RISK FACTORS

Risks Related to the Company's Business and Industry

In order for the Company to compete and grow, it must attract, recruit, retain and develop the necessary personnel who have the needed experience.

Recruiting and retaining highly qualified personnel is critical to our success. These demands may require us to hire additional personnel and will require our existing management personnel to develop additional expertise. We face intense competition for personnel. The failure to attract and retain personnel or to develop such expertise could delay or halt the development and commercialization of our product candidates. If we experience difficulties in hiring and retaining personnel in key positions, we could suffer from delays in product development, loss of customers and sales and diversion of management resources, which could adversely affect operating results. Our consultants and advisors may be employed by third parties and may have commitments under consulting or advisory contracts with third parties that may limit their availability to us.

The development and commercialization of our products/services is highly competitive.

We face competition with respect to any products that we may seek to develop or commercialize in the future. Our competitors include major companies worldwide. Many of our competitors have significantly greater financial, technical and human resources than we have and superior expertise in research and development and marketing approved products/services and thus may be better equipped than us to develop and commercialize products/services. These competitors also compete with us in recruiting and retaining qualified personnel and acquiring technologies. Smaller or early stage companies may also prove to be significant competitors, particularly through collaborative arrangements with large and established companies. Accordingly, our competitors may commercialize products more rapidly or effectively than we are able to, which would adversely affect our competitive position, the likelihood that our products/services will achieve initial market acceptance and our ability to generate meaningful additional revenues from our products.

In general, demand for our products and services is highly correlated with general economic conditions.

A substantial portion of our revenue is derived from discretionary spending by individuals, which typically falls during times of economic instability. Declines in economic conditions in the U.S. or in other countries in which we operate may adversely impact our consolidated financial results. Because such declines in demand are difficult to predict, we or the industry may have increased excess capacity as a result. An increase in excess capacity may result in declines in prices for our products and services.

We are subject to the risk of substantial environmental liability and limitations on our operations due to environmental laws and regulations.

We are subject to extensive federal, state, local and foreign environmental, health and safety laws and regulations concerning matters such as air emissions, wastewater discharges, solid and hazardous waste handling and disposal and the investigation and remediation of contamination. The risks of substantial costs and liabilities related to compliance with these laws and regulations are an inherent part of our business, and future conditions may develop, arise or be discovered that create substantial environmental compliance or remediation liabilities and costs. Compliance with environmental, health and safety legislation and regulatory requirements may prove to be more limiting and costly than we anticipate. We may be subject to legal proceedings brought by private parties or governmental authorities with respect to environmental matters, including matters involving alleged property damage or personal injury. New laws and regulations, including those which may relate to emissions of greenhouse gasses, stricter enforcement of existing laws and regulations, the discovery of previously unknown contamination or the imposition of new clean-up requirements could require us to incur costs or become the basis for new or increased liabilities that could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition or results of operations.

Our international operations could be affected by currency fluctuations, capital and exchange controls, expropriation and other restrictive government actions, changes in intellectual property legal protections and remedies, trade regulations and procedures and actions affecting approval, production, pricing, and marketing of, reimbursement for and access to our products, as well as by political unrest, unstable governments and legal systems and inter-governmental disputes.

Any of these changes could adversely affect our business. Many emerging markets have experienced growth rates in excess of the world's largest markets, leading to an increased contribution to the industry's global performance. There is no assurance that these countries will continue to sustain these growth rates. In addition, some emerging market countries may be particularly vulnerable to periods of financial instability or significant currency fluctuations or may have limited resources for healthcare spending, which can adversely affect our results.

The Company's success depends on the experience and skill of the board of directors, its executive officers and key employees.

In particular, the Company is dependent on Philip J. Wheelton, Seth Opoku, and Stephen T. Mooney who are President, April 2013 - present. Chairman, April 2013 - present., Director, August 2021 - present., Director, May 2013 - present. Secretary, May 2013 - present., , of the Company. The Company has or intends to enter into employment agreements with Philip J. Wheelton, Seth Opoku, Stephen T. Mooney, although there can be no assurance that it will do so or that they will continue to be employed by the Company for a particular period of time. The loss of Philip J. Wheelton, Seth Opoku, Stephen T. Mooney, or any member of the board of directors or executive officer could harm the Company's business, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

The amount of capital the Company is attempting to raise in this Offering is not enough to sustain the Company's current business plan.

In order to achieve the Company's near and long-term goals, the Company will need to procure funds in addition to the amount raised in the Offering. There is no guarantee the Company will be able to raise such funds on acceptable terms or at all. If we are not able to raise sufficient capital in the future, we will not be able to execute our business plan, our continued operations will be in jeopardy and we may be forced to cease operations and sell or otherwise transfer all or substantially all of our remaining assets, which could cause an Investor to lose all or a portion of his or her investment.

Although dependent on certain key personnel, the Company does not have any key man life insurance policies on any such people.

The Company is dependent on Philip J. Wheelton, Seth Opoku, Stephen T. Mooney, and in order to conduct its operations and execute its business plan, however, the Company has not purchased any insurance policies with respect to those individuals in the event of their death or disability. Therefore, if any of Philip J. Wheelton, Seth Opoku, Stephen T. Mooney, die or become disabled, the Company will not receive any compensation to assist with such person's absence. The loss of such person could negatively affect the Company and its operations.

We have not prepared any audited financial statements.

Therefore, you have no audited financial information regarding the Company's capitalization or assets or liabilities on which to make your investment decision. If you feel the information provided is insufficient, you should not invest in the Company.

We are subject to income taxes as well as non-income based taxes, such as payroll, sales, use, value-added, net worth, property and goods and services taxes, in both the U.S. Canada and Ghana.

Significant judgment is required in determining our provision for income taxes and other tax liabilities. In the ordinary course of our business, there are many transactions and calculations where the ultimate tax determination is uncertain. Although we believe that our tax estimates are reasonable: (i) there is no assurance that the final determination of tax audits or tax disputes will not be different from what is reflected in our income tax provisions, expense amounts for non-income based taxes and accruals and (ii) any material differences could have an adverse effect on our financial position and results of operations in the period or periods for which determination is made.

The Company has indicated that it has engaged in certain transactions with related persons.

Please see the section of this Memorandum entitled "Transactions with Related Persons and Conflicts of Interest" for further details.

The Company's business operations may be materially adversely affected by a pandemic such as the Coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak.

In December 2019, a novel strain of coronavirus was reported to have surfaced in Wuhan, China, which spread throughout other parts of the world, including the United States. On January 30, 2020, the World Health Organization declared the outbreak of the coronavirus disease (COVID-19) a "Public Health Emergency of International Concern." On January 31, 2020, U.S. Health and Human Services Secretary Alex M. Azar II declared a public health emergency for the United States to aid the U.S. healthcare community in responding to COVID-19, and on March 11, 2020 the World Health Organization characterized the outbreak as a "pandemic." COVID-19 resulted in a widespread health crisis that adversely affected the economies and financial markets worldwide. The Company's business could be materially and adversely affected. The extent to which COVID-19 impacts the Company's business will depend on future developments, which are highly uncertain and cannot be predicted, including new information which may emerge concerning the severity of COVID-19 and the actions to contain COVID-19 or treat its impact, among others. If the disruptions posed by COVID-19 or other matters of global concern continue for an extended period of time, the Company's operations may be materially adversely affected.

We face risks related to health epidemics and other outbreaks, which could significantly disrupt the Company's operations and could have a material adverse impact on us.

The outbreak of pandemics and epidemics could materially and adversely affect the Company's business, financial condition, and results of operations. If a pandemic occurs in areas in which we have material operations or sales, the Company's business activities originating from affected areas, including sales, materials, and supply chain related activities, could be adversely affected. Disruptive activities could include the temporary closure of facilities used in the Company's supply chain processes, restrictions on the export or shipment of products necessary to run the Company's business, business closures in impacted areas, and restrictions on the Company's employees' or consultants' ability to travel and to meet with customers, vendors or other business relationships. The extent to which a pandemic or other health outbreak impacts the Company's results will depend on future developments, which are highly uncertain and cannot be predicted, including new information which may emerge concerning the severity of a virus and the actions to contain it or treat its impact, among others. Pandemics can also result in social, economic, and labor instability which may adversely impact the Company's business.

If the Company's employees or employees of any of the Company's vendors, suppliers or customers become ill or are quarantined and in either or both events are therefore unable to work, the Company's operations could be subject to disruption. The extent to which a pandemic affects the Company's results will depend on future developments that are highly uncertain and cannot be predicted.

We face risks relating to public health conditions such as the COVID-19 pandemic, which could adversely affect the Company's customers, business, and results of operations.

Our business and prospects could be materially adversely affected by the COVID-19 pandemic or recurrences of that or any other such disease in the future. Material adverse effects from COVID-19 and similar occurrences could result in numerous known and currently unknown ways including from quarantines and lockdowns which impair the Company's business including marketing and sales efforts, supply chain, etc.. COVID 19 and its side effects such as Quarantines, may negatively affect employees and their ability to perform their duties, suppliers, their employees, and overall ability to fulfill orders and the economy as a whole by damaging people's mental health and supply chain shortages may cause standard of living to decrease, cost of living to increase and any of these may cause our employees to seek additional or different employment, and or quarantine potentially causing them mental health to decline, which affect our operation.. The effects of a pandemic can place travel restrictions on key personnel which could have a material impact on the business. In addition, a significant outbreak of contagious diseases in the human population could result in a widespread health crisis that could adversely affect the economies and financial markets of many countries, resulting in an economic downturn that could reduce the demand for the Company's products and impair the Company's business prospects including as a result of being unable to raise additional capital on acceptable terms to us, if at all.

The lending industry is highly regulated and changes in regulations or in the way regulations are applied to our business could adversely affect our business.

The regulatory environment in which lending institutions operate has become increasingly complex, and following the financial crisis of 2008, supervisory efforts to enact and apply relevant laws, regulations and policies have become more intense. Changes in laws or regulations or the regulatory application or judicial interpretation of the laws and regulations applicable to us could adversely affect our ability to operate in the manner in which we currently conduct business or make it more difficult or costly for us to originate or otherwise make additional loans, or for us to collect payments on loans by subjecting us to additional licensing, registration and other regulatory requirements in the future or otherwise. For example, if our loans were determined for any reason not to be commercial loans, we would be subject to many additional requirements, and our fees and interest arrangements could be challenged by regulators or our customers. A material failure to comply with any such laws or regulations could result in regulatory actions, lawsuits and damage to our reputation, which could have a material adverse effect on our business and financial condition and our ability to originate and service loans and perform our obligations to investors and other constituents.

A proceeding relating to one or more allegations or findings of our violation of such laws could result in modifications in our methods of doing business that could impair our ability to collect payments on our loans or to acquire additional loans or could result in the requirement that we pay damages and/or cancel the balance or other amounts owing under loans associated with such violation.

We operate in a highly regulated environment, and if we are found to be in violation of any of the federal, state, or local laws or regulations applicable to us, our business could suffer.

We are also subject to a wide range of federal, state, and local laws and regulations, such as local licensing requirements, and retail financing, debt collection, consumer protection, environmental, health and safety, creditor, wage-hour, anti-discrimination, whistleblower and other employment practices laws and regulations and we expect these costs to increase going forward. The violation of these or future requirements or laws and regulations could result in administrative, civil, or criminal sanctions against us, which may include fines, a cease and desist order against the subject operations or even revocation or suspension of our license to operate the subject business. As a result, we have incurred and will continue to incur capital and operating expenditures and other costs to comply with these requirements and laws and regulations.

Our earnings may decrease because of changes in prevailing interest rates.

Our profitability is directly affected by changes in prevailing interest rates. The following are certain material risks we face related to changes in prevailing interest rates:

- * an increase in prevailing interest rates could generate an increase in delinquency, default and foreclosure rates resulting in an increase in both operating expenses and interest expense and could cause a reduction in the value of our assets;
- * an increase in prevailing interest rates could adversely affect our loan originations volume because refinancing an existing loan would be less attractive for homeowners and qualifying for a purchase money loan may be more difficult for consumers;
- * an increase in prevailing interest rates would increase the cost of servicing our outstanding debt, including our ability to finance servicing advances and loan originations;
- * a decrease in prevailing interest rates may increase prepayment speeds causing our servicing fees to decline more rapidly than anticipated and we may record a decrease in the value of our MSR's;
- * a decrease in prevailing interest rates may lead to higher compensating interest expense and increased amortization expense as we revise downward our estimate of total expected income as prepayment speeds increase; and a decrease in prevailing interest rates could reduce our earnings from our custodial deposit accounts.

Negative public opinion could damage our reputation and adversely affect our business.

Reputation risk, or the risk to our business from negative public opinion, is inherent in our business. Negative public opinion can result from our actual or alleged conduct in any number of activities, including [lending and debt collection practices, corporate governance, and actions taken by government regulators and community organizations in response to those activities]. Negative public opinion can also result from media coverage, whether accurate or not. Negative public opinion can adversely affect our ability to attract and retain customers and employees and can expose us to litigation and regulatory action.

Our business and operating results may be impacted by adverse economic conditions.

General economic factors and conditions in the United States or worldwide, including the general interest rate environment, unemployment rates and residential home values, may affect borrower willingness to seek loans and investor ability and desire to invest in loans. For example, during the 2008 financial crisis, banks severely constrained lending activities, which caused a decline in loan issuances. A similar crisis could negatively impact the willingness of investors and borrowers to participate in our marketplace. Although the U.S. and global economies have shown improvement, the recovery remains modest and uncertain. If present U.S. and global economic uncertainties persist, many of our investors may delay or reduce their investment in the loans facilitated through our marketplace. Adverse economic conditions could also reduce the number of individuals seeking to invest in loans facilitated on our marketplace, reduce the number of qualified borrowers seeking loans on our marketplace and result in borrowers being unable to make payments. Should any of these situations occur, our revenue and transactions on our marketplace would decline and our business would be negatively impacted.

Risk Factors

Any investment in our common stock involves a high degree of risk. You should carefully consider the following information about those risks, together with the other information contained in this Form C and any other filings we make with the SEC before you decide whether to buy any Shares. Should any one or more of these risks actually materialize, the results of our operations and our financial condition would likely suffer. In that event, the market price of our common stock could decline, and you could lose part or all of your investment. We have incurred losses from inception and may never generate profits.

We cannot guarantee that an active trading market will develop for our common stock.

There is currently no public market for our common stock and there can be no assurance that a regular trading market for our common stock will ever develop or that, if developed, it will be sustained. Therefore, purchasers of our common stock should have a long-term investment intent and should recognize that it may be difficult to sell the Shares.

The shares being offered are defined as "penny stock", the rules imposed on the sale of the shares may affect your ability to resell any shares you may purchase, if at all.

The shares being offered are defined as a "penny stock" under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934, and rules of the Commission. The Exchange Act and such penny stock rules generally impose additional sales practice and disclosure requirements on broker-dealers who sell our securities to persons other than certain accredited investors who are, generally, institutions with assets in excess of 5,000,000 or individuals with net worth in excess of $1,000,000 or annual income exceeding $200,000, or $300,000 jointly with spouse, or in transactions not recommended by the broker-dealer. For transactions covered by the penny stock rules, a broker-dealer must make a suitability determination for each purchaser and receive the purchaser's written agreement prior to the sale. In addition, the broker-dealer must make certain mandated disclosures in penny stock transactions, including the actual sale or purchase price and actual bid and offer quotations, the compensation to be received by the broker-dealer and certain associated persons, and deliver certain disclosures required by the Commission. Consequently, the penny stock rules may affect the ability of broker-dealers to make a market in or trade our common stock and may also affect your ability to resell any shares you may purchase in this offering in the public markets.

We lack operating revenue which may cause our business to fail.

Since the Company's principal activities to date have been primarily limited to organizational activities, and acquiring a property with potential for developing a drilling program, Promithian Global Ventures, Inc. has earned no revenues. Consequently, there is limited operating history upon which to base an assumption that the Company will be able to achieve its business plans, which could cause a Prospective Investor to lose his or her entire investment.

We are reliant on our primary officer and Director.

Our Chairman, and President, Philip J. Wheelton, currently makes all the final decisions regarding the acquisition, development and exploration of properties in which the Company will invest. In particular, Mr. Wheelton makes the decisions regarding: (i) whether to stake, purchase, or option, a certain property; (ii) whom would be retained to do a geological survey to ascertain the property's viability; and (iii) whether a property should be designated as a property in which to expend exploration dollars.

The Company is wholly dependent, at the present, upon the personal efforts and abilities of Mr. Wheelton who will exercise control over the day-to-day affairs of the Company, and is engaged in other activities, and devotes limited time to the Company's activities. This situation will continue until the Company's business warrants and the Company is able to afford an expanded staff. There can be no assurance given that the company's mine development efforts will be successful; and thus, enable the company to raise the funds necessary to employ all essential personnel on a full-time basis nor that the Company's proposed operations will prove to be profitable. The Company will continue to be highly dependent on the continued services of its executive officer, and a limited number of other senior technical Directors, Officers and Consultants. Loss of the services of one or more of these individuals could have a material adverse effect on the company's operations. As Mr. Wheelton is involved in other business opportunities, we may face a conflict in his selection between Promithian Global Ventures, Inc. and his other business interests. We have not formulated a policy for the resolution of such conflicts. If we lose Mr. Wheelton, a senior Director, or Officer to other pursuits without a sufficient warning we may, consequently, go out of business.

We are still a development-stage company and there is no guarantee that we will be successful in implementing our business plan.

Promithian Global Ventures, Inc. was incorporated on February 6, 2008. The Company operates on a March 31 fiscal year. Currently, the Company has one employee and is being operated by its President and Chairman, Mr. Philip J. Wheelton. The Company is in its initial stages of development with no income. We have only limited management personnel, and we are still engaged in structuring our management and our proposed operations. We have a limited operating history that can be evaluated by Prospective Investors. Our operations are subject to all of the risks inherent in the establishment of a new business enterprise, including the lack of significant operating history. There can be no assurance that future operations will be profitable. Revenues and profits, if any, will depend upon various factors, including our ability to successfully find, acquire, and bring into production economically viable precious metal properties. General economic conditions such as the spot price of the Gold and Silver will play a large part in determining the economic viability of any mining property and are constantly changing. There can be no assurance that we will achieve our projected goals or accomplish our business plans; and such failure could have a material adverse effect on us and the value and price of our securities.

Our officers have limited experience in our industry in Ghana and we may be forced to rely on consultants.

Because Mr. Wheelton has limited experience in Ghana and the mining of its' Gold deposits; Mr. Wheelton may, from time to time, retain consultants experienced in the Ghana mining industry to: (i) assist him in determining which properties to stake, purchase, option, or lease; (ii) assist him in obtaining the geological evidence to make decisions on whether or not to proceed with the development of the properties; and (iii) assist him in determining whether the property should be brought to the point of preparing a feasibility study to determine if the property can be put into production economically. The loss of Mr. Wheelton would have adverse effects on the continued operational viability of the Company, as would his inability to retain competent consultants in the Ghana Gold exploration and mining industry.

We may need to obtain additional financing.

At March 31, 2022, the Company had working capital of approximately $0.00. The Company estimates that it will require approximately $6,000,000 to fully implement its current business plan: Aboso Toll Mill construction.

The Company will be required to seek additional sources of financing which may include raising additional capital from the sales of Company securities and/or entering into debt-financing arrangements.

There is no guarantee that we will be able to secure such additional financing, if required, or that any financing available will be on terms acceptable to us. Any additional offerings of our stock will dilute the holdings of our then-current shareholders. If alternative sources of financing are required, but are insufficient or unavailable, we will be required to modify our growth and operating plans in accordance with the extent of available funding. At the present time, we do intend to obtain debt financing from a lending institution. If necessary, Mr. Wheelton or other shareholders may agree to loan funds to the Company, although there are no formal agreements with Mr. Wheelton, or any other shareholder, to do so. If we obtain debt financing, we will need to divert funds to make payments of interest and/or principal owed on the debt. Debt financing could subject our operations to restrictions imposed by the lender, hindering our ability to operate in the manner best determined by our management and/or Board of Directors, with the potential that such restrictions could impede or prevent our growth and/or negatively impact our revenue available for operations.

We are dependent upon our primary officer and director and consultants the loss of which could negatively affect our business.

The Company is dependent upon the efforts of its President and Chairman, Mr. Philip J. Wheelton, and consultants to the Company. Should Mr. Wheelton leave the company or be otherwise unable to perform his duties, or should any of our consultants cease their activities on behalf of the Company for any reason before qualified replacements could be found, there could be material adverse effects on the Company's business and prospects. The Company is small and Mr. Wheelton has limited experience in establishing and managing large-scale operations. At this time, Philip J. Wheelton holds the positions of Director, President, and Chairman. We are also dependent on certain key consultants in connection with our business activities.

We have entered into an employment agreement with Mr. Wheelton, but do not maintain key-man life insurance on Philip Wheelton. The day-to-day activities are being executed by the President and Chairman of the Company, Mr. Wheelton, with assistance from its CFO and Secretary. Unless and until additional employees are hired, our attempt to manage our projects and obligations with such a limited staff could have material adverse consequences, including without limitation, a possible failure to meet , contractual, or SEC deadline, or other business related obligations.

We may be unable to grow our business at an acceptable pace, or may not be able to effectively manage any actual growth.

We may not be able to adequately finance the complete implementation of our business plan. We may not be able to locate any commercially feasible amounts of minerals. Even if such amounts of minerals are located we may not be able to extract sufficient amounts of minerals. Furthermore, we may not be able to generate sufficient revenues from any minerals we are successful in extracting. Our inability to accomplish any of our goals, as set forth in our business plan, may have a negative effect on our ability to adequately grow our business, which would in turn likely have a negative effect on the ability of any Prospective Investor to realize any financial benefit from their investment in the Company. If we are unable to effectively manage our anticipated growth, our business, financial results and financial condition will be materially and adversely affected. Our inability to effectively manage our future growth will have a material adverse effect on us. We anticipate that we will proceed with the development of a Gold Toll Mill in Aboso, Ghana. This will place a strain on our managerial, operational, and financial resources. We will initially use outside consultants and specialists to provide construction, legal counsel and preliminary accounting until such persons are required on a full time or ongoing basis. Our future employment of personnel is dependent on the financing we obtain. There can be no assurance that we will be able to effectively manage our Gold Toll Mill, or that the operations will produce satisfactory results.

We may be subject to government laws and regulations particular to our operations with which we may be unable to comply.

We may not be able to comply with all current and future government regulations which are applicable to our business. Our business operations are subject to all government regulations normally incident to conducting business (e.g., occupational safety and health acts, workmen's compensation statutes, unemployment insurance legislation, income tax and social security laws and regulations, environmental laws and regulations, consumer safety laws and regulations, etc.) as well as to governmental laws and regulations applicable to small public companies and their capital formation efforts. In addition, we are subject to laws and regulations regarding the development of mineral properties in Ghana, Canada and the USA. Although we will make every effort to comply with applicable laws and regulations, we can provide no assurance of our ability to do so, nor can we predict the effect of those regulations on our proposed business activities. Our failure to comply with material regulatory requirements would likely have an adverse effect on our ability to conduct our business and could result in our cessation of active business operations.

We may be subject to environmental laws and regulations particular to our operations with which we are unable to comply.

The Company is engaged in mineral exploration and development and is accordingly exposed to environmental risks associated with mineral exploration and development activity. The Company is currently in the initial development stages on its property interests and has not determined whether significant site reclamation costs will be required. The Company would only record liabilities for site reclamation when reasonably determinable and when such costs can be reliably quantified. Compliance with environmental regulations will likely be expensive and burdensome on the Company. The expenditure of substantial sums on environmental matters will have a materially negative effect on our ability to implement our business plan and grow our business.

The Exploration, Development and Mining Industry is highly competitive, and we are at a disadvantage since many of our competitors are better funded.

Discovering and developing a mineral prospect is highly speculative. There are many companies in this industry which are already established and who are better financed and/or who have closer working relationships with productive mining companies which places our firm at a competitive disadvantage. The goal of the Company will be to explore and develop the Aboso Mine Property. The construction of a Gold Toll Mill is the first phase. The second phase will be the continued expansion of the Gold Toll Mill. The final phase will be the re-opening of the underground mine. We have not entered into any agreements with any third parties to purchase any gold or silver from our property, nor have we identified any potential purchasers in that regard. The inability to generate sufficient revenues could cause us to cease active business operations.

Other risks relating to the common stock

A significant portion of our outstanding shares may become free trading in the future and, if sold in large quantities, may adversely affect the market price for our common stock.

The Board of Directors could issue stock to prevent a takeover by an acquirer or shareholder group.

The Company's authorized but unissued capital stock consists of 62,049,766 shares of common stock. There are three series of preferred stock A, B, and C issued or authorized. One effect of the existence of authorized but unissued capital stock may be to enable the Board of Directors to render more difficult or to discourage an attempt to obtain control of the Company by means of a merger, tender offer, proxy contest, or otherwise, and thereby to protect the continuity of the Company's management. If, in the due exercise of its fiduciary obligations, for example, the Board of Directors were to determine that a takeover proposal was not in the Company's best interests, such shares could be issued by the Board of Directors without stockholder approval in one or more private placements or other transactions that might prevent, or render more difficult or costly, completion of the takeover transaction by diluting the voting or other rights of the proposed acquirer or insurgent stockholder or stockholder group, by treating a substantial voting block in institutional or other hands that might undertake to support the position of the incumbent Board of Directors, by affecting an acquisition that might complicate or preclude the takeover, or otherwise. The Company does not contemplate any additional issuances of common stock for this purpose at this time. However, if such "super-voting" stock were to be issued it would have a materially adverse effect on the aggregate voting power of the then existing shareholders of the company.

We could offer warrants, options and debentures and dilute holdings of Investors

As of March 31, 2022, there are no outstanding warrants or options to purchase common stock of the Company. Should the Company choose to offer incentive options to its key employees, the existence of these options may hinder our future equity offerings, and the exercise of these options would further dilute the interests of all of our then existing shareholders. Future resale of the shares of common stock issuable on the exercise of warrants and/or options may have an adverse effect on the prevailing market price of our common stock. Furthermore, the holders of warrants and/or options may exercise them at a time when we would otherwise be able to obtain additional equity capital on terms more favorable to us.

Additional shares of common stock may be issued without shareholder approval.

Promithian Global Ventures, Inc. has authorized capital of 150,000,000 shares of common stock, par value $0.001 per share, and three series of preferred stock. As of March 31, 2022, there were 87,950,234 shares of common stock issued and outstanding. Our board of directors has authority, without action or vote of our shareholders, to issue all or part of the authorized but unissued shares. Any issuance of shares described in this paragraph will dilute the percentage ownership of our then existing shareholders and may dilute the book value of the common stock.

The Company does not expect to be able to pay dividends in the near future.

To date we have not paid, nor do not plan to pay in the foreseeable future, dividends on our common stock, even if we become profitable. Earnings, if any, are expected to be used to advance our activities and for general corporate purposes, rather than to make distributions to shareholders. Prospective Investors will likely need to rely on an increase in the price of Promithian Global Ventures, Inc. stock to profit from his or her investment. There are no guarantees that any market, for our common stock, will ever develop or that the price of our stock will ever increase. If Prospective Investors Purchase Shares pursuant to this Offering, they must be prepared to not be able to liquidate their investment and/or lose their entire investment.

Going Concern Considerations.

The Company has incurred losses since its inception and has not yet been successful in establishing profitable operations. These factors raise substantial doubt about the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern. Unanticipated costs and expenses, or the inability to generate revenues, could require additional financing, which would be sought through equity or debt financing, or asset sales. The fact that there are going concern considerations may make raising additional funds or obtaining loans more difficult. To the extent financing is not available, the Company may not be able to, or may be delayed in, implementing its business plan, developing its property and/or meeting its obligations. This could result in the entire loss of any investment in the Shares. The Company will continue to evaluate its projected expenditures relative to its available cash and to evaluate additional means of financing in order to satisfy its working capital and other cash requirements. Details regarding these concerns are included in the notes to the audited Financial Statements included in this filing.

Management's plan to mitigate the threat to the continuation of the business will be to attempt to secure additional equity financing, secure bank or private lines of credit, or secure joint venture partners. The Company has evaluated its options in these regards, Promithian Global Ventures, Inc. has identified two potential sources of debt financing to develop its' Gold Toll Mill and Aboso Mine Gold property.

Risks Related to the Securities

Common Stock Units of Common Stock may be tradable under federal securities law, state securities regulations may apply and each Purchaser should consult with his or her attorney.

You should be aware of the long-term nature of this investment. There is not now and likely will not be a public market for the Promithian Global Ventures, Inc. Common Stock Units of Common Stock. Because the Promithian Global Ventures, Inc. Common Stock Units of Common Stock have not been registered under the Securities Act or under the securities laws of any state or non-United States jurisdiction, the Promithian Global Ventures, Inc. Common Stock Units of Common Stock have transfer restrictions and cannot be resold in the United States except pursuant to Rule 501 of Regulation CF. It is not currently contemplated that registration under the Securities Act or other securities laws will be effected. Limitations on the transfer of the Promithian Global Ventures, Inc. Common Stock Units of Common Stock may also adversely affect the price that you might be able to obtain for the Promithian Global Ventures, Inc. Common Stock Units of Common Stock in a private sale. Purchasers should be aware of the long-term nature of their investment in the Company. Each Purchaser in this Offering will be required to represent that it is purchasing the Securities for its own account, for investment purposes and not with a view to resale or distribution thereof.

Neither the Offering nor the Securities have been registered under federal or state securities laws, leading to an absence of certain regulation applicable to the Company.

No governmental agency has reviewed or passed upon this Offering, the Company or any Securities of the Company. The Company also has relied on exemptions from securities registration requirements under applicable state securities laws. Investors in the Company, therefore, will not receive any of the benefits that such registration would otherwise provide. Prospective investors must therefore assess the adequacy of disclosure and the fairness of the terms of this Offering on their own or in conjunction with their personal advisors.

No Guarantee of Return on Investment

There is no assurance that a Purchaser will realize a return on its investment or that it will not lose its entire investment. For this reason, each Purchaser should read the Form C and all Exhibits carefully and should consult with its own attorney and business advisor prior to making any investment decision.

A portion of the proceeds from the Offering will be used to repay obligations of the Company currently in arrears.

These proceeds will not be available for the ongoing operations of the Company but will instead be paid to creditors for amounts which are currently overdue.

The Company has the right to extend the Offering deadline.

The Company may extend the Offering deadline beyond what is currently stated herein. This means that your investment may continue to be held in escrow while the Company attempts to raise the Minimum Amount even after the Offering deadline stated herein is reached. Your investment will not be accruing interest during this time and will simply be held until such time as the new Offering deadline is reached without the Company receiving the Minimum Amount, at which time it will be returned to you without interest or deduction, or the Company receives the Minimum Amount, at which time it will be released to the Company to be used as set forth herein. Upon or shortly after release of such funds to the Company, the Securities will be issued and distributed to you.

Your ownership of the shares of stock will be subject to dilution.

Purchasers do not have preemptive rights. If the Company conducts subsequent Offerings of or Securities convertible into , issues shares pursuant to a compensation or distribution reinvestment plan or otherwise issues additional shares, investors who purchase shares in this Offering who do not participate in those other stock issuances will experience dilution in their percentage ownership of the Company's outstanding shares. Furthermore, shareholders may experience a dilution in the value of their shares depending on the terms and pricing of any future share issuances (including the shares being sold in this Offering) and the value of the Company's assets at the time of issuance.

The Securities will be equity interests in the Company and will not constitute indebtedness.

The Securities will rank junior to all existing and future indebtedness and other non-equity claims on the Company with respect to assets available to satisfy claims on the Company, including in a liquidation of the Company. Additionally, unlike indebtedness, for which principal and interest would customarily be payable on specified due dates, there will be no specified payments of dividends with respect to the Securities and dividends are payable only if, when and as authorized and declared by the Company and depend on, among other matters, the Company's historical and projected results of operations, liquidity, cash flows, capital levels, financial condition, debt service requirements and other cash needs, financing covenants, applicable state law, federal and state regulatory prohibitions and other restrictions and any other factors the Company's board of directors deems relevant at the time. In addition, the terms of the Securities will not limit the amount of debt or other obligations the Company may incur in the future. Accordingly, the Company may incur substantial amounts of additional debt and other obligations that will rank senior to the Securities.

There can be no assurance that we will ever provide liquidity to Purchasers through either a sale of the Company or a registration of the Securities.

There can be no assurance that any form of merger, combination, or sale of the Company will take place, or that any merger, combination, or sale would provide liquidity for Purchasers. Furthermore, we may be unable to register the Securities for resale by Purchasers for legal, commercial, regulatory, market-related or other reasons. In the event that we are unable to effect a registration, Purchasers could be unable to sell their Securities unless an exemption from registration is available.

The Company does not anticipate paying any cash dividends for the foreseeable future.

The Company currently intends to retain future earnings, if any, for the foreseeable future, to repay indebtedness and to support its business. The Company does not intend in the foreseeable future to pay any dividends to holders of its shares of .

In addition to the risks listed above, businesses are often subject to risks not foreseen or fully appreciated by the management. It is not possible to foresee all risks that may affect us. Moreover, the Company cannot predict whether the Company will successfully effectuate the Company's current business plan. Each prospective Purchaser is encouraged to carefully analyze the risks and merits of an investment in the Securities and should take into consideration when making such analysis, among other, the Risk Factors discussed above.

THE SECURITIES OFFERED INVOLVE A HIGH DEGREE OF RISK AND MAY RESULT IN THE LOSS OF YOUR ENTIRE INVESTMENT. ANY PERSON CONSIDERING THE PURCHASE OF THESE SECURITIES SHOULD BE AWARE OF THESE AND OTHER FACTORS SET FORTH IN THIS FORM C AND SHOULD CONSULT WITH HIS OR HER LEGAL, TAX AND FINANCIAL ADVISORS PRIOR TO MAKING AN INVESTMENT IN THE SECURITIES. Notes to Financial Statements (Reviewed)
March 31, 2022

NOTE 1 – ORGANIZATION AND DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS

The Company was incorporated in the State of Nevada, under the name Tripod International Inc., on February 6, 2008 and established a fiscal year end of March 31. On April 27, 2009 the Company changed its name to Midex Gold Corp. On May 6, 2013 the Company changed its name to Promithian Global Ventures, Inc.

NOTE 2 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of presentation

The Company's unaudited financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP"). The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Significant estimates include the estimated useful lives of property and equipment. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Net Income (Loss) Per Common Share

Net income (loss) per common share is computed pursuant to section 260-10-45 of the FASB Accounting Standards Codification. Basic net income (loss) per common share is computed by dividing net income (loss) by the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding during the period. Diluted net income (loss) per common share is computed by dividing net income (loss) by the weighted average number of shares of common stock and potentially outstanding shares of common stock during the period. The weighted average number of common shares outstanding and potentially outstanding common shares assumes that the Company incorporated as of the beginning of the first period presented. There are no potentially dilutive common shares for the years ended March 31, 2022 and 2021.

Recently issued accounting pronouncements

The Company has implemented all new accounting pronouncements that are in effect. These pronouncements did not have any material impact on the financial statements unless otherwise disclosed, and the Company does not believe that there are any other new accounting pronouncements that have been issued that might have a material impact on its financial position or results of operations.

NOTE 3 – GOING CONCERN

The Company's financial statements are prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applicable to a going concern. This contemplates the realization of assets and the liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business. Currently, the Company does not have sufficient working capital, nor does it have operations or a source of revenue sufficient to cover its operating costs and allow it to continue as a going concern. The Company has an accumulated deficit as of March 31, 2022. The Company will be dependent upon the raising of additional capital through placement of our common stock in order to implement its business plan, or merge with an operating company. There can be no assurance that the Company will be successful in either situation in order to continue as a going concern. These financial statements do not include any adjustments relating to the recoverability and classification of recorded assets or the amounts of and classification of liabilities that might be necessary in the event the company cannot continue in existence. Accordingly, these factors raise substantial doubt as to the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

NOTE 4 – SIGNIFICANT TRANSACTION

On March 16, 2021 the Company signed a legally binding Agreement with Adudanfed Company Limited of Accra, Ghana. the Company agreed to purchase a 16.07 square kilometer gold concession covering the historic (1905-1956) Aboso Mine. The purchase is an all-cash transaction whereby the Company will pay one million USD to Adudanfed over a three-year period. Adudanfed will relinquish all their rights and responsibilities to PGVI under the Agreement. The Government of Ghana through the Ghana Mineral Commission will retain a ten percent ownership of the property.

Exhibit B Promithian Global Ventures, Inc. Toll Mill - Synopsis

Promithian Global Ventures, Inc., PGVI's, objective is to become a fully integrated miner, toll mill operator, refiner, and processor of precious metals. A fully integrated mill/refiner/processor of precious metals is capable of all services necessary to process other suppliers' raw materials: hard rock ore, tailings, and gold dust. Promithian will eventually mine its' own property and manufacture precious metals into alloyed products for the jewellery and industrial sectors of the economy: wire, plate, industrial products, etc.

Promithian Global Ventures, Inc. is seeking, five million US dollars ($5,000,000) to construct a potentially highly profitable toll mill on its' own gold concession to take advantage of lightly regulated local miners producing high grade and low-cost ore and tailings in the area.

In March 2021 Promithian Global Ventures, Inc. (PGVI) concluded negotiations and signed a legally binding Agreement to purchase a 16.07 square kilometer gold concession covering the historic Aboso Mine in Ghana. The gold concession covers the locality of Abosso, in the Western Region of Ghana. Regulated hard rock mines in Ghana are producing gold at less then $800.00 US an ounce.

The concession covers the three shafts and twenty-two working levels of the closed Aboso Mine. The mine exploited a Witwatersrand Type conglomerate gold deposit from the early 1900's through to 1956. In 1974 a full feasibility study was prepared on the property for the Government of Ghana. The Lonrho Feasibility Study documented the Aboso Mine Gold Concessions' history and remaining resources:

Proven Ore:	468,850 tons@ 0.27 ozs/ton (8.39 g/ton) (126,472 ozs)
Probable Ore:	2,166,012 tons@ 0.23ozs/ton (7.11 g/ton) (495,475 ozs)
Total:	2,634,862 tons@ 0.24ozs/ton (7.34 g/ton) (621,947 ozs)
Possible Ore:	24,543,536 tons above 0.15 ozs/ton (approx. 4.9 million ozs if the average grade is assumed to be 0.2 ozs/ton)
Aboso Historic Production:	8,850,000 tons@ 0.32ozs/ton (9.8g/ton) (2,800,000ozs)

(Lonrho Feasibility Study, 1974)

At this time, Promithian Global Ventures, Inc. has determined the following six sources of gold ore, tailings and gold dust exist within and around Promithians' Aboso Mine Gold Concession:

1. Legal small-scale miners are using the existing shafts of the mine to enter the top 10 working levels to scavenge high-grade ore. They are recovering between forty to forty-five million US dollars' worth of ore (with grades between 10 g/t and 80 g/t) a year. The small-scale miners are hand processing the ore and recovering approximately thirty percent of the gold.
2. The small-scale miners' tailings heaps have been tested and graded between 14.5 and 15.5 g/ton gold with a 93.4 % recovery rate.
3. Dried tailings ponds containing 8,850,000 of original Aboso Mine tailings exist. Tailings from mills of that generation are mined and milled elsewhere and can assay from 2.5 to 4.5 g/ton. Five substantial pits exist on the property indicating tailings have been removed and trucked off the property. Processing already transported to surface, crushed, and ground tailings has an extremely low cost.
4. Nearby small-scale miners are currently producing and trucking ore to two other toll mills in the region. An Aboso toll mill would reduce their trucking distance and cost. Over the course of a year, as their contracts expired, they would migrate to an Aboso toll mill. Grades vary but would average 5.5 to 7.5 g/ton.
5. Nearby small-scale miners are currently producing and trucking dried tailings from closed mine site tailings' ponds to two other toll mills in the region. An Aboso toll mill would reduce their trucking distance and cost. Over the course of a year, as their contracts expire, they would migrate to an Aboso toll mill. Processing already transported to surface, crushed, and ground tailings has an extremely low cost.
6. Alluvial miners in the region produce a gold dust that could be purchased and refined in a Promithian refinery once phase two of the Aboso toll mill/refinery/processing plant is completed. This is the lowest cost gold of all and can be purchased for under $700.00 an ounce for cash at the miners' location.

PGVI's greatest potential for gross profit lies with the toll milling of ore and tailings from Ghanaian only, lightly regulated, small-scale miners. Toll mills operate on a 50%/50% split with their suppliers. Secondly, once refining equipment is integrated into the Promithian Toll Mill gold dust can be purchased from alluvial miners. Once manufacturing and alloying equipment is integrated into the Promithian Toll Mill/ Refinery the sale of higher end manufactured products will be possible. Toll milling ore and tailings will produce gold at a large discount to the spot price while refining and manufacturing a higher than spot price product is the goal.

The proceeds of the loan will be directed towards accomplishing the following objective:

1. The construction of a thirty ton per hour (30 tph) toll mill in Aboso, Ghana.

1. Acquiring additional refining, alloying, and manufacturing equipment. The addition of this equipment will allow Promithian to capture the high profit margins discussed above.
2. Increasing Promithian Global Ventures, Inc.'s cash and inventory position.

Promithian refinery budget:

a) To acquire refining equipment:	$1,500,000
b) To acquire alloying and manufacturing equipment:	$1,500,000
c) Plant equipment installation:	$400,000
d) Precious metals inventory build-up:	$1,000,000
e) To provide unallocated working capital:	$600,000

TOTAL: $5,000,000

The technology used by Promithian Global Ventures, Inc. for the refining of precious metals is a hydro-chemical process. The technology's (5-9's technology) versatility lies primarily with the fact that it is a chemical process that can accomplish the refining with a minimum amount of transferring and movement of the product. The bulk of the extraction process is done in one vessel by treating the metal bearing material with a combination of chemicals. Each chemical is designed to remove various contaminants. A typical final product, such as gold, will assay 99.99+ pure. Silver can be refined to 99.9+ pure. Platinum and palladium can also be refined.

Chemical refining is more economical than conventional melting refining. The raw material is refined to precious metals in three to five days, while the industry standard is much longer. The process recovers a higher yield of precious metals than from melting refining techniques alone. This results in lower unit costs and the ability to economically handle smaller quantities.

Waste products from the Promithian refining process are innocuous and can be discharged directly into a sanitary sewer. Ore tailings can be economically and safely disposed of in municipal landfill sites.

Gold alloys are used extensively in the jewelry industry. 22K gold is an alloy of 24K, pure, gold (91.7%) and an alloy of silver and copper (8.3%), its' color is yellow. 18K gold is an alloy of 24K gold (75%) and an alloy of silver and copper (25%), yellow. 18K gold is a binary alloy of 24K gold and silver (25%) which has a greenish color. 18K gold a binary alloy of 24K gold (75%) and copper (25%) which is reddish. 18K gold with a ternary alloy of 24K gold (75%) and silver (6%) and copper (19%), pink. 18K gold with a quaternary alloy of 24K gold (75%) and copper (8%) and zinc (5%) and nickel (12%), grey. 18K white gold a ternary alloy of 24K gold (75%) and silver (10%) and palladium (15%), silvery white. 14K gold an alloy of 24K gold (58.5%) and an alloy of silver and copper (41.5%), yellowish. 12K gold is an alloy of pure gold (50%) and an alloy of silver and copper (50%), yellow. 10K gold is an alloy of 24K gold (41.7%) and an alloy of silver and copper (58.3%), yellow color. 9K gold is an alloy of pure gold (37.5%) and an alloy of silver and copper (62.5%), yellow color. Significant mark-ups exist in the Jewelry industry.

The use of gold in modern industry is widespread. Its' uses are most often found in the transport industry, chemistry and petrochemical production, energy, electronics and manufacturing of measuring instruments, telecommunications, nanotechnology, defense, aviation, and space industry. Gold is used as a welding material for thermocouples and galvanometers. Electrical contacts in the field of microelectronics are made of gold. Galvanic gold plating of individual surfaces, boards and connections is widespread. Coatings for mirrors intended for operation in the far infrared range use gold. Ultrahigh vacuum research is carried out with gold. The glass industry uses gold to reflect infrared rays. Gold is also used for medicinal purposes such as the treatment of Tuberculosis, tumors, and arthritis. Gold is antimicrobial. The emerging "green" industry will use gold for carbon free energy and technologies. Significant profit margins exist everywhere gold is used in industry.

Mine to high-end market is the Promithian Global Ventures, Inc. business model. It begins with a toll mill to take advantage of low cost and lightly regulated small-scale miners in and around the Aboso Mine Gold Concession. This first step will be followed by refining, alloying, and finally manufacturing of high value finished products in the jewelry and industrial industries. Nonetheless, the profits from a Promithian Toll Mill will be significant given the high-grade ore being produced by small scale miners. Promithian believes it will produce gold at lower than eight hundred dollars' an ounce. A greater than fifty percent discount to the current spot price!
