Investment Philosophy

At the Adirondack Small Cap Fund (ADKSX), we incorporate independent thinking, patience, and strict value criteria to choose companies as investments in the Fund. We use a "middle-down" research approach which identifies attractive industries for investment, eventually paring down to the few companies in those industries that make attractive additions to the Fund.

Generally, we look for certain characteristics:

Companies that are out of favor: These are companies not followed by "Wall Street" or industries that are in transition.

Companies in sectors with encouraging trends: These may be companies where balance sheets are improving and cash flows are strengthening.

Companies with improving competitive positions: These could be companies with exciting new products or decreased competitive pressures.

Companies that manage assets wisely: These are companies that have a history of smart acquisitions, sensible share buybacks, debt reduction, or have insiders buying shares along with us.

 According to Lipper Research

The Fund commenced operation on April 6, 2005. This data reflects past performance. Total return measures aggregate change. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Investment return and principal value will fluctuate so that shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Returns do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on distributions or redemptions. Please consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses of The Adirondack Small Cap Fund before investing. For a prospectus containing details on risks, fees and expenses, please call 1-888-686-2729. Read it carefully before you invest. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted.
