The Executive shall also be entitled to: (i) four weeks' vacation for each 12-month period during the Employment Period; (ii) an automobile allowance of $3,000 per month; (iii) reimbursement for up to $3,000,000 of coverage under the existing policy (249736) and other insurance (which may include D&O coverage or excess D&O coverage) in amounts consistent with past practice, and any policy issued upon renewal or replacement thereof; and (iv) such other benefits and perquisites that are generally made available to senior executives of Parent or the Company from time to time.

5. Termination of Employment

The Employment Period shall be terminated upon the happening of any of the following events, subject to the provisions of this Agreement applicable to termination of employment under certain circumstances.

- a. Termination without Cause. Parent or the Company may terminate the Executive's employment hereunder for any reason by giving the Executive 90 days' advance written notice of such termination.
- b. Termination for Cause. Parent or the Company may terminate the Executive's employment hereunder for Cause. For purposes of this Agreement, the Executive shall be considered to be terminated for "Cause" upon (i) willful breach of the material terms of this Agreement, (ii) demonstrated fraud in connection with performance of his duties hereunder as determined by a court of competent jurisdiction; or (iii) the final conviction for, or plea of nolo contendere to, a charge of commission of a felony. However, in no event shall the Executive's employment be considered to have been terminated for "Cause", unless the Executive receives a copy of a resolution, duly adopted at a meeting of the Board, identifying in reasonable detail the acts or omissions constituting "Cause", and such acts or omissions are not cured (to the extent reasonably susceptible to cure) by the Executive within 90 days of the receipt of notice of termination and a copy of such resolution.

- c. Resignation without Good Reason. The Executive may voluntarily terminate his employment hereunder for any reason that does not constitute Good Reason (as set forth below) by giving Parent or the Company 30 days' advance written notice of such termination.
- d. Resignation for Good Reason. The Executive may voluntarily terminate his employment hereunder for Good Reason. For purposes of this Agreement, "Good Reason" shall mean:
 - i. the assignment to the Executive of any duties materially and adversely inconsistent with the Executive's position and authority as contemplated by Section 3 hereof;
 - ii. any change or diminution of Executive's authority or reporting relationship as stated in Section 3.a. above or bypassing of the normal chain of command, including any conduct by persons associated with the Company in any manner which could be intended to, or have the effect of, interfering with, or limiting, the ability of the Executive to carry out his responsibilities, excluding for these purposes isolated and insubstantial actions not taken in bad faith and which are remedied by Parent or the Company promptly after receipt of notice thereof given by the Executive;
 - iii. any requirement that the Executive report to any person or entity other than as contemplated in Section 3(a) hereof;
 - iv. any material failure by Parent or the Company to comply with the compensation and benefits provisions of Section 4 hereof;
 - v. the offices of Parent or the Company shall be moved to a location that is more than 50 miles away from the current offices of Parent and the Company;
 - vi. a Change in Control shall have occurred; or
 - vii. any material breach of this Agreement by the Company.

In no event shall the Executive be considered to have terminated his employment for "Good Reason" unless and until (i) Parent or the Company receives written notice from the Executive identifying in reasonable detail the acts or omissions constituting such "Good Reason" and the provision of this Agreement relied upon by the Executive for such termination, and (ii) such acts or omissions are not cured by Parent or the Company within 30 days of the Company's receipt of such notice. As used in this section (d), "Change in Control" means the occurrence of any one or more of the following: (A) any person (which may be individual, a corporation, a limited liability company, an association, a partnership, an estate, a trust or any other entity or organization) becomes the owner of 50% or more of the voting power of Parent's capital stock; or (B) individuals who, as of the Effective Date, constitute the Board of Directors of Parent (the "Continuing Directors") cease for any reason to constitute at least a majority of such Board; provided, however, that any individual becoming a director after the Effective Date whose election or nomination for election by Parent's stockholders, was approved by a vote of at least a majority of the Continuing Directors will be considered as though such individual were a Continuing Director, but excluding for this purpose any such individual whose initial assumption of office occurs as a result of either an actual or threatened election contest (as such terms are used in Rule 14a-11 of Regulation 14A promulgated under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934) or other actual or threatened solicitation of proxies or consents by or on behalf of a Person other than the Board or (C) a reorganization, merger, consolidation or similar transaction that will result in the transfer of ownership of more than 50% of voting power of Parent's capital stock or that will result in the issuance of new shares of Parent's capital stock with voting power equal to more than 50% of the amount of the voting power of Parent capital stock outstanding immediately prior to such issuance; or (D) liquidation or dissolution of Parent or sale of substantially all of Parent's assets.

- e. Death or Disability. The Executive's employment hereunder shall terminate upon his death or Disability. For purposes of this Agreement, "Disability" shall mean the inability of the Executive to perform his duties hereunder on account of physical or mental illness or incapacity for a period of three consecutive months, or for a period of six months, whether or not consecutive, during any 12-month period. The Executive's employment hereunder shall be deemed terminated by reason of Disability on the last day of the applicable period, provided the Executive receives written notice from Parent or the Company, at least 30 days in advance of such termination, stating its intention to terminate the Executive's employment by reason of Disability.

- f. Mutual Agreement. The Executive's employment hereunder may be terminated at any time by mutual written agreement between the Executive, Parent and the Company.

6. Rights Upon Termination

In the event the Executive's employment by Parent or the Company is terminated during the Agreement Term, the Executive shall have the rights provided below.

- a. Resignation for Good Reason. In the event the Executive voluntarily terminates his employment hereunder for Good Reason, the Company shall pay (and Parent shall cause the Company to pay) the Executive an amount equal to the sum of:
1. Twelve months (or, in the case of a Change of Control, twenty four months) salary at the Executive's rate of pay at the time of termination, including all benefits payable monthly for twelve months (or, in the case of a Change of Control, twenty four months); and
 2. in respect of his Annual Bonus, the then current amount due shall be multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days in the calendar year up to the effective date of termination and the denominator of which is 365.

In addition, the Company shall pay (and Parent shall cause the Company to pay) the Executive the accrued and vested benefit amount of options and or under the Long-Term Incentive Plan subject to and in accordance with the terms and conditions under the Long-Term Incentive Plan if any. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event of a material breach by the Executive of any of the restrictive covenants set forth in Section 7 hereof, the Executive shall immediately forfeit all rights to payments made or to be made pursuant to this paragraph (a).

- b. Termination without Cause. In the event the Executive is terminated by Parent or the Company other than for Cause, death or Disability, the Company shall pay (and Parent shall cause the Company to pay) the Executive an amount equal to the sum of:
1. Twelve months salary at the Executive's rate of pay at the time of termination; and
 2. in respect of his Annual Bonus, the then current amount due shall be multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days in the calendar year up to the effective date of termination and the denominator of which is 365.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event of a material breach by the Executive of any of the restrictive covenants set forth in Section 7 hereof, the Executive shall immediately forfeit all rights to payments made or to be made pursuant to this paragraph (b).

- c. Resignation without Good Reason: Termination for Cause; Death or Disability. In the event the Executive's employment hereunder is terminated voluntarily other than for Good Reason, by Parent or the Company for Cause, or on account of death, the Executive shall not be entitled to receive, and the Company shall have no obligation to provide, any severance payments or benefits under this Agreement, provided that, in the case of termination on account of Disability, the Company and Parent shall pay Executive for the successive 12-month period an amount equal to 60% of the amount he otherwise would have received had his employment not been terminated.
- d. Other Obligations. The benefits payable to the Executive under this Agreement are not in lieu of any benefits payable under any employee benefit plan, program or arrangement of Parent or the Company except as specifically provided herein, and upon termination of employment, the Executive will receive such benefits or payments, if any, as he may be entitled to receive pursuant to the terms of such plans, programs and arrangements. Except for the obligations of Parent or the Company provided by this Section 6, Parent and the Company shall have no other obligations to the Executive upon his termination of employment, provided, however, the amounts payable to the Executive under this Section 6 shall not be subject to mitigation, reduction or offset except in the event of a material breach by the Executive of any restrictive covenant set forth in Section 7.

- e. Release of Claims. As a condition of the Executive's entitlement to any of the termination rights provided in this Section 6, Parent and the Company may require the Executive to execute and honor a release of claims in a standard and customary form for terminations of employment, subject to such modifications as are necessary to reflect the obligations of the parties under this Agreement.

7. Restrictive Covenants

Nondisclosure of Information. The Executive agrees to receive confidential and proprietary information of Parent and the Company in confidence and not to disclose such information to others except as authorized by Parent and the Company. Confidential and Proprietary information shall mean information not generally known to the public that is disclosed to the Executive as a consequence of employment by Parent and the Company, whether or not pursuant to this Agreement. If the Board determines that it is necessary, the Executive will execute a separate non-disclosure agreement in a form reasonably acceptable to both Parent and the Company and the Executive. The provisions of this paragraph (a) shall survive the termination of this Agreement by either party.

- b. Covenant Not to Compete. The Executive agrees to not, during the Employment Period and for a period of 12 months thereafter, voluntarily or involuntarily, for any reason whatsoever, directly or indirectly, individually or on behalf of parties not parties to this Agreement, or as a partner, stockholder, director, officer, principal, agent, employee, or in any other capacity or relationship engage in any business or employment, or aid or endeavor to assist in any legal entity, which is in competition with the products and/or services of Parent and the Company within the United States of America or any foreign country where Parent and the Company conduct business. Parent and the Company and the Executive acknowledge the reasonableness of this covenant not to compete and the reasonableness of the geographic area and duration of time which is part of this covenant. The provisions of this paragraph (b) shall survive the termination of this Agreement by either party.
- c. Noninterference. The Executive agrees that, during the Employment Period and for a period of 12 months thereafter, he shall not, on his own behalf or on behalf of any other Person, solicit or in any manner influence or encourage any current or prospective customer, employee or other Person who has a business relationship with Parent and the Company or any affiliate, to terminate or limit in any way their relationship with Parent and the Company, or interfere in any way with such relationship. For purposes hereof, (i) the term "Person" is to be construed in the broadest sense and means and includes any natural person, company, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, corporation, business trust, unincorporated organization or any governmental authority, and (ii) a Person shall be considered a "prospective" customer or employee if Parent and the Company or any affiliate has entered into discussions or otherwise made contact with the Person for the purpose of any such engagement within the six-month period prior to any solicitation by the Executive, and such fact is known or made known to the Executive prior to such solicitation.
- d. Enforcement.
 - i. Executive acknowledges and agrees that the provisions of this Section 7 are reasonable and necessary for the successful operation of Parent and the Company. Executive further acknowledges that if he breaches any provision of this Section 7, Parent and the Company will suffer irreparable injury. It is therefore agreed that Parent and the Company shall have the right to enjoin any such breach or threatened breach, without posting any bond, if ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction. The existence of this right to injunctive and other equitable relief shall not limit any other rights or remedies that Parent and the Company may have at law or in equity including, without limitation, the right to monetary, compensatory and punitive damages. In the event of a breach by the Executive of his obligations under this Section 7, in addition to all other available remedies, the Executive shall forfeit any rights to severance compensation as provided in Section 6(a) hereof. If any provision of this Section 7 is determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to be not enforceable in the manner set forth herein, the Executive and Parent and the Company agree that it is the intention of the parties that such provision should be enforceable to the maximum extent possible under applicable law. If any provisions of this Section 7 are held to be invalid or unenforceable, such invalidation or unenforceability shall not affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision of this Section 7 (or any portion thereof).

- ii. The Executive specifically acknowledges and agrees that his rights to benefits under any Long-Term Incentive Plan are in consideration of his covenants under paragraphs (b) and (c) of this Section 7. Therefore, the Executive further acknowledges and agrees that in the event of a breach by the Executive of his obligations under such covenants, the Executive shall immediately forfeit all rights under the Long-Term Incentive Plan and shall promptly repay Parent and the Company all amounts previously received thereunder.
