Dear Mr. Austin:

We have reviewed your response letter and have the following comments. Please provide a written response to our comments. Please be as detailed as necessary in your explanation. In some of our comments, we may ask you to provide us with information so we may better understand your disclosure. After reviewing this information, we may raise additional comments.

Form 10-K for the Fiscal Year Ended December 31, 2008

Engineering Comments

Supplementary Oil and Natural Gas Reserve Information, page 69

1. We have reviewed your response to prior comment one of our letter dated August 27, 2009, regarding your progress in developing proved reserves. Please understand that there is no "grandfathering" for any portion of the new reserve rules. The five-year time interval to be considered is from the first booking of proved undeveloped reserves until development will begin, without regard to the date that the new rules first go into effect. Please contact us by telephone if you require further clarification or guidance.

Reserve Reports

Ascent Energy – Forrest A. Garb & Associates; Williamson Petroleum Consultants

2. We have reviewed your response to prior comment two, concerning various properties in the Ascent Energy reserve report with which negative undiscounted cash flows are associated in the reserve report. You indicate that there were some properties exhibiting negative discounted cash flows, which you did not expect to cover the capital investment. We had referred to properties in your reserve report that showed negative undiscounted cash flows, rather than discounted cash flows as you state. If you are unable to explain how these quantities meet the definition of proved reserves it may be necessary to remove these quantities from your reported total proved reserves at December 31, 2008. Please provide us with the total net proved oil and gas reserves that are attributed to these properties. We reissue prior comment two.

Closing Comments

Please respond to these comments within 10 business days or tell us when you will provide us with a response. Please understand that we may have additional comments after reviewing your responses to our comments.
