Note 3 – Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the period. Actual results could differ from these estimates, and such differences could be material.

Consolidated financial statements

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company, its four wholly-owned inactive subsidiaries DB Sim Holdings Ltd. (“DB Sim”), Prime Battery Products Limited (“Prime Battery”), Marlon Distributors Ltd. (“Marlon Distributors”) and 1588102 Ontario Inc. (“1588102”), its 99.7% owned subsidiary WACL, and its wholly-owned subsidiaries Prime Wireless and Wireless Source. WACL, DB Sim and Wireless Source are incorporated under the laws of the province of Saskatchewan, Canada. Prime Wireless, Prime Battery and 1588102 are incorporated under the laws of the Province of Ontario, Canada. All inter-company transactions have been eliminated.

Inventory

Telecommunications equipment and accessories inventory is recorded at the lower of cost and net realizable value with cost being determined by the first-in, first-out method.

Allowance for Doubtful Accounts

The Company records an allowance for doubtful accounts based on specifically identified amounts that management believes to be uncollectible. The criteria for allowance provision are determined based on historical experience and the Company’s assessment of the general financial conditions affecting its customer base. If the Company’s actual collections experience changes, revisions to the allowance may be required.

Investments

Investments are recorded as available for sale marketable securities. Available for sale marketable securities are recorded at fair value and unrealized gains and losses, net of tax are recorded separately in stockholders’ equity. Realized gains or losses and other than temporary declines in value are reported in other income or expense as incurred.

Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are recorded at cost less accumulated amortization. Amortization is provided over estimated useful life of the assets using the following annual rates:

Computer hardware	30% declining balance
Computer software	2 years straight-line
Equipment under capital lease	10 years straight-line
Leasehold improvements	5 years straight-line
Office equipment	10 years straight-line
Network equipment	30% declining balance
Rental equipment	30% declining balance
Shop tools	10 years straight-line

Property, plant and equipment are reviewed for impairment in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (“SFAS”) No. 144, “Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-lived Assets”, which was adopted effective January 1, 2002. Under SFAS No. 144, these assets are tested for recoverability whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. An impairment charge is recognized for the amount, if any, which the carrying value of the asset exceeds the fair value.

Acquisitions and Business Combinations

The Company accounts for acquisitions and business combinations under the purchase method of accounting. The Company includes the results of operations of the acquired business from the acquisition date. Net assets of the companies acquired are recorded at their fair value at the acquisition date. The excess of the purchase price over the fair value of net assets acquired are included in intangible assets and goodwill in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets.

Impairment of Long-lived Assets

Property, plant and equipment are reviewed for impairment in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (“SFAS”) No. 144, “Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-lived Assets”, which was adopted effective January 1, 2002. Under SFAS No. 144, these assets are tested for recoverability whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. An impairment charge is recognized for the amount, if any, which the carrying value of the asset exceeds the fair value.

Intangibles, goodwill and other assets

The Company follows SFAS No 142, “Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets”. SFAS No. 142 does not permit the amortization of goodwill and indefinite-lived intangible assets. Instead, these assets must be reviewed annually (or more frequently under prescribed conditions) for impairment in accordance with this statement. If the carrying amount of the reporting unit’s goodwill or indefinite-lived intangible assets exceeds the implied fair value, an impairment loss is recognized for an amount equal to that excess. Intangible assets that do not have indefinite lives are amortized over their useful lives.

The Company annually reviews all of its long-lived assets, including goodwill and other intangible assets, for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may not be recoverable based on undiscounted cash flows. Factors the Company considers important that could trigger an impairment review include, but are not limited to, significant underperformance relative to historical or projected future operating results, significant changes in the manner of use of the acquired assets or the strategy for the Company’s overall business, and significant negative industry or economic trends and the current fair market value if available. When management determines that an impairment review is necessary based upon the existence of one or more of the above indicators of impairment, the Company measures any impairment based on a projected discounted cash flow method using a discount rate commensurate with the risk inherent in our current business model. Significant judgment is required in the development of projected cash flows for these purposes including assumptions regarding the appropriate level of aggregation of cash flows, their term and discount rate as well as the underlying forecasts of expected future revenue and expense. To the extent that events or circumstances cause assumptions to change, charges may be required which could be material.

Residual premiums are amounts paid for future residual revenue of retail cellular and telecommunications subscriber business recorded at cost less accumulated amortization. Amortization is provided for on a straight-line basis over five years. Agency fees are amortized over the term of the related agreement (ten years) on a straight line basis.

Capital Leases

The Company’s policy is to record leases, which transfer substantially all benefits and risks incidental to ownership of property, as acquisitions of property and equipment and to record the incurrences of corresponding obligations as liabilities. Obligations under capital leases are reduced by rental payments net of imputed interest.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The carrying value of cash and cash equivalents, receivables, accounts payable and accrued liabilities and customer deposits approximates fair value because of the short maturity of these instruments. The carrying value of long-term debt also approximates fair value. Unless otherwise noted, it is management's opinion that the Company is not exposed to significant interest, currency or credit risk arising from these financial instruments.

Advertising and Marketing Costs

The Company expenses the costs of advertising and marketing as incurred. The Company incurred $347,383 and $357,506 of advertising and marketing expenses during the nine month periods ended September 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively.

Income Taxes

The Company follows Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 109, "Accounting for Income Taxes" ("FAS 109") which requires the use of the asset and liability method of accounting of income taxes. Under the assets and liability method of FAS 109, deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to temporary differences between the financial statements carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and loss carryforwards and their respective tax bases. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the year in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled.

Basic and Diluted Earnings (Loss) Per Share

The Company reports basic earnings (loss) per share in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 128, "Earnings Per Share". Basic earnings (loss) per share is computed using the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings per share includes the potentially dilutive effect of outstanding common stock options and warrants which are convertible to common shares. Diluted loss per share is not presented if the results would be "anti-dilutive".

Foreign Currency Translation

The functional currency of the Company is Canadian dollars, which has been translated into US dollars, the reporting currency, in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 52 "Foreign Currency Translation". Assets and liabilities are translated at the exchange rate at the balance sheet date and revenue and expenses are translated at the exchange rate at the date those elements are recognized. Any translation adjustments resulting are not included in determining net income but are included in other comprehensive income.

Comprehensive Income

The Company has adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 130, "Reporting Comprehensive Income". Comprehensive income is comprised of foreign currency translation adjustments and unrealized gains and losses on available for sale marketable securities.

Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes revenue from the sale of telecommunications equipment, digital subscriber line equipment, accessories and other electronics products, when the products are delivered and accepted by the customer. Activation commission fees earned from the telephone companies are recognized at the time of activation by the customer and include the sale of post paid cellular service contracts, high speed internet and television services. Residual commission fees are recognized at the point in time they are earned. The Company receives revenue from rental contracts for radio equipment and recognizes the revenue upon completion of the service. The Company receives co-op advertising revenue from the telephone companies based on the requirement to spend 30-60% of the available co-op advertising allotment. Any amount received under this program is deducted from advertising expense.

Revenue from long-term contracts for developing and building telecommunications systems is recognized using the percentage of completion method where revenue is recorded as costs are incurred, based on actual costs incurred to date on a contract, relative to the estimated total costs to complete the contract. Unbilled revenue represents revenue earned in excess of amounts billed on uncompleted contracts. Deferred revenue represents the extent that billings to clients are in excess of revenue recognized to date. The results reported under the percentage of completion method are based on management's estimates of total costs to complete the various contracts. Should total actual costs be materially higher or lower than these estimates, adjustment to future results would be necessary.

Warranty Sales and Costs

The Company, through its retail operating segment, sells extended warranty plans for certain telecommunications equipment. It recognizes revenue on a straight line basis over the period in which the Company is obligated to service the equipment. The Company also defers certain costs associated with the sale of the extended warranty plan and matches such costs against revenue as it is recognized.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents are included at cost, which approximates market. At September 30, 2007, the Company's cash and cash equivalents were held primarily by one financial institution. The Company considers all highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less to be cash equivalents, while those having original maturities in excess of three months are classified as marketable securities or as long-term marketable securities.

Discontinued Operations

The Company has followed Statement of Financial Accounting Standard No. 144 ("SFAS No. 144"), "Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets". Accordingly, the Company recognized as discontinued operations the results of the Wireless Works business unit (see Note 8). The Company has also recognized the operations of mmwave, prior to bankruptcy as discontinued operations.

Convertible Preferred Stock

The Company has followed Financial Accounting Standards Board, Emerging Issues Task Force ("EITF") abstracts 98-5 and 00-27 and has recorded a non-cash charge to income representing the intrinsic value of the beneficial conversion option inherent in the preferred stock.

The Company has also determined the relative fair values of the warrants and the preferred stock and has charged the fair value of the warrants to additional paid in capital.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In February 2007, the FASB issued FASB Statement NO. 159, "The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities – Including an Amendment of FASB Statement No. 115" ("SFAS 159"). The fair value option established by SFAS 159 permits all entities to choose to measure eligible items at fair value at specified election dates. A business entity will report unrealized gains or losses on items for which the fair value option has been elected in earnings (or another performance indication if the business entity does not report earnings) at each subsequent reporting date. The fair value option: (a) may be applied instrument by instrument, with a few exceptions, such as investments otherwise accounted for by the equity method; (b) is irrevocable (unless a new election date occurs); and (c) is applied only to entire instruments and not to portions of instruments. FASB No. 159 is effective as of the beginning of the fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007. The Company is currently evaluating what impact, if any, SFAS 159 will have on its financial position or results of operations.

FASB Interpretation No. 48, "Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes, an interpretation of FASB Statement No.109." Interpretation 48 prescribes a recognition threshold and a measurement attribute for the financial statement recognition and measurement of a tax position taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. Benefits from tax positions should be recognized in the financial statements only when it is more likely than not that the tax position will be sustained upon examination by the appropriate taxing authority that would have full knowledge of all relevant information. The amount of tax benefits to be recognized for a tax position that meets the more-likely-than-not recognition threshold is measured as the largest amount of benefit that is greater than fifty percent likely of being realized upon ultimate settlement. Tax benefits relating to tax positions that previously failed to meet the more-likely-than-not recognition threshold should be recognized in the first subsequent financial reporting period in which that threshold is met or certain other events have occurred. Previously recognized tax benefits relating to tax positions that no longer meet the more-likely-than-not recognition threshold should be derecognized in the first subsequent financial reporting period in which that threshold is no longer met. Interpretation 48 also provides guidance on the accounting for and disclosure of tax reserves for unrecognized tax benefits, interest and penalties and accounting in interim periods. Interpretation 48 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2006. The change in net assets as a result of applying this pronouncement will be a change in accounting principle with the cumulative effect of the change required to be treated as an adjustment to the opening balance of retained earnings on January 1, 2007, except in certain cases involving uncertainties relating to income taxes in purchase business combinations. In such instances, the impact of the adoption of Interpretation 48 will result in an adjustment to goodwill. The Company adopted Interpretation 48 on January 1, 2007, which did not have a material impact on the Company's financial statements.

On September 30, 2007 the fair value of the Newlook securities was $831,439 ($695,737, CAD$692,138 or CAD$0.55 per share, for the common shares and $135,702, CAD$135,000, for the warrant) and accordingly the Company recorded a $170,425 unrealized holding gain on the securities as an increase to accumulated other comprehensive income.

Overview

During the quarter ended September 30, 2007, the Company generated earnings of $496,423 ($595,147 from continuing operations and a loss of $98,724 from discontinued operations). Management's efforts to reduce costs, sell or eliminate unprofitable business units and improve the financial performance of the Company are reflected in the financial results for the third quarter of fiscal 2007. The year to date 2007 discontinued operations gain was affected by the disposal of Knowlton Pass Electronics Inc. (which was sold effective March 1, 2007) and mmwave Technologies Inc. Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

The discussion and analysis of results of operations and financial condition are based upon the consolidated financial statements, which have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP). The preparation of these consolidated financial statements requires management to make estimates and judgments that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses, and related disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities. Management evaluates the estimates on an on-going basis, including those related to bad debts, inventories, investments, customer accounts, intangible assets, income taxes, and contingencies and litigation. Management bases its estimates on historical experience and on various other assumptions that they believe to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions. Note 3 of the "Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements" includes a summary of the significant accounting policies and methods used in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements. The following is a brief description of the more significant accounting policies and methods the Company uses.

Inventory

Telecommunications equipment and accessories inventory is recorded at the lower of cost and net realizable value with cost being determined by the first-in, first-out method. The Company analyzes inventory levels annually and writes down inventory that has become obsolete, inventory that has a cost basis in excess of its expected net realizable value and inventory in excess of expected requirements, to cost of goods sold. Expired inventory is disposed of and the related costs are written off. If actual market conditions are less favorable than that estimated by us, additional write-downs of existing inventory may be required in future periods.

Inventory currently represents approximately 36% of total current assets and is subject to risk of inexact estimates by management.

Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes revenue from the sale of telecommunications equipment, digital subscriber line equipment, accessories and other electronic products when the products are delivered and accepted by the customer and include the sale of post paid cellular service contracts, high speed internet and television services. Activation commission fees earned from the telephone companies are recognized at the time of activation by the customer. Residual commission fees are recognized at the time they are earned and reasonable assurance of collection exists. The Company receives co-op advertising revenue from the telephone companies based on the requirement to spend 30-60% of the available co-op advertising allotment. Any amount received under this program is deducted from advertising expense.

Revenue from long-term contracts for developing and building telecommunications systems is recognized using the percentage of completion method where revenue is recorded as costs are incurred, based on actual costs incurred to date on a contract, relative to the estimated total costs to complete the contract. Unbilled revenue represents revenue earned in excess of amounts billed on uncompleted contracts. Deferred revenue represents the extent that billings to clients are in excess of revenue recognized to date. The results reported under the percentage of completion method are based on management's estimates of total costs to complete the various contracts. Should total actual costs be materially higher or lower than these estimates, adjustment to future results would be necessary.

We believe that revenue recognition is substantially objectively measured and other than collectibility which is covered elsewhere, there are no elements of estimates in them. However, in our long term contracts, which at current levels are generally not material, there are estimates of completion on how much is earned and therefore are subject to risks of inexact estimates by management.

Warranty Sales and Costs

The Company, through its retail operating segment, sells extended warranty plans for certain telecommunications equipment. It recognizes revenue on a straight line basis over the period in which the Company is obligated to service the equipment. The Company also defers certain costs associated with the sale of the extended warranty plan and matches such costs against revenue as it is recognized.

Impairment of Long-lived Assets

Property, plant and equipment are reviewed for impairment in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 144, "Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-lived Assets", which was adopted effective January 1, 2002. Under SFAS No. 144, these assets are tested for recoverability whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. An impairment charge is recognized for the amount, if any, which the carrying value of the asset exceeds the fair value.

Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets

Residual premiums are amounts paid for future residual revenue of retail cellular and telecommunications subscriber business recorded at cost less accumulated amortization. Amortization is provided for on a straight-line basis over five years. Agency fees are amortized over the term of the related agreement (ten years) on a straight line basis.

The Company follows SFAS No 142, "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets". SFAS No. 142 does not permit the amortization of goodwill and indefinite-lived intangible assets. Instead, these assets must be reviewed annually (or more frequently under prescribed conditions) for impairment in accordance with this statement. If the carrying amount of the reporting unit's goodwill or indefinite-lived intangible assets exceeds the implied fair value, an impairment loss is recognized for an amount equal to that excess. Intangible assets that do not have indefinite lives are amortized over their useful lives.

Financial Condition

The financial position of the Company has improved since last fiscal year end due to the disposal of Knowlton Pass Electronics Inc. and the deconsolidation of mmwave Technologies Inc. Both entities had net asset deficits.

Since December 31, 2006 total assets have decreased by $1,295,858 to $6,912,273 at September 30, 2007. Current assets have decreased by $451,104 and non current assets have decreased by $844,754. The reasons for the declines are the sale of Knowlton Pass Electronics Inc. and the disposal of mmwave Technologies Inc. by way of assignment into bankruptcy.

Current assets decreased during the current year by $451,104 to $5,845,381 at September 30, 2007. Accounts receivable decreased by approximately $925,000 primarily due to a reduction in level of sales from the 4th quarter of fiscal 2006 and the elimination of mmwave due to the bankruptcy. Inventory levels have increased by approximately $273,000 reflecting the ramp up in retail activity between the two periods. Cash balances were reduced by approximately $275,000 at September 30, 2007 due to normal business fluctuations. Work in progress, due from related parties balances and assets of discontinued operations at year end were reduced to zero at the end of the first three quarters of fiscal 2007. Prepaid balances also have increased since year end by approximately $80,000 due to normal business fluctuations.

Net Property, plant and equipment assets have decreased since year end by approximately $554,000 to $685,338 at September 30, 2007. The net decrease is primarily due to disposal of mmwave assets and normal amortization of assets of continuing operations.

Intangible assets decreased since year end by $62,222 due to normal amortization of certain intangibles. Goodwill did not change during the period.

Almost half of the liabilities of the Company as at December 31, 2006 have been eliminated due to the disposal of Knowlton Pass Electronics Inc. and the disposal of mmwave Technologies Inc. by way of bankruptcy. Total liabilities have decreased since December 31, 2006 by $4,447,305 to $5,931,565 at September 30, 2007. Current liabilities decreased by $4,090,615 to $5,801,840 during the current period. Minority interest, which represents the amount of net assets owed to the parties holding the remaining 0.3% of Wireless Age Communications Ltd., remained at $1,283 at September 30, 2007.

Stockholders' equity has increased since year end from a deficiency of $2,170,739 to a surplus of $980,708 at September 30, 2007. The increase is the result of:

1. An increase in additional paid in capital arising from an adjustment associated with 2,000,000 warrants in total issued to the Company's former CEO, former President of mmwave and the Company's current CFO, valued at $190,000;
2. An adjustment to additional paid in capital of $2,515,767 representing the intrinsic value of a beneficial conversion feature associated with the conversion rights of preferred stock issued in the previous year;
3. A deemed dividend of $2,515,767 related to the beneficial conversion feature of preferred stock;
4. An increase in common stock and additional paid in capital of $673,274 arising from the issuance of 6,666,667 common shares to cancel warrants to acquire 10,000,000 common shares;

The increase in working capital is the result of the disposal of Knowlton Pass Electronics Inc. and mmwave Technologies Inc. (by way of assignment into bankruptcy).

Cash provided by continuing operating activities amounted to $1,666,996 during the nine month period ended September 30, 2007, primarily as a result of the net income adjusted for non cash items and various changes in operating assets and liabilities. Cash used in continuing investing activities during the period amounted to $690,519, primarily consisting of cash used to acquire property, plant and equipment and marketable securities. Cash used in financing activities during the current period amounted to $1,241,331 and primarily represented by a decrease in bank indebtedness. The cumulative affect of all these changes resulted in a net decrease in cash of $392,332 from continuing operations. Net cash used in discontinued operations totaled $10,131.

Management believes that additional funding will be required for working capital purposes. There can be no assurance that we will be able to raise this funding when needed nor can we assure the exercise of the outstanding warrants. The Company plans to focus on the profitable retail operating segment and expand the remaining portions of the commercial segment.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements
