Description of Business

Anticus International Corporation (the “Corporation”, “we”, “us”, “our” or “Anticus”) was incorporated on May 1, 2002 under the laws of the State of Nevada.

The Corporation has been in the development stage since its formation and has not realized any revenues from its planned operations. Anticus was engaged in the development of specialized educational programs for the food services industry. The Corporation intended to provide job-related training programs for both entry-level employees and also employees of small to medium sized food service establishments. The Company was unsuccessful in any of the marketing efforts of its student training and sought other business opportunities.

The Company had made several attempts to acquire various operating entities without success. The company operated for a period of time as a shell company as defined in rule 12b-2 of the Exchange Act. Basing this belief on the factors that we had nominal operations and nominal assets.

Effective April 20, 2006, Anticus International Corporation (“Anticus”) has acquired a worldwide exclusive license to the microbiological process known as “Prolactis”. The process provides for the bioconversion of lactose and other sugar into high proteins biomass, literally transforming waste and by-products into water and yeast to be used in animal feed.

The agreement is by and between Anticus International Corporation; Gilles Varin, President, and: Michel Deblois Technologies Inc., a body duly constituted under the “Canadian Business Act”; Michel Deblois, President, and Costal, Inc., a body duly constituted under the “Loi sur les Companied u Quebec”, Jacques Goulet, President, and Redal, Inc., a body duly constituted under the “Loi sur les Companied u Quebec”, Lucien Pomerleau, General Director

As compensation for the license, Anticus was required to pay two million one hundred thousand (2,100,000) common shares. All shares were issued as exempted transactions under Section 4(2) of the Securities Act of 1933 and are subject to Rule 144 of the Securities Act of 1933.

Anticus shall also pay Redal, Inc. a royalty of four percent (4%) of all gross sales.

Redal, Inc. holds the exclusive right to supply the proprietary components of the systems, at fair values to be agreed between the parties.

Anticus is required to meet the following performance conditions to maintain the license:

Anticus must enter into a long term supply agreement for processable lactos or sugars in amounts sufficient to operate twenty (20) standard six thousand (6000) liter per hour bioconversion towers no later than June 15, 2006

Anticus must provide a 30% cash payment for the purchase of twenty (20) standard six thousand (6000) liter per hour bioconversion towers no later than September 15, 2006

Anticus must provide a 30% cash payment for the purchase of eighty (80) standard six thousand (6000) liter per hour bioconversion towers no later than September 15, 2007 and each year until September 15, 2017

Anticus International has been previously reporting its status as a shell company (as defined in Rule 12b-2 of the Exchange Act). This license and the addition of an expanded board of directors establish a new business objective and revive our operations.

Activities to exploit the opportunities this license are expanding daily. We believe that we have transitioned out of status as a shell company (as defined in Rule 12b-2 of the Exchange Act). Operations are continuing to develop and we are under performance conditions to maintain our license.

Our New Process

The process relies on the capacity of yeast to absorb and digest components of polluting elements dissolved in liquids. Main elements researched are carbon and nitrogen under a special form which allow yeast to reproduce. Multiple agricultural food rejects contain either nitrogen or carbon or even both. These food by-products have no value and create problems for disposal. Yeast produced from the waste materials can be sold based on grade and composition at various pricing. This value is variable and can be ranged, for example, from animal food to pharmaceutical applications.

A very high amount of yeast organisms (Billions by square Meters) are placed in the bioreactor of the ProLactis process. They are called Mother cells. The bioreactor is fed continuously (24h/day, 7 days a week) from the top with the liquid to be treated which has been mixed with nutritive complements. This mixture provides the yeast a balanced nutrition necessary for an optimal production. The daughter cells resulting from the growth and subdivision of the mother cells placed in the bioreactor free themselves and are transported by the flowing liquid. As a result, the liquid exiting from the bioreactor is less pollutant and contains a great number of new yeast cells. These are then recuperated, concentrated and dried according to customer requirements.

The bioreactor has been developed by Jacques Goulet et Michel DeBlois. It is under international patent pending. The other equipment required for the entire process is commercially used by yeast makers (funnels, pumps, drier, centrifugal etc.)

Raw Material Required

Diverse materials are available in large quantities at a global scale but in this context, the ones judged more interesting are the under products from milk (lactoserum and derived) the beers and sparkling sodas (returns and production rejects). These raw material which contain carbon are of a very good quality and are some of the difficult ones to dispose of economically. It is even possible to get them at no cost or to have the suppliers pay to take care of “their” problem.

On a worldwide scale, there are more than 150 billion liters of lactoserum which come from the cheese industry. Minus 25% of the volume would be transformed into powder of lactoserum. In Quebec only, the production of cheese generates 1.2 billion of liters of lactoserum. The targeted plant would be able treat 46 millions of liters annually, which represents barely 4% of the generated lactoserum.

In 2003, the world production of beer was 144 billions of liters annually. Supposing loses of 1% (returns and missed lots) we can estimate the available volumes to more than 1.4 billion of liters

The annual worldwide consumption of sparkling sodas in 2005 was more than 194 billions of liters.

The Product

Yeast is commonly used in human and animal food. Saccharomyces cervsae yeast is very well known for the production of bread and alcohol. There are also thousand of others; some have commercial applications, such as the ones used in the prolactis process (Kluyveromyces marxianus).

Anticus International Corporation has never declared bankruptcy, has never been in receivership, and has never been involved in any legal action or proceedings.

Employees

Currently, the Company has one employee, Mr. Daniel Trudeau, the Company President and CEO.

Management's Discussion and Analysis or Plan of Operations

Management Plan of Operations

The Company was unsuccessful in any of the marketing efforts of its student training and sought potential acquisitions.

On January 20, 2005, the Company acquired the rights to acquire Nova Plasma Technology Incorporated, a Canadian based provider of high barrier and ultra high barrier coatings and processes for the flat panel industry. On June 3, 2005 we disclosed on Form 8-K that the Agreement and the associated rights acquired by Anticus have expired without a merger occurring between the parties. There are no continuing negotiations with Nova Plasma Technology Incorporated.

On July 19, 2005, Anticus International Corporation ("Anticus") acquired the rights to enter into a merger agreement with Deltacrypt Technologies, Inc. ("Delta"), a Canadian-based technology developer and provider of versatile encryption technology. Anticus acquired the rights to merge with Delta from 610051 N.B. Inc., a private Canadian corporation, which entered into an agreement with Delta regarding the merger of Delta into a public company (the "Agreement"). The agreement was contingent upon Anticus providing a minimum of $750,000 of additional capital.

On September 8, 2005 Anticus and Deltacrypt modified the prior agreement to include an additional condition requiring the acquirer (Anticus or 610051 N.B) to advance Deltacrypt an estimated $27,000 CDN per month from August 1, 2005 to fund Deltacrypt operations until full completion of the merger. All funds advanced were to be applied to the condition requiring Anticus to provide a minimum of $750,000 of available capital to Deltacrypt at the close of the merger.

Anticus will not continue to pursue the intended merger with Deltacrypt. Deltacrypt was to provide a detailed market commercialization plan to assist Anticus in efforts to provide the $750,000 in available capital which was a condition of the merger. The materials provided were not sufficient and has resulted in Anticus being unable to secure the required capital to complete the merger. We have not had any communication with Deltacrypt since December of 2005. We will not pay any finders fees related to this unsuccessful transaction and would contest any claims made by Deltacrypt related to the September 8, 2005 modifications to the agreement.

On December 16, 2005 we announced that the Board of Directors has signed a Letter of Intent to acquire from MD Technologies Inc., Costal Inc. and Redal Inc., the worldwide exclusive license to a microbiological process (known as "Prolactis") for the production of yeast used in animal feed through the treatment of by products from the production of cheese as well as waste and overdue products from the beer and soft drink industries.

The Process provides, through the use of a bioreactor, for the bioconversion of lactose and other sugar, into high proteins biomass, literally transforming waste and by products into water and yeast to be used in animal feed. The Process has been developed by Jacques Goulet, Ph.D., agr., professor at Laval University in Quebec City, Quebec, Michel Deblois, engineer, and Lucien Pomerleau, M.Sc., agr. Worldwide patents are pending.

On February 3, 2006 Anticus announced that it has signed an agreement for the acquisition of the worldwide exclusive license to the microbiological process known as "Prolactis."

On or about February 14, 2006, Anticus announced the appointment of Mr. Henri Baudet and Dr. Xin Zhao. On February 28th, Anticus announced the nominations of, Gerrit Bres, Jacques Goulet and Lucien Pomerleau to the Board of Directors. Said nominations became effective April 21st 2006.

Management continues to develop the business plan to commercialize our exclusive license to the microbiological process known as "Prolactis."

Our continuation as a going concern is dependent upon obtaining the additional working capital necessary to sustain our limited operations. Accordingly, there is substantial doubt as to our ability to continue as a going concern. Our auditors have made reference to the substantial doubt about our ability to continue as a going concern in their audit report on our audited financial statements for the year ended June 30, 2006. The future of the Company is dependent upon its ability to obtain financing and upon the future profitable operations. Management plans to seek additional financing through the sale of its common stock through private placements. There is no assurance that the Company's current operations will be profitable or the Company will raise sufficient funds to continue operating. The financial statements do not include any adjustments relating to the recoverability and classification of recorded assets, or the amounts of and classification of liabilities that might be necessary in the event the Company cannot continue in existence.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Board of Directors and Stockholders
Anticus International Corporation
Montreal, Quebec, Canada

We have audited the accompanying balance sheet of Anticus International Corporation as of June 30, 2006 and the related statements of operations, stockholders' equity and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We did not audit the cumulative data from May 1, 2002, (inception) to June 30, 2005 in the statements of operations and cash flows, which were audited by other auditors whose reports dated October 6, 2004 and October 3, 2005, expressed modified opinions as to the uncertainty of the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, have been furnished to us. Our opinion, insofar as it relates to the amounts included for the cumulative period from May 1, 2002 (inception) to June 30, 2005, is based solely on the reports of the other auditors.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Anticus International Corporation as of June 30, 2006, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. As discussed in Note 1 to the accompanying financial statements, the Company has no established source of revenue, has incurred a net loss from continuing operations during the year ended June 30, 2006 of $402,544, had a negative working capital of $98,401 at June 30, 2006, and had an accumulated deficit of $657,768, all of which raise a substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern. Management's plan in regard to these matters is also discussed in Note 2. These financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

To the Board of Directors and Stockholders
Anticus International Corporation
(A development stage company)

We have audited the accompanying statements of operations, cash flows, and stockholders' equity of Anticus International Corporation (a development stage company) for the year ended June 30, 2005, and for the cumulative period from inception, May 1, 2002, to June 30, 2005. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the statements of operations, cash flows, and stockholders' equity referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the results of operations of Anticus International Corporation and its cash flows for the year ended June 30, 2005 in conformity with United States generally accepted accounting principles.

The Company is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. Our audits included consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming the Company will continue as a going concern. As discussed in Note 1(c) to the financial statements, the Company has incurred net losses since inception from operations, has not attained profitable operations and is dependent upon obtaining adequate financing to fulfil its development activities. These factors raise substantial doubt that the Company will be able to continue as a going concern. Management's plans in regard to these matters are also discussed in Note 1(c). The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

(A Development Stage Company)

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. NATURE OF OPERATIONS

(a) Organization

The Company was incorporated in the State of Nevada, on May 1, 2002.

(b) Development Stage Activities

The Company is a development stage company as defined in the Statements of Financial Accounting Standards No. 7. The Company is devoting substantially all of its present efforts to establish a new business and none of its planned principal operations have commenced. All losses accumulated since inception has been considered as part of the Company's development stage activities.

The Company was formerly engaged in the development of specialized educational programs for the food services industry. The Company discontinued its involvement in these operations.

The Company is currently developing business opportunities relating to its purchase of an exclusive world-wide license to a process that converts waste materials from beer, soft drink and cheese manufacturers into yeast.

(c) Going Concern

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming the Company will continue as a going concern.

As shown in the accompanying financial statements, the Company has incurred a net loss of $(657,768) for the period from inception, May 1, 2002, to June 30, 2006, and has not generated any revenue since its inception. The future of the Company is dependent upon its ability to obtain financing and upon the future profitable operations. Management plans to seek additional financing through the sale of its common stock through private placements (See Note 9). There is no assurance that the Company's current operations will be profitable or the Company will raise sufficient funds to continue operating. The financial statements do not include any adjustments relating to the recoverability and classification of recorded assets, or the amounts of and classification of liabilities that might be necessary in the event the Company cannot continue in existence.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States. The application of Canadian generally accepted accounting principles to these financial statements would not result in material measurement or disclosure differences. Because a precise determination of many assets and liabilities is dependent upon future events, the preparation of financial statements for a period necessarily involves the use of estimates, which have been made using careful judgement.

The financial statements have, in management's opinion, been properly prepared within reasonable limits of materiality and within the framework of the significant accounting policies summarized below:

(a) Organizational and Start-up Costs

Costs of start-up activities, including organizational costs, are expensed as incurred.

(b) Foreign Currency Translation

Transaction amounts denominated in foreign currencies are translated at exchange rates prevailing at transaction dates. Carrying values of monetary assets and liabilities are adjusted at each balance sheet date to reflect the exchange rate at that date. Non-monetary assets and liabilities are translated at the exchange rate on the original transaction date. Gains and losses from restatement of foreign currency monetary and non-monetary assets and liabilities are included in the statements of operations. Revenues and expenses are translated at the rates of exchange prevailing on the dates such items are recognized in the statements of operations.

(A Development Stage Company)

(c) Income Taxes

The Company follows Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 109 – “Accounting for Income Taxes”. This standard requires the use of an asset and liability approach for financial accounting, and reporting on income taxes. If it is more likely than not that some portion or all of a deferred tax asset will not be realized, a valuation allowance is recognized.

(d) Basic and Diluted Loss Per Share

In accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 128 – “Earnings Per Share”, basic loss per common share is computed by dividing net loss available to common stockholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding. Diluted loss per common share is computed similar to basic loss per common share except that the denominator is increased to include the number of additional common shares that would have been outstanding if the potential common shares had been issued and if the additional common shares were dilutive. At June 30, 2006, the Company had 300,000 stock options outstanding which would be included in the computation of diluted loss per share. The weighted average shares outstanding for the diluted loss per share computation is 32,579,642 for the year ended June 30, 2006.

(e) Issuances Involving Non-cash Consideration

All issuances of the Company’s stock for non-cash consideration have been assigned a dollar amount equaling either the market value of the shares issued or the value of consideration received, whichever is more readily determinable. The majority of the non-cash consideration received pertain to services rendered by consultants and others.

(f) Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers cash and cash equivalents to include all stable, highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less.

(g) Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(h) Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Pursuant to SFAS No. 107, Disclosures About Fair Value of Financial Instruments, the Company is required to estimate the fair value of all financial instruments included on its balance sheet as of June 30, 2006. The Company considers the carrying value of such amounts in the financial statements to approximate their fair value.

ANTICUS INTERNATIONAL CORPORATION
(A Development Stage Company)

(i) Long-Lived Assets

The Company accounts for its long-lived assets in accordance with SFAS No. 144, “Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets.” SFAS No. 144 requires that long-lived assets be reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the historical cost carrying value of an asset may no longer be appropriate. The Company assesses recoverability of the carrying value of an asset by estimating the future net cash flows expected to result from the asset, including eventual disposition. If the future net cash flows are less than the carrying value of the asset, an impairment loss is recorded equal to the difference between the asset’s carrying value and the fair value or disposable value. As of June 30, 2006, the Company does not believe there has been any impairment of its long-lived assets.

(j) New Accounting Standards

The FASB recently issued the following statements:

In March 2006, the FASB issued Statement 156, Accounting for Servicing of Financial Assets—an amendment of FASB Statement No. 140. This Statement amends FASB Statement No. 140, Accounting for Transfers and Servicing of Financial Assets and Extinguishments of Liabilities, with respect to the accounting for separately recognized servicing assets and servicing liabilities. This statement requires an entity to recognize a servicing asset or servicing liability each time it undertakes an obligation to service a financial asset by entering into a servicing contract in certain situations, and also requires all separately recognized servicing assets and servicing liabilities to be initially measured at fair value, if practicable. This statement is effective at the beginning of its first fiscal year that begins after September 15, 2006. Earlier adoption is permitted as of the beginning of an entity’s fiscal year, provided the entity has not yet issued financial statements, including interim financial statements, for any period of that fiscal year. The effective date of this Statement is the date an entity adopts the requirements of this Statement. The Company plans on adopting this statement on July 1, 2007, and does not believe that it will have a significant impact on its operations

In February 2006, the FASB issued Statement No. 155, Accounting for Certain Hybrid Financial Instruments—an amendment of FASB Statements No. 133 and 140. This Statement amends FASB Statements No. 133, Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities, and No. 140, Accounting for Transfers and Servicing of Financial Assets and Extinguishments of Liabilities. This Statement resolves issues addressed in Statement 133 Implementation Issue No. D1, “Application of Statement 133 to Beneficial Interests in Securitized Financial Assets.” This Statement (a) permits fair value re-measurement for any hybrid financial instrument that contains an embedded derivative that otherwise would require bifurcation, (b) clarifies which interest-only strips and principal-only strips are not subject to the requirements of Statement 133, (c) establishes a requirement to evaluate interests in securitized financial assets to identify interests that are freestanding derivatives or that are hybrid financial instruments that contain an embedded derivative requiring bifurcation, (d) clarifies that concentrations of credit risk in the form of subordination are not embedded derivatives, and (e) amends Statement 140 to eliminate the prohibition on a qualifying special-purpose entity from holding a derivative financial instrument that pertains to a beneficial interest other than another derivative financial instrument. This Statement is effective for all financial instruments acquired or issued after the beginning of an entity’s first fiscal year that begins after September 15, 2006. Earlier adoption is permitted as of the beginning of an entity’s fiscal year, provided the entity has not yet issued financial statements, including financial statements for any interim period for that fiscal year. Provisions of this Statement may be applied to instruments that an entity holds at the date of adoption on an instrument-by-instrument basis. Management does not believe that the adoption of this accounting standard will have a significant impact on its financial statements.

ANTICUS INTERNATIONAL CORPORATION
(A Development Stage Company)

In May 2005, the FASB issued FASB Statement 154, Accounting Changes and Error Corrections. This Statement replaces APB Opinion No. 20, Accounting Changes, and FASB Statement No. 3, Reporting Accounting Changes in Interim Financial Statements, and changes the requirements for the accounting for and reporting of a change in accounting principle. Opinion 20 previously required that most voluntary changes in accounting principle be recognized by including in net income of the period of the change the cumulative effect of changing to the new accounting principle. This Statement requires retrospective application to prior periods' financial statements of changes in accounting principle, unless it is impracticable to determine either the period-specific effects or the cumulative effect of the change. The provisions in Statement 154 are effective for accounting changes and corrections of errors made in fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2005. The Company adopted this statement on January 1, 2006, and does not believe that it will have a significant impact on its operations.

In March 2005, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation No. 47, Accounting for Conditional Asset Retirement Obligations (FIN 47). This Interpretation clarifies that the term conditional asset retirement obligation as used in FASB Statement No. 143, Accounting for Asset Retirement Obligations, refers to a legal obligation to perform an asset retirement activity in which the timing and (or) method of settlement are conditional on a future event that may or may not be within the control of the entity. The obligation to perform the asset retirement activity is unconditional even though uncertainty exists about the timing and (or) method of settlement. Thus, the timing and (or) method of settlement may be conditional on a future event. Accordingly, an entity is required to recognize a liability for the fair value of a conditional asset retirement obligation if the fair value of the liability can be reasonably estimated. The fair value of a liability for the conditional asset retirement obligation should be recognized when incurred—generally upon acquisition, construction, or development and (or) through the normal operation of the asset. Uncertainty about the timing and (or) method of settlement of a conditional asset retirement obligation should be factored into the measurement of the liability when sufficient information exists. Statement 143 acknowledges that in some cases, sufficient information may not be available to reasonably estimate the fair value of an asset retirement obligation. This Interpretation also clarifies when an entity would have sufficient information to reasonably estimate the fair value of an asset retirement obligation. FIN 47 is effective no later than the end of fiscal years ending after December 15, 2005. Retrospective application for interim financial information is permitted but is not required. The Company has evaluated the impact of the adoption of FIN 47, and does not believe the impact will be significant to the Company's overall results of operations or financial position.

3. INTANGIBLE ASSET

On or about December 15, 2005 the Company signed a Letter of Intent with MD Technologies Inc., Costal Inc., and Redal Inc. to acquire the worldwide exclusive license to the microbiological process known as "Prolactis." As compensation for the license, the Company issued two million one hundred thousand (2,100,000) shares, at $0.20 per share, that were issued as an exempted transaction under Section 4(2) of the Securities Act of 1933. Under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including our principal executive officer and principal financial officer, we conducted an evaluation of our disclosure controls and procedures, as such term is defined under Rule 13a-15(e) promulgated under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”). Based on this evaluation, our principal executive officer and our principal financial officer concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures were effective as the end of the period covered by this report. There were no changes in our internal control over financial reporting during the period covered by this report that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal controls over financial reporting.

These prior controls were related to minimal operations, no bank accounts and expenses being paid for the company by a shareholder of the company. These expenses were reimbursed by submission of receipts for those expenses for approval by management. These controls have been deemed to be inadequate going forward with expanded operations. Management is establishing additional controls and formalizing its financial operations by establishing company accounts, engaging a new internal accounting firm and other necessary control procedures to assure compliance and the accuracy of our financial reporting obligations.
