Item 1.01 Entry Into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On December 13, 2005, Potomac Electric Power Company ("Pepco"), a subsidiary of Pepco Holdings, Inc. ("PHI"), agreed to sell an allowed claim (the "Claim") in the Mirant Corporation bankruptcy proceeding in the amount of $105.0 million, plus accrued interest, to Deutsche Bank Securities, Inc. for a cash payment of $112.4 million.

The Claim arose from a settlement reached between Pepco and Mirant to avoid the rejection by Mirant in the bankruptcy proceeding of the Transition Power Agreements ("TPAs") between Pepco and Mirant, under which Mirant was obligated to provide power for Pepco's Standard Offer Service ("SOS") obligations during the rate cap periods immediately following deregulation in Maryland and the District of Columbia. Based on the settlements related to deregulation in both jurisdictions, Pepco shared with customers the profits from the provision of SOS during the rate cap periods. The amounts recovered from the sale of the Claim will be included in the calculations of the amounts to be shared with customers in both jurisdictions. Based on the sharing formulas in each jurisdiction, Pepco anticipates that customers will receive $40 million to $50 million of the $112.4 million cash payment to be received by Pepco.

The Claim was not recorded in Pepco's historical financial statements as it represented a contingent gain. Pepco is currently finalizing the accounting treatment related to the sale of the Claim. Pepco expects the proceeds from the sale of the Claim to be received in December 2005. Pepco intends to use the proceeds, net of the customer sharing amount and net of applicable taxes, for general corporate purposes.

In the ordinary course of business, affiliates of Deutsche Bank Securities, Inc. have from time to time performed and may in the future perform various commercial banking and investment banking services for PHI, Pepco and their affiliates, for which Deutsche Bank Securities, Inc. received or will receive customary fees.
