Filed on March 19, 2010
File No. 333-164217

Dear Mr. Donnelly:

We have reviewed your filing and have the following comments. Where indicated, we think you should revise your document in response to these comments. For purposes of this comment letter, we refer to the pagination in a marked courtesy copy of your filing that was provided to us by counsel. Unless otherwise noted, all references to prior comments refer to comments appearing in our letter dated March 4, 2010.

Organizational Structure

Offering Transactions, page 30

1. We note your response to prior comment 3 and your proposed revised disclosures on page 31 where you allocate the existing tax basis at the time of the offering between tangible and intangible assets. Please tell us and disclose what portion of the existing tax basis in goodwill will be deductible for tax purposes. To the extent that any portion of the goodwill is not deductible then explain what impact, if any that will have on the payments you expect to make under the tax receivable agreement.

Dilution, page 37

2. Please provide your calculations to support the pro forma net tangible book value as of January 1, 2010 and the pro forma net tangible book value as of January 1, 2010 after giving effect to the transactions described under "Unaudited Pro Forma Consolidated Financial Information." Also, include a reconciliation of the number of shares used in the denominator for each calculation and explain further your basis for assuming the exchange of all New Holdings Units (other than DynaVox Inc.) into Class A common stock in your calculations. Alternatively, tell us your consideration to include the impact on dilution to new investors assuming the exchange of all New Holdings Units as a footnote to your dilution table information. Ensure that your calculations reconcile to the pro forma balance sheet disclosures provided elsewhere in your registration statement.

Unaudited Pro Forma Consolidated Financial Information, page 39

3. We note your response to prior comment 4 where you determined that pro forma per share data was not necessary since the company's earnings for the preceding 12 months exceeded the expected distribution. Please clarify that you considered both the distribution to existing owners and the repayment of outstanding debt in your response. If so, then provide the calculations that support your conclusions or alternatively revise your disclosures to include the pro forma per share data giving effect to the number of shares whose proceeds will be used to pay either one or both of these distributions.
4. Revise your disclosures in footnote 6(a) to incorporate the information provided in response to prior comment 5. In this regard, include a discussion regarding the performance-based options that will vest upon the pricing of the offering as a result of the Class A unit holders achieving the required return on their original capital contribution as well as a discussion of the Compensation Committee's approval to accelerate the CEO and CFO's service-based units.
5. Please provide your calculations and assumptions that support the adjustments to both deferred tax assets and payable to related parties that give effect to the tax receivable agreement. In this regard, tell us the realizable tax benefit for (a) the tax basis in the intangible assets of Holdings LLC at the date of the offering (b) the increase in the tax basis of the purchased interests and (c) any other tax benefits included in your calculations.
6. Supplementally provide a breakdown, by amount and footnote number, of the pro forma adjustments affecting retained earnings (accumulated deficit). Also, please provide support to the $24.2 million adjustment to additional paid-in-capital for estimated net proceeds from this offering.

7. We note you utilized an independent valuation expert to assist management in determining the grant date value per unit for each unit issuance. Please describe the nature and extent of the valuation firm's involvement in the determination of the fair value of the units and tell us how you considered the guidance in Rule 436(b) of Regulation C regarding the reference to this specialist. Please see Question 141.02 of our Compliance and Disclosure Interpretations related to Securities Act Sections for guidance.
8. We note your response to prior comment 7 and the proposed disclosures that you intend to include in your next amendment. Please revise such disclosures to more clearly explain the significant increase in the market value of invested capital ("MVIC") from your December 2009 valuation to the MVIC based on your estimated IPO price as determined by your underwriters. In this regard, the factors cited do not adequately reconcile these differences. To the extent that there were material changes between the estimated valuation first communicated by the underwriters and the current valuation, provide us with this information. Also, tell us how any communications regarding estimated valuations by the underwriters factored into your December 2009 valuation. Furthermore, as previously requested, tell us how you considered the proximity of the December 2009 valuation to the filing of your registration statement in determining the appropriateness of the marketability discount used in your December 2009 valuation.
