MEDICAL INTERNATIONAL TECHNOLOGY, INC.
NOTES TO UNAUDITED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Note 1 – Basis of Presentation

Interim Financial Statements

The accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements are presented in accordance with the requirements for Form 10-QSB and Article 10 of Regulation S-X and Regulation S-B. Accordingly, they do not include all the disclosures normally required by generally accepted accounting principles. Reference should be made to the Medical International Technology, Inc. (the “Company”) Form 10-KSB for the year ended September 30, 2005; and the Form 10-QSB for the quarter ended March 31, 2006, for additional disclosures including a summary of the Company's accounting policies, which have not significantly changed. Operating results for the interim periods are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the year ended September 30, 2006.

Note 2 - Going Concern

Generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America contemplate the continuation of the Company as going concern. However, the Company has reported a net liability position of $21,424 and has accumulated operation losses since inception of $5,763,916, which raises substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. The continuation of the company is dependent upon the continuing financial support of creditors and stockholders and upon obtaining the capital requirements for the continuing operations of the Company. Management believes actions planned and presently being taken provides the opportunity for the Company to continue as a going concern.

Note 3 – Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Principles of consolidation

The accompanying consolidated financial statements include the accounts and transactions of Medical International Technology, Inc. and its wholly owned subsidiary, Medical International Technologies (MIT Canada) Inc. Intercompany transactions and balances have been eliminated in consolidation.

Foreign Currency Translations

The Company operates out of its offices in Montreal, Canada and maintains its books and records in Canadian Dollars. The consolidated financial statements herein have been converted into U.S. Dollars. Balance sheet accounts are translated at exchange rates in effect at the end of the period and income statement accounts have been translated at average exchange rates for the period. Translation gains and losses are included as a separate component of stockholders' equity.

Allowance for Doubtful Accounts

The allowance for doubtful accounts on accounts receivable is charged to income in amounts sufficient to maintain the allowance for uncollectible accounts at a level management believes is adequate to cover any probable losses. Management determines the adequacy of the allowance based on historical write-off percentages and the current status of accounts receivable. Accounts receivable are charged off against the allowance when collectibility is determined to be permanently impaired. As of June 30, 2006, the Company did not establish any reserve for doubtful accounts.

Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost determined by the FIFO method and market.

Property and Equipment

The cost of property and equipment is depreciated over the estimated useful lives of the related assets, which range from 5 to 7 years. Depreciation is computed on the straight-line method for financial reporting purposes and on the declining balance method for income tax reporting purposes. Depreciation expense for the nine-months ended June 30, 2006 and 2005 were $33,760, and $30,174, respectively.

Intangible assets

Patents are being amortized over their respective remaining lives ranging from 9.5 years through 17 years.

Net Loss Per Share

The Company adopted the provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (“SFAS”) No. 128, “Earnings Per Share” (“EPS”) that established standards for the computation, presentation and disclosure of earnings per share, replacing the presentation of Primary EPS with a presentation of Basic EPS.

MEDICAL INTERNATIONAL TECHNOLOGY, INC.
NOTES TO UNAUDITED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Issuances Involving Non-cash Consideration

All issuances of the Company's stock for non-cash consideration have been assigned a dollar amount equaling either the market value of the shares issued or the value of consideration received whichever is more readily determinable.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purpose of the statements of cash flows, the Company considers cash and cash equivalents to include all stable, highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Long-Lived Assets

In August 2001, SFAS No. 144, "Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets," was issued establishing new rules and clarifying implementation issues with SFAS No. 121, "Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to be Disposed of," by allowing a probability-weighted cash flow estimation approach to measure the impairment loss of a long-lived asset. The statement also established new standards for accounting for discontinued operations. Transactions that qualify for reporting in discontinued operations include the disposal of a component of an entity's operations that comprises operations and cash flow that can be clearly distinguished, operationally and for financial reporting purposes, from the rest of the entity. The Company has adopted this standard and its adoption had no significant effect on the Company's financial statements.

Reclassification

Certain amounts in June 30, 2005 have been reclassified to conform to the June 30, 2006 presentation. Such reclassification had no effect on net income as previously reported.

Income Taxes

The Company accounts for its income taxes under the provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards 109 ("SFAS 109"). The method of accounting for income taxes under SFAS 109 is an asset and liability method. The asset and liability method requires the recognition of deferred tax liabilities and assets for the expected future tax consequences of temporary differences between tax bases and financial reporting bases of other assets and liabilities.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Pursuant to SFAS No. 107, "Disclosures About Fair Value of Financial Instruments", the Company is required to estimate the fair value of all financial instruments included on its balance sheet as of June 30, 2006. The Company considers the carrying value of such amounts in the financial statements to approximate their face value.

Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes revenue when the related product is shipped to the respective customer and ultimate collection is reasonably assured.

Note 4 - Intangible Assets

Amortization expense for the nine-months ended June 30, 2006 and 2005 were $180, and $174, respectively.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Plan of Operations

All statements that are included in this Quarterly Report, other than statements of historical fact, are forward looking statements. You can identify forward-looking statements by words such as “anticipate”, “believe” and similar expressions and statements regarding our business strategy, plans and objectives for future operations. Although management believes that the expectations reflected in these forward looking statements are reasonable, it can give no assurance that such expectations will prove to have been correct. The forward-looking statements in this filing involve known risks and uncertainties, which may cause our actual results in future periods to be materially different from any future performance suggested in this report. Such factors may include, but are not limited to: the ability to obtain additional funding further develop and market our products, changes in technology, market acceptance of our products, regulatory approval of our products in various markets, fluctuations in customer demand and commitments, pricing and competition, reliance upon subcontractors, together with such other factors as may be included in our Annual Report on Form 10-KSB

For the nine months ended June 30, 2006 the Company's cash position increased by $140,112. The Company spent $975,486 in its operations and received $1,454,260 from financing activities. Financing activities included gross proceeds from private offerings of $1,506,005; an amount repaid to related parties of $38,373; and principal reduction on small business loan of $13,372.

For the nine months ended June 30, 2005 the Company's cash position decreased by $6,271. The Company spent $115,614 in its operations and received $204,411 from financing activities. Financing activities included advances from related parties of $126,505; advances from loans of $89,752; and the reduction of its principal amount of its small business loan of $11,846.

During this nine month period ended June 30, 2006, the company received investments of approximately $1,400,000 and has used most of those proceeds for the following expenses: $880,000 in operational expenses including payments to suppliers, sub-contractors, outside accountants and attorneys; Repayment of a $200,000 loan from Scanview; Fees to business consultants of $165,000 and finders fees of $118,000.

Medical International Technology, Inc. expects that revenues from existing and developing sales will not meet its liquidity requirements for the next 12 month period at its current level of operations. The company continues to rely on management to develop the business and work to develop sales. Management has and may continue to supplement cash flows from sales with additional equity and debt financing. Substantially, expanded operations are expected to require additional capital, either from a future offering of equity or the company pursuing other methods of financing, as appropriate.

Management Plan of Operations

Medical International Technology, Inc. ("MIT") is engaged in the business of research, development, marketing and sales of needle-free jet injector technology and products for humans and animals, for single and mass injections.

We continue to market our product in all available markets, seek regulatory approvals to expand those market opportunities and improve our products for application to new markets.

Medical International Technology, Inc. continues its efforts to secure additional funding to support and expand operations, develop and seek regulatory approvals for our products and market those products worldwide.

Medical International Technology, Inc. will continue to seek additional funding to expand operations and develop sales revenue to a volume sufficient to sustain operations

Product Development

Medical International Technologies has filed for FDA approval for its needle-free injector – the MED-JET, designed specifically for human mass inoculations. The MED-JET is capable of delivering many types of medications such as vaccines, insulin and other types of injectables. Its low-pressure technology offers an advantage to alternative high pressure systems that can cause blowbacks and expose medical workers and patients alike to microscopic traces of blood.

According to the International Sharps Injury Prevention Society (<http://www.isips.org>), it has been estimated that one out of every seven workers is accidentally stuck by a contaminated sharp point each and every year. The Center for Disease Control (CDC: <http://www.cdc.gov/niosh/2000-108.html#5>) estimates that there are 600,000 to 800,000 needle stick injuries per year in the U.S. alone, and many are not reported. More than 20 types of infectious agents have been transmitted through needlesticks, including hepatitis B and C, tuberculosis, syphilis, malaria, herpes, diphtheria, gonorrhea, typhus and Rocky Mountain spotted fever. The MED-JET will eliminate this risk to our health care professionals and create a safer workplace. Other advantages include its light weight (0.5 kg) and an excellent medication absorption rate. Additionally, the system has the ability to increase or decrease the volume and pressure of injection. This technology is unique to MIT's MED-JET MBX Injector. The system is designed to allow for the injection of up to 600 individuals an hour.

The approval process can be expensive and may take an extended period of time. There can be no assurance that this system will receive approval from the FDA or if approved gain broad acceptance by the medical community or individual patients.

On December 15, 2005, Medical International Technologies, Inc announced that it has received full certification granted under the International Organization for Standardization, as well as the Canadian Medical Device Conformity Assessment System, for devices to be licensed by HEALTH CANADA. These certifications allow MIT to market the Med-Jet Needle-Free Injector for human use in all countries other than the U.S., at this point. The Med-Jet injector has been submitted for FDA approval which, if accepted, will allow MIT to sell the Med-Jet in the United States, making it a truly worldwide system.

Now that MIT is able to sell its Med-Jet in all countries, other than the U.S., it is working to complete two FDA filings. The first of these will be for use of the Med-Jet for injecting anesthesia in a variety of situations. The second will be the Med-Jet-H, for mass vaccination in case of a pandemic, such as Avian Influenza, Polio, Tuberculosis, or Malaria.

We are currently responding to comments on our FDA application and must provide additional test information. We are planning for the completion of these additional tests over the next six months.

MIT is also pursuing increasing interest in its Agro-Jet needle-free injector. In Australia, we are awaiting approval of an injectable solution manufactured by a large pharmaceutical company which will be used in our injector systems. We expect that this approval will occur sometime in the second quarter of 2007.

On December 19, 2005 the Board of MIT adopted a resolution stating that " MIT will acquire all of the issued and outstanding shares of 9139-2449 Quebec Inc operating under the name "Scanview" for 2,500,000 restricted common shares of MIT". No shares have been issued and the final terms are pending acceptance by the shareholders of Scanview

Scanview is a portable ultrasound technology and manufacturing company based in Montreal, Quebec, Canada. ScanView was formed in 2003 to develop, manufacture and market different models of Real Time Ultrasound Scanners, for Animal and Human applications.

ScanView has a unique, portable and battery operated ultrasound diagnostic medical device, using a variety of probes for pathological and physiological evaluation of organs such as the heart, kidneys, liver, thyroid, uterus and ovaries. They serve equally well to detect kidney stones, diagnose pregnancy, visualize follicle development and carry out all other normal ultrasound diagnostic procedures.

ScanView is a private Canadian company owned by Karim Menassa, our CEO and Director, owning 55% of Scanview, Michel Bayouk, our CFO and Director, owning 10% of Scanview and three other unrelated shareholders.

The Acquisition of Scanview is pending an independent appraisal valuation of Scan View at the request of Medical International Technology. Based on the results of this valuation the acquisition of Scanview may proceed.

Going Concern

The Generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America contemplate the continuation of the Company as going concern. However, the Company has reported a net liability position of $21,424 and has accumulated operation losses since inception of $5,763,916, which raises substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. The continuation of the company is dependent upon the continuing financial support of creditors and stockholders and upon obtaining the capital requirements for the continuing operations of the Company. Management believes actions planned and presently being taken provides the opportunity for the Company to continue as a going concern.

We have limited capital with which to pursue our business plan. There can be no assurance that our future operations will be significant and profitable, or that we will have sufficient resources to meet our objectives. We may pursue either the option of debt or equity financing or a combination of both in order to raise sufficient capital in order to meet our financial requirements over the next twelve months and to fund our business plan. There is no assurance that we will be successful in raising additional funds.

Our future success will be dependent upon our ability to continue pursue market acceptance of our products; obtain regulatory approvals necessary to expand our markets and introduce our products to those markets through expanded sales operations.

Item 3. Controls and Procedures

Under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including our principal executive officer and principal financial officer, we conducted an evaluation of our disclosure controls and procedures, as such term is defined under Rule 13a-15(e) promulgated under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"). Based on this evaluation, our principal executive officer and our principal financial officer concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures were effective as of the end of the period covered by this report. There were no changes in our internal control over financial reporting during the period covered by this report that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal controls over financial reporting
