Prospectus Summary

1. We note your response to prior comment 1. We do not object to the inclusion of the undisclosed product candidate programs in the graphic in the Business section or the narrative discussion following the graphic in the Summary; however, we continue to believe that including these programs in the prominent graphic on page 1, in the forepart of the prospectus, is not appropriate given that these candidates are undisclosed, remain in the discovery phase, and may never reach the preclinical development stage or any of the clinical stages. The graphic suggests that these undisclosed, discovery-phase programs will eventually progress through the stages of development that are reflected in the graphic. Please revise to remove these from the graphic on page 1. See Item 503(a) of Regulation S-K and Securities Act Rule 421(d)(3). Alternatively, to the extent you continue to believe that including these programs in the graphic is appropriate given their materiality to your business, you should identify and describe each of these candidates in the appropriate section of your prospectus.
