Notes to Financial Statements
June 30, 2002

NOTE A - Organization and Description of Business

Shallbetter Industries, Inc. (Company) was initially incorporated on September 8, 1968 under the laws of the State of Minnesota. The Company has not conducted any business operations or maintained any assets since 1982. The current business purpose of the Company is to seek out and obtain a merger, acquisition or outright sale transaction whereby the Company's shareholders will benefit. The Company is not currently engaged in any negotiations and continues to seek an appropriate merger or acquisition candidate.

During interim periods, the Company follows the accounting policies set forth in its annual audited financial statements filed with the U. S. Securities and Exchange Commission on its Annual Report on Form 10-KSB for the year ended December 31, 2001. The information presented within these interim financial statements may not include all disclosures required by generally accepted accounting principles and the users of financial information provided for interim periods should refer to the annual financial information and footnotes when reviewing the interim financial results presented herein.

In the opinion of management, the accompanying interim financial statements, prepared in accordance with the U. S. Securities and Exchange Commission's instructions for Form 10-QSB, are unaudited and contain all material adjustments, consisting only of normal recurring adjustments necessary to present fairly the financial condition, results of operations and cash flows of the Company for the respective interim periods presented. The current period results of operations are not necessarily indicative of results which ultimately will be reported for the full fiscal year ending December 31, 2002.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

NOTE B - Going Concern Uncertainty

The Company has not conducted any business operations or maintained any assets since 1982. The current business purpose of the Company is to seek out and obtain a merger, acquisition or outright sale transaction whereby the Company's shareholders will benefit. The Company is not currently engaged in any negotiations and continues to seek an appropriate merger or acquisition candidate.

The Company's need for capital may change dramatically if it acquires an interest in a business opportunity during the next 12 months. The Company's current operating plan is to (i) handle the administrative and reporting requirements of a public company; and (ii) search for potential businesses, products, technologies and companies for acquisition. At present, the Company has no understandings, commitments or agreements with respect to the acquisition of any business, product, technology or company and there can be no assurance that the Company will identify any such business, product, technology or company suitable for acquisition in the future. Further, there can be no assurance that the Company would be successful in consummating any acquisition on favorable terms or that it will be able to profitably manage the business, product, technology or company it acquires or, if successful, that any acquisition or merger will result in the appreciation of our stockholders' investment in our common stock.

The Company's continued existence is dependent upon its ability to generate sufficient cash flows from operations to support its daily operations as well as provide sufficient resources to retire existing liabilities and obligations on a timely basis.

The Company remains dependent upon additional external sources of financing; including being dependent upon its management and/or significant stockholders to provide sufficient working capital. The Company anticipates offering future sales of equity securities. However, there is no assurance that the Company will be able to obtain additional funding through the sales of additional equity securities or, that such funding, if available, will be obtained on terms favorable to or affordable by the Company.

It is the intent of management and significant stockholders to provide sufficient working capital necessary to support and preserve the integrity of the corporate entity. However, no formal commitments or arrangements to advance or loan funds to the Company or repay any such advances or loans exist. There is no legal obligation for either management or significant stockholders to provide additional future funding.

In such a restricted cash flow scenario, the Company would be unable to complete our business plan steps, and would, instead, delay all cash intensive activities. Without necessary cash flow, the Company may become dormant during the next twelve months, or until such time as necessary funds could be raised in the equity securities market.

The Company has not conducted any business operations or maintained any assets since 1982, has minimal cash on hand, no profit, is not currently engaged in any merger or acquisition negotiations and continues to seek an appropriate merger or acquisition candidate. Because of these factors, our auditors have issued an audit opinion for the Company which includes a statement describing our going concern status. This means, in our auditor's opinion, substantial doubt about our ability to continue as a going concern exists at the date of their latest audit opinion.

While the Company is of the opinion that good faith estimates of the Company's ability to secure additional capital in the future to reach our goals have been made, there is no guarantee that the Company will receive sufficient funding to sustain operations or implement any future business plan steps.

NOTE C - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

1. Cash and cash equivalents

The Company considers all cash on hand and in banks, including accounts in book overdraft positions, certificates of deposit and other highly-liquid investments with maturities of three months or less, when purchased, to be cash and cash equivalents.

2. Income taxes

The Company utilizes the asset and liability method of accounting for income taxes. At June 30, 2002 and 2001, the deferred tax asset and deferred tax liability accounts, as recorded when material, are entirely the result of temporary differences. Temporary differences represent differences in the recognition of assets and liabilities for tax and financial reporting purposes, primarily accumulated depreciation and amortization. No valuation allowance was provided against deferred tax assets, where applicable. As of June 30, 2002 and 2001, the deferred tax asset related to the Company's net operating loss carryforward was fully reserved due to the unpredictability of ultimate realization.

3. Earnings (Loss) per share

Basic earnings (loss) per share is computed by dividing the net income (loss) by the weighted-average number of shares of common stock and common stock equivalents (primarily outstanding options and warrants). Common stock equivalents represent the dilutive effect of the assumed exercise of the outstanding stock options and warrants, using the treasury stock method. The calculation of fully diluted earnings (loss) per share assumes the dilutive effect of the exercise of outstanding options and warrants at either the beginning of the respective period presented or the date of issuance, whichever is later. As of June 30, 2002 and 2001, the Company has no warrants and/or options issued and outstanding.

NOTE D - Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The carrying amount of cash, accounts receivable, accounts payable and notes payable, as applicable, approximates fair value due to the short term nature of these items and/or the current interest rates payable in relation to current market conditions.

NOTE E - Seasonality of Operations

The Company experiences fluctuations in quarterly operating expenses, principally professional services for compliance with The Securities Exchange Act of 1934, which are charged to operations in the period in which the services are incurred.

NOTE F - Advances from Officer

To support operations, the Company's former chief executive officer made non-interest bearing working capital advances to support operations. As of June 30, 2002, the Company owes this individual approximately $7,900. These advances are repayable upon demand.

In July 2002, this individual made an additional advance of approximately $2,560 to bring the total advances to approximately $10,460. On July 24, 2002, this former officer forgave the $10,460 in working capital advances to the Company and these amounts were reclassified to additional paid-in capital on that date.

NOTE G - Income Taxes

The components of income tax (benefit) expense for the six months ended June 30, 2002 and 2001, respectively, are as follows:

	June 30, 2002	June 30, 2001
Federal:
Current	$ -	$ -
Deferred	-	-
State:	-	-
Current	-	-
Deferred	-	-
Total	$ -	$ -

With a 1999 change of control of the Company, all net operating loss carryforwards incurred prior to that time were negated in accordance with Section 382 of the Internal Revenue Code. As of June 30, 2002, the Company has a net operating loss carryforward of approximately $20,460 to offset future taxable income. Subject to current regulations, this carryforward will begin to expire in 2020. The amount and availability of the net operating loss carryforwards may be subject to limitations set forth by the Internal Revenue Code. Factors such as the number of shares ultimately issued within a three year look-back period; whether there is a deemed more than 50 percent change in control; the applicable long-term tax exempt bond rate; continuity of historical business; and subsequent income of the Company all enter into the annual computation of allowable annual utilization of the carryforwards.

The Company's income tax expense for the six months ended June 30, 2002 and 2001, respectively, are as follows:

	Six months ended June 30, 2002	Six months ended June 30, 2001
Statutory rate applied to loss before income taxes	$(1,340)	$(830)
Increase (decrease) in income taxes resulting from:
State income taxes	-	-
Other, including reserve for deferred tax asset	1,340	830
Income tax expense	$ -	$ -

Temporary differences, consisting primarily of statutory deferrals of expenses for organizational costs and statutory differences in the depreciable lives for property and equipment, between the financial statement carrying amounts and tax bases of assets and liabilities give rise to deferred tax assets and liabilities as of June 30, 2002 and 2001, respectively:

	June 30, 2002	June 30, 2001
Deferred tax assets
Net operating loss carryforwards	$6,960	$3,940
Less valuation allowance	(6,960)	(3,940)
Net Deferred Tax Asset	$ -	$ -

During the six months ended June 30, 2002 and 2001, the reserve for the deferred current tax asset increased by approximately $1,340 and $830, respectively.

NOTE H - Common Stock Transactions

During the first quarter of 2001, the Company performed an extensive reconciliation of its shareholder list in conjunction with the appointment of a new stock transfer agent. As a result of this reconciliation process, the Company noted various clerical errors in its issued and outstanding shares. The net effect of this reconciliation process was to add 10,600 shares to the issued and outstanding shares of the Company as of the first day of the first period presented.

Item 2. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OR PLAN OF OPERATIONS

SPECIAL NOTE OF CAUTION REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

Certain statements contained in this filing, including, without limitation, statements containing the words "believes", "anticipates", "expects" and words of similar import, constitute forward-looking statements. Such forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of the Company, or industry results, to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements.

Such factors include, among others, the following: international, national and local general economic and market conditions; demographic changes; the ability of the Company to sustain, manage or forecast its growth; the ability of the Company to successfully make and integrate acquisitions; raw material costs and availability; new product development and introduction; existing government regulations and changes in, or the failure to comply with, government regulations; adverse publicity; competition; the loss of significant customers or suppliers; fluctuations and difficulty in forecasting operating results; changes in business strategy or development plans; business disruptions; the ability to attract and retain qualified personnel; the ability to protect technology; and other factors referenced in this and previous filings.

Given these uncertainties, readers of this Form 10-QSB and investors are cautioned not to place undue reliance on such forward-looking statements. The Company disclaims any obligation to update any such factors or to publicly announce the result of any revisions to any of the forward-looking statements contained herein to reflect future events or developments.

(a) General

Shallbetter Industries, Inc. (Company) was initially incorporated on September 8, 1968 under the laws of the State of Minnesota. The Company has not conducted any business operations or maintained any assets since 1982. The current business purpose of the Company is to seek out and obtain a merger, acquisition or outright sale transaction whereby the Company's shareholders will benefit. The Company is not currently engaged in any negotiations and continues to seek an appropriate merger or acquisition candidate.

(b) Results of Operations, Liquidity and Capital Resources and Plan of Operation

The Company had no revenue for the six month periods ended June 30, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

General and administrative expenses for the six months ended June 30, 2002 and 2001 were approximately $3,900 and $2,400, respectively. These expenses consisted primarily of legal and accounting expenses associated with maintaining the corporate status of the Company and compliance with the periodic reporting requirements of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

The Company realized a net loss of $3,900 and $2,400 for the first six months of 2002 and 2001, respectively.

The Company does not expect to generate any meaningful revenue or incur operating expenses unless and until it acquires an interest in an operating company.

At June 30, 2002, the Company had available cash of $20, a deficit in working capital of $(10,460) and negative shareholders' equity of $(10,460). The available cash is the result of cumulative working capital advances of approximately $7,900 made to the Company by its former chief executive officer, Craig Laughlin, through June 30, 2002. In July 2002, Mr. Laughlin advanced an additional $2,560 to the Company to bring his total advances to approximately $10,460. On July 24, 2002, subsequent to the end of the period, Mr. Laughlin forgave the $10,460 in working capital advances to the Company and these amounts were reclassified to additional paid-in capital on that date.

The Company is currently fully dependent upon either future sales of securities and/or advances or loans from significant stockholders or corporate officers to provide sufficient working capital to preserve the integrity of the corporate entity.

There is no assurance that the Company will be able to obtain additional funding through the sales of additional securities or that such funding, if available, will be obtained on terms favorable to or affordable by the Company.

It is the intent of management and significant stockholders to provide sufficient working capital necessary to support and preserve the integrity of the corporate entity. However, there is no legal obligation for either management or significant stockholders to provide additional future funding.

The Company's need for capital may change dramatically if it acquires an interest in a business opportunity during the next 12 months. The Company's current operating plan is to (i) handle the administrative and reporting requirements of a public company; and (ii) search for potential businesses, products, technologies and companies for acquisition. At present, the Company has no understandings, commitments or agreements with respect to the acquisition of any business, product, technology or company and there can be no assurance that the Company will identify any such business, product, technology or company suitable for acquisition in the future. Further, there can be no assurance that the Company would be successful in consummating any acquisition on favorable terms or that it will be able to profitably manage the business, product, technology or company it acquires.
