NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS DECEMBER 31, 2015

NOTE 1 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Nature of Operations

The principal business of Sol Boards, Inc. dba GolfBoard, Inc. (the Company), is the manufacture and sale of GolfBoards, a single rider, electric vehicle designed initially for golfers. The Company was formed in Oregon in 2013, and maintains its headquarters in Bend, Oregon.

Basis of Accounting

The Company utilizes the accrual basis of accounting wherein revenue is recognized when earned and expenses are recognized when incurred.

Accounting Estimates

The Company employs accounting policies that are in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The presentation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, demand deposits and short-term investments with an original maturity of 90 days or less.

Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes sales on an accrual basis. A sale is deemed recognizable once a product has been shipped to, or otherwise taken possession of, a customer.

Shipping and Handling Costs

The Company classifies freight billed to customers as sales revenue and the related freight costs as cost of sales.

Accounts Receivable and Allowance for Doubtful Accounts

Accounts receivable are stated net of an allowance for doubtful accounts. Management estimates the allowance based on the Company's historical experience of the relationship between actual bad debts and net credit sales. The allowance for doubtful accounts was $2,449 at December 31, 2015. Accounts receivable are charged off once they are deemed uncollectible.

NOTE 1 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES – CONTINUED

Inventories

Inventories, which consist of finished goods and parts, are valued at the lower of cost or market. Cost is determined using the "average cost" and specific identification methods. Company policy is to adjust inventory carrying value only when it determines a normal profit margin may not be realized in the normal course of business. Inventory parts are considered impaired and written down to net realizable value following 6 months of non-use or once they are deemed obsolete.

Equipment

Equipment primarily consists of GolfBoards available for rent and is stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. The Company purchases finished boards from a related party. Expenditures for renewals and improvements that add significantly to the useful life of an asset are capitalized, and expenditures for routine repairs and maintenance are charged to current operations. When depreciable equipment is retired or otherwise disposed of, the cost and related accumulated depreciation are removed from the accounts and the resulting gain or loss is reflected in income.

Depreciation for financial reporting purposes is computed using straight-line methods over the estimated useful lives of the individual assets of three years.

Income Taxes

Effective March 6, 2013, the Company elected, with the consent of its shareholders, to be taxed as an S corporation under the Internal Revenue Code. Accordingly, no deferred tax assets or liabilities are reflected in the accompanying financial statements at December 31, 2015, and no provision for income taxes was necessary. In January, 2016, the Company elected to terminate its election to be taxed as an S corporation and elected to be taxed as a C corporation for the tax year beginning January 1, 2016.

Advertising

Advertising and marketing costs, which are included in general and administrative expenses, are expensed as incurred and totaled $72,379 for the year ended December 31, 2015.

Concentration of Credit Risk

The Company's financial instruments subject to credit risk are primarily cash and trade accounts receivable. The Company minimizes its risk by depositing its excess cash only in established, high quality financial institutions. Generally, the Company does not require collateral to support trade receivables, as management believes that any risk of loss is significantly reduced by its ongoing credit evaluations of its customers. During 2015, many customers paid in full prior to shipment, or had provided proof of lease financing secured to finance the purchase of GolfBoards.

The Company has concluded that it had no unrecognized income tax benefits at December 31, 2015, or December 31, 2014, and it has no tax positions for which it estimates a significant change over the next 12 months.

The Company is subject to examination by state and federal tax authorities for each year since its inception. If such examinations result in changes to taxable income, the tax liability of the shareholders could be changed accordingly.
