Note 1

Organization and nature of business

Dunn Rush & Co. LLC (the “Company”) was formed in 2009 and is a Massachusetts limited liability company. The Company offers merger and acquisition, financial advisory, and private placement services in accordance with the management agreement with the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (“FINRA”). The Company is a registered broker dealer under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and is a member of FINRA and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation (“SIPC”).

All member units are restricted from transfer, unless transferred to permitted transferee’s as defined in the agreement, without the Company and members being offered the first right to repurchase the units. If the Company and the other members do not exercise their right, the units may be sold to a bona fide third party.

Note 2

Summary of significant accounting policies

Revenue recognition

Effective January 1, 2018, the Company adopted ASC Topic 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (“ASC Topic 606”). The new revenue recognition guidance requires that an entity recognize revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. The guidance requires an entity to follow a five-step model to (a) identify the contract(s) with a customer, (b) identify the performance obligations in the contract, (c) determine the transaction price, (d) allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract, and (e) recognize revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation. In determining the transaction price, an entity may include variable consideration only to the extent that it is probable that a significant reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognized would not occur when the uncertainty associated with the variable consideration is resolved.

Revenue from contracts with customers includes fees from investment banking and financial advisory services. The recognition and measurement of revenue is based on the assessment of individual contract terms. Significant judgement is required to determine whether performance obligations are satisfied at a point in time or over time; how to allocate transaction prices where multiple performance obligations are identified; when to recognize revenue based on the appropriate measure of the Company’s progress under the contract; and whether constraints on variable consideration should be applied due to uncertain future events.

Revenue from investment banking success fees are generally recognized at the point in time that performance under the arrangement is completed (the closing date of the transaction).

Revenue from financial advisory retainer fees are generally recognized over time in which the performance obligations are simultaneously provided by the Company and consumed by the customer.

Revenue from financial advisory valuation fees are generally recognized at the point in time that performance under the arrangement is completed. Retainers and other fees received from customers prior to recognizing revenue are reflected as contract liabilities. At December 31, 2019, contract liabilities were $0. Disaggregation can be found on statement of operations for the year ended December 31, 2019.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In February 2016, the FASB issued a new accounting pronouncement regarding lease accounting for reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2018. A leasee will be required to recognized on the balance sheet, the assets and liabilities for lease terms of more than 12 months. This change was applied prospectively from January 1, 2019 and there was no impact on our previously presented results. The adoption of the new lease standard resulted in no change to beginning member's equity.

Income taxes

The members of the Company have elected to have the Company taxed as a partnership for income tax purposes. Accordingly, the Company is not subject to federal or state income taxes. All taxable income/loss and tax credits are reflected on the income tax returns of the members.

Income tax positions

The Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") has issued a standard that clarifies the accounting and recognition of income tax positions taken or expected to be taken in the Company's income tax returns. The Company has analyzed tax positions taken for filing with the Internal Revenue Service and all state jurisdictions where it operates. The Company believes that income tax positions will be sustained upon examination and does not anticipate any adjustments that would result in a material adverse affect on the Company's financial condition, results of operations or cash flows.

Accordingly, the Company has not recorded any reserves or related accruals for interest and penalties for uncertain income tax positions.

If the Company incurs interest or penalties as a result of unrecognized tax positions the policy is to classify interest accrued with interest expense and penalties thereon with operating expenses. The Company is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions; however, there are currently no audits for any tax periods in progress.
