Saxon Capital, Inc. Announces Fourth Quarter 2005 Dividend and Payment Information

GLEN ALLEN, VA. (December 20, 2005) - Saxon Capital, Inc. ("Saxon" or the "Company") (NYSE: SAX), a residential mortgage lending and servicing real estate investment trust (REIT), today announced that its Board of Directors has declared a quarterly cash dividend of $0.50 per share for the quarter ended December 31, 2005, and a special dividend of $0.14 per share. Both dividends are payable on January 11, 2006 to shareholders of record at the close of business on December 30, 2005.

The special dividend is being declared in order to reduce the potential for any excise tax that might be incurred by the Company under REIT tax rules. In addition, in 2006 the Company may be required to declare a dividend related to 2005 taxable income to ensure continued compliance with the REIT rules requiring distribution of 90% of its taxable income.

From time to time in the future, special dividends may be distributed in order to remain in compliance with REIT requirements. For 2006, the Company expects to estimate its taxable income and declare any such dividend in the last month of each quarter. This schedule is subject to change, and specific record and payable dates will be announced each time dividends are declared by the Board of Directors.

Saxon expects that a portion of its 2005 dividends will be characterized as excess inclusion income. Therefore:

- Tax-exempt shareholders will be subject to unrelated business taxable income (commonly referred to as UBTI) with respect to such excess inclusion income;
- Non-U.S. shareholders will be subject to the 30 percent U.S. federal withholding tax on this income without reduction under any otherwise applicable income tax treaty; and
- U.S. shareholders, including taxpaying entities, will not be able to offset such excess inclusion income with net operating losses.

Shareholders in any of these categories should consult a tax advisor.
