Brasil Plural Securities, LLC

Notes to Financial Statements
For the Fiscal Year Ended March 31, 2024

1. Organization and Nature of Business

Brasil Plural Securities LLC (the "Company"), formerly known as PKBR Securities LLC through September 6, 2012, is a New York City based broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and is a member of both the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA") and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation ("SIPC"). The Company was organized as a Delaware Limited Liability Company on September 9, 2011. Effective July 13, 2015, the Company registered with the Commodities Futures Trading Commission ("CFTC") and became a member of the National Futures Association ("NFA"). Its sole equity Member is Brasil Plural Holdings LLC (the "Member"). The Company's principal activity is to provide executions to institutional investors wishing to invest in the Brazilian marketplace, as well as to provide execution in various Latin American and U.S.-based equity and fixed income markets. The Company generates revenue from commissions earned trading securities in the referenced countries as well as from research distributed by its chaperoned foreign broker-dealers. The Company participates as a securities broker-dealer in riskless principal transactions. The Company is also engaged in proprietary trading. The Company does not carry customer accounts, and has fully-disclosed clearing relationships with Interactive Brokers, Pershing, Genial Institucional Corretora de Câmbio, Titulose Valores Mobiliários S.A. ("CCTVM"). The Company also introduces securities transactions to other broker-dealers with execution capabilities in select markets. In the event a customer is unable to fulfill its contractual obligation to the clearing broker, the Company may be exposed to balance-sheet risk.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation - The Company follows accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP"), as established by the Financial Accounting Standards Board (the "FASB"), to ensure consistent reporting of financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows. The financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with GAAP.

Leases - The Company accounts for its leases in accordance with FASB ASC 842. The Company is a lessee in noncancellable operating leases for office space. The Company determines if an arrangement is a lease or, contains a lease, at inception of a contract or when the terms of an existing contract are changed. The Company recognizes a lease liability and a right of use (ROU) asset at the commencement date of the lease.

Credit Risk - The Company maintains its cash in financial institutions, which at times, may exceed federally insured limits. The Company has not experienced any losses in such accounts and does not believe it is subject to any significant credit risk on its cash holdings.

Estimates - The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Revenue Recognition - Revenue from contracts with customers is comprised of brokerage commissions, consulting revenues, and research revenues, and investment banking fees. This revenue is recognized at the point in time when the Company's performance under the terms of the contractual arrangement is completed, which is typically at the closing of the transaction. Reimbursed expenses related to these transactions are recorded as revenue and are included in reimbursed expenses. The Company never receives amounts in advance of the execution services. At March 31, 2024, there was no deferred revenue.

Translation of Foreign Currencies - Assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at fiscal year-end rates of exchange, whereas the income statement accounts are translated at average rates of exchange for the fiscal year. Gains or losses resulting from foreign currency transactions are included in net income.

Government and Other Regulation - The Company's business is subject to significant regulation by both government agencies and self-regulatory organizations. Such regulation includes, among other things, periodic examinations by these regulators to determine whether or not the Company is conducting and reporting its operations in accordance with the applicable requirements.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (Continued)

Fails to Deliver and Receive - During the ordinary course of business, the Company acts as a chaperone under SEC Rule 15a-6, and there are instances when the Company sells a security for its customer and the securities are not delivered on settlement date, creating a fail to deliver for the value of the securities. This amount is separately disclosed on the balance sheet as an asset and the offsetting obligation to the receiving broker-dealer is included in accounts payable and accrued expenses. When the Company purchases securities that are not delivered on settlement date, a fail to receive is reported on the balance sheet as a liability and the offsetting receivable is included in other assets.

Income Taxes - The Company is a single member, limited liability company and is therefore a disregarded entity for tax purposes. The Parent Company, the sole member of the Company, files an income tax return in the U.S. federal jurisdiction, and may file income tax returns in various U.S. state and local jurisdictions inclusive of the Company's assets, liabilities, income and expenses. The Parent Company is a limited liability company electing to be treated as a C-corporation for tax purposes. Accordingly, no provision has been made for U.S. federal or New York State income taxes since, as a partnership, taxable income or losses are reported by the partners. No provision has been made for the New York City unincorporated business tax liability, attributed to the Company, which is payable by the Holding Company, its sole member, responsible for these taxes.

3. Fair Value

FASB ASC 820 defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value, and establishes a fair value hierarchy, which prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. A fair value measurement assumes that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability occurs in the principal market for the asset or liability or, in the absence of a principal market, the most advantageous market. Valuation techniques that are consistent with the market, income or cost approach, as specified by FASB ASC 820, are used to measure fair value.

The fair value hierarchy prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value into three broad levels:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities the Company has the ability to access.
- Level 2 inputs are inputs (other than quoted prices included within level 1) that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly.
- Level 3 are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability and rely on management's own assumptions about the assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability. (The unobservable inputs should be developed based on the best information available in the circumstances and may include the Company's own data.)

The following table presents the Company's fair value hierarchy for those assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis at March 31, 2024:

Fair Value Measurement at March 31, 2024
Description	Total	Quoted Prices in Active Markets for Identical Assets (Level 1)	Significant Other Observable Inputs (Level 2)	Significant Un- observable Inputs (Level 3)

4. Revenue from Contracts with Customers

Significant Judgments

Revenues from contracts with customers includes commissions, consulting, research, and fees from investment banking services. The recognition and measurement of revenue is based on the assessment of individual contract terms. Significant judgment may be required to determine whether performance obligations are satisfied at a point in time or over time; how to allocate transaction prices where multiple performance obligations are identified; when to recognize revenue based on the appropriate measure of the Company's progress under the contract; whether revenue should be presented gross or net of certain costs; and whether constraints should be applied due to uncertain future events.

Commissions: The Company buys and sells securities on behalf of its customers. Each time a customer enters into a buy or sell transaction, the Company charges a commission. Brokerage commissions and related clearing expenses are recorded on the trade date. The Company believes that the performance obligation is satisfied on the trade date since that is when the underlying financial instrument or purchaser is identified, the pricing and significant terms are agreed upon, and the risks and rewards of ownership of the securities have been transferred to or from the customer.

Consulting revenues: The Company provides consulting services related to systems implementation and support for various financial intermediaries pursuant to customer agreements. Revenues are recognized over time as the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits of the services as they are provided. Invoices are issued and receivables are recorded on a monthly basis in agreement with the terms of the contracts.

Principal Transactions: The company trades ETFs and stocks for its own account. The profit or loss for these firm transactions is measured by the difference between the acquisition cost and the fair value, which, like the underlying trading securities, is recorded on a trade-date basis. Trading gains and losses, which comprise both realized and unrealized gains and losses, are generally presented as one balance, of net gains and losses.

Research revenues: The Company distributes research for several broker-dealers to institutional investors under SEC Rule 15a-6. At the time research is provided, the Company does not know the amount the customer will elect to pay the Company for the services provided. Therefore, a contractual arrangement only exists once services are provided, and the customer notifies the Company of its intention to pay a certain amount. Revenue is recognized at the point in time on the date the notification is received from the customer as the transaction price is determined, and a receivable is recorded. The Company also provides Rule 15a-6 chaperoning and clearing services for several unaffiliated firms, which may introduce order flow and research distribution through the Company. Broker affiliation fees are recognized over time using the time-elapsed method as the Company determines that the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits of the services as they are provided. Invoices for revenues and reimbursable costs are issued and receivables are recorded on a monthly basis in accordance with the terms of the contract.

5. Net Capital Requirements

The Company is subject to the SEC Uniform Net Capital Rule (SEC Rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital of $250,000 and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. The Company is also subject to the net capital requirements under Regulation 1.17 of The Commodities Exchange Act. Since the Company has greater than $1,000,000, in adjusted net capital, under these provisions, the Company is required to maintain minimum net capital as defined of the higher than $45,000 or the amount net capital required by SEC Rule 15c3-1. At March 31, 2024, the Company had net capital of $1,876,761 which was $1,626,761 in excess of its required net capital of $250,000. The Company's percentage of aggregate indebtedness to net capital was 152%.

6. Related Party Transactions

As of March 31, 2024, the Due from Brasil Plural Holdings account had a balance of $386,842. The amount represents the remaining balance of the Member's allocation of the monthly rent for which payment was advanced by the Company.

7. Indemnifications

In the normal course of its business, The Company indemnifies and guarantees certain service providers against specified potential losses in connection with their acting as an agent of, or providing services to, The Company. The maximum potential amount of future payments that The Company could be required to make under these indemnifications cannot be estimated. However, The Company believes that it is unlikely it will have to make material payments under these arrangements and has not recorded any contingent liability in the financial statements for these indemnifications.

Brasil Plural Securities, LLC

Notes to Financial Statements

7. Indemnifications (Continued)

The Company provides representations and warranties to counterparties in connection with a variety of commercial transactions and occasionally indemnifies them against potential losses caused by the breach of those representations and warranties. The Company may also provide standard indemnifications to some counterparties to protect them in the event additional taxes are owed or payments are withheld, due either to a change in or adverse application of certain tax laws. These indemnifications generally are standard contractual terms and are entered into in the normal course of business. The maximum potential amount of future payments that The Company could be required to make under these indemnifications cannot be estimated. However, The Company believes that it is unlikely it will have to make material payments under these arrangements and has not recorded any contingent liability in the financial statements for these indemnifications.

8. Commitments and Contingent Liabilities

The Company had no underwriting commitments, no contingent liabilities, and had not been named as a defendant in any lawsuit as of March 31, 2024, or during the fiscal year then ended. The Company has issued no guarantees effective March 31, 2024, or during the fiscal year then ended.

The Company's proprietary trading operations in Brazil were discontinued on July 27, 2023, due to a dispute with Genial, the Company's clearing firm in Brazil. There is also a dispute over commissions owed to the Company by Genial. The amount disputed is $1.2 million and involves commissions accruing to BPS during the period from August 2023 through March 2024. The Company is currently reviewing its legal options for these matters. At this early stage, the Company cannot predict how or when these disputes will be resolved or whether litigation will ensue. As of the financial statement issuance date, management believes that the full receivable amount of $1.2 million is realizable and will ultimately be collected.

Leases

The Company entered into an agreement to lease office space in Chicago, IL, with a lease commencement date of November 1, 2021 and terminating October 31, 2026. The Company's lease terms do not include options to extend or terminate the lease. Lease expense for lease payments is recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term. There is no option to purchase at the end of the lease. The Company has recorded a right-of-use asset for the operating lease for office space in Chicago that is stated at cost less accumulated depreciation, amortization, and impairment with an imputed annual interest rate of 6%.

The Company also entered into an agreement to sublease office space in Miami, Florida. The lease began on February 1, 2023 and will terminate on January 31, 2025. The Company's sublease terms do not include options to extend or terminate the sublease. Lease expense for lease payments is recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term. There is no option to purchase at the end of the sublease. The Company has recorded a right-of-use asset for the operating lease for office space in Miami that is stated at cost less accumulated depreciation amortization, and impairment with an imputed annual interest rate of 8%.

Maturities of lease liabilities under operating leases as of March 31, 2024 are as follows:

Fiscal year ending March 31:	Total
2025	$ 93,440
2026	42,918
2027	25,331
	$ 161,689
Less effects of discounting	(24,343)
Lease liabilities recognized	$ 137,346

The Company leases certain office space from its parent. The lease is for a term of 7 years expiring May 31, 2029. The total lease cost associated with this lease for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2024 was $209,700 and is included on the Occupancy and Equipment line on the Statement of Income.

9. Subsequent Events

The Company has evaluated all subsequent events for recognition and disclosure through the date these financial statements were available to be issued and has determined that there were no events which took place that would have an impact on its financial statements.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL

To the Sole Member of Brasil Plural Securities LLC

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Brasil Plural Securities LLC (the "Company") as of and for the year ended March 31, 2023, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting ("Internal Control") as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's Internal Control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's Internal Controls.

Also, as required by Regulation 1.16 of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission ("CFTC"), we have made a study of the practices and procedures (including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures) followed by the Company including consideration of control activities for safeguarding customer and firm assets. This study included test of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Regulation 1.16 in making the following:

- (1) the periodic computations of minimum financial requirements pursuant to Regulation 1.17.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining Internal Control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraphs. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraphs and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the CFTC's above mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of Internal Control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Regulation 1.16(d)(2) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraphs.

Because of inherent limitations in Internal Control and the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the entity's ability to initiate, authorize, record, process, or report financial data reliably in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles such that there is more than a remote likelihood that a misstatement of the entity's financial statements that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the entity's Internal Control.

A material weakness is a significant deficiency, or combination of significant deficiencies, that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material misstatement of the financial statements will not be prevented or detected by the entity's Internal Control.

Our consideration of Internal Control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in Internal Control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in Internal Control and control activities for safeguarding assets and certain regulated commodity customer or firm assets that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the CFTC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Commodity Exchange Act, and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures as described in the second paragraph of this report were adequate at March 31, 2024, to meet the CFTC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the use of the Sole Member, management, the CFTC, and other regulatory agencies that rely on Regulation 1.16 of the CFTC in their regulation of introducing brokers, and is not intended to be and should not be used for anyone other than these specified parties.
