NOTES TO THE CONSOLIDATED STATEMENT OF FINANCIAL CONDITION FOR THE YEAR ENDED
DECEMBER 31, 2020

NOTE 1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Description of Business and Organization

StateTrust Investments, Inc. ("STI"), incorporated under the laws of the State of Delaware on April 14, 2000, is a broker of various types of equity, debt, and mutual fund securities and option contracts. STI primarily acts in an agency capacity, buying and selling securities for its customers, both foreign and domestic, and charging a commission. Approximately 85% of STI's unaffiliated customers are located in Latin America. STI earns commission income, fees, and margin interest participation from transactions with clients. Approximately 74% of the Company's revenue originated from related parties in 2020. STI also trades securities for its own account.

StateTrust Investments, Inc. is a wholly owned subsidiary of StateTrust Group LLC (the "Parent").

Boca 1750, LLC ("Boca 1750"), is a wholly owned subsidiary of the Parent. Boca 1750 is a company affiliated via common ownership with StateTrust Investments, Inc., was organized in 2018 and is the lessor of real property occupied by StateTrust Investments, Inc.

Basis of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of StateTrust Investments, Inc. and Boca 1750, LLC, collectively referred to as the "Company". Boca 1750 is a variable interest entity in which StateTrust Investments, Inc. has the power to direct its significant activities, has guaranteed the mortgage note payable for the property, which represents the maximum exposure to loss, and is the primary beneficiary. All material intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

Consolidation of the variable interest entity's assets amounted to approximately $12.9 million comprised principally of cash and real estate property and liabilities of approximately $12.8 million comprised principally of a mortgage note payable and a related party note payable to STI of which approximately $2.9 million eliminates in consolidation. The equity interests of Boca 1750 are reflected as non-controlling interest in the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

Government and Other Regulation

The Company's business is subject to significant regulation by various governmental agencies and self-regulatory organizations. Such regulation includes, among other things, periodic examinations by these regulatory bodies to determine whether the Company is conducting and reporting its operations in accordance with the applicable requirements of these organizations.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid investments having maturities of three months or less at the date of acquisition to be cash equivalents. The Company may, during the course of business, maintain account balances in excess of federally insured limits. At December 31, 2020, the Company held $355,810 in cash balances in excess of federally insured limits.

Deposit at Clearing Broker

The deposit at clearing broker consists of contractually restricted account balances held at the Company's clearing broker.

Valuation of Investments in Securities at Fair Value – Definition and Hierarchy

The Company's investments in securities are required to be carried at fair value. Fair value is the price that the Company would receive to sell an investment or pay to transfer a liability in a timely transaction with an independent counter-party in the principal market or in the absence of a principal market, the most advantageous market for the investment or liability. Accounting rules establish a three-tier hierarchy to distinguish between (1) inputs that reflect the assumptions market participants would use in pricing an asset or liability developed based on market data obtained from sources independent of the reporting entity (observable inputs) and (2) inputs that reflect the reporting entity's own assumptions about the assumptions market participants would use in pricing an asset or liability developed based on the best information available in the circumstances (unobservable inputs) and to establish classification of fair value measurements for disclosure purposes. Various inputs are used in determining the value of the Company's investments.

The hierarchy is summarized in the three broad levels listed below:

Level 1—quoted prices in active markets for identical investments

Level 2 – other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar investments, interest rates, credit risk, etc.)

Level 3 – significant unobservable inputs (including the Company's own assumptions in determining the fair value of investments)

In applying the provisions of these accounting values to the Company's portfolio activities during the year, the following valuation techniques have been employed:

Securities traded on a national securities exchange (or reported on the NASDAQ national market) are stated at the last reported sales price on the day of valuation. To the extent these securities are actively traded, valuation adjustments are not applied, they are categorized in level 1 of the fair value hierarchy. Certain foreign securities may be fair valued using a pricing service that considers the correlation of the trading patterns of the foreign security to the intraday trading in the U.S. markets for investments such as American Depository Receipts, financial futures, Exchange Traded Funds, and the movement of certain indices of securities based on a statistical analysis of the historical relationship and that are categorized in level 2. Preferred stock and other equities traded on inactive markets or valued by reference to similar instruments are also categorized in level 2.

Sovereign Government Bonds

The fair value of sovereign government bonds is generally based on quoted prices in active markets. When quoted prices are not available, fair value is determined based on a valuation model that uses inputs that include interest rate yield curves, cross currency basis index spreads, and country credit spreads similar to the bond in terms of issuer, maturity and seniority. These items are typically categorized in Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

Corporate Bonds

The fair value of corporate bonds is estimated using recently executed transactions, market price quotations (where observable), bond spreads or credit default swap spreads. The spread data used are for the same maturity as the bond. If the spread data does not reference the issuer, then data that references a comparable issuer is used. When observable price quotations are not available, fair value is determined based on cash flow models with yield curves, bond, or single name credit default swap spreads and recovery rates based on collateral values as key inputs. Corporate bonds are typically categorized in Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

Income tax receivable

Income tax receivable consists of federal taxes receivable. Under the CARES Act, the federal taxable loss generated by the Company in 2020 can be carried back five years to offset prior taxes paid. The Company expects to generate a refund upon filing the appropriate documents with the Internal Revenue Service.

Revenue Recognition

In May 2014, the FASB issued comprehensive new revenue recognition guidance, ASU 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606). The guidance requires a company to recognize revenue when it transfers promised services to clients in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the company expects to be entitled in exchange for those services and requires enhanced disclosures. The guidance also changes the accounting for certain contract costs, including whether they may be offset against revenue in the statement of operations. The guidance requires an entity to follow a five-step model to:

- a) Identify the contract(s) with a customer,
- b) identify the performance obligations in the contract,
- c) determine the transaction price,
- d) allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract, and
- e) recognize revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation.

On July 9, 2015, the FASB approved the deferral of the effective date of the new revenue guidance by one year to annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2017. The guidance may be adopted using a full retrospective approach or a modified cumulative effect approach. STI adopted the guidance upon its effective date of January 1, 2018 using the modified retrospective method which had no impact on STI's opening retained earnings. Further, STI determined there was no material impact to STI's recognition of revenue from adoption of Topic 606.

Brokerage Commissions

STI buys and sells securities on behalf of its customers. Each time a customer enters into a buy or sell transaction, STI charges a commission. Commissions and related clearing expenses are recorded on the trade date (the date that STI fills the trade order by finding and contracting with a counterparty and confirms the trade with the customer). The Company believes that the performance obligation is satisfied on the trade date because that is when the underlying financial instrument or purchaser is identified, the pricing is agreed upon and the risks and rewards of ownership have been transferred to/from the customer.

Revenue Recognition (continued)Distribution Fees

STI enters into arrangements with managed accounts or other pooled investment vehicles (funds) to distribute shares to investors. The Company may receive distribution fees paid by the fund up front, over time, upon the investor's exit from the fund (that is, a contingent deferred sales charge), or as a combination thereof. STI believes that its performance obligation is the sale of securities to investors and as such this is fulfilled on the trade date. Any fixed amounts are recognized on the trade date and variable amounts are recognized to the extent it is probable that a significant revenue reversal will not occur once the uncertainty is resolved. For variable amounts, as the uncertainty is dependent on the value of the shares at future points in time as well as the length of time the investor remains in the fund, both of which are highly susceptible to factors outside STI's influence, STI does not believe that it can overcome this constraint until the market value of the fund and the investor activities are known, which are usually monthly or quarterly. Distribution fees recognized in the current year are primarily related to performance obligations that have been satisfied during the year.

Other income

STI recognizes revenue for postage and handling on certain of its customers' trades. This revenue is recorded on the trade date (the date that STI fills the trade order by finding and contracting with a counterparty and confirms the trade with the customer). The Company believes that the performance obligation is satisfied on the trade date because that is when the underlying financial instrument or purchaser is identified, the pricing is agreed upon and the risks and rewards of ownership have been transferred to/from the customer.

Due from Affiliates

Amounts due from affiliates and related parties are stated at the outstanding balance of funds due for repayment of advances and charges for services rendered. The carrying amount may be reduced by an allowance that reflects management's best estimate of the amounts that will not be collected. As management believes that the amounts are fully collectible and are therefore stated at net realizable value, management has not recorded an allowance for doubtful accounts.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are recorded at cost. The Company provides for depreciation over the estimated useful lives of the assets using the straight line method. The estimated useful lives of these assets range from five to twenty seven and a half years. Maintenance and repairs are charged to expenses as incurred. Renewals and betterments that extend the useful lives of assets are capitalized.

Income Taxes

StateTrust Investments, Inc. accounts for income taxes under the liability method whereby deferred tax assets and liabilities are provided for the future tax consequences attributable to temporary differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled.

Boca 1750 is treated as a disregarded entity for federal income tax purposes. Consequently, federal income taxes are not payable by Boca 1750. Members are taxed individually on their share of the Boca 1750's earnings. Boca 1750's net income or loss is allocated among the members in accordance with the operating agreement of Boca 1750. No provision for income taxes for Boca 1750 is included in the accompanying financial statements.

The Company assesses its tax positions in accordance with "Accounting for Uncertainties in Income Taxes" as prescribed by the Accounting Standards Codification, which provides guidance for financial statement recognition and measurement of uncertain tax positions taken or expected to be taken in a tax return for open tax years (generally a period of three years from the later of each return's due date or the date filed) that remain subject to examination by the Company's major tax jurisdictions. As of December 31, 2020, tax years for 2017, 2018, and 2019 are subject to examination by tax authorities.

The Company assesses its tax positions and determines whether it has any material unrecognized liabilities for uncertain tax positions. The Company records these liabilities to the extent it deems them more likely than not to be incurred. Interest and penalties related to uncertain tax positions, if any, would be classified as a component of income tax expense.

The Company believes that it does not have any significant uncertain tax positions requiring recognition or measurement in the accompanying financial statements.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of the consolidated financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Such estimates include allowance for doubtful accounts, deferred tax assets and liabilities, and valuation allowances.

NOTE 2. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

Management Agreement

The Company has entered into a management agreement with an affiliate that is related to the Company by virtue of common ownership.

This affiliate receives a management fee in consideration of referral agent expenses, utilities, salaries, telephone, equipment, furniture and fixtures, postage, office supplies, and other general administrative and office expenses paid on behalf of the Company.

As of December 31, 2020, the Company has outstanding advances to this affiliate of $39,520. In addition, the amounts remitted in excess of management fees due to this related entity at December 31, 2020, are accounted for as in-substance distribution, which aggregate $1,758,364.

The Company pays commissions and referral fees to certain affiliated registered representatives and referral brokers who are related by virtue of common ownership.

Distribution Agreement

Pursuant to a distribution agreement dated July 17, 2003, the Company is the exclusive agent for the distribution of shares to certain offshore funds ("Funds"). The Company is related to the Funds as it has common management. These Funds operate as diversified open-end management investment companies.

The Mortgage calls for monthly interest and principal payments of $60,321 beginning July 15, 2018 until June 15, 2025, at which time all outstanding principal, plus all accrued and unpaid interest is due. The Mortgage bears interest at 4.85% per annum and is collateralized by certain assets of Boca 1750. The Mortgage is guaranteed by STG, STI, and other related entities. At December 31, 2020, accrued interest amounted to approximately $21,000 and is included in accounts payable and accrued expenses in the accompanying consolidated balance sheet.

NOTE 9. RISK CONCENTRATIONS

Clearing and Depository Concentrations

The Company has its clearing and depository operations for the Company's securities transactions with Axos Clearing LLC (Axos), whose main office is located in Nebraska. The underlying agreement with Axos renews annually and provides for early termination fees based on average clearing charges. At December 31, 2020, the receivable from broker and deposit at clearing broker are with this brokerage firm.

Other Risk Concentrations

In the normal course of business, the Company's customer activities involve the execution, settlement, and financing of various customer securities transactions. These activities may expose the Company to off-balance-sheet risk in the event the customer or other broker is unable to fulfill its contracted obligations and the Company has to purchase or sell the financial instrument underlying the contract at a loss.

The Company's customer securities activities are transacted on either a cash or margin basis. In margin transactions, the Company through its clearing broker extends credit to its customers, subject to various regulatory and internal margin requirements, collateralized by cash and securities in the customers' accounts. In addition to these activities, the Company may execute customer transactions involving the sale of securities not yet purchased, substantially all of which are transacted on a margin basis subject to individual exchange regulations. Such transactions may expose the Company to significant off-balance-sheet risk in the event margin requirements are not sufficient to fully cover losses that customers may incur. In the event the customer fails to satisfy its obligations, the Company may be required to purchase or sell financial instruments at prevailing market prices to fulfill the customer's obligations. The Company seeks to control the risks associated with its customer activities by requiring customers to maintain margin collateral in compliance with various regulatory and internal guidelines. The Company monitors required margin levels daily, and pursuant to such guidelines, requires the customer to deposit additional collateral or to reduce positions when necessary.

NOTE 10. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

In March 2020, the World Health Organization declared the novel strain of coronavirus (COVID-19) a global pandemic and recommended containment and mitigation measures worldwide. The pandemic has had an adverse effect on the Company's revenue, which impact has been concentrated in commissions and net trading gains. In response, the Company reduced certain expenses to improve results of operations and received a Paycheck Protection Program loan that was authorized by the federal government as part of the CARES Act. The full impact upon the Company of the COVID-19 pandemic cannot be determined at this time, but it could have a material, adverse effect on the Company's financial position, results of operations and cash flows.

NOTE 11. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

The company has evaluated subsequent events through February 24, 2021 which is the date the consolidated financial statements were available to be issued and determined that no additional financial statement recognition or disclosure is necessary.
