NEWS RELEASE

Baja Mining Corp. Advances Engineering and Financing

Baja Mining Corp. (the "Company") is pleased to announce that it has signed contracts for the Basic Engineering package for its Boleo copper, cobalt project in Baja California Sur, Mexico. The Definitive Feasibility Study, headed by Bateman Engineering ("Bateman"), has recently been completed and the engineering team that had been assembled for that work will now continue to develop the Baseline and Basic Engineering package that is necessary before starting Detailed Engineering and Construction. Contracts have now been signed with Wardrop Engineering ("Wardrop") of Vancouver B.C., Bateman Engineering ("Bateman") of Brisbane, Australia, and TIC – The Industrial Company ("TIC"), of Steamboat Springs, Colorado. The next phase of work will include Basic Engineering for the process and plant design, early (long lead item) procurement, and the development of master schedules and the final Engineering, Procurement and Construction Management ("EPCM") contracts.

TIC, which has extensive construction experience in Mexico, will be assisting Wardrop and Bateman by conducting constructability reviews and participating in development of local pricing and schedules. TIC is a direct-hire, heavy industrial contractor providing world-class construction expertise throughout North America, including the U.S., Canada and Mexico. TIC's construction work in Mexico is conducted through its wholly owned subsidiary, MexTICa. TIC is privately owned and had 2006 revenues in excess of $1.7 billion. As negotiations continue towards the final EPCM contracts it is envisaged that TIC will take the lead role in the construction of the project.

The Company is also pleased to announce that its financial advisor, Endeavour Financial, has distributed the Information Memorandum to banks for the primary financing of the Boleo project. Expressions of Interest and indicative terms are expected to be received in July. Discussions are also continuing on offtake agreements and subordinated debt financing.
