Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2018 and 2017

Note 1 - Nature of operations

Anderson LeNeave & Co. (the "Company"), a North Carolina corporation, is a full-service investment banking firm providing corporate finance services, including merger and acquisition advisory services and private financing placement and advisory services to middle market companies. The Company has elected to be registered as a broker-dealer, is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) and thus is subject to various rules and regulations promulgated by the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). Accordingly, the accompanying financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America as applicable to brokers and dealers in securities.

Note 2 - Summary of significant accounting policies*Cash equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid financial instruments purchased with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Accounts receivable

Trade accounts receivable are stated net of an allowance for doubtful accounts. Credit is extended to customers after an evaluation of the customer's financial condition, and generally collateral is not required. Management's determination of the allowance for doubtful accounts is based on an evaluation of the accounts receivable, past experience, current economic conditions, and other risks inherent in the accounts receivable portfolio. Trade accounts receivable are written-off when, in the opinion of management, such receivables are deemed to be uncollectible. No bad debt expense was incurred in 2018 and 2017. While management uses the best information available to make such evaluations, future adjustments to the allowance may be necessary if conditions differ substantially from the assumptions used in making the evaluations. The Company did not have outstanding accounts receivable as of December 31, 2018 and 2017.

Use of estimates in the preparation of financial statements

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2018 and 2017

Note 2 - Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)*Fee Revenue

The Company provides advisory services on mergers and acquisitions (M&A) and private financing placement-related advisory services. Revenue for advisory arrangements is generally recognized at the point in time that performance under the arrangement is completed (the closing date of the transaction) or the contract is cancelled. However, for certain contracts, revenue is recognized over time for advisory arrangements in which the performance obligations are simultaneously provided by the Company and consumed by the customer. In some circumstances, significant judgment is needed to determine the timing and measure of progress appropriate for revenue recognition under a specific contract. Retainers and other fees received from customers prior to recognizing revenue are reflected as contract liabilities. At December 31, 2018, all amounts were immaterial.

Other revenues relate primarily to billable transaction costs. Billable transaction costs include travel, other out-of-pocket expenses, reproduction and other transaction costs incurred by the Company that are billed to customers under the terms of agreements in place with those customers. These costs are expensed as incurred and billed in accordance with the agreed-upon terms.

Effective January 1, 2018, the Company adopted ASC Topic 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers ("ASC Topic 606"). The new revenue recognition guidance requires that an entity recognize revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. The guidance requires an entity to follow a five-step model to (a) identify the contract(s) with a customer, (b) identify the performance obligations in the contract, (c) determine the transaction price, (d) allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract, and (e) recognize revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation. In determining the transaction price, an entity may include variable consideration only to the extent that it is probable that a significant reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognized would not occur when the uncertainty associated with the variable consideration is resolved. The Company evaluated the new revenue recognition accounting standard and determined that the accounting standard did not require a change in the Company's revenue recognition practices. As a result, the Company was not required to record an accounting transition adjustment as of January 1, 2018.

Advertising

Advertising costs are expensed as incurred.

Income taxes

The Company has elected to be treated as an S Corporation for state and federal income tax purposes. As such, substantially all income of the Company is reported by the stockholder on his individual income tax returns. Accordingly, no provision for income taxes has been included in the accompanying financial statements. Management has evaluated the tax positions of the Company and it is the opinion of management that there are no uncertain tax positions that would be material to these financial statements. The Company did not incur any federal income tax expense in 2018 or 2017.

Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2018 and 2017

Note 2 - Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

New Accounting Pronouncements

In February 2016 the FASB issued ASU 2016-02, "Leases (Topic 842)". This new accounting guidance is intended to improve financial reporting about leasing transactions. The ASU affects all companies and other organizations that lease assets such as real estate, airplanes, and manufacturing equipment. The ASU will require organizations that lease assets referred to as "Lessees" to recognize on the balance sheet the assets and liabilities for the rights and obligations created by those leases. An organization is to provide disclosures designed to enable users of financial statements to understand the amount, timing, and uncertainty of cash flows arising from leases. These disclosures include qualitative and quantitative requirements concerning additional information about the amounts recorded in the financial statements. Under the new guidance, a lessee will be required to recognize assets and liabilities for leases with lease terms of more than twelve months. Consistent with current GAAP, the recognition, measurement, and presentation of expenses and cash flows arising from a lease by a lessee primarily will depend on its classification as a finance or operating lease. However, unlike current GAAP which requires only capital leases to be recognized on the balance sheet the new ASU will require both types of leases (i.e., operating and capital) to be recognized on the balance sheet. The FASB lessee accounting model will continue to account for both types of leases. The capital lease will be accounted for in substantially the same manner as capital leases are accounted for under existing GAAP. For operating leases there will have to be the recognition of a lease liability and a lease asset for all such leases greater than one year in term. The leasing standard will be effective for calendar year-end public companies beginning after December 15, 2018. Public companies will be required to adopt the new leasing standard for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2018. Early adoption is permitted for all companies and organizations. The Company is evaluating the impact that this new leasing ASU will have on its financial statements.

Note 3 - Capital requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission's Uniform Net Capital Rule 15c3-1, which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital of $5,000 and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. Rule 15c3-1 further requires that equity capital may not be withdrawn or cash dividends paid if the resulting net capital ratio would exceed 10 to 1. The net capital and net capital ratio, which agree with our Focus Report as of December 31, were as follows:

|  | 2018  | 2017  |
|--|--------------|--------------|
| Net capital  | $184,276    | $184,037    |
| Net capital ratio (ratio of indebtedness to capital) | Less than 1% | Less than 1% |
