GLOSSARY OF TERMS

Bulk Sample - a collection of representative mineralized material whose location, geologic character and metal assay content can be determined and then used for metallurgical or geotechnical testing purposes.

Chalcopyrite - a bright brass-yellow tetragonal mineral (CuFeS_2). It is generally found massive and constitutes the most important ore of copper.

Dip - the angle that a structural surface, a bedding or fault plan, makes with the horizontal, measured perpendicular to the strike of the structure.

Eocene - an epoch of the early Tertiary period, after the Paleocene and before the Oligocene.

Exploration - work involved in searching for ore, usually by drilling or driving a drift.

Fault - a fracture or break in rock along which there has been movement.

Feasibility Study - is a definitive study of the viability of a mineral project by a qualified professional which defines: (1) mining methods, pit configuration, mine scheduling, mine equipment and all related costing, (2) method of mineral processing and all related plant, equipment and costing, (3) necessary determination of all infrastructure required and relevant costs and (4) all requirements of government and markets for mine operation. A definitive financial analysis of the mineral project taking into consideration all relevant factors which will establish the presence of a Mineral Reserve and the details of its economic viability.

Footwall - the mass of rock beneath a fault, orebody or mine working; especially the wall rock beneath an inclined vein or fault.

Grade - The metal content of rock with precious metals, grade can be expressed as troy ounces or grams per tonne of rock.

ICA - Investment Canada Act

Jurassic - the second period of the Mesozoic era (after Triassic and before Cretaceous), thought to have covered the span of time between 190 and 135 million years ago.

Magnetite - a black, isometric, strongly magnetic, opaque mineral of the spinel group $(\text{Fe,Mg})\text{Fe}_2\text{O}_4$. It often contains titanium oxide and it constitutes an important ore of iron.

Metallurgy - the study of the extractive processes which produce minerals from their host rocks.

Metallurgical Tests - are scientific examinations of rock/material to determine the optimum extraction of metal contained. Core samples from diamond drill holes are used as representative samples of the mineralization for this test work.

Mineral - a naturally formed chemical element or compound having a definitive chemical composition and, usually a characteristic crystal form.

Mineralization - a natural concentration in rocks or soil of one or more metalliferous minerals.

Monzonite - a group of plutonic rocks intermediate in composition between syenite and diorite, containing approximately equal amounts of alkali feldspar and plagioclase, little or no quartz, and commonly augite as the main mafic mineral.

Net Profits Royalty - A phrase used to describe a royalty payment made by a producer of metals based on a percentage of revenue from production, less deduction of the costs of commercial production, including exploration, capital and operating costs.

Net Smelter Return Royalty/NSR Royalty - A phrase used to describe a royalty payment made by a producer of metals based on gross metal production from the property, less deduction of certain limited costs including smelting, refining, transportation and insurance costs.

Prefeasibility Study - is a comprehensive study of the viability of a mineral project that has advanced to a stage where the mining method, in the case of underground mining, or the pit configuration, in the case of an open pit, has been established, and where an effective method of mineral processing had been determined. This Study must include a financial analysis based on reasonable assumptions of technical engineering, operating, and economic factors, which are sufficient for a Qualified Person acting reasonably, to determine if all or part of the Mineral Resource may be classified as a Mineral Reserve.

Pyrite - an iron sulphide mineral (FeS_2), the most common naturally occurring sulphide mineral.

Pyrrhotite - a common red-brown to bronze pseudo-hexagonal mineral. The mineral is darker and softer than pyrite; it is usually found massive and commonly associated with pentlandite.

Quartz - crystalline silica; often forming veins in fractures and faults within older rocks.

Resource - a concentration of mineral material in such form and amount that economic extraction of a commodity from the concentration is currently or potentially feasible. Locations, grade, quality or quantity are estimated from specific geologic evidence.

Serpentine - a rock consisting almost wholly of serpentine-group minerals, eg. antigorite and chrysotile. Accessory chlorite, talc, and magnetite may be present.

Tertiary - the first period of the Cenozoic era (after the Cretaceous of the Mesozoic era) and before Quaternary, thought to have covered the span of time between 65 million and 2 million years ago.

Vein - a thin, sheet-like, crosscutting body of hydrothermal mineralization, principally quartz.

Volcanics - those originally molten rocks, generally fine grained, that have reached or nearly reached the Earth's surface before solidifying.

Waste - barren rock in a mine, or mineralized material that is too low in grade to be mined and milled at a profit.

Waste to Ore Strip Ratio - the amount of waste material mined for each unit of ore presented as a ratio.

In this Registration Statement, unless otherwise specified, all dollar amounts are expressed in Canadian Dollars (CDN$). The Government of Canada permits a floating exchange rate to determine the value of the Canadian Dollar against the U.S. Dollar (US$).

Table No. 3 sets forth the rate of exchange for the Canadian Dollar at the end of the five most recent fiscal periods ended December 31st, the average rates for the period, and the range of high and low rates for the period.

For purposes of this table, the rate of exchange means the noon buying rate in New York City for cable transfers in foreign currencies as certified for customs purposes by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. The table sets forth the number of Canadian dollars required under that formula to buy one U.S. Dollar. The average rate means the average of the exchange rates on the last day of each month during the period.

Forward Looking Statements

This Registration Statement contains forward-looking statements. Words such as "anticipate", "believe", "expect", "future", "may", "will", "should", "plan", "will likely result", "intend", "are expected to", "will continue", "is anticipated", "estimate", "project or projected", and similar expressions identify forward-looking statements. Accordingly, such statements are qualified in their entirety by reference to and are accompanied by the following discussion of certain important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from such forward-looking statements. These statements are based on the Company's beliefs and the assurances made using information currently available to the Company. Because these statements reflect its current views concerning future events, these statements involve risks, uncertainties and assumptions. Actual results could differ materially from the results discussed in the forward-looking statements. Some, but not all, of the factors that may cause these differences include those discussed in the risk factors. A reader should not place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements. A reader should also remember that these statements are made only as of the date of this report and future events may cause them to be less likely to prove to be true.

The risks identified here are material risks. Furthermore, reference is also made to other sections of this Registration Statement that include additional factors that could adversely impact the Company's business and financial performance. Also, the Company operates in a very competitive and rapidly changing environment. New risk factors emerge from time to time and it is not possible for management to predict all such risk factors, nor can it assess the impact of all such risk factors on the Company's business or the extent to which any factor or combination of factors may cause actual results to differ significantly from those contained in any forward-looking statements. Accordingly, forward-looking statements should not be relied upon as a prediction of actual results.

Risk Factors

Unsuccessful Exploration Efforts By Gold City Industries Ltd. Personnel Could Result In a Significant Negative Effect on the Company:

The expenditures to be made by the Company in the exploration of its properties as described herein may not result in discoveries of mineralized material in commercial quantities. Most exploration projects do not result in the discovery of commercially mineable ore deposits and this occurrence would have a significant negative effect on the Company.

Gold City Industries Ltd. has No Reserves on the Properties in Which It Has an Interest:

The properties in which Gold City Industries Ltd. has an interest or the concessions in which the Company has the right to earn an interest are in the exploratory stage only and are without a known body of ore. Properties on which Company personnel do not find mineral reserves will have to be discarded causing the Company to write each respective property off resulting in a significantly negative effect for the Company.

There is No Guarantee of Clear Title to Any of the Mineral Properties to which Gold City Industries Ltd. Has an Interest:

Unregistered agreements or unregistered transfers of title could cause Gold City Industries Ltd. to forfeit its interests in one or more of its property interests. An event such as this would have a significant negative effect on the Company.

Mineral Prices May Not Support Corporate Profit for Gold City Industries Ltd.:

The mining industry is intensely competitive and even if commercial quantities of mineral resources are developed (which is not guaranteed), a profitable market may not exist for the sale of same. If a profitable market does not exist the Company could have to cease operations.

Gold City Industries Ltd. Has No Positive Cash Flow and No History of Earnings and Is Dependent Upon Public and Private Distributions of Equity to Obtain Capital in Order to Sustain Operations:

None of the Company's properties have advanced to the commercial production stage and the Company has no history of earnings or positive cash flow from operations. The cumulative loss since the Company's inception of the development stage, according to U.S. Gaap, is ($8,460,520). The Company does not know if it will ever generate material revenue from mining operations or if it will ever achieve self-sustaining commercial mining operations. Historically, the only source of funds available to the company has been through the sale of its common shares. Any future additional equity financing would cause dilution to current stockholders.

The Expense of Meeting Environmental Regulations Could Cause a Significantly Negative Effect on Gold City Industries Ltd.:

The current and anticipated future operations of the Company, including further exploration activities require permits from various Canadian Federal and Provincial governmental authorities. Such operations are subject to various laws governing land use, the protection of the environment, production, exports, taxes, labor standards, occupational health, waste disposal, toxic substances, mine safety and other matters. The permits which Gold City Industries Ltd. may require for construction of mining facilities and the conduct of mining operations (which may not occur) must be obtainable on reasonable terms to the Company. Unfavorable amendments to current laws, regulations and permits governing operations and activities of mining companies, or more stringent implementation thereof, could have a materially adverse impact on the Company and cause increases in capital expenditures which could result in a cessation of operations by the Company.

Failure to comply with applicable laws, regulations and permitting requirements may result in enforcement actions there under, including orders issued by regulatory or judicial authorities causing operations to cease or be curtailed, and may include corrective measures requiring capital expenditures, installation of additional equipment or remedial actions. Parties engaged in mining operations may be required to compensate those suffering loss or damage by reason of the mining activities and may have civil or criminal fines or penalties imposed for violation of applicable laws or regulations.

Large increases in capital expenditures resulting from any of the above factors could force Gold City Industries Ltd. to cease operations.

Operating Hazards and Risks Associated with the Mining Industry Could Result in a Significantly Negative Effect on the Company

Mining operations generally involve a high degree of risk. Hazards such as unusual or unexpected formations and other conditions are involved. Operations in which the Company has a direct or indirect interest will be subject to all the hazards and risks normally incidental to exploration, development and production of precious and base metals, any of which could result in work stoppages, damage to or destruction of mines and other producing facilities, damage to life and property, environmental damage and legal liability for any or all damage. The Company may become subject to liability for cave-ins and other hazards for which it cannot insure or against which it may elect not to insure where premium costs are disproportionate to the Company's perception of the relevant risks. The payment of such insurance premiums and of such liabilities would reduce the funds available for exploration activities and could force the Company to cease operations.

There is the Possibility of Significant Dilution to the Present and Prospective Shareholders of Gold City Industries Ltd.:

The Company's plan of operation, in part, contemplates the accomplishment of business negotiations by the issuance of cash, securities of the Company, or a combination of the two, and possibly, incurring debt. Any transaction involving the issuance of previously authorized but unissued shares of common stock, or securities convertible into common stock, would result in dilution, possibly substantial, to present and prospective holders of common stock.

Gold City Industries Ltd. currently has 1,790,000 share purchase options outstanding and 3,913,065 share purchase warrants outstanding. If all of the share purchase warrants and share purchase options were exercised, the number of common shares issued and outstanding would increase from 23,088,559 to 28,791,624. This represents an increase of 24.7% in the number of shares issued and outstanding and would result in significant dilution to current shareholders.

The Risks Associated with Penny Stock Classification Could Affect the Marketability of the Common Stock of Gold City Industries Ltd. and Shareholders Could Find It Difficult to Sell Their Stock:

The Company's stock is subject to "penny stock" rules as defined in 1934 Securities and Exchange Act rule 3a51-1. The Commission has adopted rules that regulate broker-dealer practices in connection with transactions in penny stocks. The Company's common shares are subject to these penny stock rules. Transaction costs associated with purchases and sales of penny stocks are likely to be higher than those for other securities. Penny stocks generally are equity securities with a price of less than U.S. $5.00 (other than securities registered on certain national securities exchanges or quoted on the NASDAQ system, provided that current price and volume information with respect to transactions in such securities is provided by the exchange or system).

The penny stock rules require a broker-dealer, prior to a transaction in a penny stock not otherwise exempt from the rules, to deliver a standardized risk disclosure document that provides information about penny stocks and the nature and level of risks in the penny stock market. The broker-dealer also must provide the customer with current bid and offer quotations for the penny stock, the compensation of the broker-dealer and its salesperson in the transaction, and monthly account statements showing the market value of each penny stock held in the customer's account. The bid and offer quotations, and the broker-dealer and salesperson compensation information, must be given to the customer orally or in writing prior to effecting the transaction and must be given to the customer in writing before or with the customer's confirmation.

In addition, the penny stock rules require that prior to a transaction in a penny stock not otherwise exempt from such rules, the broker-dealer must make a special written determination that the penny stock is a suitable investment for the purchaser and receive the purchaser's written agreement to the transaction. These disclosure requirements may have the effect of reducing the level of trading activity in the secondary market for the Company's common shares in the United States and shareholders may find it more difficult to sell their shares.

The Company is Dependent on Key Personnel and the Absence of Any of These Individuals Could Result in a Significantly Negative Effect on the Company:

The Company strongly depends on the business and technical expertise of its management and key personnel. There is little possibility that this dependence will decrease in the near term. As the Company's operations expand, additional general management resources will be required, especially since the Company encounters risks that are inherent in doing business in several countries. The Company is dependent, in particular, on its President Mr. Fred Sveinson. Key man life insurance is not in place on Mr. Sveinson.

Gold City Industries Ltd. Has Limited Financial Resources and Without the Addition of Additional Capital May Not Be Able to Continue in Operation

The Company has limited financial resources and, if the business is not profitable, may not be able to raise sufficient funds to sustain, continue or expand its business. The Company currently has no meaningful revenues and relies principally on the issuance of common shares to raise funds to finance the day-to-day operations of the business. Current market conditions limit the Company's ability to raise funds. If Gold City Industries Ltd. is not able to raise additional funds in the next 12 months; the Company's ability to continue in business is in doubt.

It is Difficult for U.S. Investors to Effect Service of Process Against the Company

The Company is incorporated under the laws of Canada. The Company's directors and officers are residents of Canada and a substantial portion of the Company's assets are located outside of the United States. Consequently, it may be difficult for United States investors to effect service of process in the United States upon the Company's directors and officers or to realize in the United States upon judgments of United States courts predicated upon civil liabilities under the United States Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. A judgment of a U.S. court predicated solely upon such civil liabilities would probably be enforceable in Canada by a Canadian court if the U.S. court in which the judgment was obtained had jurisdiction, as determined by the Canadian court, in the matter. There is substantial doubt whether an original action could be brought successfully in Canada against any of such persons or the Company predicated solely upon such civil liabilities.

The Company has 60,000,000 common shares without par value authorized. At 12/31/2001, the end of the Company's most recent fiscal year, there were 15,625,494 common shares issued and outstanding. As at 11/30/02 there were 23,088,559 common shares issued and outstanding.

Corporate Background

The Company changed its name to Gold City Industries Ltd. from Consolidated Gold Mining Corporation on June 30, 1998, and to Consolidated Gold Mining Corporation from Gold City Mining Corporation on October 29, 1997. Gold City Mining Corporation was formed as an amalgamated company pursuant to the British Columbia Company Act on December 7, 1994 by the amalgamation of Gold City Resources Ltd., Providence Industries Inc., and McKinney Mines Ltd. Gold City Resources Ltd. was incorporated pursuant to the British Columbia Company Act on April 12, 1982; and continued from the British Columbia jurisdiction to the federal jurisdiction pursuant to the Canada Business Corporations Act on March 12, 1987. McKinney Mines Corp. was incorporated as 328705 British Columbia Ltd. pursuant to the British Columbia Company Act on June 18, 1987 and the company's name changed to McKinney Mines Corp. on April 14, 1989. Providence Industries Inc. was incorporated pursuant to the British Columbia Company Act on April 1, 1981 as Pace Industries Inc. Several name changes and consolidations occurred over its history and it changed its name to Providence Industries Inc. on October 4, 1991.

The Company has one wholly owned subsidiary company, Applied Mine Technologies Inc. The Company acquired 100% of the issued and outstanding shares of Applied Mine Technologies Inc. from AM Technologies Limited pursuant to an agreement dated February 8, 2000. The transaction was completed in 2001.

Business

The Company was incorporated by amalgamation on December 7, 1994 pursuant to provisions of the British Columbia Company Act and commenced operations at the same time. The principal business of the Company is the evaluation, acquisition and exploration of mineral resource properties. The Company has not generated operating revenues because the properties it currently holds are exploration stage projects. To date the Company has relied primarily on private placements to finance exploration expenditures and working capital requirements.

Management has been actively searching since January 1999 for advanced stage exploration mineral properties that can be acquired by purchase, option or joint venture. The Company has focused its search on precious and base metal properties in North and Central America of a size that would not interest a major mining company, but could be developed with modest capital investments and operate profitably at current metal prices.

During the financial year ended December 21, 1999, management examined over fifty mineral development proposals and made follow-up offers to negotiate project agreements on several. Of those, two were advanced to the stage where announcements were made. No final agreements were achieved. At the Company's Caramelia property a reclamation/safety work program was initiated, which consisted of the dismantling of old buildings and a 1960's head frame, as well as the filling in of numerous shafts, caved stopping areas, and raises. Approximately $20,000 was expended on this program in 1999 (a further $9,000 and $1,000 were expended in 2000 and 2001, respectively).

On February 8, 2000 an agreement was signed, whereby the Company would acquire 100% of the issued and outstanding shares of Applied Mine Technologies Inc., a subsidiary of AM Technologies Limited, thereby acquiring Applied Mine Technologies Inc.'s 50% interest in the Domin property and 50.5% interest in the Old Nick property, in consideration of the delivery of 100,000 common shares to AM technologies Limited. The Company has a contingent obligation, should either the Old Nick or Domin property advance to commercial production, to pay $500,000 or $50,000 respectively, or the equivalent in the Company's shares. The TSX Venture Exchange (formerly the Canadian Venture Exchange) approved the agreement on July 18, 2000.

Letters of agreement were signed on the Myrtle-Proserpine Property (March 3, 2000) and on the Promise claim group (March 17, 2000), whereby the Company would enter into a joint venture agreement with International Wayside Gold Mines Ltd. ("Wayside") on these properties. Under the terms of the Myrtle-Proserpine agreement, Wayside would acquire a 75% joint venture interest in the Myrtle-Proserpine Property by delivering 100,000 Wayside shares and assuming obligations due to Newmont Exploration of Canada Limited by December 5, 1997 and August 24, 1999. The remaining obligations under the Newmont agreement, which Wayside would assume, included a work commitment of $70,000 and a cash payment of $70,000. The TSX Venture Exchange (formerly the Canadian Venture Exchange) accepted the Myrtle-Proserpine agreement for filing on May 26, 2000. Under the terms of the Promise agreement, Wayside would acquire a 75% joint venture in the Promise claim group by spending $50,000 on the Property prior to December 31, 2001 and by delivering 25,000 Wayside shares to the Company. Pursuant to each agreement, formal joint venture agreements were to be completed within sixty days. On May 31, 2000 the Company determined Wayside was in default of its obligations and terminated the agreements. Wayside commenced legal action in BC Supreme Court on August 8, 2000, seeking, among other things, a declaration that the agreements continued to remain in good standing. The Company defended the action. The Company was obligated to make the option cash payment of $70,000 due to Newmont by December 31, 2000 and carried out the exploration work commitments of $70,000 prior to December 21, 2000 to fulfill the obligations under its option agreement with Newmont. The dispute with International Wayside Gold Mines Ltd. was settled out-of-court in 2001. Greenwood Gold Project

The Company's principal focus is on its Greenwood Gold Project, centred around Greenwood, British Columbia. The Greenwood Gold Project is comprised of the Lexington-Lonestar and the Winnipeg-Golden Crown gold-copper mineral properties (Figure 2). Figure 2. Greenwood Gold Project - Lexington-Lonestar and Winnipeg-Golden Crown Properties

Greenwood Gold Project - Lexington-Lonestar Property

Location, Access and Ownership

The 2,300 hectare Lexington-Lone Star gold-copper property straddles the Canada-United States border and is centered on an area south of Greenwood, B.C., nine kilometres west of Grand Forks, B.C. and 42 kilometres north-northwest of Republic, Washington. The British Columbian claims are located within the western half of the Greenwood Mining Division in south central British Columbia, Canada. The Washington state claims are located in Ferry County. The claims, on NTS map sheet 82E/02E are centered on 49° 00' 35'' N and 118° 37' 00' W.

The Lexington property claims in British Columbia are readily accessed from the paved provincial highway no. 3 via four different gravel access roads (McCarren Creek Road, Hartley-Phoenix Road, Phoenix Ski Hill Road, and May-Gibbs Creek Road) that link to the Phoenix-Lone Star haul road. Access to the Washington State (Lone Star) claims is gained by traveling south on Highway 21, from the Danville border crossing, 3 kilometres west of Grand Forks, British Columbia, for 7 kilometres to Goosmus Creek Road, up the east side of Goosmus Creek for a further distance of approximately 7 kilometres.

Gold City has entered into an agreement with Minterra Resource Corp. (formerly Nanotek Inc.) to acquire 100% interest in the property.

Geology and Mineralization

The geological setting of the Lexington-Lonestar Property is dominated by a major 600 metre wide tectonic shear zone, the No. 7 Fault. The structure is a northeast trending arcuate feature convex to the northeast and moderately northeast dipping. The No. 7 Fault is one of a series of Jurassic-aged thrust faults in the Greenwood area juxtaposing late Paleozoic Knob Hill and Attwood Group, Triassic Brooklyn Formation and Eocene-aged stratigraphy. These thrusts are often marked by serpentinite bodies. On the Lexington-Lonestar Property the No. 7 Fault is bounded by a footwall and hangingwall sheet of serpentinite separated by a "dacite" package. The "dacite" package is composed of altered sediments, volcanoclastics and porphyries. This sequence is continuous from the Lonestar to beyond the Main Zone and forms the host of the numerous mineralized zones on the property.

Old workings, extensive localized surface drilling and a 900 metre decline with underground drilling has defined eleven mineralized zones on the property all related to the No. 7 Fault and the stratigraphy described above. The two principal mineralized zones are the Main Zone and the Lonestar although there is good potential in all zones. Both zones are focused at the Lower Serpentinite/Dacite contact and are composed of massive pyrite-magnetite lesser chalcopyrite veins, veinlets and disseminations.

The Main Zone, characterized on a large scale as a flattened cigar, has been traced for 375 metres down plunge, 20-75 metres wide and 2-24 metres thick. This zone, discovered in 1980, has been the focus of the majority of exploration since that time on the property and has received 48 surface, 50 underground diamond drill holes and a 900 metre decline with two cross-cuts in high grade gold sections. Thicker, higher grade segments are found where the Lower Serpentinite contact locally steepens much like at the Winnipeg-Golden Crown Property. The target has received in excess of C$3 million of expenditures to date.

The Lonestar target comprises two principal zones containing significant copper/gold mineralization, the Pit and Northwest Zones. Historically, in excess of 560,000 tons were extracted from the Pit Zone to feed the Granby smelter. Although the zones have received substantial drilling, previous works have provided a number of genetic interpretations all spatial related with the Lower Serpentinite contact.

The Lexington-Lonestar Property represents an excellent advanced stage gold-copper project with up-side potential. Gold City must proceed with Phase I involving proper due diligence to confirm the database and contract an independent qualified person to perform a resource/reserve estimate on the Main Zone. The closely spaced drilling to date in the Main Zone will likely provide confidence for a 10,000 tonne bulk sample in high grade material. The review by this qualified person may find other segments of the resource that require drilling from the existing underground development to firm confidence in those areas. Phase I is estimated at $150,000. Further Phase II pre-feasibility level evaluation could follow on a positive Phase I, to determine economic viability in light of Gold City's other resource base (Winnipeg-Golden Crown Property) in the district, prevailing spot metal prices and permitting a central mill and tailing facility. Cost estimate for Phase II is $600,000.

Greenwood Gold Project - Winnipeg-Golden Crown Property

Location, Access and Ownership

The contiguous Winnipeg and Golden Crown claims are patented crown granted mineral claims located 7 kilometres east of Greenwood, in south central British Columbia. The claims are easily accessible by paved provincial highway no. 3 to Greenwood, followed by a paved/gravel road immediately east of Greenwood, which accesses the Phoenix property and links to the main Lone Star haul road. Approximately 1.2 kilometres southeast of Hartford Junction on the Lone Star haul road, a 1.0 kilometre dirt road leads southeast to the Winnipeg-Golden Crown claims.

Gold City has entered into an agreement with Dynasty Motorcar Corporation to acquire 100% interest in the claims.

Geology and Mineralization

A series of medium to coarse-grained monzonite to monzodiorite to dark green diorite to amphibolite sills cut fine-grained pyroclastic volcanics and massive dark green microdiorite of unknown age. The composite intrusion is spatially associated with the east-west oriented Jurassic-aged Lind Creek thrust fault commonly marked by serpentinite bodies. The serpentinite bodies are thought to be part of a disrupted Permian-aged ophiolite sequence. A 50 metre thick sub-horizontal, but undulating serpentinite unit located approximately 75 metres below the surface, occurs on the property. As at the Main Zone on the Lexington property, steeper rolls in the upper contact of the serpentinite appear to control wider and richer zones of mineralization on the Winnipeg and Golden Crown claims. Additionally, late shallow dipping mineralized detachment faults are present and may offset principal veins as well as be important mineralized targets.

Extensive surface and underground drilling and a 1.1 kilometre exploration adit have helped to define the mineralized system. Between four and seven discrete veins have been interpreted by previous workers on the claims, and as many as 10 discrete veins in the robust structural-mineralized corridor spanning the Winnipeg, Golden Crown and adjacent Calumet claims. Veins range greatly in sulfide content but generally contain 50-70% sulfides of pyrrhotite-pyrite and lesser chalcopyrite in a quartz gangue. However, quartz veins with very low sulfide content are also present. Both vein types can carry high gold tenor. Veins typically are 1-2 metres true width, with local developments to 5 metres true width near the serpentinite contact. The veins are generally subparallel and closely spaced, trending west northwest and dipping steeply south.

The Winnipeg and Golden Crown claims represent an excellent advanced stage gold-copper project with up-side potential. Gold City must proceed with Phase I involving proper due diligence to confirm the database and contract an independent qualified person to perform a resource/reserve estimate. Review by this qualified person will no doubt result in recommendations for drilling and underground development to firm confidence in the resource/reserve blocks. Phase I is estimated at $300,000. Further pre-feasibility level evaluation, Phase II, could follow on a positive Phase I, to determine economic viability in light of Gold City's other resource base (Lexington Property) in the district, prevailing spot metal prices and permitting a central mill and tailing facility. Cost estimate for Phase II is $800,000.

The Boundary Project lands include the Company's 100% owned Caramelia Property (2,000 hectares) and Old Nick Property (2,900 hectares), and a 44% interest in the Rock Creek Gold Trend Joint Venture (3,200 hectares). In addition, the Company has 100% interest in the Shut (350 hectares), Bridon (200 hectares), and Midway (1,700 hectares) properties, and has optioned the Sappho (500 hectares) property.

Welbar Project

The Welbar Project, comprised of the Company's 100% interest in the Myrtle-Proserpine (459 hectares) and the Promise Properties (2,125 hectares) is located near Wells and Barkerville, BC.

The Welbar properties are strategically located adjacent to International Wayside Gold Mines Ltd.'s Cariboo Gold Project, within the 30-kilometre long, northwest trending Wells-Barkerville Gold Belt. In March 2000, a new discovery was announced by International Wayside Gold Mines Ltd., located within 180 metres of the Company's Myrtle claims.

The Welbar properties are subject to an option agreement between the Company and International Wayside Gold Mines Ltd., whereby International Wayside may acquire a 50% interest in the properties from Gold City by expending $250,000 in exploration work commitments and by delivering 300,000 common shares to Gold City on each of the two properties (Promise and Myrtle-Proserpine), prior to December 31, 2004.

Domin Project

The Domin Project (3,700 hectares), located 43 kilometres northeast of Wells, BC, includes the Company's 100% owned Domin property and the contiguous Dominion Creek property under 100% option.

At its Domin Project, the Company controls some 15 kilometres of prospective ground along the Isaac Lake Fault. BC Regional Geochemical Surveys conducted in 1984 and 1985 identified significant geochemical anomalies along the watersheds in the Isaac Lake fault structure. Noranda Exploration Company Ltd. carried out exploration programs from 1986-88. In 1992, an 1180-tonne bulk sample was mined and processed that averaged 14.0 grams per tonne. A survey conducted in 1998 confirmed that high-grade mineralized float extends over 1,700 metres upstream and up ice from the Main Zone showing.

Mineralized boulders and geochemical anomalies have been outlined by previous exploration work along the 14-kilometre long Isaac Lake fault trend. Only 1.25 kilometres of this trend has been explored in any detail and that work focused on the initial discovery area, where geochemical & geophysical surveys, trenching and diamond drill programs were carried out by Noranda Exploration Company Ltd. (1986-1988). Other geochemical anomalies in soils and stream sediments within the project area have never been followed up.

In 2000 the Company carried out a regional prospecting, mapping and stream sediment sampling program followed by a 17 hole, 1,100-metre drill program on the South Zone discovery. The field work confirmed and expanded the previous known zones of mineralization. The zone of potential high-grade gold mineralization extends southerly at least 3,000 metres from the known showings. The Company plans success-contingent, staged exploration programs to refine known anomalies and to discover new anomalies in future exploration seasons.

The Company has not paid any dividends since incorporation and it is not anticipated that the Company will pay any dividends in the foreseeable future. The amount, timing and payment of dividends in the future, if any, will be determined by the Board of Directors of the Company based upon, among other things, earnings, financial condition of the Company, the need to finance ongoing administration and exploration requirements and such other business considerations as are considered relevant. However, the Company is not limited in any way in its ability to pay dividends on its common shares.

In March 2000, the Accounting Standards Board of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants (CICA) issued Accounting Guideline No. 11 entitled "Enterprises in the Development Stage" - (AcG11). Gold City Industries Ltd. is considered to be a development stage enterprise. The guideline addresses three distinct issues: (i) capitalization of costs/expenditures, (ii) impairment, and (iii) disclosure. Prior to its issuance, development stage entities were exempt from following certain aspects of Canadian GAAP. AcG11 requires that all companies account for transactions based on the underlying characteristics of the transaction rather than the maturity of the enterprise. In addition, AcG11 requires specific disclosure of information by development stage companies. The guideline is effective no later than fiscal periods beginning on or after April 1, 2000, which is applicable in the 2001 fiscal year.

Management of Gold City Industries Ltd. is aware that there are two alternative views of how AcG11 affects mining companies with respect to the deferral of exploration costs. CICA Handbook Section 3061 "Property, Plant and Equipment" states that for a mining property, the cost of the asset includes exploration cost if the enterprise considers that such costs have the characteristics of property, plant and equipment, and, accordingly, defers such costs. Under the view adopted by the Company, deferred exploration costs would not automatically be subject to regular assessment of recoverability, unless conditions, such as those discussed in AcG11 exist. Under the alternative view, however, there would be a regular assessment of deferred exploration costs. Assessment of the probability of recoverability of deferred exploration costs from future operations would require the preparation of a projection based on objective evidence of economic reserves, such as a feasibility study. The stage of the Company's operations is such that like most mining companies in the exploration stage, it would not be practicable to obtain a feasibility study or provide other information that could be used to support capitalization of deferred exploration costs under the alternative view.

In March 2002, the CICA Emerging Issue Committee issued EIC126 - "Accounting by Mining Enterprises for Exploration Costs". In this abstract, the CICA concluded that a mining enterprise that has not established mineral reserves objectively and, therefore, does not have a basis for preparing a projection of the estimated future net cash flow from the property is not precluded from considering exploration costs to have the characteristics of property, plant and equipment.

Should the alternative interpretation as followed in AcG11 and EIC126 be determined by the accounting profession to be appropriate, all deferred exploration costs would be written off as of the beginning of the year. This write off would be treated as a change in accounting principle. The result would be a reduction of mineral properties and related deferred exploration assets of $2,252,121 and an increase in the deficit of $2,252,121. (The impact in the 12-month period ended 2001 and 2000 would be to increase pretax net loss by $371,088 and $473,141, respectively).

AcG11 and EIC126 also provide guidance on measuring impairment when pre-operating costs have been capitalized. As at December 31, 2001, geological assessment reports on the Company's mineral properties do not indicate conditions, such as those in AcG11, under which impairment exists.

All reports done by qualified geologists and/or qualified engineers indicate that all of the amounts relating to the Company's properties are recoverable and that there is no impairment associated with any of these properties based on current economics.

Results of Operations

Nine Months Ended 9/30/02 vs. Nine Months Ended 9/30/01

During the nine months ended September 30, 2002, the Company reported a consolidated net loss of $526,948 compared to a net loss of $190,595 for the nine months ended September 30, 2001. The increase is primarily attributable to a mineral property write off of $267,869 related to the Costamin International Joint Venture. Revenue reported was $1,742 compared to $21,054 in the nine months ended September 30, 2001. The difference in revenue is primarily attributable to a one-time finder's fee ($15,898), which was received by the Company in 2001 for introducing a mining technology project to a major mining company and to a reduction in interest income of $2,714 for the nine months ended September 30, 2002. Audit and legal fees increased by $13,735, attributable to an increase in property/asset transactions. Office and general expenses increased by $45,514, which included increases of $34,750 in management fees, $3,386 in office supplies & equipment, $4,618 in shareholder communications, and $5,580 in rent. Consulting and technical fees decreased by $5,585.

The Company incurred $143,910 in property acquisition costs and expended $142,612 in exploration costs with respect to its British Columbia properties. Management re-directed 2002 exploration programs towards gold. In June 2002 a biogeochemical (bark) survey was conducted at the Company's Caramelia property in the Greenwood Mining Division of British Columbia. Based on preliminary results, the bark survey grid was expanded in September 2002. Results from the program are pending. In July 2002 a field program consisting of hand-trenching, sampling, and mapping was undertaken at the Tommy Jack property, located 150 kilometres north of Smithers, BC. Preliminary assessment work has been initiated on the Company's Greenwood Gold Project.

During the year ended December 31, 2001 the Company reported a consolidated net loss of $272,306 compared to a net loss of $343,191 reported in the year ending December 31, 2000. Revenue reported was $22,115 compared to revenue of $11,318 in the same period in 2000. The difference in revenue is primarily attributable to a finder's fee ($15,898), which was received by the Company for introducing a mining technology project to a mining company. Expenses decreased to $219,195 from $261,969 in the same period in 2000. Material changes in expenses included: audit and legal expenses decreased by $19,010, chiefly due to the settlement of a legal dispute between the Company and International Wayside Gold Mines Ltd.; depreciation decreased by $17,513, as capital assets written off in the previous year left a lower opening net book value in 2001; and business development expenses for the year were partially offset by an increase of $9,614 in office and general expenses, which included an increase of $7,346 in office rent, due to lease of new office space; and increase of $11,595 in travel and accommodation; an increase of $3,920 in telecommunications; and an increase $18,107 in shareholder communications. These increases in office and general expenses were offset by decreases in management fees of $32,500; due to reduced fees charged by two directors and/or officers of the Company.

For the Fiscal Year ended 12/31/2000, the Company incurred a net loss of $343,191 compared to a net loss of $237,453 in Fiscal 1999. The difference in the loss was mainly due to increased office and general costs of $45,000 related to property management and administrative services; increased project evaluation costs of $50,000 due to the increased volume of properties under review, which was partially offset by a decrease of $25,000 in consulting and technical fees; increased business development costs of $17,000 due to the initiation of investment presentations; increased legal costs of $8,500 due to the Welbar Properties dispute; increased share transfer and regulatory fees of $6,000 due to increased filings and equity issues; and, increased depreciation of $13,000 due to write downs of office assets, which was offset by a reduction of $19,000 in mineral property write downs.

During the year, the Company incurred material expenditures for deferred exploration on its properties in British Columbia of $373,269. A property payment of $70,000 and exploration expenditures of $121,800 were made on the Myrtle/Proserpine Properties at Wells/Barkerville, B.C. The other significant resource expenditure was $211,200, which was incurred to conduct exploration programs on the Domin Project northeast of Wells, B.C.

Fiscal 1999 Ended 12/31/1999 vs. Fiscal 1998 Ended 12/31/98

For the Fiscal Year ended 12/31/1999, the Company incurred a net loss of $237,453 compared to a net loss of $1,031,960 in Fiscal 1998. The difference in the net loss was primarily due to the write-off of deferred exploration costs on abandoned properties, which amounted to $864,000 in Fiscal 1998 compared to $30,000 in Fiscal 1999.

Other significant changes in expenditures were in legal costs, which increased by $26,000 in Fiscal 1999 as a result of the restructuring of the company's debts, which while mainly carried out in Fiscal 1998, continued into Fiscal 1999 and were invoiced in the year, together with the costs of the private placement and share issues in Fiscal 1999. These costs were more than offset by a reduction in finance fees of $47,000, incurred in Fiscal 1998 for the restructuring. The consulting and technical fees, taken together with the office and general costs, decreased by $28,000. These cost reductions represent reduced fees and salaries paid in Fiscal 1999. The other significant expenditure change was $31,000 in exploration work. An extensive geological review was carried out on the Company's exploration properties to determine the development potential of each one.

Management examined over fifty mineral development proposals in Fiscal 1999 and made follow-up offers to negotiate project agreements on several. Of those, two were advanced to the stage where announcements were made. The first, a barge/loading/unloading system and transport for mineral product from the west coast of Africa was developed to the proposal state; however, the preliminary plan was not accepted by the property owner. The second proposal involved the acquisition, over time, of ownership and operation of a gold placer mine and plant in the Yukon, together with leases on extensive acreage. A final agreement was not achieved.

During Fiscal 1999, the Company completed a private placement of 1,670,500 common shares for net proceeds of $263,075. The subscriptions for shares for this placement were submitted in December 1988, but the proceeds were not received until early 1999. In addition to this private placement, the company issued 1,050,200 shares for proceeds of $196,936 as a result of the exercise of share purchase warrants and share purchase options by directors and other shareholders in Fiscal 1999.

US GAAP Reconciliation with Canadian GAAP

U.S. GAAP requires that exploration and general and administrative costs related to projects be charged to expense as incurred. As such, some of the costs accounted for as deferred mineral acquisition and exploration expenditures under Canadian GAAP would have been charged to earnings under U.S. GAAP. Property acquisition costs are capitalized under both Canadian and U.S. GAAP.

Under Canadian G.A.A.P., mineral property costs are capitalized if an enterprise considers such costs have the characteristics of property, plant and equipment. An enterprise applies the method of accounting for exploration costs that it considers to be appropriate to its operations and applies the method consistently to all its properties. (C.I.C.A. Handbook Section 3061.21)

A mining enterprise that has not established mineral reserves objectively, and therefore, does not have a basis for preparing a projection of the estimated future net cash flows from the property is not precluded from considering exploration costs to have the characteristics of property plant and equipment. (C.I.C.A. Emerging Issues Committee, EIC-126)

In general, exploration and capitalized mineral property costs are expenses under Canadian G.A.A.P. when:

1. exploration activities have ceased;

2. exploration results are not promising such that exploration will not be planned for the foreseeable future;
3. lease ownership rights have expired;
4. or insufficient funding is available to complete the exploration program.

The accounting policy disclosures as required by Canadian G.A.A.P. are described in Note 1 to the financial statements.

Variation in Operating Results

The Company is presently exploring its properties for sufficient reserves to justify production. None of its properties are yet in production and consequently, the properties do not produce any revenue. As a result there is little variation expected in operating results from year to year and little is to be expected until such time, if any, as a production decision is made on one of its properties.

The Company derives interest income on its bank deposits, which depend on the Company's ability to raise funds.

Management periodically through the exploration process, reviews results both internally and externally through mining related professionals. Decisions to abandon, reduce or expand exploration efforts is based upon many factors including general and specific assessments of mineral deposits, the likelihood of increasing or decreasing those deposits, land costs, estimates of future mineral prices, potential extraction methods and costs, the likelihood of positive or negative changes to the environment, permitting, taxation, labor and capital costs. There cannot be a pre-determined hold period for any property as geological or economic circumstances render each property unique.

The Company's financial statements are stated in Canadian Dollars (CDN$) and are prepared in accordance with Canadian Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP), the application of which, in the case of the Company, conforms in all material respects for the periods presented with United States GAAP except as noted in Footnote 16 to the financial statements. The value of the U.S. Dollar in relationship to the Canadian Dollar was 1.53 as of 6/30/02.

The Company has financed its activities through the distribution of equity capital. The timing of such distributions was dependent on the requirements of the Company and the economic climate. The Company anticipates having to raise additional funds by equity issuance in the next several years, as the Company does not expect to generate material revenue from mining operations or to achieve self-sustaining commercial mining operations for several years.

The Directors may, whenever they think fit, convene a general meeting. A general meeting, if requisitioned in accordance with The Company Act, shall be convened by the Directors or, if not convened by the Directors, may be convened by the requisitionists as provided in The Act.

Not less than 21 days' notice of any general meeting specifying the time and place of meeting and in case of special business, the general nature of that business shall be given in the manner mentioned in Article 22, or in such other manner, if any, as may be prescribed by ordinary resolution whether previous notice has been given or not, to any person as may by law or under these Articles or other regulations of the Company entitled to receive the notice from the Company. Both parties agree to work diligently towards completing the due diligence as soon as possible and to prepare a formal agreement, if deemed necessary by both parties.

EXCHANGE CONTROLS AND OTHER LIMITATIONS AFFECTING SECURITY HOLDERS

Except as discussed in ITEM #9, the Company is not aware of any Canadian federal or provincial laws, decrees, or regulations that restrict the export or import of capital, including foreign exchange controls, or that affect the remittance of dividends, interest or other payments to non-Canadian holders of the common shares. There are no limitations on the right of non-Canadian owners to hold or vote the common shares imposed by Canadian federal or provincial law or by the charter or other constituent documents of the Company.

The Investment Canada Act (the "IC Act") governs acquisitions of Canadian business by a non-Canadian person or entity. The IC Act requires a non-Canadian (as defined in the IC Act) making an investment to acquire control of a Canadian business, the gross assets of which exceed certain defined threshold levels, to file an application for review with the Investment Review Division of Industry Canada. The IC Act provides, among other things, for a review of an investment in the event of acquisition of "control" in certain Canadian businesses in the following circumstances:

1. If the investor is a non-Canadian and is a national of a country belonging to the North American Free Trade Agreement ("NAFTA") and/or the World Trade Organization ("WTO") ("NAFTA or WTO National"), any direct acquisition having an asset value exceeding $179,000,000 is reviewable. This amount is subject to an annual adjustment on the basis of a prescribed formula in the IC Act to reflect inflation and real growth within Canada. This threshold level does not apply in certain sections of Canadian industry, such as uranium, financial services (except insurance), transportation services and cultural services (i.e. the publication, distribution or sale of books, magazines, periodicals (other than printing or typesetting businesses), music in print or machine readable form, radio, television, cable and satellite services; the publication, distribution, sale or exhibition of film or video recordings on audio or video music recordings), to which lower thresholds as prescribed in the IC Act are applicable.
2. If the investor is a non-Canadian and is not a NAFTA or WTO National, any direct acquisition having an asset value exceeding $5,000,000 and any indirect acquisition having an asset value exceeding $50,000,000 is reviewable.
3. If the investor is a non-Canadian and is NAFTA or WTO National, an indirect acquisition of control is reviewable if the value of the assets of the business located in Canada represents more than 50% of the asset value of the transaction or the business is involved in uranium, financial services, transportation services or cultural services (as set forth above).

Finally, certain transactions prescribed in the IC Act are exempted from review altogether.

In the context of the Company, in essence, three methods of acquiring control of a Canadian business are regulated by the IC Act: (i) the acquisition of all or substantially all of the assets used in carrying on business in Canada; (ii) the acquisition, directly or indirectly, of voting shares of a Canadian corporation carrying on business in Canada; or (iii) the acquisition of voting shares of an entity which controls, directly or indirectly, another entity carrying on business in Canada.

An acquisition of a majority of the voting shares of a Canadian entity, including a corporation, is deemed to be an acquisition of control under the IC Act. However, under the IC Act, there is a rebuttable presumption that control is acquired if one-third of the voting shares of a Canadian corporation or an equivalent undivided interest in the voting shares of such corporation are held by a non-Canadian person or entity. An acquisition of less than one-third of the voting shares of a Canadian corporation is deemed not to be an acquisition of control. An acquisition of less than a majority, but one-third or more, of the voting shares of a Canadian corporation is presumed to be an acquisition of control unless it can be established that, on the acquisition, the Canadian corporation is not, in fact, controlled by the acquirer through the ownership of voting shares. For partnerships, trusts, joint ventures or other unincorporated Canadian entities, an acquisition of less than a majority of the voting interests is deemed not to be an acquisition of control.

In addition, if a Canadian corporation is controlled by a non-Canadian, the acquisition of control of any other Canadian corporation by such corporation may be subject to the prior approval of the Investment Review Division, unless it can be established that the Canadian corporation is not in fact controlled by the acquirer through the ownership of voting shares.

Where an investment is reviewable under the IC Act, the investment may not be implemented unless it is likely to be of net benefit to Canada. If an applicant is unable to satisfy the Minister responsible for Industry Canada that the investment is likely to be of net benefit to Canada, the applicant may not proceed with the investment. Alternatively, an acquirer may be required to divest control of the Canadian business that is the subject of the investment.

In addition to the foregoing, the IC Act provides for formal notification under the IC Act of all other acquisitions of control by Canadian businesses by non-Canadian investors. The notification process consists of filing a notification within 30 days following the implementation of an investment, which notification is for information, as opposed to review, purposes.

CANADIAN INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES

Disposition of Common Stock.

The summary below is restricted to the case of a holder (a "Holder") of one or more common shares ("Common Shares") who for the purposes of the Tax Act is a non-resident of Canada, holds his Common Shares as capital property and deals at arm's length with the Company.

Dividends

A Holder will be subject to Canadian withholding tax ("Part XIII Tax") equal to 25%, or such lower rates as may be available under an applicable tax treaty, of the gross amount of any dividend paid or deemed to be paid on his Common Shares. Under the Tax Convention, the rate of Part XIII Tax applicable to a dividend on Common Shares paid to a Holder who is a resident of the United States is, if the Holder is a company that beneficially owns at least 10% of the voting stock of the Company, 5% and, in any other case, 15% of the gross amount of the dividend. The Company will be required to withhold the applicable amount of Part XIII Tax from each dividend so paid and remit the withheld amount directly to the Receiver General for Canada for the account of the Holder.

Disposition of Common Shares

A Holder who disposes of Common Shares, including by deemed disposition on death, will not be subject to Canadian tax on any capital gain thereby realized unless the common Share constituted "taxable Canadian property" as defined by the Tax Act. Generally, a common share of a public corporation will not constitute taxable Canadian property of a Holder unless he held the common share as capital property used by him carrying on a business in Canada, or he or persons with whom he did not deal at arm's length alone or together held or held options to acquire, at any time within the 60 months preceding the disposition, 25% or more of the issued shares of any class of the capital stock of the Company.

A Holder who is a resident of the United States and realizes a capital gain on disposition of Common Shares that was taxable Canadian property will nevertheless, by virtue of the Treaty, generally be exempt from Canadian tax thereon unless (a) more than 50% of the value of the Common Shares is derived from, or from an interest in, Canadian real estate, including Canadian mineral resources properties, (b) the Common Shares formed part of the business property of a permanent establishment that the Holder has or had in Canada within the 12 months preceding disposition, or (c) the Holder (i) was a resident of Canada at any time within the ten years immediately preceding the disposition, and for a total of 120 months during any period of 20 consecutive years, preceding the disposition, and (ii) owned the Common Shares when he ceased to be resident in Canada.

A Holder who is subject to Canadian tax in respect of a capital gain realized on disposition of Common Shares must include three quarters (two thirds for dispositions after February 27, 2000 and before October 18, 2000 and one half after October 18, 2000) of the capital gain ("taxable capital gain") in computing his taxable income earned in Canada. The Holder may, subject to certain limitations, deduct three quarters (two thirds for disposition after February 27, 2000) of any capital loss ("allowable capital loss") arising on disposition of taxable Canadian property from taxable capital gains realized in the year of disposition in respect to taxable Canadian property and, to the extent not so deductible, from such taxable capital gains of any of the three preceding years or any subsequent year.

UNITED STATES FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES

The following is a discussion of material United States Federal income tax consequences, under the law, generally applicable to a U.S. Holder (as defined below) of common shares of the Company. This discussion does not cover any state, local or foreign tax consequences.

The following discussion is based upon the sections of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended ("the Code"), Treasury Regulations, published Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") rulings, published administrative positions of the IRS and court decisions that are currently applicable, any or all of which could be materially and adversely changed, possible on a retroactive basis, at any time. In addition, the discussion does not consider the potential effects, both adverse and beneficial, or recently proposed legislation which, if enacted, could be applied, possibly on a retroactive basis, at any time. The discussion is for general information only and it is not intended to be, nor should it be construed to be, legal or tax advice to any holder or prospective holder of common shares of the Company and no opinion or representation with respect to the U.S. federal income tax consequences to any such holder or prospective holder is made. Management urges holders and prospective holders of common shares of the Company to consult their own tax advisors about the federal, state, local, and foreign tax consequences of purchasing, owning and disposing of common shares of the Company.

U.S. Holders

As used herein, a ("U.S. Holder") includes a holder of common shares of the Company who is a citizen or resident of the United States, a corporation created or organized in or under the laws of the United States or of any political subdivision thereof, an estate whose income is taxable in the United States irrespective of source or a trust subject to the primary supervision of a court within the United States and control of a United States fiduciary as described in Section 7701(a)(30) of the Code. This summary does not address the tax consequences to, and U.S. Holder does not include, persons subject to special provisions of Federal income tax law, such as tax-exempt organizations, qualified retirement plans, financial institutions, insurance companies, real estate investment trusts, regulated investment companies, broker-dealers, non-resident alien individuals, persons or entities that have a "functional currency" other than the U.S. dollar, shareholders who hold common shares as part of a straddle, hedging or conversion transaction, and shareholders who acquired their common shares through the exercise of employee stock options or otherwise as compensation for services. This summary is limited to U.S. Holders who own common shares as capital assets. This summary does not address the consequences to a person or entity holding an interest in a shareholder or the consequences to a person of the ownership, exercise or disposition of any options, warrants or other rights to acquire common shares.

Distribution on Common Shares of the Company

U.S. Holders receiving dividend distributions (including constructive dividends) with respect to common shares of the Company are required to include in gross income for United States Federal income tax purposes the gross amount of such distributions equal to the U.S. dollar value of such distributions on the date of receipt (based on the exchange rate on such date), to the extent that the Company has current or accumulated earnings and profits, without reduction for any Canadian income tax withheld from such distributions. Such Canadian tax withheld may be credited, subject to certain limitations, against the U.S. Holder's United States Federal Income tax liability or, alternatively, individuals may be deducted in computing the U.S. Holder's United States Federal taxable income by those individuals who itemize deductions. (See more detailed discussion at "Foreign Tax Credit" below). To the extent that distributions exceed current or accumulated earnings and profits of the Company, they will be treated first as a return of capital up to the U.S. Holder's adjusted basis in the common shares and thereafter as gain from the sale or exchange of the common shares. Dividend income will be taxed at marginal tax rates applicable to ordinary income while preferential tax rates for long-term capital gains are applicable to a U.S. Holder which is an individual, estate or trust. There are currently no preferential tax rates for long-term capital gains for a U.S. Holder which is a corporation.

In the case of foreign currency received as a dividend that is not converted by the recipient into U.S. dollars on the date of receipt, a U.S. Holder will have a tax basis in the foreign currency equal to its U.S. dollar value on the date of receipt. Generally any gain or loss recognized upon a subsequent sale of other disposition of the foreign currency, including the exchange for U.S. dollars, will be ordinary income or loss.

Dividends paid on the common shares of the Company will not generally be eligible for the dividends received deduction provided to corporations receiving dividends from certain United States corporations. A U.S. Holder which is a corporation may, under certain circumstances, be entitled to a 70% deduction of the United States source portion of dividends received from the Company (unless the Company qualifies as a "foreign personal holding company" or a "passive foreign investment company", as defined below) if such U.S. Holder owns shares representing at least 10% of the voting power and value of the Company. The availability of this deduction is subject to several complex limitations, which are beyond the scope of this discussion.

Under current Treasury Regulations, dividends paid on the Company's common shares, if any, generally will not be subject to information reporting and generally will not be subject to U.S. backup withholding tax. However, dividends and the proceeds from a sale of the Company's common shares paid in the U.S. through a U.S. or U.S. related paying agent (including a broker) will be subject to U.S. information reporting requirements and may also be subject to the 31% U.S. backup withholding tax, unless the paying agent is furnished with a duly completed and signed Form W-9. Any amounts withheld under the U.S. backup withholding tax rules will be allowed as a refund or a credit against the U.S. Holder's U.S. federal income tax liability, provided the required information is furnished to the IRS.

Foreign Tax Credit

For individuals whose entire income from sources outside the United States consists of qualified passive income, the total amount of creditable foreign taxes paid or accrued during the taxable year does not exceed $300 ($600 in the case of a joint return) and an election is made under section 904(j), the limitation on credit does not apply.

A U.S. Holder who pays (or has withheld from distributions) Canadian income tax with respect to the ownership of common shares of the Company may be entitled, at the option of the U.S. Holder, to either a deduction or a tax credit for such foreign tax paid or withheld. Generally, it will be more advantageous to claim a credit because a credit reduces United States Federal income taxes on a dollar-for-dollar basis, while a deduction merely reduces the taxpayer's income subject to tax. This election is made on a year-by-year basis and applies to all foreign income taxes (or taxes in lieu of income tax) paid by (or withheld from) the U.S. Holder during the year. There are significant and complex limitations which apply to the credit, among which is the general limitation that the credit cannot exceed the proportionate share of the U.S. Holder's United States income tax liability that the U.S. Holder's foreign source income bears to his/her or its worldwide taxable income in the determination of the application of this limitation. The various items of income and deduction must be classified into foreign and domestic sources. Complex rules govern this classification process. In addition, this limitation is calculated separately with respect to specific classes of income such as "passive income", "high withholding tax interest", "financial services income", "shipping income", and certain other classifications of income. Dividends distributed by the Company will generally constitute "passive income" or, in the case of certain U.S. Holders, "financial services income" for these purposes. The availability of the foreign tax credit and the application of the limitations on the credit are fact specific and management urges holders and prospective holders of common shares of the Company to consult their own tax advisors regarding their individual circumstances.

Disposition of Common Shares of the Company

A U.S. Holder will recognize gain or loss upon the sale of common shares of the Company equal to the difference, if any, between (i) the amount of cash plus the fair market value of any property received, and (ii) the shareholder's tax basis in the common shares of the Company. Preferential tax rates apply to long-term capital gains of U.S. Holders, which are individuals, estates or trusts. This gain or loss will be capital gain or loss if the common shares are capital assets in the hands of the U.S. Holder, which will be a short-term or long-term capital gain or loss depending upon the holding period of the U.S. Holder. Gains and losses are netted and combined according to special rules in arriving at the overall capital gain or loss for a particular tax year. Deductions for net capital losses are subject to significant limitations. For U.S. Holders, which are not corporations, any unused portion of such net capital loss may be carried over to be used in later tax years until such net capital loss is thereby exhausted, but individuals may not carry back capital losses. For U.S. Holders, which are corporations (other than corporations subject to Subchapter S of the Code), an unused net capital loss may be carried back three years from the loss year and carried forward five years from the loss year to be offset against capital gains until such net capital loss is thereby exhausted.

Other Considerations

In the following circumstances, the above sections of the discussion may not describe the United States Federal income tax consequences resulting from the holding and disposition of common shares of the Company.

Foreign Personal Holding Company

If at any time during a taxable year more than 50% of the total combined voting power or the total value of the Company's outstanding shares is owned, actually or constructively, by five or fewer individuals who are citizens or residents of the United States and 60% (50% after the first tax year) or more of the Company's gross income for such year was derived from certain passive sources (e.g. from interest income received from its subsidiaries), the Company would be treated as a "foreign personal holding company." In that event, U.S. Holders that hold common shares of the Company would be required to include in gross income for such year their allocable portions of such passive income to the extent the Company does not actually distribute such income.

The Company does not believe that it currently has the status of a "foreign personal holding company". However, there can be no assurance that the Company will not be considered a foreign personal holding company for the current or any future taxable year.

Foreign Investment Company

If 50% or more of the combined voting power or total value of the Company's outstanding shares are held, actually or constructively, by citizens or residents of the United States, United States domestic partnerships or corporations, or estates or trusts other than foreign estates or trusts (as defined by the Code Section 7701(a)(31), and the Company is found to be engaged primarily in the business of investing, reinvesting, or trading in securities, commodities, or any interest therein, it is possible that the Company might be treated as a "foreign investment company" as defined in Section 1246 of the Code, causing all or part of any gain realized by a U.S. Holder selling or exchanging common shares of the Company to be treated as ordinary income rather than capital gains.

Passive Foreign Investment Company

As a foreign corporation with U.S. Holders, the Company could potentially be treated as a passive foreign investment company ("PFIC"), as defined in Section 1297 of the Code, depending upon the percentage of the Company's income which is passive, or the percentage of the Company's assets which is held for the purpose of producing passive income.

Certain United States income tax legislation contains rules governing PFICs which can have significant tax effects on U.S. shareholders of foreign corporations. These rules do not apply to non-U.S. shareholders. Section 1297 (a) of the Code defines a PFIC as a corporation that is not formed in the United States and, for any taxable year, either (i) 75% or more of its gross income is "passive income", which includes interest, dividends and certain rents and royalties or (ii) the average percentage, by fair market value (or, if the company is a controlled foreign corporation or makes an election, by adjusted tax basis), of its assets that produce or are held for the production of "passive income" is 50% or more. The taxation of a US shareholder who owns stock in a PFIC is extremely complex and is therefore beyond the scope of this discussion. Management urges US persons to consult with their own tax advisors with regards to the impact of these rules.

Controlled Foreign Corporation

A Controlled Foreign Corporation (CFC) is a foreign corporation more than 50% of whose stock by vote or value is, on any day in the corporation's tax year, owned (directly or indirectly) by U.S. Shareholders. If more than 50% of the voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote is owned, actually or constructively, by citizens or residents of the United States, United States domestic partnerships and corporations or estates or trusts other than foreign estates or trusts, each of whom own actually or constructively 10% or more of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock of the Company could be treated as a "controlled foreign corporation" under Subpart F of the Code. This classification would affect many complex results, one of which is the inclusion of certain income of a CFC, which is subject to current U.S. tax. The United States generally taxes United States Shareholders of a CFC currently on their pro rata shares of the Subpart F income of the CFC. Such United States Shareholders are generally treated as having received a current distribution out of the CFC's Subpart F income and are also subject to current U.S. tax on their pro rata shares of the CFC's earnings invested in U.S. property. The foreign tax credit described above may reduce the U.S. tax on these amounts. In addition, under Section 1248 of the Code, gain from the sale or exchange of shares by a U.S. Holder of common shares of the Corporation which is or was a United States Shareholder at any time during the five-year period ending with the sale or exchange is treated as ordinary income to the extent of earnings and profits of the Company (accumulated in corporate tax years beginning after 1962, but only while the shares were held and while the Company was "controlled") attributable to the shares sold or exchanged. If a foreign corporation is both a PFIC and a CFC, the foreign corporation generally will not be treated as a PFIC with respect to the United States Shareholders of the CFC. This rule generally will be effective for taxable years of United States Shareholders beginning after 1997 and for taxable years of foreign corporations ending with or within such taxable years of United States Shareholders. The PFIC provisions continue to apply in the case of PFIC that is also a CFC with respect to the U.S. Holders that are less than 10% shareholders. Because of the complexity of Subpart F, a more detailed review of these rules is outside of the scope of this discussion.

The amount of any backup withholding will not constitute additional tax and will be allowed as a credit against the U.S. Holder's federal income tax liability.

Filing of Information Returns. Under a number of circumstances, United States Investor acquiring shares of the Company may be required to file an information return with the Internal Revenue Service Center where they are required to file their tax returns with a duplicate copy to the Internal Revenue Service Center, Philadelphia, PA 19255. In particular, any United States Investor who becomes the owner, directly or indirectly, of 10% or more of the shares of the Company will be required to file such a return. Other filing requirements may apply, and management urges United States Investors to consult their own tax advisors concerning these requirements.

These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with Canadian and United States generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation.

In our opinion, these consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2001 and 2000 and the results of its operations and cash flows for the years ended December 31, 2001, 2000 and 1999 in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles. Comments by Auditors for U.S. Readers on Canada – U.S. Reporting Conflict

In the United States, reporting standards for auditors require the addition of an explanatory paragraph (following the opinion paragraph) when the financial statements are affected by conditions and events that cast substantial doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, such as those described in Note 1 to the financial statements. Our report to the shareholders, dated April 30, 2002, is expressed in accordance with Canadian reporting standards which do not permit a reference to such events and conditions in the Auditors' Report when these are adequately disclosed in the financial statements.

GOLD CITY INDUSTRIES LTD.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

FOR THE YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2001, 2000 AND 1999

1. NATURE OF OPERATIONS

The Company was incorporated as Gold City Mining Corporation under the Company Act (British Columbia) on December 7, 1994 by amalgamation of Gold City Resources Ltd., Providence Industries Ltd., and McKinney Mines Ltd. This name was subsequently changed to Consolidated Gold City Mining Corporation on October 29, 1997 concurrent with a share consolidation and changed again on August 26, 1998 to Gold City Industries Ltd. (the "Company") concurrent with a further corporate restructuring and share consolidation. Its principal business activities have included the exploration for and development of mineral properties.

These consolidated financial statements of the Company have been prepared on the basis of accounting principles applicable to a going concern which assumes the realization of assets and discharge of liabilities in the normal course of business. The Company's ability to continue as a going concern is dependent upon the existence of economically recoverable reserves, the ability of the Company to obtain additional financing for general working capital purposes and to complete development of its mineral properties and upon its ability to attain profitable operations. These consolidated financial statements do not give effect to any adjustments that would be necessary should the Company not be able to continue as a going concern.

In March 2000, the Accounting Standards Board of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants (CICA) issued Accounting Guideline No. 11 entitled "Enterprises in the Development Stage" – (AcG11). The guideline addresses three distinct: (i) capitalization of costs/expenditures, (ii) impairment, and (iii) disclosure. Prior to its issuance, development stage entities were exempt from following certain aspects of Canadian GAAP. AcG11 requires that all companies account for transactions based on the underlying characteristics of the transaction rather than the maturity of the enterprise. In addition, AcG11 requires specific disclosure of information by development stage companies. The guideline is effective no later than fiscal periods beginning on or after April 1, 2000, which is applicable in the 2001 fiscal year.

The Company is aware that there are two alternative views of how AcG11 affects mining companies with respect to the deferral of exploration costs. CICA Handbook Section 3061 "Property, Plant and Equipment" states that for a mining property, the cost of the asset includes exploration cost if the enterprise considers that such costs have the characteristics of property, plant and equipment, and, accordingly, defers such costs. Under the view adopted by the Company, deferred exploration costs would not automatically be subject to regular assessment of recoverability, unless conditions, such as those discussed in AcG11 exist. Under the alternative view, however, there would be a regular assessment of deferred exploration costs. Assessment of the probability of recoverability of deferred exploration costs from future operations would require the preparation of a projection based on objective evidence of economic reserves, such as a feasibility study. The stage of the Company's operations is such that like most mining companies in the exploration stage, it would not be practicable to obtain a feasibility study or provide other information that could be used to support capitalization of deferred exploration costs under the alternative view.

In March 2002, the CICA Emerging Issue Committee issued EIC126 – "Accounting by Mining Enterprises for Exploration Costs". In this abstract, the CICA concluded that a mining enterprise that has not established mineral reserves objectively and, therefore, does not have a basis for preparing a projection of the estimated future net cash flow from the property is not precluded from considering exploration costs to have the characteristics of property, plant and equipment.

Should the alternative interpretation as followed in AcG11 and EIC126 be determined by the accounting profession to be appropriate, all deferred exploration costs would be written off as of the beginning of the year. This write off would be treated as a change in accounting principle. The result would be a reduction of mineral properties and related deferred exploration assets of $2,252,121 and an increase in the deficit of $2,252,121. (The impact in the 12 month period ended 2001 and 2000 would be to increase pretax net loss by $371,088 and $473,141, respectively).

AcG11 and EIC126 also provide guidance on measuring impairment when pre-operating costs have been capitalized. As at December 31, 2001, geological assessment reports on the Company's mineral properties do not indicate conditions, such as those in AcG11, under which an impairment exists.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Accounting principles

These consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

Mineral properties and deferred exploration expenditures

The Company records its interests in mineral properties at cost. Expenditures on general mining exploration are charged against operations as incurred. Exploration expenditures for specific projects are deferred until such time as the projects achieve commercial production, or are sold or abandoned. When a project achieves commercial production, the deferred exploration expenditures are amortized against operations over the estimated life of the mine. Expenditures relating to abandoned projects are charged to operations in the year of abandonment. The amounts shown for mineral properties represent costs to date and do not necessarily reflect present or future values.

Basis of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly owned subsidiary, Applied Mine Technologies Inc. The Company acquired all of the issued and outstanding shares of Applied Mine Technologies Inc. during 2001.

Marketable Securities

Marketable securities are valued at the lower of cost or quoted market value.

Capital Assets and Depreciation

The Company records its acquisition of capital assets at cost. Depreciation is charged to operations on a declining basis at the following annual rates:

Office furniture and equipment	20%
Mining equipment	30%

Use of estimates

The Company uses estimates in preparing these consolidated financial statements based on the best information available at the balance sheet date. These estimates are reviewed and adjusted regularly to ensure that such estimates are reasonable. The estimates included in the consolidated balance sheets, statements of operations and deficit and cash flows will vary with actual results.

Income taxes

The Company accounts for income taxes under the deferral method.

Financial instruments

The Company's financial instruments include cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, prepaid expenses, mortgages and notes receivable, accounts payable and accrued liabilities and loans payable. The fair value of these financial instruments approximates their carrying values.

Cash and cash equivalents

For the purpose of the statements of cash flows, the Company considers cash equivalents to be cash and short-term investments with original maturities of three months or less.

Loss per share

Loss per share is calculated on the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period. Diluted loss per share is not disclosed as the effect of including outstanding options and warrants in the calculation of diluted outstanding common stock is anti-dilutive.

3. ACQUISITION OF APPLIED MINE TECHNOLOGIES INC.

Pursuant to an agreement dated February 8, 2000, the Company acquired 100% of the issued and outstanding shares of Applied Mine Technologies Inc. ("AMT") from AM Technologies Limited ("AM Limited") by issuing 100,000 common shares as consideration at a price of $0.15 per share. The transaction closed in 2001 upon completion of due diligence and AM Limited shareholder approval. The assets of AMT, a 50% interest in the Domin mineral property in the Cariboo Mining Division of British Columbia and a 50.5% interest in the Old Nick mineral property in the Greenwood Mining Division, give the Company 100% interest in both of the mineral properties.

The acquisition of AMT is accounted for by the purchase method as follows:

Deferred Exploration Costs $15,000

The Company will have a contingent obligation on the date in the future that a formal decision is made to place the Domin property or the Old Nick property into production, of $50,000 or $500,000 respectively. The Company will have the option at the due date of either of these contingent obligations to make the payment in cash or by issuing shares.

16. MATERIAL DIFFERENCES BETWEEN CANADIAN AND UNITED STATES GENERALLY ACCEPTED ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLES (GAAP)

The Company prepares its financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Canada ("Canadian GAAP"), which differ in certain respects from those principles that the Company would have followed had its financial statements been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States ("US GAAP"). The major differences between Canadian and US GAAP, which affect the Company's financial statements, are described below, and their effect on the financial statements is summarized as follows:

Mineral property interests – US GAAP	$ -	$ -	$ -

- i) Under US GAAP, the Company would record its mineral property interests at cost. Exploration and development costs incurred on a mineral property are expensed unless the property has economically recoverable reserves at which time further exploration and development costs are deferred. The Company has not yet identified economically recoverable reserves on any of its properties. Accordingly, under US GAAP, all exploration and development costs incurred during the period are to be expensed.
- ii) The Company accounts for options granted according to requirements of Canadian GAAP, and those requirements are similar to the accounting prescribed in Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25 ("APB 25"). Under APB 25, if the exercise price of the Company's employee stock options equals the market price of the underlying stock on the date of grant, no compensation expense is recognized. Compensation expense is recognized only to the extent fair market value is greater than the grant price. An alternative method under US GAAP is the fair value accounting provided for under FASB Statement No. 123 ("SFAS No. 123"), which requires the use of option valuation models. Pro-forma information regarding net income and earnings per share is required by SFAS No. 123, and has been determined as if the Company had accounted for its options granted under the fair value method of that Statement. The fair value for these options was estimated at the date of the grant using a Black-Scholes option pricing model with the following weighted average assumptions for 2001, 2000 and 1999: risk free rate of 5.25%; no dividends; volatility factor of the expected life of the Company's common stock of 134%; and weighted average expected life of the options granted in each year of four years.

The pro-forma effect of SFAS No. 123 is as follows:

December 31, 2001
Loss for the year – US GAAP	$ 733,768
Loss per share	0.05
December 31, 2000
Loss for the year – US GAAP	1,246,869
Loss per share	0.54
December 31, 1999
Loss for the year – US GAAP	348,532
Loss per share	0.16

- iii) SFAS No. 115 requires investments to be classified with respect to holding period, as determined by management, as either held-to-maturity debt securities, trading securities or available-for-sale investments.

The Company has no held-to-maturity debt securities or trading securities. The Company's investments are classified as available-for-sale investments and carried at the lower of cost or quoted market value for Canadian GAAP purposes. Such investments are not actively traded on short term differences in price, and for US GAAP purposes, must have holding gains and losses reported as a component of comprehensive income.

- iv) The Company has issued flow-through shares to Canadian investors. These shares permit the investors to claim exploration expenditure deductions for tax purposes that were incurred by the issuer.

Under Canadian GAAP, the shares are recorded at face value when issued. Once the exploration expenditure is incurred on the mineral property and the expenditure received by the investor, the tax effect of the temporary difference between the Company's recorded property cost and the tax basis is recorded as a cost of issuing the shares.

FASB No. 109 requires the share proceeds received from the share issuance to be allocated between the offering of shares and the sale of tax benefits on the basis of the difference between the quoted price of the shares and the amount the investor pays. A liability is recognized for this difference. The liability is reversed when tax benefits are renounced and a deferred tax liability is recognized at that time. Income tax expense (recovery) is the difference between the deferred tax liability and the liability recognized on issuance.

During fiscal 2000, the Company issued certain flow-through shares to investors at a discount to the fair market value. In accordance with FASB No. 109, this resulted in an income tax expense of $97,300 being the aggregate difference between the issue price and the fair value of the flow-through stock issued.

There are no other material differences between United States and Canadian generally accepted accounting principles with regard to income taxes.

GOLD CITY INDUSTRIES LTD.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements For the Six Months Ended June 30, 2002 (Prepared without audit)

1. Significant Accounting Policies

These interim financial statements are prepared following accounting policies consistent with the Company's audited financial statements and notes thereto for the year ended December 31, 2001, with the following addition.

Stock-based compensation

Effective January 1, 2002, the Company adopted the new accounting recommendations for stock-based compensation issued by the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants, which require prospective application to all stock options granted on or after the date of adoption.

Under this standard, all stock options granted to non-employees are accounted for using the fair value-based method of accounting. In respect of stock options granted to employees and directors, the Company has elected to adopt the intrinsic value-based method of accounting, which recognizes compensation expense only when the market price exceeds the exercise price at the date of grant, but which requires pro forma disclosure of net loss as if these grants were accounted for using the fair value method. Consideration paid on the exercise of stock options is credited to share capital.

During the period, the Company granted stock options to directors and consultants of the Company for the purchase of 845,000 shares, exercisable on or before May 6, 2007, at an exercise price of $0.15 per share.

Had the Company determined compensation costs to employees and directors based on fair value at the grant dates for those share options consistent with the fair value method of accounting for stock-based compensation, the Company's net loss would have been reduced to the pro forma amounts indicated below:

		Six Months Ended June 30, 2002	Three Months Ended June 30, 2002
Net loss for the period	As reported	$ (439,661)	$ (361,471)
	Pro Forma	$ (484,940)	$ (406,750)

The pro forma amounts presented above, do not include the effect of stock options granted before January 1, 2002.

The fair values of options included in the pro forma amounts presented above, have been estimated using an option-pricing model. Assumptions used in the pricing model are as follows:

- a) average risk-free interest rate 3.75%
- b) expected life 2.5 years
- c) expected volatility 70%
- d) expected dividends nil

3. Material Differences Between Canadian and United States Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP)

The Company prepares its financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Canada ("Canadian GAAP"), which differ in certain respects from those principles that the Company would have followed had its financial statements been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States ("US GAAP"). Under US GAAP, the Company would record its mineral property interests at cost. Exploration and development costs incurred on a mineral property are expensed unless the property has economically recoverable reserves at which time further exploration and development costs are deferred. At this stage, the Company has not yet identified economically recoverable reserves on any of its properties. Accordingly, under US GAAP, all exploration and development costs incurred during the period are to be expensed.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements For the Nine Months Ended September 30, 2002 (Prepared without audit)

1. Significant Accounting Policies

These interim financial statements are prepared following accounting policies consistent with the Company's audited financial statements and notes thereto for the year ended December 31, 2001, with the following addition.

Stock-based compensation

Effective January 1, 2002, the Company adopted the new accounting recommendations for stock-based compensation issued by the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants, which require prospective application to all stock options granted on or after the date of adoption.

Under this standard, all stock options granted to non-employees are accounted for using the fair value-based method of accounting. In respect of stock options granted to employees and directors, the Company has elected to adopt the intrinsic value-based method of accounting, which recognizes compensation expense only when the market price exceeds the exercise price at the date of grant, but which requires pro forma disclosure of net loss as if these grants were accounted for using the fair value method. Consideration paid on the exercise of stock options is credited to share capital.

During the period, the Company granted stock options to directors and consultants of the Company for the purchase of 845,000 shares, exercisable on or before May 6, 2007, at an exercise price of $0.15 per share.

Had the Company determined compensation costs to employees and directors based on fair value at the grant dates for those share options consistent with the fair value method of accounting for stock-based compensation, the Company's net loss would have been reduced to the pro forma amounts indicated below:

		Nine Months Ended September 30, 2002	Three Months Ended September 30, 2002
Net loss for the period	As reported	$ (526,948)	$ (87,287)
	Pro Forma	$ (600,246)	$ (115,306)

The pro forma amounts presented above, do not include the effect of stock options granted before January 1, 2002.

The fair values of options included in the pro forma amounts presented above, have been estimated using an option-pricing model. Assumptions used in the pricing model are as follows:

- a) average risk-free interest rate 3.75%
- b) expected life 2.5 years
- c) expected volatility 70%
- d) expected dividends nil

Dear Fred:

Re: The Lexington Project

Further to our meeting of July 24, 2002, this will confirm the agreement that has been reached in regard to the acquisition of an interest in the Lexington-Lonestar Project by Gold City Industries Ltd.

Gold City shall acquire, subject to the necessary approvals set out at the end hereof, a 70% interest in the projects subject to all existing encumbrances, in consideration of the issuance of 1,750,000 shares of Gold City Industries Ltd to Nanotek and the commitment of Gold City to incur $250,000 in exploration and development expenditures on the projects during the 24 month period commencing with the acceptance for filing of this transaction by the TSX Venture Exchange ("TSX Approval"). Gold City shall incur adequate expenditures during the year 2002 to cover any "assessment obligations" coming due in 2003. Gold City shall have the right at any time during a twelve month period commencing three (3) months after TSX Approval to "Call" the remaining 30% interest for the sum of $250,000, which sum shall be paid to Nanotek within 60 days of delivery of the "Call" notice by Gold City. Gold City shall proceed in an expeditious manner to obtain TSX Approval and if such approval is not received by October 1, 2002, Nanotek shall have the right to unilaterally terminate this agreement.

In the event Gold City does not exercise its Call and after Gold City has completed the above earn-in expenditures, the parties shall form a joint venture for the further exploration and development of the projects. If a party fails to contribute its proportionate share of exploration expenditures, from time to time, such parties interest shall be proportionately diluted. Upon a parties interest decreasing to 10%, such interest shall be converted to a 7.5% Net Profits royalty interest.

We respect your request that the shares acquired by Nanotek hereunder only be disposed of, after expiry of appropriate hold periods, in an orderly basis in the market. We are prepared to advise you in advance of the sale of any shares in order to allow you to place the same, assuming that we are offering more than an agreed amount of shares in any one block. For a small block of a few thousand shares we would prefer to just be able to sell. We prefer that the shares all be issued up front in order to commence the four (4) month hold period on such shares; which hold period runs from the “distribution date”. While Nanotek owns any shares of Gold City, it will vote such shares at any meeting of the shareholders of Gold City in support of existing management.

Should you have third parties who are interested in acquiring blocks of shares after expiry of the hold period, we are prepared to co-operate with you in any sale as our long term intention would be to sell the shares in order to maximize the return on investment. In addition to the share payment, we ask that within a reasonable time, not to exceed sixty (60) days of regulatory approval to the transaction, that our existing $20,000 reclamation bond be replaced by Gold City Industries Ltd. and such funds be returned to Nanotek Inc.

With respect to a due diligence period, there is a significant amount of information in regard to this project. I suggest that due diligence be completed within six (6) weeks rather than three (3) months. We will attempt to find copies of various geological reports that were done for us on the property to assist. As indicated, there are some eighty-five (85) boxes of files and geological information at our storage company, Butler Box & Storage. Maurice Mathieu also has a lot of information in Merritt. With respect to preparation of qualifying reports, if required you may want to consider speaking with Ken Daughtry, Sean Butler or Joe Shearer. Joe Shearer had done a lot of the original work on the project on our behalf and Ken Daughtry did a previous summary report.

If the foregoing is acceptable to you, subject to receipt of our respective boards, regulatory approval, the agreed due diligence and finalization of a formal agreement with usual representations, warranties, and conditions, I ask that you execute and return the enclosed copy of this letter to the writer.

Yours truly,

NANOTEK INC.

This letter will confirm that Gold City Industries Ltd. ("Gold City") agrees to acquire 100% interest in the Golden Crown (L.600) and Winnipeg (L.599) crown granted mineral claims (the "Property") located about 7 kilometres east of Greenwood, British Columbia from Dynasty Motorcar Corporation ("Dynasty") on the following basis:

1. Gold City will deliver to Dynasty on closing of the transaction, 1,000,000 common shares of Gold City which will become free trading after a hold period not to exceed 4 months;
2. On closing of the transaction Gold City will make a cash payment of $25,000 to Dynasty;
3. Dynasty will receive a "Note Payable" of $125,000, whereby Gold City will pay Dynasty $125,000 over a period of 15 months, payable by fifteen equal monthly principal installments commencing one (1) month after Closing, until the Note Payable is paid off. Interest of 12% per annum shall be due and payable on any past due installments;
4. If Gold City is 90 days or more in default on the monthly installments of the Note Payable, then Dynasty will have the right to take Gold City shares in payment of such past due installment at the lesser of the market price at the time or $0.16 per share;
5. If Gold City has not made all its cash payments on the Note Payable within two years, then Dynasty will have the right to take Gold City shares in payment of the outstanding balance at a price of $0.16 per share; or retain a 40% direct interest in the Property;
6. Dynasty will receive a 2.5% net smelter return ("NSR") royalty for all production of minerals from the property. Gold City will have the right, but not the obligation to purchase the 2.5% NSR royalty for $1,250,000, in increments of 0.5% at $250,000 per increment, within a 2 year period, subject to the first increment being purchased within the first year of the agreement;

7. Dynasty agrees that any Gold City shares sold into the market will be done on an orderly basis and that Gold City will be given the right to place any large blocks of stock that Dynasty wishes to sell;
8. Dynasty agrees to vote all Gold City shares that it owns in support of current management for a period of two years;
9. Gold City will keep the Property in good standing at all times;
10. Gold City will provide Dynasty with pertinent information regarding the Property such as progress reports and production reports on a timely basis at Dynasty's request;
11. Dynasty, upon written or verbal request, will have reasonable access to the Property.

This proposal is subject to approval by regulatory authorities, the Gold City board of directors and due diligence by Gold City. In addition, Gold City and Dynasty agree to use their best commercial efforts in preparing and executing the mutually agreeable formal documentation required to give effect to the afore noted and closing of the transaction within 60 days, failing which this agreement shall lapse and become of no further force and effect.

If you are in agreement with the terms of the agreement please sign as indicated below:

Yours truly,

Dear Karl

Letter Agreement Regarding Gold City Industries Ltd. Entering into an Option Agreement to Acquire a 100% Interest in the Robert's Mill, Tailings Ponds, Camp and Property Improvements at Greenwood, British Columbia from Bow Mines Ltd.

This letter confirms that Gold City Industries Ltd. * Note: These cash payments are to be divided by 4 and made on a quarterly basis. Payments will be made on the 15th of the month.

- b. In addition, Gold City will make cash payments for all ore processed through the mill (a “tonnage royalty”) to the Owner as follows:

- d. Gold City will have the right, but not the obligation to accelerate the option payments so that Gold City can acquire a 100% interest in the Property at any time that it completes the payments of $400,000 in cash and Gold City shares subject to the tonnage royalty.
- e. During the term of the Option, all taxes, insurance and property payments will be made by Gold City and all licences kept in good standing by Gold City;

- h. Gold City will have the right to expand the Mill and Tailings Ponds on the MayMac Property which will be subject to the tonnage royalty as described in b;
- i. Gold City will have the right to construct a new Mill and additional Tailings Ponds on the MayMac Property which will be subject to the tonnage royalty as described in b;

- m. During the Option period the Owner or the Owner's authorized agent will have access to the Mill on a reasonable basis and Gold City expects that the Owner, upon request will provide assistance as required to rehabilitate and operate the Mill and Tailings Ponds. Gold City will compensate the Owner or the Owner's authorized agent for his time and effort and provide him with a permanent room in the camp with board at the same cost as employees or contractors until Gold City has exercised its option to acquire the Property;
