Velocity Capital LLC

Notes to Financial Statement December 31, 2018

Note 1- Organization and Nature of Business

The Company. Velocity Capital, LLC (the “Company”), a Nevada corporation, formed on May 6th 2014, is a self-clearing broker-dealer licensed by the Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (“FINRA”). The Company’s principal business activities include acting as an agent for broker dealers and financial institutions to borrow specific securities upon request and stock loan/stock borrow matched book business. The company has been approved by FINRA to self-clear, however as of December 31, 2018, the company had not engaged in self-clearing activity.

Note 2- Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Uses of Estimates. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“U.S. GAAP”) requires management to make estimates and assumptions. Those estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses. Actual results may differ from those estimates.

Cash Equivalents. Cash equivalents are highly liquid investments, with original maturities of 90 days or less.

Furniture and Equipment. Furniture and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. Maintenance and repairs which do not extend asset lives are expensed as incurred. Depreciation is provided on the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets (generally three to five years).

Securities borrowed and loaned. Securities borrowed and loaned result from transactions with other broker and dealers or financial institutions. These are accounted for as collateralized financing transactions whereby the Company records an asset for cash collateral received and a corresponding liability for the obligation to return the collateral to the counterparty. Securities borrowed transactions require the Company to deposit cash or other collateral with the lender. As of December 31, 2018, the Company advanced $19,623,838 of cash collateral to securities lenders and received securities with a market value of $17,365,053 related to those transactions. Securities loaned transactions require the borrower to deposit cash or collateral with the Company. As of December 31, 2018, the Company received $19,244,798 of cash collateral from security borrowers and loaned securities with a market value of $17,092,386 related to those transactions. The Company monitors the market value of securities borrowed and loaned on a daily basis, with additional collateral obtained or refunded as necessary. As of December 31, 2018, all of the Company's securities loaned are equity securities and are all considered overnight and open positions.

Securities transactions. Securities transactions (marketable securities owned and securities sold, not yet purchased) and the related revenue and expenses are recorded on the trade date basis, as if they had settled. Marketable securities are valued at fair value.

Accounts Receivable and Payable from broker-dealers and clearing firms. Accounts receivable from broker-dealers and clearing firms consist of the gross rebate interest income and rebate expense related to securities borrowed and loaned.

Income Taxes. The Company is organized as a limited liability company and is taxed as a partnership for federal and state income purposes. As a partnership, the Company itself is not subject to federal or state income taxes, each member is individually liable for federal and state income taxes, if any, on its share of the Company's taxable income. However, the Company is subject to New York City Unincorporated Business Tax ("NYC UBT").

The Company adopted ASC 740 which clarified the accounting and disclosures for uncertain tax positions related to income taxes recognized in the financial statements and address the determination of whether tax benefits claimed or expected to be claimed on a tax return should be recorded in the financial statements. The Company may recognize the tax benefit from an uncertain tax position only if it is more likely than not that the tax position will be sustained upon examination by the taxing authorities based on the technical merits of the position.

The Company did not have unrecognized tax benefits as of December 31, 2018 and does not expect this to change significantly over the twelve months. The Company will recognize interest and penalties accrued on unrecognized tax benefits as a component of income tax expense. As of December 31, 2018, the Company has no accrued interest or penalties related to uncertain tax positions.

Receivable from other broker-dealers. Receivable from other broker-dealers consist of receivables from Service - locate and Service - BD services revenue. Receivables from Service - locate revenues were $596,190 and $971,195 at December 31, 2018 and 2017 respectively. Receivables from Service - BD services revenue were $294,343 and $320,586 at December 31, 2018 and 2017 respectively.

Concentration of Credit Risk. At December 31, 2018, the Company reviewed its receivables and determined that all are collectible. The Company maintains cash accounts with multiple financial institutions and, therefore, are subject to credit risk to the extent those balances exceed applicable Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC") limitations. The Company has cash balances in excess of FDIC limits of $6,036,182 at December 31, 2018. The Company has not experienced any losses in such accounts and does not believe there to be any significant credit risk with respect to these accounts.

Note 3- Clearing Arrangements

The Company currently has a clearing Agreement with Electronic Transaction Clearing, Inc. (ETC) and Lek Securities Corporation. (LEK) on a fully disclosed basis. As of December 31, 2018 ETC holds $147,378 in deposit. LEK holds $38,743 in deposit in the OP account and has a credit margin balance $2,979,688 in the RC account.

Note 4- Fair Value Measurements

The Company utilizes various methods to measure the fair value its investments on a recurring basis. US GAAP establishes a hierarchy that prioritizes inputs to valuation methods. Fair value is defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability (i.e., the "exit price") in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement dates. The three level of inputs are:

- Level 1 inputs are unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets that the Company has the ability to access.

Velocity Capital LLC

- Level 2 inputs are inputs (other than quoted prices included with level 1) that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly.
 - Level 3 are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability and rely on management's own assumptions about the assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability.
- Securities owned and securities sold, not yet purchased, traded on national securities exchange are valued at the last sales price on the date of determination or, if no sales occurred on such day, at the last closing bid price if held long and the last closing asked price if held short. Securities for which market quotations are not readily available are valued at fair value as determined by or under the direction of the Company in accordance with US GAAP.

The Company owns Depository Trust & Clearing Corporation common stock. These shares are reflected as non-marketable securities. Management has determined these values to be Level 2 inputs because it has a quoted price in a market that is not active. There were no transfers of securities among levels 1, 2 or 3 during the year ended December 31, 2018

The following table sets forth by level, within the fair value hierarchy, the Company's assets and liabilities at fair value as of December 31, 2018:

The methods described above may produce a fair value calculation that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, while the Company believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.

Note 5- Commitments and Contingencies

Operating Lease. The Company is obligated under multiple lease arrangements for office space in New York City expiring in December 2019 and January 2022. The Company also leases office space in San Diego, California on a month to month basis. Future minimum rental payments under the lease agreements are approximately as follows:

In conjunction with this arrangement, the Company is contingently liable for any unsecured debit balances in the customer accounts introduced by the Company. These customer activities may expose the Company to off-balance-sheet credit risk in the event the introduced customer is unable to fulfill its contracted obligations. The Company seeks to control such credit risk by monitoring its exposure to the risk of loss daily, on an account-by-account basis. At December 31, 2018, the Company was not responsible for any unsecured debits and did not have any open positions in its trading accounts.
