T3 TRADING GROUP, LLC
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENT
FOR THE YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2021

1. Nature of operations and summary of significant accounting policies

Nature of Operations

T3 Trading Group, LLC (formerly known as Titus Securities LLC) was formed under the laws of the state of Delaware on June 8, 2010 as a limited liability company and was approved as a registered broker-dealer under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934. On December 9, 2010, Titus Securities LLC amended its certificate of formation and changed its name to T3 Trading Group, LLC ("the Company") in connection with the sale of substantially all of its issued and outstanding Class A limited liability membership interests, on such date.

The Company is a securities broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and became a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA") on October 7, 2019.

The Company engages primarily in proprietary trading of exchange listed equity securities and equity option contracts and securities commission transactions. The Company operates under the exemptive provisions of SEC Rule 15c3-3(k)(2)(ii). The Company does not maintain possession or control of any customer funds or securities and is exempt from requirements of SEC Rule 15c3-3.

Basis of Presentation

The financial statements have been prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP") as detailed in the Financial Accounting Standards Board's Accounting Standards Codification.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Concentration of Credit Risk

Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to significant concentrations of credit risk consist principally of cash balances which at times may be in excess of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation insured limits.

Fair Value - Definition and Hierarchy

Fair value is defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability (i.e., the "exit price") in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

In determining fair value, the Company uses various valuation approaches. A fair value hierarchy for inputs is used in measuring fair value that maximizes the use of observable inputs and minimizes the use of unobservable inputs by requiring that the most observable inputs are to be used when available.

Observable inputs are those that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability based on market data obtained from sources independent of the Company. Unobservable inputs reflect the Company's assumptions about the inputs market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability developed based on the best information available in the circumstances. The fair value hierarchy is categorized into three levels based on the inputs as follows:

Level 1 - Valuations based on unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the Company has the ability to access. Valuation adjustments are not applied to Level 1 investments. Since valuations are based on quoted prices that are readily and regularly available in an active market, valuation of these investments does not entail a significant degree of judgment.

Level 2 - Valuations based on quoted prices in markets that are not active or for which all significant inputs are observable, either directly or indirectly.

Level 3 - Valuations based on inputs that are unobservable and significant to the overall fair value measurement.

T3 TRADING GROUP, LLC
DECEMBER 31, 2021

1. Nature of operations and summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

The availability of valuation techniques and observable inputs can vary from investment to investment and are affected by a wide variety of factors, including the type of investment, whether the investment is new and not yet established in the marketplace, and the other characteristics particular to the transaction. To the extent that valuation is based on models or inputs that are less observable or unobservable in the market, the determination of fair value requires more judgment. Those estimated values do not necessarily represent the amounts that may be ultimately realized due to the occurrence of future circumstances that cannot be reasonably determined. Because of the inherent uncertainty of valuation, those estimated values may be materially higher or lower than the values that would have been used had a ready market for the investments existed.

Fair value is a market-based measure considered from the perspective of a market participant rather than an entity-specific measure. Therefore, even when market assumptions are not readily available, the Company's own assumptions are set to reflect those that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. The Company uses prices and inputs that are current as of the measurement date, including periods of market dislocation. In periods of market dislocation, the observable prices and inputs may be reduced for many investments. This condition could cause an investment to be reclassified to a lower level within the fair value hierarchy.

Securities Sold, Not Yet Purchased

The Company values investments in securities sold short that are freely tradable and are listed on a national securities exchange or reported on the NASDAQ national market at their last reported sales price as of the valuation date. To the extent these securities are actively traded and valuation adjustments are not applied, they are categorized in Level 1 of the fair value hierarchy.

Securities Transactions

Proprietary securities transactions in regular-way trades are recorded on the trade date, as if they had settled. Profit and loss arising from all securities transactions entered into for the account and risk of the Company are recorded on a trade date basis.

Furniture and Equipment

Furniture and equipment are carried at cost net of accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is provided utilizing the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the related assets, which range from 5 to 7 years.

Income Taxes

The Company is not a taxpaying entity for Federal income tax purposes and thus no Federal income tax expense has been recorded in the statements. Income of the Company is taxed to the Members in their respective returns. Certain state authorities levy taxes or fees on the Company based on its net income. Accordingly, the Company provides for taxes on a current basis and also accounts for the difference between financial and tax basis. No provision has been made for deferred taxes or for such differences and for its net operating loss carry forward due to its insignificance.

The Company's management is required to determine whether a tax position of the Company is more likely than not to be sustained upon examination by the applicable taxing authority, including resolution of any related appeals or litigation processes, based on the technical merits of its position. The tax benefit to be recognized is measured as the largest amount of benefit that is greater than fifty percent likely of being realized upon ultimate settlement with the relevant taxing authority. De-recognition of a tax benefit previously recognized results in the Company recording a tax liability that reduces ending Members' equity. Based on its analysis, the Company's management has determined that it has not incurred any liability for unrecognized tax benefits as of December 31, 2021. However, management's conclusions regarding this policy may be subject to review and adjustment at a later date based on factors including, but not limited to, on-going analyses of and changes to tax laws, regulations and interpretations thereof. The tax years of 2018 to present remain subject to examination by taxing authorities.

T3 TRADING GROUP, LLC
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENT

1. Nature of operations and summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

The Company recognizes interest and penalties accrued related to unrecognized tax benefits in income tax fees payable, if assessed. No interest expense or penalties have been recognized as of and for the year ended December 31, 2021.

The Company is primarily engaged in “self -trading” for its owners and is exempt from NYC UBT on the basis of a statutory exemption for an entity that does not otherwise operate a business in New York City, as defined in the UBT law.

Revenue Recognition

In May 2014, the FASB issued ASU 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606), which will supersede nearly all existing revenue recognition guidance under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. The core principle of this ASU is that revenue should be recognized for the amount of consideration expected to be received for promised goods or services transferred to customers. This ASU also requires additional disclosure about the nature, amount, timing and uncertainty of revenue and cash flows arising from customer contracts, including significant judgments, and assets recognized for costs incurred to obtain or fulfill a contract.

The Company has evaluated the new guidance and the adoption is not expected to have a significant impact on the Company's financial statements and a cumulative effect adjustment under the modified retrospective method of adoption will not be necessary.

Revenue Streams

The company is approved for engaging in trading securities for own account and acting as broker in securities retail business, so the company earns its revenue substantially from gains and losses from principal trading transactions and commissions and fee from client transactions.

- Gains and Losses from Principal Trading Transactions
Gains and losses included both realized and unrealized gains and losses at fair value, and are related to the Company's principal trading transactions, and securities owned and securities sold, but not yet purchased.
- Commissions and Fees
The Company earns commissions and fees from executing and clearing client transactions on stocks and options, and commission sharing from other broker-dealers. Commissions and fees are recognized on the day the trade is executed.

Based on the income streams the company believes that 606 has been addressed.

2. Fair value

The Company's assets and liabilities recorded at fair value have been categorized based upon a fair value hierarchy as described in the Company's significant accounting policies in Note 1. The following table presents information about the Company's assets and liabilities measured at fair value as of December 31, 2021.
