PART I

ITEM 1. DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS.

Background

The Company was incorporated under the laws of Nevada on September 14, 1998, as Sabai Sabai Enterprises, Corp, and on May 25, 2000, changed its name to T.Z.F. International Investments, Inc. As a result of various acquisitions completed during the fiscal year ending December 31, 2000, the Company has expanded rapidly. It now owns several subsidiaries and business operations in Canada and in China through which it manufactures, markets and distributes pharmaceutical and health food products. The Company's goal, through the operations of its subsidiaries, is to become a market leader in distributing domestic and imported health foods and medicines throughout China and in exporting Chinese health food products to North America and elsewhere.

Subsidiaries and Their Operations

The Company has four subsidiaries in China and Canada through which it undertakes research and development and through which it manufactures, markets and distributes pharmaceutical and health food products. All of these acquisitions were completed during the fiscal year ending December 31, 2000.

During the fiscal year ending December 31, 2001, the Company worked on integrating and consolidating the operations of its various subsidiaries. It is currently contemplated that the Company's business operations will be organized as follows:

China Headquarters - Shenzhen Tianzifu Network Technology, Ltd.

Sales Center, Southern China - Guangdong Hongkang Medical Company

Sales Center, North America - T.Z.F. International Herbs Investment, Inc.

Western Medicine Production Base - T.Z.F. International Herbs (Jiangsu) Co., Ltd.

Chinese Medicine Production Base - Tian'an Pharmacy (Xiamen) Co., Ltd.

Additional information regarding each of the subsidiary companies follows:

TZF International Herbs Investment, Inc.

T.Z.F. International Herbs Investment, Inc. ("TZF Herbs") is a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company which was incorporated in 1998 under the laws of British Columbia, Canada. It is the Company's intent for TZF Herbs to serve as its North American sales center.

Through TZF Herbs, the Company owns the formula, distribution and intellectual property rights, including trademark, patent and industrial design rights, for the "Snow Lotus Tea" series products. TZF Herbs acquired those rights from Shenzhen Hungyunda Enterprises Co. Ltd. of China pursuant to an Assignment Agreement dated December 15, 1999. Prior to the execution of the Assignment Agreement, TZF Herbs was licensed to develop, market, and distribute the "Snow Lotus Tea" products in North America, but did not own the formula rights.

Snow Lotus Tea is primarily an extract of the snow lotus flower which grows in high elevations in the mountains of Tibet and neighboring Chinese provinces. It is marketed as a treatment for rheumatic and rheumatoid arthritis.

In, October, 1998, the Canadian Food Inspection Agency approved the sale of Snow Lotus Tea in Canada as a food product, and the Company is currently focusing its efforts on selling the product in two markets in Canada. One is the health food and supplements market, in which the product is being marketed as a health food supplement. The other market consists of local Traditional Chinese Medicine practitioners, Naturopathic clinics and the Chinese community throughout Canada, in which the product is considered to be a Chinese formula natural remedy for arthritis.

In the future, the Company may apply to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration for permission to sell Snow Lotus Tea as a food product in the U.S. It is not known when, or whether, the Company is likely to receive permission from the FDA to sell its product in the United States. In the future, the Company may also elect to seek approval from appropriate governmental agencies in both Canada and the U.S. to market Snow Lotus Tea as an over-the-counter medicine for the treatment of the symptoms of arthritis. However, the process of obtaining approval for sale of any product as an over-the-counter medicine is extremely time-consuming and expensive. As a result, the Company may never have the funds or other resources required to initiate that process.

The Company has filed trademark applications in the United States and Canada for the tradename "Snow Lotus."

At the present time, Beijing Zhong Jia Yi Pharmaceutical Technology Development Company produces Snow Lotus Tea under license from TZF Herbs and ships the product to Canada for sale. Since the Company has now acquired both Tian'an Pharmacy and Second Pharmacy Factory, it is anticipated that production of Snow Lotus Tea will be transferred to these facilities, thereby reducing manufacturing costs.

TZF Herbs is currently working on development of a North American sales and distribution network for Snow Lotus Tea. In the future, the Company expects to use this same sales and distribution network to distribute and sell other Chinese health food products into North America. In addition, TZF Herbs has entered into an agent agreement with a Canadian health foods producer and distributor, Trophic Health Foods Co., under which TZF Herbs will become an exclusive agent for distribution of that company's products in China.

In June 2001, TZF Herbs acquired the exclusive North American distribution rights for a product known as "Bitter Melon Powder." TZF Herbs is currently in the process of seeking necessary permits for sale of this product in Canada and is working on development of the North American market.

Shenzhen Tianzifu Network Technology Ltd.

On December 31, 2000, the Company completed the purchase of all of the assets of Shenzhen Tianzifu Network Technology Ltd, ("Shenzhen Tianzifu"), a Chinese corporation. The assets acquired included Guangdong Hongkang Pharmaceutical Company which was a subsidiary of Shenzhen Tianzifu. However, in December 2001, the acquisition of Guangdong Hong Kong Pharmaceutical Company was cancelled as a result of difficulties in obtaining regulatory approval of the acquisition

The registered address of Shenzhen Tianzifu is 8 South Road, Dong Men, LouHu District, Shenzhen City, Guangdong Province. It will serve as the Company's China headquarters.

Currently, Shenzhen Tianzifu operates a Chinese-language health food Web site in China. Its objective, though, is to centralize the management of the entire T.Z.F. network in China and to improve its efficiency and economic scale, including that of the manufacturing, sales and marketing functions. It will seek to further expand the existing distribution network and channels of all current subsidiaries in China and will seek to carry out the T.Z.F.'s plan of building 200 chain counters and stores in the top 200 department stores national wide, 50 licensed drug stores, 60 chain stores and 20 distribution centers in selected locations in China. Shenzhen Tianzifu has opened product counters in the southwest and central areas of China and plans to extend the counters into other areas of the country. Once Shenzhen Tianzifu has completed building the sales network platform domestically, it will then focus on attracting international suppliers of health food or related health care products that wish to export their products to China. It will then use this expanding international network to market Chinese health food products and herbal medicines.

Shenzhen Tianzifu will apply the computer, network and database technology that it has developed and is currently using in-house to consolidate, standardize and specialize its management and distribution systems in order to maximize operating efficiencies. It will seek to implement a Retailer Management System, an Electronic Ordering System and an Electronic Data Interchange through which it will control the organization of the chain stores. Its online network will be able to present a virtual sales platform for the eventual B2B and B2C transaction. In all, Shenzhen Tianzifu will have seven departments: marketing, merchandise, sales, information center, distribution center, general management/administration and accounting.

Guangdong Hongkang Pharmaceutical Company

Guangdong Hongkang Pharmaceutical Company was an 88% owned subsidiary of Shenzhen Tianzifu. It was anticipated that Guangdong Hongkang would serve as the Company's sales center in southern China. However, during the fourth quarter of 2001, the acquisition of Guangdong HongKang Pharmacy was cancelled by the directors of Shenzhen Tianzifu as a result of difficulties in obtaining approval of the acquisition from Chinese regulatory authorities.

T.Z.F. International Herbs (Jiangsu) Co., Ltd.

On December 31, 2000, the Company completed the purchase of all of the assets of Second Pharmacy Factory of Yancheng City, ("Second Pharmacy"), a Chinese corporation. The assets were purchased from The People's Government of JianWu County, JiangSu Province, the People's Republic of China. The Company has changed the name of this subsidiary to T.Z.F. International Herbs (Jiangsu) Co, Ltd. ("T.Z.F. Jiangsu"). It is the Company's intent that T.Z.F. Jiangsu will serve as it's base of operation for manufacturing medicines which meet North American product standards.

The cash purchase price for the assets of Second Pharmacy was paid on our behalf by Xin Chen, one of our principal shareholders. These payments were part of a total of $5,000,000 US which Mr. Chen paid or advanced on our behalf during the fiscal year ending December 31, 2000. The funds advanced by Mr. Chen were used for a variety of purposes including being used in part for purchase of the assets of Second Pharmacy and in part for purchase of all of the issued and outstanding stock Tian'an Investments Limited, a British Virgin Islands Corporation (which was completed on or about December 21, 2000 and described in a report on Form 8K dated December 21, 2000). The advances made on our behalf by Mr. Chen were initially treated as a loan. However, on December 31, 2000, Mr. Chen agreed to convert his loan to an equity investment, and our Board of Directors authorized the issuance of shares of common stock and warrants to Mr. Chen in full satisfaction of this loan. (See ITEM 5. Other Events).

T.Z.F. Jiangsu (formerly known as Second Pharmacy Factory of Yancheng City) is a medical manufacturing plant located in Jiangsu Province. It was founded in 1971. The factory produces both pharmaceutical active ingredients and pharmaceutical preparations including chemically combined pharmaceutical active ingredients, tablets, capsules, syrups, infusion solutions and tincture solutions. Currently, it produces over 100 products, and is capable of manufacturing North American standard products.

The factory currently operated by T.Z.F. Jiangsu includes an advanced production line, an infusion production line with a capacity of 9 million bottles per year, and a capsule production line capable of producing 5 million capsules per year. It maintains a consistent program of advanced research and development, and its assay center has various testing capabilities and a sound quality assurance system. It also has four sales departments and four branch offices and sells its products throughout China.

It is the Company's intent to use the facilities and employees of T.Z.F. Jiangsu to continue to produce its current product line and to expand its production to include additional health products. The Company also intends to seek to expand the research and development operations conducted at the T.Z.F. Jiangsu facility and to seek to increase the sales volume for the products which are manufactured at its facility by expanding the sales team and linking it with the Company's existing marketing platform.

Tian'an Pharmacy (Xiamen) Co., Ltd.

On December 21, 2000, the Company acquired all of the issued and outstanding capital stock of Tian'an Investments Limited, a British Virgin Islands corporation. The sole asset of Tian'an Investments Limited is its 100% ownership of Tian'an Pharmacy (Xiamen) Co., Ltd. ("Tian'an Pharmacy"), a manufacturer of Chinese biological and herbal medicine products. Tian'an Pharmacy has a plant which is located in the Torch High Tech Development Zone of Xiamen, China, where it currently conducts research and development and produces herbal and biological medicines which it distributes and sells in China. Although Tian'an Pharmacy is capable of producing products which satisfy North American standards, it is the Company's intent that Tian'an Pharmacy will serve primarily as its base of operation for manufacturing Chinese medicines.

Tian'an Pharmacy studies, develops and manufactures herbal and biological medicines which it sells through distribution channels in China. Its operations, including a production line which was imported from Taiwan, are located in the Torch High Development Zone of Xiamen, China. The operations of Tian'an Pharmacy, and the Japonica Capsule, which is currently its principal product line, have both obtained China GMP approval. The Company believes this will be an important factor in the level of success which can be achieved for the operations of Tian'an Pharmacy because the Chinese government requires all hospitals and pharmacies in China to use GMP approved medicine or medicine produced by GMP approved companies.

At the present time, Tian'an Pharmacy produces a total of ten different herbal and biological medicines which are sold in China. Its most well known products are Japonica capsules, which are used to help increase the body's immunity function, and to treat cancer cells in the body, and bear bile capsules, which are used to treat liver diseases and high blood pressure. Research into new products and treatments is ongoing at Tian'an Pharmacy. This research focuses primarily on combining various herb resources with advanced technology to produce new herbal medicines. Linglong capsules, a new product line used to treat liver cancer cells, are currently under final development and are expected to receive approval from the Chinese government during 2001.

Research into new products is ongoing at Tian'an Pharmacy. This research is focused on studying, developing and producing herbal medicines which will be intended to be marketed and sold in China and in North America.

Risk Factors

An investment in the outstanding securities of the Company should be considered to be risky. The following discussion of risk factors is not intended to provide an exhaustive list of all of the risks which may be associated with an investment in the Company. Any person considering such an investment should carefully consider all of the risks involved, including, but not limited to, the risk factors discussed below, before making an investment decision.

Limited Operating History. The Company was formed in December, 1998, and itself has no operating history or revenues from operations. On April 30, 2000, it acquired all of the issued and outstanding stock of TZF International Herbs Investment, Inc, and in December, 2000, it acquired Tian'an Pharmacy, TZF International Herbs (Jiangsu) Co, Ltd., and Shenzhen Tianzifu Network Technology, Ltd. Although several of the entities acquired by the Company have established a profitable operating history, there is no assurance the Company will be able to successfully manage and integrate their operations or that they will continue to be profitable. As a result, the Company faces all of the risks inherent in a new business venture, including all the unforeseen costs, expenses, problems, and difficulties to which such ventures are subject.

No Market for Stock. At the present time, there is no public market for the Company's common stock and there is no assurance that a market will develop in the future. Although the Company intends to take steps to have its shares approved for trading on the OTC Bulletin Board, there is no assurance that it will be successful. Even if a market should develop in the future, there is no assurance that it will be maintained. Thus, persons who purchase shares of the Company may find it to be difficult or impossible to liquidate their investment, because of the lack of a market or the difficulty in maintaining a market. There is currently no person or entity which is obligated to make or maintain a market in the Company's shares.

Need for Additional Financing. The Company will require substantial additional funds to continue its acquisition and market expansion plans. Although the Company's Chairman, Mr. Xin Chen, has previously provided substantial funds to the Company to assist in completion of acquisitions, and has indicated a willingness and ability to provide some additional funds to the Company in the future until the Company is in a position to raise funds from external sources, he is not obligated to provide additional funds in the future and there is no assurance that he will be able to do so. Likewise, there is no assurance that the Company will be able to raise funds from external sources when it seeks to do so. Therefore, no assurance can be given that additional financing will be available when needed or that such financing will be available on terms acceptable to the Company. If adequate funds are not available, the Company would be required to delay, trim or eliminate its expansion plans, its research and product development programs or other programs or services which are currently part of the business plan, or may be required to alter the business plan, which is likely to have a material adverse effect on the Company.

Dependence on Key Personnel. The success of the Company will depend to a significant degree upon the ability of its senior management personnel to integrate and consolidate the operations of its various subsidiaries. It will also depend to a significant degree on the Company's ability to retain and integrate a substantial number of the management personnel previously employed by its subsidiaries. Significant disruption in the Company's operations would occur if it is not able to retain its senior management personnel and to fully integrate and develop cooperation between the separate management personnel of each of its subsidiaries. The Company does not currently have employment contracts with any of its senior management personnel. As a result, those persons could elect to terminate their employment with the Company at any time.

Governmental Regulation. There are substantial regulations applicable to the import and export of goods and relating to advertising and sale of food products or over-the-counter medicines both in North America and in China. The Company believes that it currently has all of the necessary permits to manufacture and sell its existing products in China. However, as it seeks to develop new products and to expand its marketing and distribution networks both in China and in North America, it is likely to encounter additional regulations. Although it is the Company's intention to comply with all applicable governmental regulations in every country in which it conducts operations, there is no assurance that it will be able to do so. There is also no assurance that the applicable regulations in the various countries in which the Company seeks to operate will be consistent. Finally, there is no assurance that the Company will have the resources necessary to comply with certain regulations such as those required to seek approval to sell certain of its products in the U.S., Canada, or other countries as over-the-counter medicine. The process of obtaining approval for sale of any product as an over-the-counter medicine is extremely expensive and time-consuming.

Patent or Copyright Protection. The Company's success will depend upon its ability to obtain patents, obtain exclusive rights to patents, maintain trade secret protection and operate without infringing upon the proprietary rights of third parties. The Company has attempted to protect its products and technologies through a combination of patent and trade secret laws and will continue to do so in the future. There can be no assurance that the Company's efforts will be successful or that competitors will not develop functionally equivalent or superior products or technology that does not infringe the Company's patents or trade secrets. Accordingly, the Company may be vulnerable to competitors which develop competing products or competing technology, whether independently, or as a result of acquiring access to the Company's trade secrets.

Competition. Until recently, the Chinese health food market (including manufacturing as well as wholesale and retail distribution and sales) has not been open to foreign investors and the Company does not believe that there are currently any national chain stores or other national outlets for the distribution and sale of Chinese health food products in all regions of China. However, it is believed that the domestic China health food market will open to foreign competition soon after China joins the World Trade Organization (W.T.O.). As a result, it is anticipated that many large foreign competitors are likely to seek to enter the Chinese market in the near future. The expected increase in foreign competition, combined with competition from both existing and newly established domestic entities, will make the Chinese health food market extremely competitive. The Company hopes to create a competitive edge for itself in China by quickly establishing a large distribution network for its health food products. It has obtained government approval to establish health food counters in up to 200 department stores in China and up to 50 pharmacy stores in the province of Shanxi, as well as approvals to establish up to 20 pharmaceutical and health food sales centers and up to 60 health food stores for sale of both Chinese and North American products. In addition to its plans to expand its distribution network in China, the Company also intends to seek to expand its operations and increase sales of its Chinese health food products in North America. There is no assurance that the Company will be able to complete its expansion plans or that it will be able to compete effectively in China against both domestic and foreign competition. Likewise, since the Company has only a limited operating history with little revenue from its current operations in North America, there is no assurance it will be able to effectively introduce and sell its Chinese health food products in the North American market.

Research and Development. The Company will be required to expend a significant amounts of money on research and development expenses in order to develop new products improve the market acceptance of its existing products. There is no assurance that it will have sufficient capital to fund all desired research and development activities or that the research and development activities its does conduct will lead to the creation of new products. is necessary in order to In order to be successful in the market for sale of pharmaceutical and health food products, the Company will be required to Market Acceptance. Many Chinese health food products are not currently widely used outside of China. There is no assurance that the Company's products, if approved for sale in the North American market and other countries as either food products or over-the-counter medicines, will achieve market acceptance. The extent of acceptance of the Company's products by consumers and by persons in the healthcare industry will depend upon a number of factors, including, but not limited to, recognition of the efficacy of the product, product availability, brand name recognition, the availability and cost of competitive products, relative safety and efficacy of competitive products, and the like. There is no assurance that the Company's products will be successful in achieving market acceptance as either a food product or as an over-the-counter medicine.

Potential Product Liability. Testing and proposed commercialization of food products and human therapeutic products involves inherent risk of product liability claims and associated adverse publicity. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to obtain or maintain sufficient insurance coverage on acceptable terms with coverage which is adequate to provide necessary protection. Such insurance is expensive, difficult to obtain and may not be available in the future on acceptable terms, or at all. An inability to obtain sufficient insurance coverage on reasonable terms or to otherwise protect against potential product liability claims, could prevent or inhibit the commercialization of the Company's potential products.

Manufacturing Uncertainties. The Company's ability to commercialize its products will depend upon its ability to manufacture such products, either directly or through third parties, at a competitive cost and in accordance with any applicable regulatory requirements. The Company's products must be manufactured in commercial quantities at an acceptable cost and with sufficient quality, consistency, purity and stability to make them marketable. If the Company is unable to make manufacture its products in sufficient quantities and at a competitive cost, either in its own manufacturing facilities or through contracting with third parties, it would have a material adverse affect upon the Company's business and potential profitability.

Expediter is seeking damages for alleged loss of profits, loss of business and goodwill, misrepresentation, set-up expenses and the alleged wrongful use of Expediter's name. Further, Expediter is seeking an injunction to prevent the T.Z.F. Herbs from selling herbal tea in Canada. TZF claims that it terminated its contract with Expediter as a result of non-performance. TZF Herbs intends to vigorously defend this suit and has filed a counterclaim against Expediter for collection of outstanding debts.

ITEM 4. SUBMISSION OF MATTERS TO A VOTE OF SECURITY HOLDERS.

No matters were submitted to a vote of the security holders of the Company during the fourth quarter of the fiscal year which ended December 31, 2001.

PART II

ITEM 5. MARKET FOR COMMON EQUITY AND RELATED STOCKHOLDER MATTERS.

ITEM 6. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OR PLAN OF OPERATIONS.

Forward Looking Statements. Certain statements contained in this report, including statements in the following discussion of the Company's Plan of Operation, which are not statements of historical fact are what are known as "forward looking statements," which are basically statements about the future. Since it is not possible to accurately predict the future, these statements involve risk and uncertainty. Words such as "plans," "intends," "will," "hopes," "seeks," "anticipates," "expects," "goal" and "objective" often identify such forward looking statements, but are not the only indication that a statement is a forward looking statement. Such forward looking statements include statements of our plans and objectives with respect to the present and future operations of the Company, and statements which express or imply that such present and future operations will or may produce revenues, income or profits. Numerous factors and future events could cause the Company to change such plans and objectives, or fail to successfully implement such plans or achieve such objectives, or cause such present and future operations to fail to produce revenues, income or profits.

General. In the fiscal year ended December 31, 2001, the Company began the process of consolidating and reorganizing the business of the various subsidiaries it acquired in late 2000. During the fiscal year ended December 31, 2001, the Company deeply studied the existing operations of each of its subsidiaries, including, all aspects of productions, marketing and sales and focused efforts on reorganizing those operations. Primarily as a result of its focus on reorganization efforts, overall sales and profits for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2001 were significantly lower than results for the preceding fiscal year. However, management has modified its business plan to focus more of its efforts on marketing, and believes that financial results will begin to show improvement during the fiscal year ended December 31, 2002. On a consolidated basis (including the results of the parent company as well as the results of all of its subsidiaries), the Company had revenues of $5,114,242 and a net profit of $232,938 during the fiscal year ended December 31, 2001, as compared to revenues of $7,870,350 and a net profit of $2,680,885 during the fiscal year ended December 31, 2000.

volume conditions. Continuation of the exclusive right is contingent upon the ability of the Company to meet or exceed certain minimum purchase quotas. In order to maintain its exclusivity, the Company must purchase a minimum of US$50,000 of products within 12 months after the initial Product has been approved for sale in the designated territory. The quota is US$200,000 in the second year and US$400,000 in the third year.

As part of this process, this company changed some existing sales policies and set up a more suitable sales network. At same time, the company focused on cost controls and new product research and development. It completed the second stage testing of its LingLong product, which it hopes to have available for distribution during the fiscal year ending December 31, 2001.

During the fiscal year ended December 31, 2001, this subsidiary had sales revenue of $1,160,518, and a net profit from operations of $206,032, as compared to sales revenue of $1,251,866 and a net profit of $359,041 during the fiscal year ended December 31, 2000.

T.Z.F. International Herbs (Jiangsu) Co. Ltd. In April of 2001, this subsidiary acquired a license from the government of Jiangsu province for production of pills, capsules and syrups. The injection production line of this subsidiary also received GMP approval from both the Jiangsu province government and from the national government of China. Sales of injection product represent approximately 60% of total sales of this subsidiary. During the fiscal year ended December 31, 2001, this subsidiary company evaluated its product costs and elected to lower its prices in order to increase its market size. This subsidiary is also in the process of seeking new products for production and sale.

Revenue of this subsidiary during the first half of the fiscal year ended December 31, 2001, was decreased compared as the first half of 2000. The reason for the reduction was that during the first half of 2001 this subsidiary moved its operations to a new facility and concentrated on obtaining GMP approval for its injection production line. During the second half of the year, this subsidiary increased its sales of injection products to almost 60,000 bottles per day, and as a result, revenues during the second half of the year were substantially higher than during the first half of the year. Overall, for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2001, this subsidiary had sales revenue of $1,621,745 and a net profit of $125,354, as compared to revenues of $3,637,046 and a net profit of $1,407,119 during the fiscal year ended December 31, 2000.

T.Z.F. (Shenzhen) Co., Ltd. As the Company's headquarters in China, T.Z.F. (Shenzhen) (sometimes referred to herein as "Shenzhen TZF Net") reorganized its operations during the fiscal year ended December 31, 2001 in order to improve its ability to manage the business of all the subsidiaries in China. This subsidiary has opened product counters southwest and central China and plans to continue to expand its operations to include counters in the northeast and south, and in the cities of Guangdong, Beijing and Shanghai. This subsidiary has also focused efforts on strengthening its product line and on attempting to locate some good local health products for distribution on its counters.

The revenues and profits of this subsidiary for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2001 were significantly less than anticipated for two reasons. During the fourth quarter of 2001, this subsidiary elected to cancel its acquisition of Hongkang Pharmaceutical Company because of problems in obtaining approval of the acquisition from Chinese regulatory bodies. As a result, the financial results of Hongkang Pharmaceutical Company for the nine month period ended September 30, 2001, which had previously been consolidated into the financial statements of Shenzhen TZF Net, were reversed during the fourth quarter resulting in negative sales for the fourth quarter (See Note 1 to the Financial Statements). In addition, this subsidiary spent a significant amount of time and money on establishing on the process of building and opening its initial product counters. Company management believes that these counters will begin to provide positive returns prior to the end of 2002.

After eliminating the results of Hongkang Pharmaceutical Company from the financial results, total revenues of this subsidiary for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2001, were $951,954 as compared to total revenues of $1,347,541 for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2000.

TZF International Herbs Co., Ltd. On June 6, 2001, this subsidiary acquired the exclusive distribution rights for the product named "Bitter Melon Powder" in North American. This subsidiary has applied to the Canadian government for the necessary permits to distribute this product in Canada and has also begun initial efforts to develop a market for this product.

During the fiscal year ended December 31, 2001, this subsidiary had revenues of $1,233,791 and a net loss of $14,513, as compared to revenues of $1,633,897 and a net profit of $606,584 for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2000.

Subsequent to completion of the share exchange on April 30, 2000, the BC Company (the Company's wholly-owned subsidiary) received subscriptions for 340,000 additional shares. The Company elected to convert such shares to shares of its own common stock on the same terms as it completed the share exchange. Note 2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Principles of consolidation

The accompanying consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly-owned subsidiary, T.Z.F. International Herbs Investment Inc., Tianan Investment Limited (and its wholly-owned subsidiary Tianan Pharmacy (Xiamen) Co. Ltd.), TZF International Herbs (Jiangsu) Co. Ltd. and Shenzhen Tianzhifu Network Technology Ltd. All intercompany transactions and balances have been eliminated.

Basis of presentation

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Accounting Principles Generally Accepted in the United States ("USGAAP").

Development stage company

The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standard No. 7, "Accounting and Reporting by Development Stage Enterprises", which include cumulative figures for the statement of operations and cash flows from the date of inception on September 15, 1998 to December 31, 2001.

Business Combinations

The Company uses the Purchase Method in accounting for its acquisitions.

Goodwill will be subject to review for impairment. This review would be at the lowest reporting level or levels that include the acquired business (i.e., the reporting unit). Goodwill would be considered impaired and subject to write-down if the fair value of the reporting unit's goodwill is less than its carrying amount. The fair value of goodwill would be determined by subtracting the fair value of the recognized net assets of the reporting unit (excluding goodwill) from the fair value of the reporting unit. The amount of the impairment would be the difference between the carrying amount and the fair value of the goodwill.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with USGAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the dates of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consists of cash on deposit and highly liquid short-term interest bearing securities with a maturity at the date of purchase of three months or less.

Income Taxes

Provisions for income taxes are based on taxes payable or refundable for the current year and deferred taxes on temporary differences between the amount of taxable income and pretax financial income and between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their reported amounts in the financial statements. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are included in the financial statement at currently enacted income tax rates applicable to the period in which the deferred tax assets and liabilities are expected to be realized or settled as prescribed in FASB Statement No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes. As changes in tax laws or rate are enacted, deferred tax assets and liabilities are adjusted through the provision for income taxes.

Compensated absences

Employees of the corporation are entitled to paid vacations, sick days and other time off depending on job classification, length of service and other factors. It is impractical to estimate the amount of compensation for future absences, and accordingly, no liability has been recorded in the accompanying financial statements. The corporation's policy is to recognize the costs of compensated absences when paid to employees.

Net earnings per share

The Company adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 128 that requires the reporting of both basic and diluted earnings per share. Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing net income available to common shareowners by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding for the period. Diluted earnings per share reflects the potential dilution that could occur if securities or other contracts to issue common stock were exercised or converted into common stock. In accordance with FASB 128, any anti-dilution effects on net loss per share are excluded.

Disclosure about fair value of financial instruments

The Company has financial instruments, none of which are held for trading purposes. The Company estimates that the fair value of all financial instruments at December 31, 2001 as defined in FASB 107, does not differ materially from the aggregate carrying values of its financial instruments recorded in the accompanying balance sheets. The estimated fair value amounts have been determined by the Company using available market information and appropriate valuation methodologies. Considerable judgment is required in interpreting market data to develop the estimates of fair value, and accordingly, the estimates are not necessarily indicative of the amounts that the Company could realize in a current market exchange.

Fixed assets

Fixed assets are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is recorded on the following rates, based upon the useful life of the assets.

Office equipment	- 20% per annum on the declining balance basis
Leasehold improvement	- allocated on a straight-line basis over the term of lease
Vehicles	- 30% per annum on the declining balance basis
Computer equipment	- 30% per annum on the declining balance basis
Buildings	- 4.75% per annum on the straight-line basis
Mechanical devices	- 19% per annum on the straight-line basis
Electric devices	- 19% per annum on the straight-line basis
Shipping devices	- 19% per annum on the straight-line basis
Other devices	- 19% per annum on the straight-line basis

Long-lived assets

Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 121, “Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to be Disposed Of,” requires that long-lived assets be reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of the asset in question may not be recoverable. This standard does not have a material effect on the Company’s results of operations, cash flows or financial position in these financial statements.

The effect of exchange rate changes on cash balances is reported in the statement of cash flows as a separate part of the reconciliation of change in cash and cash equivalents during the period.

Concentration of credit risk

Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to a significant concentration of credit risk consist primarily of cash and cash equivalents which are not collateralized. The Company limits its exposure to credit loss by placing its cash and cash equivalents with high credit quality financial institutions.

Inventories

The inventories are recorded at the lower of cost or market. As at December 31, 2001 the inventories total $1,989,871 (December 31, 2000 - $1,244,642) (see note 7)

During the current year, the Company performed a review of its revenue recognition policies and determined that it is in compliance with SAB 101.

Web Site Development Expenses

Web site development expenses relate to the development of new online services and consist principally of employee compensation, as well as costs for content, facilities and equipment. The consensus in the Financial Accounting Standards Board Emerging Issues Task Force (EITF) Issue No. 00-2, Accounting for Web Site Development Costs, requires that certain costs to develop Web sites be capitalized or expensed, depending on the nature of the costs. Development expenses of $67,809 have been capitalized and will be either expensed in 2002 or amortized over a period of 30 months after completion the Web Site (note 13)

Shipping and Handling Fees and Costs

In September 2000, the Financial Accounting Standards Board Emerging Issues Task Force (EITF) reached a final consensus on EITF Issue No. 00-10, Accounting for Shipping and Handling Fees and Costs. This consensus requires that all amounts billed to a customer in a sale transaction related to shipping and handling, be classified as revenue. The Company historically has netted shipping charges to customers with shipping and handling costs which are included in operating expenses in the Statements of Operations. With respect to the classification of costs related to shipping and handling incurred by the seller, the EITF determined that the classification of such costs is an accounting policy decision that should be disclosed. The Company adopted the consensus in the Issue in fiscal 2001.
