CANNON SECURITIES, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
FOR THE YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2023

1. NATURE OF BUSINESS AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

A. Nature of Business

Cannon Securities, Inc. ("the Company") was incorporated in the state of Georgia in 2009. The Company is a broker-dealer registered with the Securities Exchange Commission (the "SEC") and has been a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA") since May 2010. The Company operates as an introducing broker, does not hold funds or securities for customers, and does not carry customer accounts.

B. Estimates

Management uses estimates and assumptions in preparing these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Those estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities, and reported revenues and expenses. Actual results could vary from the estimates that were used.

C. Cash

The Company considers deposits in banks and highly liquid investments with original maturities of 90 days or less to be cash. The Company maintains balances in financial institutions that at times may exceed the amounts that are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

D. Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable are generally due under normal trade terms, requiring payment within 30 days from the invoice date. Customer account balances with invoices over 90 days old are considered delinquent. Accounts receivables are stated at their estimated realizable value.

The Company recognizes an allowance for credit losses in an amount equal to current expected credit losses. The estimation of the allowance is based on an analysis of historical loss experience, current receivables aging, and management's assessment of current conditions and reasonable and supportable expectations of future conditions, as well as an assessment of specific identifiable customer accounts considered at risk or uncollectible. The Company evaluates receivables individually when specific customer balances no longer share those risk characteristics and are considered at risk or uncollectible. Credit loss expense is recognized in selling, general, and administrative expense. At December 31, 2023, the Company did not have any credit losses.

CANNON SECURITIES, INC.

E. Revenue Recognition

The Company's revenue consists of commissions earned on customer balances and investments made. Related commissions expense to registered representatives is recognized in the same period in which commissions revenue is recognized.

The Company recognizes revenue in accordance with ASU 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers, together with subsequent amendments and updates (collectively "ASC 606"). The standard's core principle is that an entity should recognize revenue when it transfers promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. ASC 606 prescribes a five-step process to accomplish this core principle, including:

- Identification of the contract with the customer;
- Identification of the performance obligation(s) under the contract;
- Determination of transaction price;
- Allocation of the transaction price to the identified performance obligation(s); and
- Recognition of revenue as (or when) an entity satisfies the identified performance obligation(s).

The Company receives commission revenues under contracts with investment and insurance companies. Commissions are primarily based on customer assets under management as well as certain customer deposits into variable annuity products and are received based on contractual terms. The performance obligation for commissions received based on customer assets under management is generally satisfied at the end of the contractual measurement period when the commissions are calculated, typically monthly or quarterly. The performance obligation for commissions received on customer deposits into variable annuity products is generally satisfied when the deposit is received by the insurance company from the customer. Commissions represent variable consideration as they are based on values which fluctuate due to deposits, withdrawals, and market performance.

Accounts receivable related to commissions revenues totaled $168,215 at December 31, 2023.

F. Income Taxes

The Company has elected to be taxed as an S corporation whereby the income or losses of the Company flow through to its shareholders. Therefore, no income tax provision has been recorded in the accompanying financial statements.

The Company has not identified any unsubstantiated tax positions that would require provision of a liability under Accounting Standards Codification Topic 740, Income Taxes.

G. Subsequent Events

Subsequent events have been evaluated through February 27, 2024, which is the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

CANNON SECURITIES, INC.
