2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Concentrations of Credit Risk

The Company places its cash with a high credit quality financial institution. The Company's account at this institution is insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC") up to $250,000. To reduce its risk associated with the failure of such financial institution, the Company evaluates at least annually the rating of the financial institution in which it holds deposits.

Income Taxes

Because the Company is a limited liability company, it files a partnership return for income tax purposes; therefore there is no income tax liability at the entity level. Rather, the Company's net income or loss is allocated among the members and is reported on their respective individual tax returns. Accordingly, no provision is made for income taxes in the financial statements. The Company may, however, be subject to other taxes for doing business in a particular state.

Pursuant to accounting guidance concerning provision for uncertain income tax provisions contained in Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") 740-10, there are no uncertain income tax positions. The federal and state income tax returns are subject to examination by the IRS and state taxing authorities, generally for three years after they were filed.

3. REVENUE RECOGNITION

The primary revenue stream is referred to as placement fee income earned on sale of each certificate through the best efforts of the broker-dealer. The Company is paid, as a placement fee, a cash commission equal to between 1% and 2% of the aggregate notional amount being protected as agreed per the terms of the Offering Documents. The aggregate notional amount is the amount of the underlying stock position or non-qualified deferred compensation exposure protected by the Certificates sold by the Company.

Revenue is recognized upon the closing of the sale of the certificates, defined in our Offering Documents as the closing date (i.e. the time when the risk pool is successfully organized and funded).

4. NET CAPITAL

The Company is subject to the SEA Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital of $5,000, and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, not exceed 15 to 1. The rule also provides that equity capital may not be withdrawn, cash dividends paid, or the Company's operations expanded, if the resulting net capital ratio would exceed 10 to 1. At June 30, 2021, the Company had net capital of $60,890, which was $55,890 in excess of the FINRA minimum net capital requirement of $5,000 and the Company's ratio of aggregate indebtedness ($22,070) to net capital was .36 to 1.

5. FURNITURE AND EQUIPMENT, NET

Furniture and equipment are recorded net of accumulated depreciation and summarized by major classification as follows:

		Useful Life
Furniture and equipment	$ 6,580	5
Total cost of furniture and equipment	6,580
Less: accumulated depreciation	(5,693)
Furniture and equipment, net	$ 887

Depreciation expense for the period ended June 30, 2021, was $592.

6. FAIR VALUE – DEFINITIONS AND HIERARCHY

Fair value is defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability (i.e. the "exit price") in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

In determining fair value, the Company uses various valuation approaches. ASC 820, "Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures" establishes a fair value hierarchy for inputs used in measuring fair value that maximizes the use of observable inputs and minimizes the use of unobservable inputs by requiring that the most observable inputs be used when available. Observable inputs are those that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability based on market data obtained from sources independent of the Company.

Unobservable inputs reflect the Company's assumptions about the inputs market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability developed based on the best information available in the circumstances. ASC 820 requires use of a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value into three broad levels: quoted market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1); inputs other than quoted market prices that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly (Level 2); and unobservable inputs for an asset or liability (Level 3).

ASC 820 did not have a material impact on the Company's financial statements. At June 30, 2021, the Company's investments are considered Level 1 financial instruments.
