Description of Capital Stock

Anti-Takeover Effects of Provisions of our Certificate of Incorporation, Bylaws and Delaware Law

1. We note your disclosure that your certificate of incorporation provides that the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware shall be the sole and exclusive forum for, among others, "any derivative action." We also refer to Article VIII, Section C of your amended and restated certificate of incorporation, which defines "Internal corporate claim" in a manner that limits the scope of the forum selection provision. Accordingly, please revise your prospectus disclosure to clarify the scope of this provision, or explain to us how the prospectus disclosure is consistent with the Charter. Additionally, on page 4 please present a separately captioned risk factor related to the exclusive forum provision and include a discussion explaining that this provision could limit a shareholder's ability to bring a claim in a judicial forum that it finds favorable for such disputes. In this regard, we note that the risk factor incorporated by reference from pages 57-58 of your Form 10-K broadly focuses on anti-takeover provisions and that the forum discussion on page 58 does not explain how the provision could limit a shareholder's ability to sue.

General

2. With reference to the shares held by ALPHAEON Corporation, we note that ALPHAEON owns 56% of your outstanding common stock and is identified in your most recent Form 10-K filing as both your "parent" company and your controlling stockholder. Given this relationship, you are not permitted to rely on Securities Act Rule 415(a)(1)(i) to register the shares because the rule excludes securities offered by "a person of which the registrant is a subsidiary." Accordingly, please amend your registration statement to remove references to a secondary offering and identify ALPHAEON as an underwriter. For additional guidance, refer to Securities Act Rules Compliance and Disclosure Interpretations, Question 212.15.

We remind you that the company and its management are responsible for the accuracy and adequacy of their disclosures, notwithstanding any review, comments, action or absence of action by the staff.

Refer to Rules 460 and 461 regarding requests for acceleration. Please allow adequate time for us to review any amendment prior to the requested effective date of the registration statement.

Please contact Christine Westbrook at 202-551-5019 or Joe McCann at 202-551-6262 with any questions.

Sincerely,
