrued liabilities. The Company has not entered into any off-balance sheet arrangements which would have provided the Company with a source of capital.

Uses of Capital: Since August 1999 we have directed our efforts towards the development and marketing of our software applications. In May 2000, we started to actively market our software applications. We commenced our current marketing program during the third quarter of 2002, and have since engaged additional personnel to assist in, and to expand the scope of, this effort. The objective of this program is to secure pilot projects and to gain market recognition for our company and our products, in order to generate future commercial sales of our products in the earliest time-frame possible. During 2004, we added a total of five people to our sales and marketing team, in order to accelerate our efforts to generate future commercial sales of our products. We also added two administrative employees, increased the area of our leased premises, and acquired new property and equipment. Additionally, we increased the size of our contract software application development group, and hired two employees in the product development department, in order to implement revisions and enhancements to those of our products currently in use as they are identified, while continuing to develop additional products. During the first quarter of 2005, we continued the scale-back of our sales and marketing program which was commenced in the fourth quarter of 2004, in order to maintain a sustainable level for sales and marketing expenditures leading up to the first commercial release of our products. We have not entered into any off-balance sheet arrangements which would have resulted in our use of capital.

The cost to implement appropriate controls and procedures to ensure compliance with Section 404 of the Act is included in our budget for 2005.

ITEM 3. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

The term “disclosure controls and procedures” is defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or the Exchange Act. This term refers to the controls and procedures of a company that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by a company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

In connection with the audit of our consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2004, our independent registered public accounting firm advised the Board of Directors and management of certain significant internal control deficiencies that they considered to be, in the aggregate, a material weakness. These consist of inadequate staffing and supervision leading to the untimely identification and resolution of certain accounting and disclosure matters and failure to perform timely and effective reviews. The independent registered public accounting firm indicated that they considered these deficiencies to be reportable conditions as that term is defined under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a significant deficiency in one or more of the internal control components that alone or in the aggregate precludes our internal controls from reducing to an appropriately low level of risk that material misstatements in our financial statements will not be prevented or detected on a timely basis. We considered these matters in connection with the period-end closing of accounts and preparation of the related consolidated financial statements and determined that no prior period financial statements were materially affected by such matters.

Our size has prevented us from being able to employ sufficient resources at this time to enable us to have an adequate level of supervision and segregation of duties within our internal control system. We will continue to monitor and assess the costs and benefits of additional staffing within the Company.

As required by the SEC rules, we have evaluated the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures as of the end of the period covered by this Report. This evaluation was performed under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including the President and Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer and Treasurer. Based upon that evaluation, our President and Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer and Treasurer have concluded that our controls and procedures were not effective as of the end of the period covered by this Report due to inadequate supervision and segregation of duties.
