Registration Statement on Form S-3/A, amended on September 27, 2019

General

1. We have considered your response to prior comment 2. Please expand your analysis to address the following:
 - For each selling shareholder, what the number of shares being registered represents in terms of the percentage of currently outstanding shares held by non-affiliates;
 - How the fact that Palladium Capital Advisors LLC is in the business of underwriting securities affects your analysis of whether their shares can be registered as a secondary offering;
 - How the agreements entered into on July 8, 2019, including amendments to the agreements, are related;
 - How the agreements and amendments to the agreements changed the number of shares each selling shareholder beneficially owns or is entitled to receive upon conversion or exchange of securities;

- The consideration the company received under the agreements;
- The extent to which the shares being registered are issuable pursuant to provisions based upon the trading market of the company's shares, and if so, the extent of any discount to the market price;
- Why the company entered into the agreements and amendments to the agreements; and
- Why the company is registering all the securities now.
