GOLD FIELDS

MEDIA RELEASE

Leadership Changes at Gold Fields

TELECONFERENCE

Gold Fields will host a teleconference on Monday, March 31, at 16:30 Johannesburg time, regarding this announcement. Details of the teleconference appears at the bottom of this press release.

Johannesburg, 31 March 2008. The Board of Gold Fields Limited ("Gold Fields") (NYSE, JSE, DIFX: GFI) wishes to announce that, after a distinguished nine years with Gold Fields, the last six as Chief Executive Officer, Ian Cockerill has decided to step down. He will be joining a company outside of the gold industry, the name of which will be announced later in the week.

Ian will be succeeded by Nick Holland who has been the Chief Financial Officer of Gold Fields since its inception in 1998. In a complimentary move, Terence Goodlace, Executive Vice President and Head of South African Operations, will be appointed to the new position of Chief Operating Officer, and as a member of the Gold Fields Board. A new Chief Financial Officer will be recruited to replace Nick.

The Board also wishes to announce that, unrelated to Ian's resignation, John Munro, Executive Vice President of Corporate Development, has resigned to take up the position of Chief Executive Officer of a new uranium company. John's executive responsibilities for Corporate Development will be assumed by Jimmy Dowsley, Senior Vice President for Business Development. In a supporting move, Juan Luis Kruger, Senior Vice President and Head of Operations in Peru, will be appointed to the Gold Fields Executive Committee, to head up South American Operations.

Alan Wright, Chairman of Gold Fields, said: "In his nine years with Gold Fields, Ian has made a tremendous contribution to the Company. He very effectively established Gold Fields as a global player with world-class operations in Africa, South America and Australia, as well as a large portfolio of exploration projects in all of the major gold provinces of the world. Particularly valuable, especially at this time, is the excellent succession strategy that Ian has put in place. Gold Fields' depth of management is unrivalled in the industry, and made it relatively easy for the Board to decide on his successor."

"While we are sad to see Ian leave so soon before Gold Fields will start reaping the rewards of the Cerro Corona project in Peru, which will come into production by the middle of the year, and the South Deep Project in South Africa, we respect his decision to move on. We thank Ian for the outstanding contribution that he has made to Gold Fields, and wish him well in the next phase of his career. Both Nick Holland and Terence Goodlace are veterans of the gold mining industry and their depth of knowledge of Gold Fields specifically and the industry generally, is unrivalled. With the Holland/Goodlace team at the helm during an exciting growth phase, the future remains bright for Gold Fields," Wright added.

Ian Cockerill said: "The decision to leave Gold Fields was not an easy one but I have always believed that a CEO has a shelf life of about six to seven years. As Gold Fields enters the next and very exciting phase of its growth and development, with Cerro Corona and South Deep, as well as the expansion at Tarkwa, being brought to account, it is time for a fresh hand at the rudder. As a substantial shareholder I am very comfortable with the new leadership appointed by the Board."

Nick Holland, CEO Designate of Gold Fields said: "I am both humbled and energized by my appointment as Chief Executive Officer, at a time when Gold Fields and its shareholders are poised to reap the benefits of a number of new gold projects against the backdrop of a higher gold price environment. I intend to build on the solid foundation which Ian has laid over the past six years, and to lead Gold Fields to new heights."

Terence Goodlace, COO Designate said: "Gold Fields has in its portfolio some of the best and most exciting gold assets in the world. My new role is to re-energize the operational teams so as to ensure that we deliver on our undertakings to shareholders. In addition to ensuring that the existing operations perform to their potential, our priorities in the short term are to deliver the new Cerro Corona mine on time, to complete the Tarkwa expansion, and to turn the South Deep project to account."

Alan Wright also thanked John Munro for the significant contribution that he has made to Gold Fields over the years: "On his watch Gold Fields acquired the St Ives and Agnew mines in Australia as well as the Teberebie and Damang mines in Ghana. John was also involved in the acquisition of the Arctic Platinum Project in Finland and the Cerro Corona project in Peru, as well as the disposal of the Choco 10 mine in Venezuela. He has made a significant contribution to the shaping of Gold Fields Limited as it is today, for which we thank him. While we are sorry to see John leave, we also wish him the best of luck in his new career."

John Munro said: "Gold Fields has been at the centre of my professional life for the past 21 years. Whilst I have not taken this decision lightly, I feel it is the right time in my career to take on a new challenge. I wish Nick and Terence and the rest of the team every success in the future."

All of these changes will be effective as from 1 May 2008.
