

Provident Announces 2011 U.S. Tax Reporting Information

News Release 03-12

February 9, 2012

All values are in Canadian dollars.

CALGARY, ALBERTA – Provident Energy Ltd. (Provident) (TSX-PVE; NYSE-PVX) announced today its 2011 U.S. Shareholder Tax Information.

Provident is treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes. As a corporation, Provident's dividends to U.S. shareholders may be "qualified dividends" as determined under the U.S. Internal Revenue Code.

Provided the dividends received by U.S. resident shareholders in 2011 are considered to be qualified dividends as noted above, 100 percent of the dividends should be reported as "qualified dividends" with 0 percent being reported as tax deferred return of capital.

To assist with the preparation of 2011 U.S. tax information, non-registered U.S. shareholders should receive a Form 1099-DIV from their broker or intermediary. Provident's transfer agent, Computershare Trust Company, will issue a Form 1099-DIV to all registered U.S. shareholders.

Dividends paid to non-residents of Canada were subject to withholding tax at a minimum of fifteen percent, which was withheld prior to the dividends being paid to the shareholder. Dividends after January 2011, paid into a U.S. qualified retirement account should not be subject to any withholding taxes. Information regarding the amount of Canadian tax withheld in 2011 should be determined from your own records and is not available from Provident.

Tax information pertaining to 2011 and prior years is available on Provident's website at:
