Mr Brian. Knight is the only individual affiliated with both companies after the aborted merger. He briefly served as VP Marketing for PaperFree. Mr. William L Sklar was a consultant to the Private company and received consulting fees from Crown Delaware the private Company.

Your letter asked for clarification why the acquisition of Crown Medical Systems was not determined to be a reverse acquisition, in light of certain facts cited in your letter.

The acquisition was not considered a reverse acquisition because the acquisition was determined to have not occurred. Crown Delaware, the Target company, was determined to not be auditable. Crown Delaware was not able to provide the Registrant with complete accounting records. This was determined after the share exchange between Crown Delaware and Crown Nevada, now known as Paperfree. Paperfree escheated the shares of Crown Delaware back to the state of Delaware, but did not cause the shares of Paperfree issued to the Crown Delaware shareholders to be returned. Our conclusion based on these circumstances was there was no acquisition. There was a change of control for the shares issued by Paperfree to the Crown Delaware shareholders.

Your letter you asked for "the identification of the owners of Crown Medical Systems and how many of the preferred shares of PaperFree each received in the September 1, 2004 transaction."

The listing is attached as an appendix to this document.

Your letter stated "In addition clarify whether the operations of Crown Medical Systems have been included in the registrant's operating results and if so, specify for what period of time."

No operations of Crown Medical Systems (Delaware) have ever been included in the financial statements as the transaction was abandoned.

3. Explain why you are referring to this acquisition as being abandoned when the shares issued in the transaction were not returned and it appears that the most of the board of directors were replaced by representatives of Crown Medical Systems on September 10, 2004. Also clarify how the company recorded the value of the shares issued in the transaction of $24.7 million in the financial statements. If this amount was recorded as general and administrative expenses, clarify the basis for that classification.

We chose the word "abandoned" because we did not acquire either the assets, or goodwill of the private company known as Crown Medical Systems, Inc (Delaware). On the advice of our professional advisors we did not recall the shares that had been previously issued to the Crown Delaware shareholders, as there was no practical means of recalling previously issued shares

As detailed above in our response to question 2, there was some overlap between the private (Delaware) and the public (Nevada, now PaperFree) companies, but the overlap ended when the decision was made to abandon the merger. The advisory board was disbanded and Mr. Brian Knight vacated his position of VP Marketing.

At the time of the abandonment, PaperFree owned the rights to a software product but was still in the development stage. We carefully considered the correct treatment for the consideration associated with the issuance of shares to the Crown Delaware shareholders. The value of the shares was measured using market activity leading up to the date the shares were issued. We determined recognition of the share value should be expensed because there were no assets or goodwill received from the Crown Delaware shareholders in exchange for their shares.

Note 12 – Warrants

4. Your letter asked for the identity of the holders of the warrants and an explanation of why the number of the warrants and the exercise price of the warrants were not adjusted for the reverse split.

[note: The company subsequently hired Mr. Cole as an interim President. For a short period of time he served as a member of the Board of Directors.]

On July 29, 2004 we filed a registration statement on Form S-8 for the 2004 Directors, Officers and Consultants Stock Option, Stock warrant and Stock Award Plan disclosing the creation of the warrants and their terms. The warrant terms contained an anti-dilution clause. When the board approved the reverse split, the warrant holders invoked the anti-dilution clause and hence there was no adjustment of the price and number of shares for those holders following the reverse split.

Your letter asked whether the consultants were related parties to the registrant.

None of the four consultants were employees, directors or shareholders of our company at the time of issuance of the warrants.

You wrote that "It appears that the value of these warrants was recorded as consulting fees in the financial statements. Please tell us the nature of the consulting services you received in return for the warrants"?

As we indicated in the notes to the financial statements, "On August 11, 2004 the 600,000 Preferred Series A shares were issued to consultants pursuant to the Directors, Officers and Consultants stock option, stock warrant and stock award plan. Services rendered by the four consultants included an evaluation of the Company's merger and acquisition strategies; business development activities; employee relations; marketing strategy; exploration of Item 8A has been revised to provide our conclusion regarding the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures as of the end of the fiscal year.

Form 10-QSB for the Quarterly Period Ended August 31, 2005

Note 2 – Purchase of KMS Computer Services

6. Please explain to us the factors that contributed to a purchase price with significant amounts of goodwill. Please explain your methodology for allocating the purchase price. Refer to paragraphs 39 and A14 and SFAS 141. Additionally, advise us of any intangible assets included in goodwill that do not meet the criteria for recognition apart from goodwill.

The purchase price was arrived at following extended arms length negotiations between the vendor and the Registrant. The agreement established a price of $3,000,000 being equivalent to 2,400,000 shares using market activity leading up to the transaction date. There was a net asset deficiency of $341,944 which when added to the fair market value of the shares issued of $3,000,000 established the goodwill of $3,341,944.

Company Management reviewed the resulting goodwill figure and determined that:

- The current assets were reflective of their recoverable value and hence were at fair market value
- The long term assets, mainly furniture, fixtures and equipment shown at historical values, approximated the fair market value of the assets should we go into the used market to buy similar assets.
- The liabilities were what was due and payable and hence were the fair market value of the assets.

The Company then considered what it gained as a result of the acquisition that was not represented by the net tangible assets to assign value as follows:

- An intact cohesive workforce – valuable to PaperFree, but not eligible for separate recognition.
- The reputation as a reliable provider of medical support solutions for 15 years - a necessary credential when selling to the Physician market but not eligible for separate recognition.
- A HIPPA compliant environment, attained by the creation of procedures and verified by independent contractors – a lengthy and costly process that is not eligible for separate recognition.

Based upon all these, PaperFree viewed the excess of purchase price and liabilities assumed over tangible assets as goodwill.

PaperFree then considered recoverability and determined the cost of creating the benefits described above exceeded the price paid resulting in no immediate impairment. Recoverability has been and will be reviewed on a periodic basis.

Closing Remarks:

- the Company is responsible for the adequacy and accuracy of the disclosure in the information statement;
- staff comments or changes to disclosure in response to staff comments do not foreclose the SEC from taking any action with respect to the filing; and
- the Company may not assert staff comments as a defense in any proceeding initiated by the SEC or any person under the federal securities laws of the United States.

Yours very truly,

William L. Sklar
